"Blessed be the LORD God of Israel; For He hath visited and redeemed His people, And hath raised up an horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant David; as he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began; That we should be saved from our enemies and from the hand of all that hate us; to perform the mercy promised to our fathers and to remember his holy covenant; The oath which he swore to our father Abraham, That he would grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies might serve him without fear, in holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our lives." THE SCOURGE OF INCONSISTENCY

Ye shall have one manner of law, as well for the stranger, as for one of your own country: for I am the LORD your God. Leviticus 24:22

by Bruce G. Mc Carthy Jubilee Columnist

The growing consensus is that our judicial and penal systems are thoroughly infected with inconsistencies sufficient to make them laughable were they not so grievously painful. Open a discussion with almost anyone about a case where some malicious criminal was recently paroled after serving a minimum sentence, or how an accidental offender received a more severe penalty, and the response will be enlightening.

Perhaps we've learned something about official cruelties portrayed in movies like Cool Hand Luke, although we may be unsure as to their accuracy. Personal experience is the best teacher, but most of us prefer to learn from the mistakes (or misfortunes) of others. We may not live long enough to experience them all ourselves. Unfortunately, most "off the record" cruelty goes unnoticed by the public for lack of widespread media coverage. Nonetheless, whether through diligent research or osmotic pressure, most of us agree that with a "good lawyer" (a virtual oxymoron) and lots of so-called "money," the odds swing in favor of mercy. Those of us LESS endowed, on the other hand, can then bask in direct knowledge as to why GOD never intended to torture people with incarceration.

"If thou seest the oppression of the poor, and violent perverting of judgment and justice in a province, marvel not at the matter: for he that is higher than the highest regardeth; and there be higher than they." -- Ecclesiastes 5:8

Prosecutorial expedience has given us plea bargaining -- where threat of incredible sanctions can inspire a "voluntary" plea to lesser, more palatable, charges. This concept is justified to save taxpayers the expense of jury trials where a defendant already suspects the judge and prosecutor will orchestrate his predetermined verdict. Other judicial short-cuts reward one criminal -- maybe with a much lighter (or no) sentence -- for testifying against his partners, while paid informants find cause to resort seemingly suspicious neighbors. And if that doesn't do the trick, a "good lawyer" (there he is again) can solicit judicial favor or buy their clients case. How did King Solomon put it? "A feast is made for laughter, and wine maketh merry: but money answereth all things." -- Ecclesiastes 10:19

Ask an honest lawyer (one who's quit the Bar in disgust) to explain how justice can differ from one case to another, and see why Scripture frowns upon economic influence.

"And thou shalt take no gift: for the gift blindeth the wise, and perverteth the words of the righteous." -- Exodus 23:8

Let's look at a few cases to better solidify the point of inconsistencies, realizing of course that circumstances will differ from one to another, but that the Bible mandates equal punishment. No one is to be favored because of wealth, social prominence, or their benefit to the economy (such as by employing many people).

In State of Ohio v. Kathryn Hasenmeier (90-CR-451); the defendant pled guilty to involuntary manslaughter/DUI and aggravated vehicular homicide when her car struck 3 bicyclists, killing one and injuring two. In State of Ohio v. Kathleen Ordway (95-CR-531) a woman pled to attempted(?) involuntary manslaughter/ DUI and leaving the scene of an accident after her automobile also struck and killed a bicyclist.) How did the courts (and parole board, in Hasenmeier) treat each one of these offenders?

Hasenmeier received a 5-10 year sentence, came up for parole (after 3.5 years) in '94, was "flopped" (continued) 2 more years, came up for parole again in '96 and was told to "max out" for a full 10 year sentence. Ordway, on the other hand, was given a flat 18 months. Quite a difference, although the background of each woman may have differed. But the disparity is a bit more glaring.

"The Bellevue woman (Kathleen Ordway) convicted in the death of a bicyclist last summer was freed Monday after serving 45 days of an 18 month prison sentence." -- The News-Messenger, Fremont, Ohio, Tues. April 6, 1996.

If my math is correct, Kathryn is to do 8,000% more time than Kathleen for what appears to be a very similar offense. But the involuntary manslaughter issue gets even more convoluted when it involves a public official. Take the case of two Toledo police officers, Brian Lewandowski (driver) and William Shaner. They were in hot pursuit of a stolen car driven by Bert Allen Hamrick, as reported by the Toledo Blade newspaper: "A Toledo police officer will serve a three-day suspension and receive a written reprimand for violating department Policy during a police pursuit last summer that ended with the death of a 9-year old girl. The charges stem from a police pursuit of a stolen car on July 6, 1995, in which officer Lewandowski ran a red light while northbound... An internal affairs investigation showed the officers were driving 59 miles per hour and that they failed to stop their pursuit when they lost sight of the vehicle they were chasing."

"The officer's car struck an eastbound auto. Earlier this month, the driver of the stolen vehicle, Bert Allen Hamrick of Perrysburg was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter in connection with the girl's death. Judge William Skew ruled in Lucas County Common Pleas Court that even though Hamrick was not driving either car, his actions in precipitating the police chase resulted in the crash. "

So there we are, sitting at an intersection, waiting for the light to turn green. And lo! Here comes a screaming police cruiser -- through a red light -- and collides with another car. We later read how the driver of a car we didn't even see, was found guilty of killing the girl hit by the police cruiser right before our eyes. What's wrong with this picture?! Applying this "The devil made me do it!" logic to alcohol related (DUI/DWI) offenses should result in a 3-day suspension and written reprimand for offending drivers, while the manufacturers and purveyors of alcohol are held accountable for the resulting injuries and damages. Reason: Even though neither manufacturer nor seller were driving the car, their actions in precipitating the consumption of alcohol resulted in the crash.

Evidence also exists to show that an intentional killing is sometimes more favorably looked upon by the courts than an accidental death. Ms. Ordway attempted to commit involuntary manslaughter and leave the scene - remember? But Ms. Hasenmeier pled to involuntarily killing 1 victim and (intentionally?) assaulting 2 others with a vehicle. Her 18 months for aggravated vehicular assault is being served concurrent with the sentence for involuntary manslaughter. And just how Ms. Ordway attempted to involuntarily do something, I'm not sure. Equally perplexing is this next case of 2nd degree murder:

"The District {Wash., D.C.} woman who admitted drowning her 3-year-old son in the Anacostia River was sent to prison yesterday..."

"The judge imposed a 10 to 30 year sentence for second-degree murder and suspended all but 45 months of it. With credit for her time in the halfway house, she will spend (almost two Years in prison. " -- Washington post (March 15, 1996)

There's a message here somewhere. Perhaps it's better for offenders to maliciously kill someone - by whatever means - than to do it intentionally through an irresponsible act or by negligent behavior. We are, after all, a nation which takes great pride in knowing and intending what we do by our own voluntary actions. However, as newly appointed chairman of the Ohio State [Citizen's] Penal Oversight Committee, I'd like to see a more consistent and Biblical approach to punishment for criminal behavior and the progressive elimination of prisons altogether.

Readers are encouraged to supply articles and judgment entries so our committee can better assess the disparities such as I've highlighted in this issue of the Jubilee. Please include name and page number of the publication. When reporting personal experiences with the judicial/penal system, please do so by affidavit, and provide additional witness statements whenever possible. Truth demands that we be accurate in our finding of facts. Your assistance to these ends will be most appreciated.

Our fledgling committee currently includes over 40 concerned citizens, 8 of them pastors, and 3 of them attorneys. Communication from similar committees and individuals concerned about prevailing injustices both within and outside Ohio is encouraged.

We also solicit input from prison staff who are privy to official misconduct, policies that promote a sinister agenda - i.e., homosexuality ("Penitentiary turnouts") by penalizing normal contact relations between inmates and visitors while homosexuality between and among inmates is punished lightly or overlooked - along with seeking your knowledge of other health and safety hazards, etc..

Send all correspondence to:

Bruce G. McCarthy, Chairman, The Ohio State Penal Oversight Committee, PO Box 19265, Cleveland OHIO 44119 USA. Thank you!

"Why dost thou shew me iniquity, and cause me to behold grievance? for spoiling and violence are before me: and there are that raise up strife and contention. Therefore the law is slacked, and judgment doth never go forth: for the wicked doth compass about the righteous; therefore wrong judgment proceedeth." - Habakkuk 1:3,4. ■

Israeli War Crime

Jubilee NewsBrief

An amateur video taken of Israel's April 18 attack on a UN camp that killed over 100 civilians including U.N. peacekeepers, proves that Israeli military officials lied when they called the shelling an accident. Israel at first said that the tragedy was caused by a single round that went astray. But after the video tape, Israel's deputy chief of staff Maj. Gen. Matan Vilnai said that as many as five shells could have hit the camp. The video tape shows that the camp was intentionally targeted.

The video also catches Israel in another lie. Israeli authorities initially claimed that there were no aircraft in the area, but the video tape clearly shows Israeli reconnaissance aircraft flying above the camp as it was shelled. The shelling continued for twelve minutes after UN officials contacted Israeli military authorities, demanding it stop.

Just a few hours before the murderous assault on the UN camp, an Israeli helicopter gunship fired an American-made laser-guided missile into a home killing nine civilians, including a four day old baby.

(We suggest that instead of concentrating on thuggish Serbian nationalists, the newly reconstituted International War-crime Tribunal in the Hague should seek justice against Israel at the highest levels for racist, genocidal terror it is committing against the civilian population of Lebanon. -The Jubilee.)■

Hate Quote of the Year

From Screw magazine, published by New York pornographer Al Goldstein, "Every Jews [sic] dream is to defile a Christian woman, especially one named after that bogus Christ."■

CONGRESS HELPS MULTINATIONALS STEAL FROM AMERICA

A "patent reform" bill sponsored by rep. Carlos Moorhead (R-CA) has passed through the House Judiciary Committee unopposed and is strongly favored to pass on the House floor. The bill implements a number of provisions requested by the Japan Patent Association in a 1993 report critical of America's patent laws. Among them are replacing the current 17-year patent protection with an 18-month term. After that an American patent would be required to be published worldwide. A few conservative congressmen, led by Dana Rohrabacher (R-CA) are saying this bill is nothing but a raid on America's technological assets by international business and by Japan wanting quicker access to America's technology. Publicly supporting this bill are large corporations like Westinghouse, Motorola, GM, Chrysler Motors, and BASF. Japan, which has always been weak in technological innovation, has complained for years about America's patent laws and has hired numerous lobbying firms to help pass this bill.

Former head of the US Commission on Patents and Trademarks Donald Banner strongly opposes this measure saying the multinationals "will have scores of their best people over here taking advantage of other people's ideas for free." Rep. Rohrabacher said, "This is the most underhanded, surreptitious attack on American well-being in the history of this country. The sponsors of this legislation and the special interests supporting it would insidiously put Americans at a competitive disadvantage.... This great American ripp-off is globalism at its worst."■

Special 10th Anniversary Issue

In Appreciation

We dedicate this issue of TAC to Paul Bunch: talented artist, author, and friend. His work and loyalty helped nourish ACM through her first decade, proving the principle of showing ones faith by his works (Jms 2:18). ACM's look and tenor bear Paul's unmistakable mark.

Ben Williams

Decade In Review

by Paul Bunch & Ben Williams

On this 10th anniversary of ACM's beginnings, it is fitting that we take a brief look backward over the last decade, and consider our progress since ACM was launched in 1986. While we're at it, we'd also like to recount and compare what has happened, generally speaking, in the so-called "Right-Wing Religious" movement.

ACM has no connection to either of the wings (right or left) of that infamous bird of state. Affinity with either side would signify a relational connection with the corporate bird itself... as both wings are part of the same 'foul' bird. Nonetheless, we keep the "Religious Right" in view much like the apostles were told to keep the synagogues of the first century in view. Jesus sent the apostles to call the sincere out of the synagogues, and show them a better way. In much the same way, ACM is led to reach out today toward the "Religious Right."

Thus, the following critical assessment is intended not to condemn, but to spur the sincere to rethink some of their positions; to give them cause to take another look at so-called "leaders" and their track records. It is the "leaders" of whom we are most critical. For while it is true that patriot and religious leaders exist mostly because they are created by their followers, still there is just no excuse for a man who would aspire, knowingly, to a bogus position.

As we review the past decade, what we see gives us mixed emotions. God has revealed much. But, for all we've seen and experienced in this generation, what have we learned?

What problems have we solved? Is our future brighter? Or are we still struggling along without meaningful answers?

WHAT'S GOING ON OUT THERE IN THOSE RIGHT WING RELIGIOUS CIRCLES?

These questions really boil down to this: over the last ten years, have the leaders ("prophets") of the "Religious Right" influenced our society? Have they straightened our paths? This question may elicit some surprising responses. Those who have resorted to ritual and Futurism, emotional indulgence and opportunism, or those who are satisfied to listen to loud-mouthed preachers or "patriot leaders" who seek attention through continual empty complaints about the obvious, but do nothing, may answer "Yes."

It is true that churches and patriot groups are blossoming. Memberships and profits have swollen, with church productions rivalling Hollywood and the temples of Babylon. Unfortunately, many Americans think that is a good thing. Realists, however, who are not blind to the actual decline of society from year to year, will answer "NO! Things have not improved! Clearly, the "Right Wing" does not have the 'right stuff.' How could it when it seeks answers from within the parameters of church and state - where real solutions are banned? Therefore, within the "Right Wing" there are men with hearts in the right place, and heads in the wrong place.

America is addicted to deception (and so is Australia). Her current condition is epitomized by the TV campaign ads for Bill Clinton. Never before in the history of politics has a politician been made to look so good and wholesome, while in actuality he is garbage: one of the degenerate maggots devouring the body politic. This exemplifies the state of American society. Depravity is painted over with a euphemistic, slick and deceptive rhetoric, while the actual state of our people today is worse than we can imagine! We're still going down hill.

American youths are being "niggerized" and sodomized! For most of the last decade White kids have been emulating inner-city Blacks and Sodomites. Whites are now left with no self-worth, no honor, no intelligence and no hope. It is sickening! White culture is ashamed of being White, and has become a hybrid mixture of Homosexual Black Feminism. White kids are known for effeminate males, ear rings, nose rings, eyebrow rings (on both sexes), sodomy, backwards baseball caps, uninhibited sex, incoherent gutter language, inability to feel shame, female dominance, goofy clothing fads that make boys look like clowns and girls look like whores, and the jungle beat on ghetto blasters. And it isn't much better for adults. Morality, clarity of mind, and the family institution have all but disappeared in our people. (trade your TV in on a piano, will be a step in the right direction for your family! CIM)

In an age of information we are a people growing more ignorant each day. As a people, we have no answers, and generally don't care. With all our "learning" we are unable to comprehend things as basic as the murder of unborn babies. The ability to know right from wrong is no longer considered an attribute. Agents of misinformation ("debriefing agents") are on every news program and in the editing room of every newspaper expunging every item that might be wholesome or inspirational. They dole out information to us in measured and "sanitized" portions. Truth is covered up, and we never see or hear what is really happening ... unless we witness it firsthand. Even then, the analyzers are on television redefining for us what we thought we saw - so that even eye witnesses are deprived of their own opinions.

...and on behalf of our stockholders in Washington DC, congratulations on a successful year. Now, change your uniforms, get back in your pulpits and keep giving those altar calls!

Truth cannot die. It can be ignored and covered up, but it will always be available for those who seek it. Change is inevitable. However, societal changes of magnitude always leave a fallout of the people who don't keep pace. As in the days of judgment recorded in the Book of Acts, the changes that are set to occur for modern man will not be discerned by all. Some will fail the test, unaware of what is happening around them. To be on top of these changes we must stay mentally alert and able to consider new paradigms; new approaches to family, society, and God.

"Unless one is begotten from above he is incapable of perceiving the kingdom of God" John 3:3

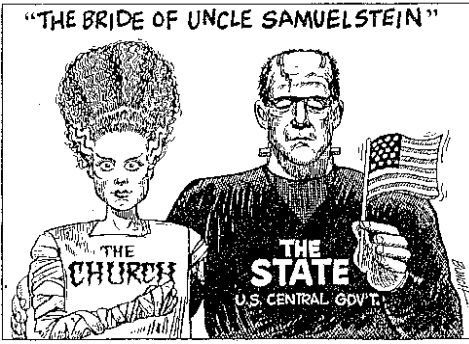

CHURCH AND STATE

Our Anglo-Israelite race suffers from centuries of misinformation and mind conditioning. We have the word of God at our disposal, but our pagan traditions and superstitions have killed our powers of perception. Our source of sanity and truth - the Bible - has been cut off; turned into a mystery by politicians and preachers.

"Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for you are shutting up the kingdom of heaven before men: for you yourselves are not entering, nor do you allow them to enter that are coming in." Matt 3:13

As in the first century, the word of god is stolen from the people by the churches making it impossible to understand. That is why government installed the institution of the church - to keep us confused and unable to see any other kingdom but Babylon.

What effect has the so-called Right Wing religious Movement had on all this? Unfortunately, the so-called Right Wing is comprised of churches and patriot/constitutional groups. Learning is stifled, and those who break out of the mold lose their credibility with the rest, and are labelled 'heretics.' Our slavemasters grow bolder every year, for when we accept their churches, courts and voting booths we forfeit our souls.

It would be very easy to blame religion and government for all this. They are indeed poisons in our society. But, they are not the root cause of our problems. The root cause of our problems is that the people seem to have a taste for poison. religion and government reflect the mind set of the people. Corrupt religion and corrupt government reflect a corrupt people - people who support and condone corruption. In the last ten years the Right Wing has heaped to itself more and more prophets who weaken the people instead of strengthen them. Thus, church and government are increasing, and the overall state of the people is worsening. Jeremiah accurately described the prophets and leaders of our day when he said:

"I (Yahweh) have not sent these prophets, yet they ran: I have spoken to them, yet they prophesied. But if they had stood in my counsel, and had caused my people to hear my words, then they should have turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings." Jer. 23:21,22.

If the prophets in the Religious Right Wing (i.e., the so-called "Christian Patriots"), had taught the truths of the counsel of Yahweh instead of spoiling the people with idols and institutions of men (church, court, voting booth, etc), then maybe we, as a people, would have made more progress in the last ten years. But preachers in churches are not concerned with freeing our people. Rather, they're concerned with building bigger churches and better retirements for themselves. And, they willingly incorporate the devil (government) into their institutions to help them achieve those goals. But, why do the people support this kind of irresponsible opportunism?

"An astounding and horrible thing has happened in the land: The prophets prophesy falsely, and the priests rule on their own authority; and my people love to have it so! But what will you do at the end of it?" Jer. 5:30-31.

An upright people would reject this kind of nonsense. Rulers know that to subjugate a free people they must first degrade them morally and financially - take away their pride and honor. The world merchants accomplish this by creating a "government" and empowering it to oppress and plunder the people through taxes, licenses, fees, police, and by subsidizing undesirable elements of society. Politicians (agents of the world merchants) prevent rebellion by giving the people churches, TVs, schools, courts and voting booths. These have turned us from a redeemed people to a twisted culture that emulates depravity and loathes goodness.

Our people are sinking in a pit of idolatry and deceit. Too many are still comfortable where they are and don't want to move forward. Many have stopped learning because they LIKE church and/or politics. For instance, back in the sixties and seventies, some people gained the insight that the Anglo-Saxon and related people, instead of the Jews, are the true descendants of the ancient Israelites. They learned this truth in spite of, and over the protests of, their churches. They had to go outside their churches to learn this single truth. But then, unexplainably, they turned back to their church ways and stopped learning anything else. Almost 30 years later they still have not progressed beyond that point. They are still carrying around their old church baggage believing this planet is not their home ... it belongs to "the Devil" instead of God, and therefore "church and state" are viable institutions. They expect to escape to "heaven" in "the rapture" while everyone else goes through "the great tribulation," "the end of the world," and "the millenium." They are still thinking Russia will "invade" America, and that the US government is God-ordained. They are literally loaded down with false doctrines. In other words, they still embrace and support basic lies that the churches used to confuse them and their fathers. That means they are still in league with the system they claim to have escaped. How can this be?

Patriotism, so-called, has attracted many. They were especially fascinated with the court systems. Like sorcerers' apprentices studying magic, they immersed themselves in court procedure and case law, learning tricks of how to play the occult court games; to fend off the tax men, dodge the police, and to acquire power in the occultic courts. Amateur juristic sorcerers (like the so-called "Freemen") began emerging everywhere with half-baked court strategies to market to the "patriot community" for a profit and/or recognition. In fact, they are still emerging. Some are con men. Some are just misguided. But, people follow them ... and in doing so they accept the principle of central government, and further blind themselves to the true meaning of freedom. After ten years of this, most "patriots" still haven't learned. They pig-headedly keep repeating the same failures over and over, claiming that the Constitution is a God-inspired document and that it would work 'if we could just force the politicians to abide by it.' The truth is that the politicians ARE abiding by it. But the truth would burst the patriot's bubble, so they deny it, and continue to worship the Constitution: that infamous charter that founded and empowered the central government and the professional politician.

There has been precious little progress in the "Religious Right Wing" during this last decade. Most have been running in circles. A few have learned from the school of hard knocks - but most haven't.

One truth, at least in part, has gained ground. Many people have learned that they, through their European ancestors (not Jews), are the real descendants of the Biblical Israelites. Unfortunately, however, the majority of teachers in the "Religious Right Wing" teach a perverted version of this history of Israel ... so a high percentage of people who hear that version will eventually drop out because of the obvious error in the teachings.

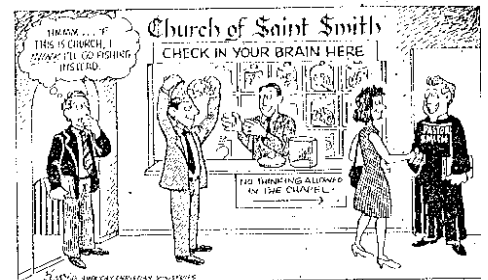

ACM'S RESPONSE TO WHAT'S GOING ON OUT THERE

We have researched America's beginnings and learned that the principles of our Christian forefathers were overrun and usurped by the institutions of Church and Central Government. The battle has been going their way ever since. But that will change.

The issues are coming to the attention of our people even though preachers and patriot groups keep trying to deny them. Had it been left up to these "leaders" the issues would have been buried. ACM has been in the forefront in bringing these issues before the people.

"A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit." MATTHEW 7:18

Now that the terms and issues have gained the public notice, the gainsayers act as if they were always in tune with the issues. The truth is they did everything they could to stifle us. Apparently they hope people will not remember or care. But we don't think the Lord will let it be forgotten.

Preachers in the Identity movement are notorious for reading an article or book that has been around for decades, showing the true history of Israel, and then turning around and start writing essays repeating what they just read, but depicting themselves as special envoys of privileged information from God. They take old Identity doctrine and try to use it for their own aggrandizement. These men rarely have their own original thoughts, so they plagiarize everyone around them and then act as if they acquired it directly from God because of their special status. One Identity preacher has even plagiarized our Anti-Thought Control Dictionary (without permission and without giving proper credit). He copies it verbatim onto his own Internet web page. He has labeled me a heretic, yet he continues to plagiarize my work. Using someone else's work is fine, but to discredit him and claim the credit for yourself is hypocritical and ... well, about what you'd expect.

People who keep supporting patriot and church groups, and keep following them in circles and getting nowhere should consider this. It is an accepted axiom among economists that if 'bad money' is allowed to circulate in a society it will drive out the 'good money.' The statement, which is true, shows that men do not normally discriminate between quality of currency, but rather accept the one that is easiest to acquire - which is usually a form that is easily controlled and devalued. This bad currency drives out good currency because the bad currency is cheaper and easier to get. The same is true with regard to doctrine and teachers. Unless the people are vigilant and discriminating, lies will drive out truth among them. In the same way, bad teachers can drive out good teachers if the people don't discriminate against liars. Who can deny this is happening here in America? The drones out-number the workers!

Thankfully, more people are waking up and noticing that ACM is not like the churches. Truth is unstoppable. But, in order to hear truth people must earnestly seek it.

"Behold, you scorners, and wonder and perish: for I am working a work in your days; a work which you will not believe even though someone declares it to you." Acts 13:41

Churches are a rip-off industry with Hollywood-style music and showmanship; Clinton-type sermons calculated to mollify the sinner, recruit the rich, and satiate this indulged and selfish generation. The world merchants install governments to control people locally. The governments then install churches, courts, and voting booths to keep the masses confused and pacified. The same old themes are repeated over and over, year in and year out. Within each religious circle - including that circle known as "Identity" - we see the worship of human institutions, and the seeking of celebrity status by the preachers. Churches are cults of personality and self-gratification, not centers for serious pursuit of truth and solutions. People who go to churches to find God are barking up the wrong tree.

Supporting liars and crooks makes you accessories to the crime of causing the weak to stumble (Matt 18:7-10; Rom 14:13). The first step in doing something right, is to stop doing something wrong. Stopping all support to liars and crooks is the first step in doing things right. Right-wing pundits and pastors continue to make merchandise of their people. They peddle an endless supply of reckless and inaccurate "news" drummed up by irresponsible publishers who just learned how to run a desk-top publishing system ("Six munces ago I cutn even spel JERNALIST, an now I are one!"). They make merchandise of government-inflicted hardships. They harp on the problems, sell half-baked remedies, and market false hope. They print or say anything to fill pages and sell copy. And a desperate public buys their papers, books, and seminars ... looking for answers that aren't there.

ACM IS DIFFERENT!

ACM is NOT a church! We are NOT patriots of this corporate entity called The United States of America! We do NOT follow the herd. Neither do we set our cap for popularity. We are not interested in playing to the moods of the masses to fleece them like sheep ... as do the patriot leaders, church groups, and TV preachers. Rather, we inform and strengthen our people; we interrupt their trances; we push them off the merry-go-round of mindless acceptance; we force them to deal with the real world. We do these things because we care ... and because Christ demands it of us.

Let's take a look at some of the truths we at ACM have learned and published over the last ten years - truths that have set us apart, and will continue making a difference through the NEXT ten years ... and beyond. The foundations of Christianity have been covered over by Babylonian church rubble. We are relocating and uncovering those foundations.

1. THE KINGDOM NOW!

Before Jesus was born, Zacharias (father of John the Baptist) prophesied by the holy spirit that Jesus would fulfill God's promise to Abraham, and save the people from their enemies in this life (Luk 1:67-75, see top of page 1) John the Baptist announced "The kingdom of heaven is at hand" (within reach). He was referring to Jesus' ascension to the throne. The messenger came to Mary to tell her that she would give birth to Jesus said He would ascend the throne of His father David, and reign over the house of Israel (Lk 1:26-33).

Jesus preached the kingdom of God (not just a future promise of it). Pilate asked Jesus if He was King. Jesus answered, "For this I was born, and came into the world. ... Everyone that is of the truth hears me." (Jn 18:37) Peter taught, in Acts 2:30-31, that God raised Jesus from the grave to be King of Israel and sit upon the throne of David. In Acts 17:7, the apostles were turning the world system upside down by teaching that Jesus is King.

But, the churches, in league with government, teach people that Jesus is not King in this age; that Satan rules men, and that Christians must be taken (raptured) off the Earth to another location in outer space to escape "Satan" and see the kingdom of God. They pray and sing about leaving this earth, and going to 'heaven.' Their songs teach: "This world is not my home; I'm just passing through. My treasures are laid up somewhere beyond the blue. The angels beckon me from heaven's open door, and I can't feel at home in this world anymore."

This doctrine is neither sensible nor Christian, and it smacks of reincarnation. But, churchgoers by the millions accept it as fact, and join their fellow believers in blatantly rejecting and despising the home Yahweh lovingly created for mankind. At the same time they reject the kingdom plan Yahweh lovingly gave us for life here on earth. Churches are not just silly, they are insulting. They slap our Creator in the face, and reject our King Jesus by preferring mythological scenarios and pagan lore.

(recommended reading: TAC May 1990 "The End Times?" CIM Dec 1991, "Jesus is not a Missing Person." TAC Nov-Dec 1994 "Reality & Success: The Paradigm Factor")

2. THE 2ND COMING OF CHRIST

This church-inspired teaching leaves men today on Earth without a present Savior and King. Essentially, it teaches that men are in the hands of an evil god named Satan, while Jesus is on vacation somewhere in outer space. Meanwhile, we have no hope of getting relief from Satan in this life.

The belief that Jesus must RETURN from somewhere presumes that He did leave and is not present. This doctrine leaves men desperately hoping that Jesus will come a second time and accomplish what he did not accomplish the first time - namely, become king and set up His kingdom. This insults our King!

The doctrine of "The 2nd Coming of Christ" declares Jesus the temporary loser in the mythical battle with Satan for dominion of the Earth. In stark contrast, Jesus Himself declared, "All authority has been given to me in heaven and on earth. ... and lo, I am with you always, even to the end of the age." (Matt 28:18-20). How can He "return" (i.e., how can there be a 'second coming') when He never left us in the first place? Why do the churches teach this nonsense? The answer may be that they prefer Jesus removed to outer space, because it eliminates competition for the men who would rule with their own kingdoms. It is insidious when you think about it. And, it is a key tenet of the churches.

3. ECCLESIA - VS - CHURCH

The institution of Church, itself, is based upon a word and a concept that did not come from the Bible. "Church" is a word that scheming men inserted into Holy Scripture to change its meaning. The translators of the English Bibles took out the word "ecclesia," meaning "the called-out," and replaced it with the word "church," meaning "of the lord" (any lord). It is a different concept. Changing the words and concepts is not acceptable.

World merchants knew that in order to install a sovereign government over the masses, the concept of the Christian Ecclesia must be removed from common thinking. They accomplished this by giving us the institution of Church to replace the Ecclesia. Thus Church, rather than Ecclesia, was given the favored status of being tax-exempt and sanctioned by government. The Ecclesia was replaced and forgotten. Churches are symbols of government perversion. Anyone who associates himself with the institution of church - especially after hearing the truth about it - must be considered either a fool or an enemy. Either way he is dangerous!

(Recommended reading: CIM July 1991, "What Is The Ecclesia?"; CIM Sept 1995 "The Ecclesian Way"; CIM Apr 1996, "The Undiscovered History of The Ecclesia"; KBS lesson 10, "Church vs Ecclesia")

4. EONIAN LIFE - VS ETERNAL LIFE

Jesus told us He came to give us LIFE more abundant. But the churches tell us that He came only to promise that He would give us life at some time in the far distant future. Jesus said He came to give us "life eonian" (meaning "life of the age.") He was referring to the new life that He gives men in this New Covenant Age. This gift of life from Christ was, and is, for mortal men. But, the churches changed "eonian" into "eternal" and gave it the connotation that it could only apply after we are raised immortal. That, in effect, destroyed the teaching of Christ - that He came to give mortal man new LIFE - eonian life!

The word "eternal" was supplied and inserted into the text of the Bible by translators. In truth, the word "eternal" does not appear in Scriptures. Where the translators inserted "eternal" it is actually "eonian." God promised us life eonian in this age, and life immortal in the next. But, "eternal life" (an unbroken continuum of past, present, and future) is a concept borrowed from extra-Biblical writings. If eternal life is a viable term, it could apply only to Yahweh - never to man, or anything that has a beginning or an end. [CIM: Herbert W. Armstrong used to refer to God as "The Eternal"] (Recommended reading: KBS lessons 11-15 "The Immortal Soul Doctrine")

5. CENTRAL GOVERNMENT

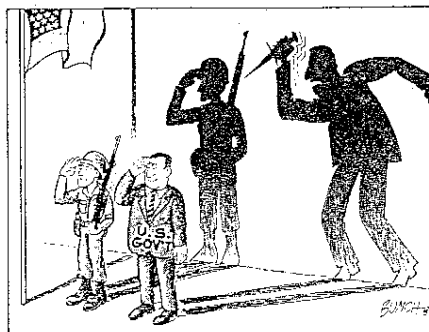

Most people think this is not a Bible issue because they have been programmed by the false doctrine of "separation of church and state." They believe both church and state are viable institutions. We have been trained not to deviate from the traditional beaten path. For decades in America small children have been constantly beat over the head with a rigid catechism of blind patriotism, to a central government that was established 200 years ago. American children are trained to religiously worship this system and swear allegiance to its flag as the epitome of all governments. For the past two centuries, anyone who said anything critical of American government was labeled a: 1. dirty, rotten "Johnny Reb" (circa War Between The States), 2. "Nazi" (circa 1940's), 3. "Commie Pinko" (circa 1950s-1960s), 4. "Liberal; Hippie; Draft-Dodger" (circa 1970s); 5. "White Supremacist Hate Monger" (circa 1980s and 1990s)

As a result, we now have a generation of people who will not dare to entertain the idea that the American system of government (or the Australian system of government) itself just might be wrong. They prefer to think that if we could just get the bad people out of government, then everything would work out fine. Every four years the American people go through this useless exercise - injecting "good people" into the system and flushing out the "bad people." When will they learn that the "bad people" being flushed out were the supposed "good people" injected into the system just four years earlier? The system is silly and demeaning.

6. THE IMMORTAL SOUL (Pre-existence; Heaven and Hell)

Churches teach that when a man dies, something inside him called a "soul" (some people call it a "spirit") lives on and goes upward to a paradise called "Heaven" or descends below to a torturous existence called "Hell." This is a way of saying, among other things, that an actual state of death is impossible, and therefore never exists. In this scenario, the words "death" and "die" become meaningless, because no one can ever really die. People can't die, they just change form and continue living. This has led to the related pagan teaching of "Pre-existence" - i.e., that man is "eternal" and cannot die; that all men live from eternity past through eternity future. Thus, all men must exist forever somewhere ... either in "heaven," or "hell."

This pagan belief is rooted in man's refusal to accept his finite existence and dependence upon God for his life - his present mortal life, and his future immortal life. The Bible clearly says that souls die:

"The soul that sins, it shall die." (i.e. the soul is not immortal) Ezekiel 18:4, 20.

"His breath goeth forth, he returneth to his earth; in that very day his thoughts perish." Psalms 146:4

"Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whither thou goest." Eccl 9:10

"For the living know that they shall die: but the dead know not anything," Eccl 9:5

The churches' mythical versions of the doctrines of salvation, Heaven/Hell, 'the Devil,' Angelology and Demonology grew directly out of their belief in an immortal soul. If you don't have an immortal soul that needs to be warehoused somewhere after death, then what's the purpose of Heaven or Hell? According to traditional church teachings, the warehouse called "HEAVEN" stores ANGELS when they aren't on a mission for Jesus, and the warehouse called "HELL" stores DEMONS when they aren't on a mission for "Satan." Secondly, these warehouses are supposed to be depots for "souls" that have departed their earthly bodies. The main push of most churches is to "save souls" so that when the souls depart their bodies they won't go down to the bad warehouse called "Hell." Instead they will fly up to the warehouse called "Heaven" in the sky. Remove the immortal soul doctrine and these silly myths become irrelevant.

(Recommended reading: The Doctrine of Salvation #227 $8.00; KBS lessons 11-15 "The 'Immortal Soul' Doctrine") [also Sheldon Emry's tape series "The Burning Hell - Is It Bible Truth, or Blasphemy?" A-7604, A-7605, A-7606]

7. THE DEVIL

Church people find it hard to let go of their lesser gods, especially that supernatural arch-demon they call "Satan." In fact this mythical figure is the pivotal anchor point of their religion. They build their theology more around him than around Yahweh.

Sheldon Emry (1927-1985) did much to correct this subject with his series of sermons in 1978 titled: "Give The Devil His Due." [A-7810, A-7811, A-7812, A-7813] (He also did several associated sermons on Rev12, [A-8001] and "Babylon, Lucifer, Assyria and Palestine" [A-7924] ACM recognized the importance of Emry's study and published his sermons in book form in 1990. Emry's book is available from CIM. We also took the study further by publishing several of our own articles and sermons on this subject in The American Christian.

One apparent characteristic the devil believers cannot escape is the similarity of their theology with that of non-Christian or pagan theologies. They are in harmony with the pagans on the Satan doctrine even though they don't want to admit it! Most non-Christian religions, including Judaism, sport similar or identical beliefs about "Satan." Another inescapable point is the obvious lack of responsibility on the part of the Churchgoer who likes having a supernatural "Satan" who can be ultimately blamed for all wrongs. The Churchgoer claims that he is only a pawn caught between two opposing supernatural forces (God and Satan). A victim of their supernatural struggle, he is powerless to escape or influence it one way or the other. On the other hand, knowing that there is no supernatural devil sets us and our readers apart. We don't pass the buck for our mistakes by blaming them on "the devil."

8. ANGELS

Classical church theology presupposes a hierarchy of supernatural beings. This hierarchy places Yahweh at the top. The next level has Jesus and Satan juxtaposed to each other. On declining levels of this hierarchical pyramid are placed "angels" and "demons" with the most powerful and glorious ones nearer the top, and the less powerful ones toward the bottom. These teachings have been developed over the centuries by pagans who invented entire theologies around "Demonology" and "Angelology." But true Biblical "angels" are not of that description. We have learned through careful study of Scripture what the real angels found in the Bible are.

A: Some are supernatural, instantaneous creations from Yahweh. They are only temporary, and usually appear briefly for a singular message or purpose ... and then cease to exist.

B: Most angels are natural flesh-and-blood men (not supernatural) who act as messengers from Yahweh. Often they are prophets, teachers and leaders who cause people to hear and do the counsel of Yahweh. Angels are sometimes labeled "traitors," "heretics," and "rebels" because they bring messages against men in positions of power.

In the last ten years we have published several enlightening articles concerning the subject of angels in The American Christian, [brought to you in Australia by CIM] and have gained sharper insights into The Kingdom of God because of these studies. The symbol of the Cherub, long thought to be a cute baby angel, is actually an ancient logo for the nation of Israel! The whole idea of a vast race of beings called angels actually sprang from a distortion of this term "cherub." This distortion is one of the things that has contributed to the obscuring of the identity of the Israel people.

The pagans have always believed in many lesser gods called "angels" and "demons." Yahweh's people, however, did not. In the fifth century AD Church Mystics mixed pagan doctrine with Bible Doctrine de redefining the cherub into the popular misconception still with us today. Some unidentified man, thought by scholars to be a Syrian Monk, wrote four treatises which outlined a complete theology mixing Christianity with Mysticism. This anonymous mystic published his works under the pseudonym, "Dionysius the Areopagite" ... after a man of some 300 years earlier mentioned in Acts 17:34. This pseudonym gave the writer's treatises and letters an air of credibility. But because he was not the real Dionysius, scholars have called him "Pseudo-Dionysius the Areopagite."

Medieval and Renaissance religious writers became interested in Pseudo-Dionysius' fantasies, and produced a body of commentaries concerning them - giving them added attention in the religious communities. This body of additional literature was instrumental in establishing the fantasy and superseding the original meaning.

Today, the superstition of angels has reached a fever pitch and the marketing of products with angels has become a big business. Angelology hides the true Gospel of the Kingdom. Because people are constantly fantasizing about winged angels up in the clouds, they totally miss the real flesh-and-blood angels here on the earth and their purposes. There indeed ARE angels, but they are mostly men, and the establishment would prefer to keep that hidden. If others came to know this they might be able to see Christ's Kingdom on earth instead of the forever-unattainable-futuristic-fantasy-paradise of church lore.

9. IS JESUS YAHWEH?

In most cases, a man either understands this subject instinctively, or he wallows about forever in church rhetoric. The Trinity or Dualistic God doctrines have their roots in pagan anti-Christian religion. The thought controllers of the religious establishment have done their job well. Logic usually grinds to a halt when this subject comes up. Good questions go unheard. Some people think the subject is blasphemy, or about a different God. A wall goes up in their minds and there is no way you can get them to consider the most basic questions.

In June of 1990 when we published "Is Jesus God?," there was a big reaction in the so-called 'Identity' movement. Feigning righteous indignation several pastors used "Is Jesus God?" as an excuse to attack me. Of course the attack was not aimed at the publication itself. Instead there was only the old political trick of character assassination - attacking the man instead of the issue: insult his character through false accusations, call him a heretic or a false prophet, and thereby skirt the real issues.

To date no one who espouses the Trinity or Dualistic God doctrines has answered the questions raised in "Is Jesus God?" As far as we know this ACM publication still stands as the most thorough study of the subject. It upholds a logical and reasonable Creator. Many people have written to tell us that this study has answered questions for them that they have carried all their lives. God is not an unknowable mystery ... as the Trinitarians and Dualists claim in their attempts to uphold their silly doctrine! Honest realists will eventually face and answer these and many more questions:

1. If Yahweh WAS Jesus, and if Yahweh cannot die, then how could Jesus have actually died on the cross?
2. If Yahweh was Jesus, and if He DID die, who raised Jesus from his tomb?
3. Some claim that Yahweh had to turn into Jesus in order to fulfill the promise He made to remarry Israel. If that is so, how can He - under either name - remarry His divorced wife (Israel) without breaking His own marriage laws? (Deut 24:4; Jer 3:1-8)
4. If Yahweh was Jesus, and if His New Covenant Bride (New Jerusalem) is actually His Old Covenant Wife (Israel), then isn't Jesus (our High Priest) marrying an old, divorced, defiled whore? Where in the law does it say it is OK for a high priest to marry a divorced, defiled woman? (Lev 21:7, 13, 14)
5. Where in Scripture does it mention the "Deity of Jesus" as a foundational doctrine of Christianity? And isn't "deity" a pagan Roman (Latin) term, never used in Scripture to refer to Yahweh or Jesus?
6. If God is an unknowable mystery, as Trinitarians and Dualists claim, how are we supposed to identify and distinguish Him from counterfeit gods? (1 Cor 8:5-6; Ex 20:1-5)

Of course, what we have said in this article about there actually being a Son as well as a Father only scratches the surface of the argument. For an in-depth study on the subject please write and ask for the publication, "Is Jesus God?" (Recommended reading: "Is Jesus God?" #222 $4.95; CIM Aug 1992 "Incarnation: The Great Imposture")

10. JESUS DID NOT DO AWAY WITH GOD'S LAW

Churches brazenly teach that Jesus abolished the law. But Jesus plainly stated:

"Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets. I am not come to destroy, but to accomplish. For I say to you, until heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all is finished. Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven." Matt 5:17-19

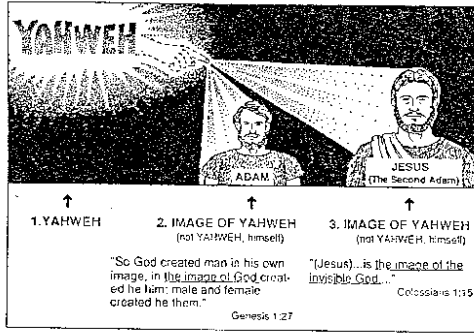

Paul taught that the law is good: "Wherefore the law is holy, and the commandment holy, and just, and good." Rom 7:12

John's view of the law was crystal clear: "He that says, I know him (God) and keep not His commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him." 1 Jn 2:4 "For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and his commandments are not grievous." 1 Jn 5:3

11. PAGAN HOLIDAYS

Christmas, Easter, and Halloween are NOT Christian. These, and other pagan holidays, have been incorporated into Christian society through the churches. This alone is enough to condemn the institution of church as a pagan creation.

THE IMAGE OF A THING IS NOT THE THING ITSELF.

ANTI-THOUGHT CONTROL DICTIONARY:

The study of words, their histories and their changing meanings is an important practice here at ACM. This is where the Anti-Thought Control Dictionary, a regular feature in The American Christian, was conceived. Entire false doctrines can and have been overturned by understanding the correct meanings of certain words. Just by reading the correct and original meanings of the words in this dictionary and comparing them to the new propaganda meanings invented by the church and media spin doctors, readers of The American Christian regularly get mini-history lessons that clarify their thinking on major issues. Since its inception in 1987 we have accumulated 129 separate entries - enough for a book all its own (an upcoming project!)

THE ACTS LESSONS

Within the past ten years we have discovered that an intensive study of one book of the Bible can yield a surprising harvest of insight into the Kingdom of Christ! ACM's lesson series, The Acts of The Apostles, has produced valuable commentary and explanation on such subjects as The Ecclesia - vs - the Church; Eonian Life - vs - Eternal Life; Christ's Kingdom - vs - Central Government; the Food Laws; speaking in Tongues; Seedline doctrine; the relationship between Yahweh and Jesus; etc.

This is "must reading." You will find nothing like it anywhere else! Instead of the same worn-out Judeo-Christian catechisms, these commentaries give real answers to Biblical questions and problems society is facing today. You will discover that the real purpose of Acts has been covered up and distorted by the churches for centuries. A popular feature of the lessons are the tough questions posed at the end of each section. These are basic questions - oftentimes adversarial in nature - which many people want answered. We answer those questions, hopefully clarifying your perspective on religion, government and reality, and dispelling the old and stale religious myths of the churches. (Recommended reading: lessons "The Acts of The Apostles, pts 1-13" [more to come])

ACM'S FUTURE

ACM's ministry to the Anglo-Israel people is unique in today's world. The body of literature, information and guidance at ACM is badly needed by them. We need to expand to meet the needs of this generation.. That means readers need to share ACM's work with everyone they can! It also means that we must use the ways available to us (i.e. radio, Internet, etc.) to make our work available to the millions who haven't yet heard of us. This will be done as funds allow.

We've spent years perfecting our methods, weeding out the errors, and distilling mountains of data into a condensed body of truth. We have spent these years learning and recording. We have a product that everyone needs, but we have done very little promotion of it. There is much yet to be done, and years of backlogged work. Thus, we feel that promotion is a key to ACM's future, and will determine whether or not we can expand as needed. It has been an honor and a privilege for ACM to serve Christ over the past ten years working with all of you. Your encouragement and support have kept us going. May our King continue to guide ACM to minister to your needs, and to manifest His present kingdom! ■ Courtesy The American Christian, Box 740 Grangeville ID 83530 (photocopies of past issues of CIM are available in small quantities

REMEMBER THE LAW

By Pastor Robert Woodworth

"Remember ye the law." (Malachi 4:4). The final exhortation of the Old Testament as found in Malachi 4:4 is that we are to remember the law - the Law of Moses, God's servant, which the LORD (Yahweh) commanded him in Mt Horeb for all Israel with its statutes and judgments. Have we really done this? Have Christians remembered the Law of the Lord as God gave it to Moses? The truth is that most Christians hardly know what the law is at all, and many have been told that we are no longer under the law but under grace, and have therefore done despite to the law of God.

The law of Moses is the Law of God given to Moses for God's people Israel. Long ago Almighty God promised His people that many blessings would ensue if only they would remember His Law, keep it, and obey it.

In Leviticus 26:42-46 we read the words of the Lord Himself: "Then will I remember My covenant with Jacob, and also My covenant with Isaac, and also My covenant with Abraham will I remember; and I will remember the land ... I will for their sakes remember the covenant of their ancestors whom I brought forth out of the land of Egypt in the sight of the heathen that I might be their God: I am the Lord."

"These are the statutes and judgments and laws, which the Lord made between Him and the children of Israel in Mount Sinai by the hand of Moses."

God remembers His Law and His covenant with His people. He only asks that we do. And this Law was given ONLY to God's people Israel as a distinct National heritage. It was one of the national marks of Israel, the people and the nation.

In Psalm 78:5 it says, "For He established a testimony in Jacob, and appointed a law in Israel, which He commanded our fathers, that they should make them known to their children: that the generation to come might know them, even the children which should arise and declare them to their children: that they might set their hope in God, and not forget the work of God, but keep His commandments." (6,7)

This is God's stated purpose - who can deny it? The Lord expected His children to remember the law, and to teach it to their children. He in turn would remember His promises for obedience to His law and bless His people. Paul reminds Christians in Romans 9:4 that it was the "Israelites to whom pertaineth ... the giving of the law." The nation of law, the Law of God, was a distinct characteristic of God's people Israel from the beginning.

In Deuteronomy 4:7-8 Moses asks, "For what nation is there so great, who hath God so nigh unto them, as the Lord our God is in all things that we call upon Him for? And what nation is there so great, that hath statutes and judgments so righteous as all this law, which I set before you this day?" The Psalmist clinches it by declaring: "He hath not dealt so with any nation; and as for His judgments, ye have not known them. Praise ye the LORD (Yahweh)." (Psalm 147:20)

God's Law may be divided into four categories: the (1) Moral Law or the Ten Commandments and related laws pertaining to man's attitude toward God and his fellow man. At the giving of the Ten Commandments, "Moses called all Israel, and said unto them, Hear, O Israel, the statutes and judgments which I speak in your ears this day, that ye may learn them, and keep., and do them .. O that there were such an heart in them, that they would fear Me, and keep all My commandments always, that it might be well with them, and with their children for ever!" (Deut 5:1, 29)

Then there is the (2) Religious Law or the ordinances for worship. They are listed in Leviticus 7:37-38: "This is the law of the burnt offering, or the meat offering, and of the sin offering; and of the trespass offering, and of the consecrations and of the sacrifice of the peace offerings; which the Lord commanded Moses in Mt Sinai, in the day that He commanded the children of Israel to offer their oblations unto the Lord."

All these ordinances of the Tabernacle in the Wilderness were described by the Apostle in Hebrews 9 as having a purpose then, but now being fulfilled in the sacrifice of Christ and His priesthood. These are strictly the religious ordinances and offerings and blood sacrifices that were necessary for the remission of sins, repentance and reconciliation to God. Only this part of the religious law was abolished, or more correctly, fulfilled completely in Christ on Calvary. Paul says so in Ephesians 2:15,

"Having abolished in His flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances; for to make in Himself of twain one new man, so making peace; and that He might reconcile both unto God in one body by the cross, having slain the enmity thereby."

"Blotting out the handwriting of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us and took it out of the way, nailing it to His cross." Colossians 2:14.

Next was the (3) Civil Law which contained the legal code for governing the people. This provided for the executive and judicial branches of government, the legislative having been given by God Himself, the ONLY true Lawmaker. In Deuteronomy 17:9-11 Moses tells how the judges were to measure out justice according to the Law of God, and the administration of the penal code for lawmakers.

Finally there is the (4) Covenant Law, the special blessings and curses given to Israel as a nation in return for her obedience or disobedience to God's righteous commands and legal requirements. These are found in Deuteronomy

28 which begins: "And it shall come to pass, if thou shalt hearken diligently unto the voice of the LORD (Yahweh) thy God, to observe to do all His commandments which I command thee this day, that the LORD (Yahweh) thy God will set thee on high above all nations of the earth."

Contrarily, verse 15 warns, "But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the LORD (Yahweh) thy God, to observe to do all His commandments and His statutes, which I command thee this day, that all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee."

This Covenant Law was given to Israel as a nation and never rescinded. It is rather completed in the New Covenant which God made with His people in sending Christ. The New Covenant is found in Jeremiah 31:31-36 and is fulfilled in Hebrews 8:8-13. It is given to Israel and fulfilled in Christendom.

Just why did God intend that we should remember the law? How important did the Almighty think it was? A careful look at the scriptural emphasis God places on the importance of His law for the governing of His people will show why God intended for His law to be remembered.

The law of the Lord was intended for national reform, so God wants His Law to be made known. Moses said the people came to inquire of God, and in order to judge matters before them, he had to make them know the statutes of God and His laws. (Exodus 18:15-16)

God's Laws were intended to be observed for the improvement of our national life in civil matters for the establishing of our national image as a great God-fearing nation. Deuteronomy 4:6 says we are to: "Keep therefore and do them; for this is your wisdom and your understanding in the sight of the nations, which shall hear all these statutes and say, Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people. For what nation is there so great that hath God so nigh unto them, as the LORD (Yahweh) our God is in all things that we call upon Him for?" But God's law was not only to be remembered for our national image and improvement, but for personal reasons as well.

Deuteronomy 6:2-3 tells us: "Fear the LORD (Yahweh) thy God, to keep all His statutes and His commandments, which I command thee, thou and thy son, and thy son's son, all the days of thy life; and that thy days may be prolonged. Hear, O Israel, and observe to do it; that it may be well with thee, and that ye may increase mightily, as the LORD (Yahweh) God of thy fathers hath promised thee, in the land that floweth with milk and honey."

Furthermore, we are encouraged to love God's Laws, to hide them away in our hearts as our subconscious code of conduct. As Deuteronomy 6:6-9 says, "These words which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart." And the following verses tell us that we are to teach them to our children, post them in plain view. ("and thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up. And thou shalt bind them for a sign upon thine hand, and they shall be as frontlets between thine eyes {marks on forehead and hand} And thou shalt write them upon the posts of thy house, and on thy gates. ... CIM) And it shall be our righteousness, if we observe to do all these commandments before the LORD (Yahweh) our God as He hath commanded us." vs 25.

According to God's Word, kings and civil administrators and rulers are to study God's Laws along with all the other aspects of government. Deuteronomy 17:18-20 contains excellent instruction for all politicians and public servants charged with government: "And it shall be, when he sitteth upon the throne of his kingdom, that he shall write him a copy of this law in a book out of that which is before the priests and the Levites: and it shall be with him, and he shall read therein all the days of his life; that he may learn to fear the LORD (Yahweh) his God, to keep all the statutes, to do them: that his heart be not lifted up above his brethren, and that he turn not aside from the commandment, to the right hand, or to the left; to the end that he may prolong his days in his kingdom, he, and his children, in the midst of Israel."

Not only were the civil administrators to study the laws of the Lord, but they were to enforce them. Whenever they did, history indicates the land was blessed and their reign remembered for peace and prosperity. In 2 Kings 23:24-25 we have just one such instance:

"Moreover the workers with familiar spirits, and the wizards, and the images, and the idols, and all the abominations that were spied in the land of Judah and in Jerusalem, did Josiah put away, that he might perform the words of the law which were written in the book that Hilkiah the priest found in the house of the LORD (Yahweh). And like unto him was there no king before him, that turned to the LORD (Yahweh) with all his heart, and with all his soul, and with all his might, according to all the law of Moses; neither after him arose there any like him."

Would that history might be able to say the same of our modern governors and presidents and judges! But before we blame all our civil evils on our civil leaders, there is a reason why our politicians today do not even know the laws of the Lord. It is because the priests and preachers either do not know them, or at least do not teach them. ("But if they had stood in my counsel, and had caused my people [Anglo-Israel] to hear my words, then they should have turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings." Jer 23:22, CIM) Deuteronomy 33:10 says that the priests "shall teach Jacob thy judgments and Israel thy law." The Old Testament ends with this injunction to all ministers, "For the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth; for he is the messenger of the Lord of hosts." (Mal 2:7).

But we have disorder and confusion and divided standards today because ministers of the gospel thought they could do more by trying to transform society by social means rather than by spiritual means. Many preachers and priests spend more time violating the law of the land and advocating that others do the same when they ought to be preaching and teaching the law of the Lord for the law of the land.

Our youth need to be instructed in the laws of God as Jesus was (Luke 2:46) and Paul (Acts 22:3) who says that he was "taught according to the perfect manner of the law of the fathers and was zealous toward God." The first Christian martyr, Stephen, said we "have received the law by the disposition of angels[messengers] and have not kept it." (Acts 7:53).

The apostle Paul asks, "Wherefore then serveth the law? It was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come to whom the promise was made; and it was ordained by angels in the hand of a mediator ... Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid; for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law." (Gal 3:19).

The Psalmist tells us that the law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul. Ps 119:7. If we had more preaching of the Law of the Lord, we would have more conversion of souls in genuine regeneration. There must be an understanding of the Law of the Lord to know God's righteous standard in contrast to our sinful condition. To bring conviction of sin, there must be preaching of the Laws of God, which are sure, pure, right and true. "Moreover by them is thy servant warned, and in keeping of them there is great reward." (Ps 19:11). Isaiah says the Lord will magnify His Law and make it honourable. (Isaiah 42:21).

Contrary to common Christian conception, the Law is not an element of Old Testament done away with in the New, but "the Law is holy and the commandment holy and just and good." (Rom 7:12) The greatest need in the land today is not more law (see back of the Ad Page), but the moral Law of the Lord to become the civil law of the land. In education, racial understanding, crime, delinquency, divorce, gambling, taxes, public health, capital punishment, war, alcoholism, drug addiction, and all their related problems for which men are seeking answers, there is need to know God's Law for each instance.

In the midst of many voices, we need to listen to the still, small voice of the Lord as found in His Word - the law that applies as accurately as gravity and chemistry and physics. Our modern space scientists have not created new laws, but merely discovered the old ones. We can do no

bits and pieces

Letter from South Africa by K.J.

"Dear Mr Hoskins: We are now mid-winter and the nights are cold, but when the sun is shining, it warms up during the day. There is a discernable change in the attitude of many Blacks, mostly due to media influence. The TV shows Afrikaners as the worst possible living beings. The 'affirmatives' who work with Whites in offices have taken to giving orders left and right. Blacks promoted to mid-management hate the few remaining White supervisors and ignore them, while they order Whites around who are beneath them.

Blacks talk among themselves in their own language of killing Whites. Mandela told them that it is the Whites' fault that they do not have houses. The papers say that Queen Elizabeth and her government like the Blacks very much. Queen Elizabeth should be happy, the British are getting raw materials at bargain prices. But, this good feeling is not shared by all. According to the London Times, the English businessmen smiled ever so friendly until Mandela asked for money. Then they left in a hurry to attend a Japanese business lunch. The very day Mandela spoke from the balcony of South Africa House telling everyone that the rand (their unit of currency) is now under control - it declined 7% against the (US) dollar.

Years ago one of our ministers had his staff collecting English newspaper clippings. It was stopped after a while but someone kept the file and it is now in print. It is called, 'How they hate us.' I hope to send you a copy shortly.

The Ratté saga came to an end. The committee involved with the action called on the leaders who signed their declaration to come forward and work together. I have my doubts about this. Some cannot stand the sight of the others and the Volkverraad book which revealed some interesting details about the Conservative Party leaders and others has been read and promoted by Robert van Tonder and Eugene Terre'Blanche.

"The Weekly Telegraph" has an article in which the Interior-editor, Philip Johnson said, "According to census statistics Indians are the biggest minority group." This is very interesting.

A great many Whites are killed daily. Most cases never reach the media. Is it not war when so many fall? One example - a father killed in a gruesome way for a few cents. Derrik Shannon 31, credit clerk at the Free State University, was killed on Tuesday for the small change he had on him. He was returning from the cafe with a loaf of bread, half a litre of milk and medicine for his two small children and the robbers attacked him on his driveway. Although he fought back they cut his throat. His wife died from shock and their two youngsters are now orphans. None of us like the present situation and we long for peace but not on their terms. Many thoughtful whites feel that open conflict should come as soon as possible, but that is not altogether in our hands. We have a higher authority.

Many farmers have to get rid of their Black workers. They have been stirred up to such an extent that they kill farm animals and burn crops. They also burn houses of those workers who are loyal. Some out-of-work Whites have started working on farms. Our farmers at first were reluctant to hire other Whites not knowing how it would work out. It is working well. Many places also have to give assistance where families no longer have food.

The Blacks say that the reason the regime is milking our economy of every cent they can lay their hands on is to boost their election fund for the 1999 election. Perhaps this money will also disappear like the funds Mandela received and now can't account for.

Many city and town councils are bankrupt or near it. Only Whites continue to pay utility rates and taxes. Eastern Transvaal cannot pay their debts any longer and gets support from regional government. This last week a number of Jews have been murdered and robbed. It gets front page coverage. A senior Jewish professor of constitutional law took his own life after Blacks called him a racist after the Makgoba affair at Wits University." Best Wishes, K.J. ●

RATTE: "Dear Mr Hoskins: Willem Ratte certainly does not seem to fill that which is expected of a "true" Gideon Saxon leader. I pray it is so. Here in South Alabama it has become a disgusting matter to see high school white girls parading around with blacks that are dressed as Africans. Everywhere you turn in public there are mixed couples with their monkey-looking brats. As L.J. of Ohio said, the WORD is not going to tolerate this much longer. Please let us know about how Mr Ratte is coming along." F.J. - Alabama ●

OIL: "Dr Richard: Was interested in the comments about men's hair. With a bald head - no problem. I'm sure you know, the ITC is developing oil in parts of Russia so they want to cut out Iran-Iraq - and now probably Saudi Arabia. That is what the Bosnian deal is about - pipeline through there. Just follow the money. Not sure where the Vietnam oil will go. Wonder what Ron Brown's law partner was doing in S. Africa? Was interested in the self-sufficient farm. I grew up on one of them. One other thing - I must say courting with a horse and rig had decided advantages - two free hands." L.J. - Ohio. ●

PRISONER: "Dear Mr Hoskins: I was 21 when I was sentenced to two consecutive life terms without the possibility of parole for killing a homosexual. These liberal media Dharmatoids wanted to give me the death penalty to 'extinguish hate' when they themselves are the epitome of hate. Now I see that Bill Clinton is advocating interracial adoptions. My heart sickens and can't wait to see this country go back to Christianity which is rightfully ours. "Rid me, and deliver me from the hand of strange children, whose mouth speaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood." Ps 14:11." S.J. - New Jersey

RKH: Violate the kings statutes and you incur his wrath. There was a time when killing a homosexual was treated as justifiable homicide. Lev 20:13. Lev 18:22, Rom 1:27. 1 Cor 6:9. 1 Tim 1:10 ●

PRISON BUSINESS: "Dear RKH: Federal prisons run industries and employ prisoners for near nothing wages. Mexicans smuggle drugs into our country everyday. If they get caught they go to work for UNICOR (Federal Prison industry) and still make better wages than in Mexico. One Mexican told me about the dumptruck and house his wife had bought with his UNICOR pay. I have just finished reading In The beginning. Prison industry is important to the ITC. Dharma is force fed to us in here without our choice..." H.R. - Minnesota. ●

Debt, Enemy of Dominion by Rev. Andrew Sandlin

"And it shall come to pass, if thou shalt hearken diligently unto the voice of the LORD (Yahweh) thy God, to observe and to do all his commandments which I command thee this day ... thou shalt lend unto many nations, and shall not borrow ... But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the LORD (Yahweh) thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and his statutes which I command thee this day ... [the stranger] shall lend to thee, and thou shalt not lend to him." (Deut 28:1a, 12c, 15a, 44a)

Recently I inquired of R.J. Rushdoony about the sales of his potent little volume The Roots of Inflation. I was both amused and disturbed by his frank reply. "It hasn't sold well," he remarked, "because most people aren't interested in teaching that questions their spending habits." Aye, 'tis the truth. And no more true than the issue of debt, the dominion-quenching sin of this generation.

In Deuteronomy 28, God promised his covenant people that their obedience would elicit his blessings, including their economic position as creditor to surrounding (heathen) nations. This status as creditor, in fact, is one way by which they were to exercise dominion, since "the borrower is servant to the lender" Prov 22:7. Conversely, God warned that if his covenant people disobeyed his law-word, he would subject them to debtor status, thereby assuring that the wicked would exercise dominion over them. Thus, debt is a religious and theological problem - economics is merely the by-product of debt's religious character. In general, debt-ridden societies, churches, families, and individuals stand under God's judgment or chastisement. Further, a society, church, family, or individual that encourages or revels in long-term debt reflects, to a degree, individual or institutional apostasy.

Debt, then, cuts the nerve of the dominion commission. Indeed, it is a divinely ordained means of inhibiting the dominion of a disobedient covenant community - God will not allow the disobedient to take dominion in the long run. Even the wicked who lend and thus become wealthy will soon incur the wrath of God and therefore become debtors: Scripture teaches that debt is a curse for disobedience on the covenant community, while credit is a blessing for obedience. Debt opposes dominion because God punishes sin with long-term debt and does not permit covenant-breakers to be dominionists.

There is another reason debt is antithetical to dominion: debtors are always backward-looking, as Rushdoony has pointed out, not forward looking, their attention turned to praying for the (usually) depreciating articles they already possess rather than saving for what they may own outright in the future. Debt precommits ordinarily "expendable" income and thus precludes their meeting of charity (and other) needs that arise unpredictably. In this way, the sin of long-term debt leads to the sin of refusing to help those truly in need.

Freedom is not free
Free men are not equal and Equal men are not free

Debtors can have no real vision of the future because their economic situation is governed by the past. Savings-oriented Christians are forward-looking; the future holds great prospects for them. Further, it must be noted that as the covenant people of God, we are not permitted to sell ourselves to another (1 Cor 7:23). Since we belong to God, we cannot be long-term debtors to men. God - and God alone - maintains absolute claims on the future of his people. To incur long-term debt, however, is truly to "mortgage one's future," a future that belongs to God.

The Bible permits only short-term debt and does not encourage the contracting of it even then. It stipulates the release of debt every seventh year, i.e., debt exceeding six years is prohibited (Dt 15:1-7). In the course of life there are, of course, economic, including health, disasters. These may potentially deplete savings, even with medical insurance [which is also a Babylonian invention, CIM]. In these cases, the covenant people of God are compelled to furnish the godly indigent means to alleviate poverty (Jas 2:15-17). Debt, if contracted, should serve simply as a stepping-stone to get back to creditor status.

What is the upshot of the Biblical teaching for the present situation? Familially, husbands must not lead their families into debt, and must incrementally lead them out of debt if they have incurred it to an unbiblical extent. The family tyrannized by long-term debt strangles the breath of the exercise of its dominion commission. Funds prudently designed for dominion tasks like education, welfare, missions, and so forth are ordinarily committed to debt. Husbands and wives must teach their children early of the evils of long-term debt, squelching the sinful lust of instant gratification often impelling unbiblical debt. Wealth must be used for dominion, not debt.

Debt ridden churches cannot be dominionist churches any more than debt-ridden families can be dominionist families. They are servants rather than masters. They should forego long-term debt and meet in homes or rented facilities until they can purchase debt-free facilities or finance them no longer than six years. Frequently the contracting of debt forces eldership to soft-pedal the truth lest they lose the congregation and thus the means of financing debt. Churches must resist the temptation of the glitter of mortgaged sanctuaries decorated with plush pews. Likewise, politicians are under compulsion to eradicate debt. The present debt of the government is unconscionable. Since to raise taxes beyond 10% is tyrannical (1 Sam 8), only one means exist to drive down the debt and it doesn't require a Ph.D. from Harvard Business School to figure it out [Biblical cancellation is the best way! CIM]. If you must reduce debt while reducing income, you have one "option:" cut spending. Period. This means the elimination of the majority of federal jobs and programs. It means wiping out whole sectors of the federal government (starting with, perhaps, the IRS [ATO] and HEW [Health Education and Welfare]). Of course, state and local government must eliminate debt, too.

Perceptive readers will have noted that I have not mentioned the issue of sin in these last paragraphs; it is time to reintroduce it: our attempts to avoid debt as individuals, families, churches, and nations will in the long run be ineffectual if we do not repent of our sin and begin to obey God's inscripturated word. Since long-term debt is a penalty for sin, we must confess and forsake our sin if we are to expect the status of long-term creditors. If we do not, we are doomed to debt.

DICTIONARY
A Guide to Deceptive Words and Terms Used to Neutralize Christians

ARMAGEDDON

Church Meaning: The greatest and last World War prophesied in the Bible. It will be centered about 60 miles north of Jerusalem in the old valley of Jezreel. All the kings of the earth will converge there for battle, which will then spread worldwide. The Battle of Armageddon will employ nuclear weapons, and will usher in the end of the world as we know it.

Actual Meaning: "Armageddon" is not the name of a war, but the name of a place (Rev 16:16). The name of the war that occurs there is "The War of the Great Day of God Almighty" (Rev 16:14). The word "Armageddon" comes from two Hebrew words: HAR (mountain) and MEGIDDO (regathering). In Bible symbolism, a "mountain" is a nation. Thus, "Armageddon" = NATION OF REGATHERING.

Armageddon, by definition, is a kingdom or nation pre-designated a gathering place. The descendants of the 12 tribes of Israel- i.e., European, Germanic, English, Scottish, Irish, Scandinavian people-have been regathered in America. Here the War of the Great Day of God Almighty is being fought. The battle is not an end-time nuclear holocaust, but rather a long-term conspiracy to enslave the minds and hearts of our people. The war is not future; it has been raging here for over 200 years. The culmination of this war is called "The Supper of the Great God" (Rev 19:17,18,21) as the kings of the earth and their weapons are destroyed by the "sword"(Word) that proceeds out of the mouth of Christ. Truth is the "sword" from Christ's mouth that sets us free and destroys Babylon. The Battle for Truth is being fought here in America. America is the "place called Armageddon."

PERSON

Controlled Meaning: Any individual, a man, woman or child.

Actual Meaning: From "Persona" (Lat.). A "person" is not the same as a "man." A "person" is an entity (human or corporate) whose status is recognized and accepted by government. The status of "person" is a creation of the State. "Persona non grata" (i.e. 'non-person) is a legal term for an entity that is not recognized or accepted by the State.

According to Bouvier's Law Dictionary, 'persons' are subjects of rights and duties conveyed by government. A 'person' is a 'citizen:' one who is 'entitled' and/or 'bound' by government. "Every full citizen is a person; ... But not every human being is necessarily a person, for a person is capable of rights and duties, and there may well be human beings having no legal rights, as was the case with slaves in English law. A person is such, not because he is human, but because rights are ascribed to him. The person is the legal subject or substance of which the rights and duties are attributes."

Bouvier's Law Dictionary.

God created no "persons" - He created MAN. Are you a "person" or a "man"?
