"Blessed be the LORD God of Israel; For He hath visited and redeemed His people, And hath raised up an horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant David; as he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began; That we should be saved from our enemies and from the hand of all that hate us; to perform the mercy promised to our fathers and to remember his holy covenant; The oath which he sware to our father Abraham, That he would grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies might serve him without fear, in holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our lives." "THE TRUTH ABOUT LIES"

by Pastor Mark Downey

The Christian Identity message is basically founded on one premise or truth that can be proven beyond a shadow of a doubt, that the Anglo-Saxon-Celtic-Scandinavian-Germanic and kindred peoples are the true Israel people of the Bible. But, this wonderful truth is eclipsed by a terrible untruth, that the Jews are Israel; after all, that's the name of their country and the Bible talks about Jews, right? It's quite an accomplishment to get most of an entire race of people to think they are something they are not, but that's exactly what has happened to White people. Somehow the Jews have managed to get our people to think of themselves as 'gentiles', which is erroneously defined as 'non-jews'. In other words, a non-jew cannot be an Israelite. And that presumes that the word 'jew' included all 12 tribes, even though the initial claim was to only one tribe; that of Judah, hence the slang word 'jew' coming from the first syllable. It doesn't matter if you're a Christian or if you think it's a matter of religion, because the word 'gentile' has been secularized into the English language. I guess it helps if you can buy out companies that publish dictionaries and you can change the definition of words.

What I want to focus on today is not the vast wasteland of dogmas and divisive doctrines that evolve into denominations because some religious leader thinks it's the truth. There are thirty five thousand denominations that think they're right, but by sheer logic we can deduce that they can't all be right. There would just be way too many contradictions. What I want to focus on today is whether or not the truth matters and specifically if the truth about lies can affect our lives. Or consider the truth about the lies of the economy and how that affects your pocketbook. Does it really matter if you've lost your job or your home? Do you think it's possible that people who hate Christianity with so much passion would masquerade as Christian and "Hebrew" scholars and plant the seeds of false doctrines to the point of making the believer weary and dizzy over the glut of interpretations and controversies? With doctors of theology and professors like that, who needs enemies?

Can we count on the Word of God for what it says about truth itself? I'm not talking about the truth of any given topic or teaching, but just the simple principle or concept of something/anything being true. Well, let's see what Scripture says about truth all by itself without any doctrinal interference. "When the spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all truth." (John 16:13). After the resurrection and ascension of Jesus into Heaven, His physical presence was replaced with the omnipresence of holy spirit, the pure motivations of God. The spirit not only reveals, but will guide and lead us to the truth that will never contradict the Father or the Son. Jesus said, "I am the truth ... and no man cometh unto the Father, but by Me." (John 14:6). So now we can deduce that the truth leads us into all truth and that then would include the truth about lies. "Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God, that we might know the things that are freely given us of God." (I Corinthians 2:12). The truth about lies regarding 'the world' is another contributing factor that disenfranchises White Christians from their earthly duties. When Jesus said "I am not of this world", He didn't mean for you to become a Rapturist.

It's not the so-called truths offered by secular wisdom, but rather a direct communication from God Himself that we can fully understand and appreciate. Sir Isaac Newton, as the story goes, saw an apple fall to the ground and discovered gravity, which is just science unless we realize the truth; that gravity isn't just a good idea, it's God's Law. The law of gravity became Isaac Newton's best known and most important discovery. He warned against using it to view the universe as only some kind of machine, like a great clock. He said, "Gravity explains the motions of the planets, but it cannot explain who set the planets in motion. God governs all things and knows all that is or can be done." I think Newton made great scientific discoveries because he believed the truth of God the Creator and consequently God blessed this man with an abundance of truths. Do you think scientists today pay homage to the source of truth and that it's critical to our very lives? Not likely, being that big corporations own the patents to scientific discoveries made by their employees. However, I'm enthused by the prospects of Kingdom living sometime in the future where all kinds of advancements are surely awaiting us.

It was necessary for God to deal with our spiritual blindness, our hardness of heart, our being lost sheep, in order for our race to see the blessings of redemption, because we can't see them with our five senses; no one can see the gifts who are not enlightened by the spirit of Truth. How can we know the forgiveness of sins if we have not been led to the New Covenant? Unfortunately, there are some of our Israelite brethren who don't think they need to be forgiven for anything, because they've accepted the lie that man is basically good and therefore the idea of being redeemed doesn't matter, especially if it's a racial kinsman that does the redeeming. Or it might be the judeo-Christian who thinks 'once saved - always saved' meaning they can do whatever they want. Knowledge of the New Covenant is like having air for a flat tyre. It is entirely possible for all White Christians to know the truth and that it's really in their best interest. Surely, that should count for something. It should register in the mind as something of value.

"But the natural man [the person without God's Spirit who functions solely on their five senses] does not receive the things of the Spirit of god; for they are foolishness unto him [it's just nonsense to his five senses]; neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned." (I Corinthians 2:14). Motive goes to the heart of knowing the truth. We get the motivation from God. Man remains an animal in nature when he rejects divine revelation and thus uninfluenced by the Spirit of God, i.e. the Truth. The Truth is despised rather than perceived as something beautiful. The carnal man remains in darkness and cannot access the truths of Christianity. Darkness is often equated to ignorance, ignoring something, whether indirectly or self-imposed and willfully falling away from God. The liar cannot conceive of the value of Truth. The Truth is worthless and doesn't matter. This doesn't mean the natural man can't be brought to embrace the purity of God's Truth and abandon falsehoods. The drunkard can become sober. The amoral can become moral. The doubter can become faithful.

"And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." (John 8:32). This has tremendous power to release us from the things that tell us Truth doesn't matter. We can talk all day long about governmental waste and the erosion of our property rights and people will be nodding like a bobble-head in full agreement, but speak of the bondage of sin and the captivity to a Mystery Babylon and you'll get a deer-in-the-headlights look.

That Statue of Liberty is in opposition to the liberty wherewith Jesus has made us free. Most people could care less, but it really bothers me. We've gotten nothing from that humungous goddess standing on the water of New York harbor, except an entanglement with the yoke of bondage from strangers and their strange gods; that bring alien wisdoms and philosophies that make our God's truths of none effect. Who sold us the lie that it's okay for non-Whites and non-Christians to live among us, knowing that it's prohibited by God's Law? "Thou shalt make no covenant with them, nor with their [small 'g'] gods. They shall not dwell in thy land, lest they make thee sin against Me; for if thou serve their gods, it will surely be a snare unto thee." (Exodus 23:32-33).

You would think that out of thirty five thousand denominations, there would be at least one voice crying in the wilderness; but they would be vilified as intolerant racists, rather than honored for preaching the truth about lies. It's not the most envious position to be in for objecting to popular opinion or standing up to the most respected religious leaders of the day. We've got the Kol Nidre being practiced on our soil, which is a Jewish ritual to sanction the nullification of vows, to lie with impunity, to expunge the truth from our way of life. No one seems to mind that lying is a way of life for certain ethnic groups. Does it matter if a giant idol is glorified in our nation? Does it matter if that torch in her hand is in competition with 'the Light of the world'?

"And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld His glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father), full of grace and truth." (John 1:14). I know it's hard for some people to grasp the incarnation of God. God sent Jesus who showed us the way to change from a carnal nature to a divine nature; to what Adam was before the Fall. No man has ever been born into the world to only speak the truth and live a life without sin, save but for one man and that is Jesus the Christ. Think about how great that is (for lack of a better word) and then think about those who don't think the truth matters [as in those court cases, where they say 'truth is not a defense']. It boggles the mind with awesome wonder.

Think about how great our society could be if the truth did matter. No one can understand God or be inclined to investigate His truths or love them when revealed, under the influence of their five senses or unbridled emotions. But the Christian is influenced by vivid imaginations. We have His spirit. We have the mind of Christ (I Corinthians 2:16), who had the mind of God. The truth is, we experience His sanctifying power in our hearts, and bring forth good fruits to the glory of God. Do the good fruits of holy spirit matter? How many people today could care less about love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness or faithfulness? Do you think the truth matters when Jesus will say to those who tell Him that they've done many wonderful things in His Name, that He never knew them (Matthew 7:22-23)? Evidently, the Truth escaped these people and they were far from doing the will of God.

What is the truth about lies? It's that the truth doesn't matter. "An enemy hath done this" (Matthew 13:28), that sowed tares among the good seed, that mixed the holy with the profane and the spiritual with carnality ...that makes the Truth of none effect. The field, the world, is contaminated with a corruption of the Truth and it's under the illusion that it can bring forth good fruit. They say the best lie is the one that has ninety nine percent of the Truth. Why? Because, it's less likely to be detected or objected to. Aren't we warned about the adversaries of God transforming themselves into angels of light, ministers of righteousness? Can a negro in the White House do anything good? No, a corrupt tree cannot bring forth good fruit. Is anybody thinking about cutting down this tree and casting it into the fire (Matthew 7:18-19)? No, because the Truth doesn't matter to them. Just a little lipstick and perfume on a pig to pass the clean test, and voila ...ham dinner at the church social.

"These are they who cause divisions, animals [bipeds with five senses] not having the spirit." (Jude 1:19). It was a rather easy prediction that there would be mockers and scoffers denying the Truth, because they lived according to their own lusts, which would short-circuit anything the ambassadors of Jesus Christ had to say. Look at the utter mess of confusion that churchianity has foisted upon our race. It looks like the days of Noah and Lot out there. They have flushed the Truth down the toilet. Their seminaries and Bible colleges have become bastions of lies.

God loves us, but He doesn't love everybody. God doesn't love the love generation that has brought us hate crime legislation; for hating what God hates. God hates Esau-Edom (Malachi 3:10; Romans 9:13). To say that God loves everybody including creatures that are not 'kind after kind' is stretching the truth. Jeremiah 9:3 puts it like this, "And they bend their tongues like their bow for lies; but they are not valiant for the truth upon the earth; for they proceed from evil to evil, and they know not Me, saith the Lord."

What happens in a carnal world is that power corrupts, and the greater the power, the greater the corruption (not: absolute power corrupts absolutely, because our God is the ONLY One with absolute power, and He cannot be corrupted! CIM), because they have no authority without God's Truth. Jesus said, "All power (Authority) is given unto Me in heaven and in earth." (Matthew 28:18). The Old Testament confirms, "How great is our Lord, His power is absolute, His understanding is infinite." (Psalm 147:5). God's Law has authority over man as long as he lives (Romans 1:7). This authority can't be twisted or distorted to circumvent the truth, lest judgment becomes unjust. Try and tell the Masonic judge in today's courtroom about justice and he'll tell to the same thing Ernst Zundel heard in his Holocaust trial that, "The truth in some absolute sense really plays no role." The truth doesn't matter to these animals. "But he that is spiritual judgeth all things, yet he himself is judged of no man." (I Corinthians 2:15). Why is that? Because we didn't write the Law, God did.

If somebody hates you because you tell the absolute unadulterated truth of God's Word, it's the holy spirit and the Truth that they've declared war on. "If the world hates you, you should know that it hated Me before it hated you ...they hated Me without cause." (John 15:18, 25). What did Jesus ever do to them? He told them the truth and the truth convicted them of their sins. "Sin is the transgression of the law." Oh, those Laws don't matter any more; they were nailed to the Cross.

I get emails all the time from self-righteous judeo-Christians chastising me for being "so full of hate," and "legalistic." That's the standard phrase. And they fail to notice their own hatred. I make every effort to teach them the truth as to how they have been lied to. Most of the time it doesn't matter, but what does matter is that I've planted the seed from Scripture. Most of these people have been so conditioned by their Baal priests, to be empty of hate or opposition to error that it is virtually impossible for them to oppose being lied to. The only thing they oppose is being told the Truth. And thus, we have a situation where they call good evil and evil good. Such a deal for enemies of God.

When we speak out against this malevolent conspiracy, be assured, "You will be hated by all of the heathens, because of My authority." (Matthew 24:9). There's the possibility that we'll be arrested, persecuted and killed just like the remarkable fulfillment in the first century with the martyrdom of most of the disciples and apostles. This goes straight to the prophetic enmity of Genesis 3:15 between White Christian Israel and everybody else: Us vs. them. I like how Proverbs 29:27 puts it, "An unjust person is disgusting to righteous people, and a decent person is disgusting to wicked people."

What on earth is compelling Christians to be unequally yoked together with unbelievers (II Corinthians 6:14)? They don't know who they are or what their responsibilities to God are and they love everybody unconditionally (except us). Didn't the Protocols have a game plan like that? "Honest Abe" Lincoln, who played fast and loose with the truth, said in effect that if America was ever to be destroyed, it would be from within. Historically, nations self-destruct from a moral and spiritual decay, from motivations limited to special interests.

Evil is likened to spoilage or inducing something to rot. Nationally, evil breaks into pieces the cohesion of an indigent racial group. Most people don't realize it, but Lincoln suspended the Constitution and declared Martial Law Rule, which has never been revoked. So it's really a moot point to debate whether a Christian law system exists in our nation anymore. We should pursue the truth as to when America stopped being a Christian nation with scholarship, because that will help us to identify when we stopped being a White nation. We are no longer a White Christian nation, but rather a third world multicultural country.

The Great Depression and WWII rolled out the "red" carpet for creeping socialism, the browning of America and a secret alliance with the communist Soviet Union in Russia. The Rockefellers (who are crypto-Jews) set up dozens of foundations to avoid paying taxes and to further undermine the White race and Christianity in America by funneling their agents into key positions within the government. It was only a matter of time before the Supreme Court decided that even if someone advocated the forced overthrow of the government, which is treason, it was protected speech. And yet today, speaking the truth about treachery is considered hate speech.

Social engineers were not required to tell the truth about hidden agendas or the consequences of legal misrepresentations or even legalized plunder. US News and World Report reported way back in June 28, 1957: "The rights of the individual are now ruled as superseding those of the government itself and of all other citizens ...who may be imperiled. The rights of the individual, moreover, are now held to be more sacred than the right of the people, through their government, to be made secure against foreign enemies, whose agents operate inside our borders."

That was over fifty years ago! The guy that yells fire in a crowded theatre has more rights than an audience that would be trampled to death in a panic exit. You see, we have the same guy yelling "terrorists" today, spilling the blood of our soldiers in foreign theatres of war. Our God-given rights to oppose godless wars have been trampled under foot by antichrists. We can tell the truth about their lies from the tentacles of the octopus, but for most people it's so overwhelming that it doesn't matter, even though it is a matter of life and death.

Since that time in the 1950's when our enemy was working to eliminate America as a white nation, planting the seeds of integration, our people have been inundated with the propaganda that all men are created equal (however, the same Declaration of Independence where those words were taken from, certainly did not include the "merciless Indian savages" in the "created equal" with all "men."). Furthermore, the Baal priests in thousands of denominations put forward the absurd notion that all races come from Adam: the brotherhood of man, the human race, the Rainbow Coalition, the Masonic-Catholic creed of universalism ad nauseam. And then the government, with the blessings of the church, had the audacity to implement desegregation at the end of a bayonet. The universities were dependent on grants from the foundations and the foundations were tax-exempt tax shelters for the super-rich elite one-worlders. And they got away with treason by way of lies and deception. But they won't escape the divine court of Justice.

The truth about their lies making the Bible say all races are the same is extrapolated from the Jew-Masoretic tainted passage found in Acts 17:26, "And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on the face of the earth." The word 'blood' was added by the Jewish translators and the word 'one' should have been capitalized denoting God. Thus the verse should read, "God hath made all nations of Adam [man] to dwell upon the face of the earth." Adam means man and man means Adam; and only one race can fit that description of showing blood in the face, the White race.

Quite a different rendition and racist too, but it is the truth. It's a standard lie that judeo-Christians constantly use to spoil the Word of God. Here's a perfect example of a type of email I get all the time: "You have a lot of nerve calling yourself a pastor. You are nothing but an ignorant, uneducated bigot and a propagandist. God will not look upon you kindly. You are going to hell. Good luck." My question for this gentleman would be: what is the biblical truth for wishing someone good luck in the barbecue pits of hell?

We have lost our God-given inalienable rights because Scripture has been changed to mean something else and even though it can be proven that Scripture has been adulterated, it doesn't matter to the brain-washed masses. But, Scriptural Truth is supposed to make us free. Well, it depends. The context of the eighth chapter of John is the debate Jesus was having with the Pharisees and an understanding of the Truth was pivotal as to whether or not someone is of God. Jesus spoke strong words saying, "I tell you the truth and ye believed Me not ...He that is of God, heareth God's Words: ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God." (John 8:45, 47). Isn't that the same thing as saying today that the Jews are not God's chosen people? The Jews sought to kill the Lord of Truth then, and they continue to kill His disciples of Truth today by keeping us in the bondage of lies and as far away from holy spirit as possible.

In fact, the eternal war between racial purity and mongrelization is one of genocide. The plan for globalization includes the homogenization of all races so that God's Creation of 'kind after kind' is virtually exterminated. That's why Barry Soetoro was the ideal pick for his handler George Soros. It may sound good to race traitors who spoil their family tree and commit treason against the Truth of God, but it is a delusion that will lead to the destruction of the White Race. Again, we are dealing with people to whom the Truth, which affects all truth, doesn't matter. They have gone mad; they've lost their minds (they certainly don't have the mind of Christ) and it's all because they have willingly lost their love of the Truth and therefore can only love its counterpart ...lies. Listen to this:

"With all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not the love of the Truth, that they might be saved. And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie. That they all might be damned who believe not the Truth, but has pleasure in unrighteousness." (II Thessalonians 2:10-12). Now, we may not have all the truths the Bible offers and we struggle in our differences to know them, because we would love to know, but we keep our sanity by never taking delight in those things that are opposite to God's Word, especially if it's being passed off as God's Word.

When it comes to doctrinal differences within our movement, I'm not going to violate Scripture which advocates the bonds of racial fellowship and Christian deportment over the emotional calls of the natural man who judges another man's Christian walk with Jesus and, in some rare cases, there are some who are under God's curse of strong delusion to call for another man's death (because of doctrine). I've gotten these kinds of threats from four different individuals over the years and it's nuts. But, I am not deterred in the least to contend for my faith and to tell the truth as the Spirit leads.

Intentionally not telling the truth is one of the gravest offenses one can make that will keep someone out of the Kingdom of God. At the end of the book of Revelation it's called the 'city of God' where the obedient have right to the tree of life and may enter in through the gates into the city. But it says without or outside the gates of the city or the Kingdom of God, "...are dogs (meaning mongrels) and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie." (Revelation 22:14-15). The last admonition of the New Testament is related to two forms of lying. "If any man shall add unto these things (of the words of the prophecy of this book), God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book. And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city." (Revelation 18-19). This is not exclusive to the book of Revelation, for John was confirming the same admonitions of the Old Testament (Deuteronomy 4:2, 12:32); prophecy is also a general term for teachings, not just predicting the future.

I pray that God increases our love for His Truth and our love for each other. We truly are a Remnant of the Lord that has come to an understanding of who we are and who Israel is not. May our Lord and Saviour bless our discipleship and dedication to the Truth and open our eyes: that we have more things in common than difficult subjects that divide us and close our minds unnecessarily.

Lord, I pray that the truth about lies, which we readily agree upon, reconciles us to a wealth of further truths, whereby we grow and mature in what the living Christ reveals to us in our daily lives. And may the way in which we live each day be a reflection of your grace and glory. Your Truth is the way to freedom. I have a bit more research on this subject to share with my brethren and Lord willing, the sequel to this message will be forthcoming next time I have the privilege to speak. May God richly bless you in your discernments to find that which is good and right and true ...and freely given to us.

When the opportunity arises, the “Seed-line” adherents among our Christian Identity, Covenant People, stridently inject their theoretical views into articles and commentary; most relying on one primary verse, Genesis 3:15 as confirmation. In most cases, their comments are simply an expression of personal views of other selected verses that can be misread to accommodate the theory, but the basic thought, the “doctrine” requires a rather discordant merging of three separate and distinct Biblical issues to foster the idea.

This view point, that a satanic seed-line first impregnated Eve, has to ignore Genesis 4:1, that states without equivocation, that “...Adam knew Eve his wife, and she conceived and bare Cain.”

Three “Proofs” To Validate the Seed-line Theory

1. The “sons of God” were fallen angels. The first of their three “proofs” evolves from the idea that angels can manifest physical characteristics as “humans” and thus were the progenitors of a “race of men”. By virtue of a Biblical expression in Genesis 6:2, the “sons of God”, they consider as applicable to these beings as “angels”, other-worldly beings who visited or were cast to earth. No thought is given to the Lordly dictum of “Kind after Kind!”

Nor is concern expressed over the prior chapter 5, that introduces the physical line from Adam to Seth, both of whom are referred to as being in the likeness of God, while Seth was further identified as being in the “image” of his father, Adam, “a son of God,” confirmed by Luke 3:38, “...which was the son of God...”

If Adam was not the exclusive “son of God,” how can any progeny of Adam be considered similarly, a status we all seek to confirm, both spiritually and physically: yet our seed-liners insist that our “Family” was corrupted from the outset, and later, even further corrupted by alien, space visitors they refer to as the “sons of God.” Paul exposed this fallacy in Romans 8:19: “For the earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation (resurrection) of the sons of God.”

Then a misapplication of the translators’ word for the “nephilim”, or the “giants” of Genesis 6:4 also leads to fortifying this error of the Seed-line, in that the Hebrew word “nephil” which comes from another root word, “gibor,” actually means powerful, tyrant, champion, mighty man.

This translators error of choice, then lends added credibility to their issue of “fallen angels” and a “giant” race of men. It ignores however, the genetic aspects of spirits having physical attributes incapable of reproduction. Is there some inherent guilt that resides within, that finds expression in what appears to be an internal conflict - like a dark secret - sulking there as seen from the questionable discipline of a child, whose “hurt” appears to “enjoy itself”?

Seldom however, is this “seed-line doctrine” associated with its Judaic source, the Babylonian Talmud and associated Jewish materials, the principle instigator of this seed-line issue. Proof of this origin is clear, and some of it follows in subsequent paragraphs.

2. Trees are always symbolic of Humans. Secondly, the issue of Biblical “Trees” as being a symbolic reference to man, to races, must be brought into this issue of the physical corruption of Eve by satan. This is necessary to the “cause of the seed-liners” because it gets other, mysterious people on the scene in the Garden of Eden, adding to justification as we shall see, for the two seed-line theory that results from these equivocations.

Trees however, when “associated” with humans are so identified in the Bible: Ezekiel 31: “Behold the Assyrian was a Cedar in Lebanon.” In Psalms 1:3, the righteous man “...shall be like a tree...” a most revealing comparison is being made here between this man and the ungodly, which confirms that the “...ungodly, shall not stand in judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous...”

So there is no valid Biblical reason to seek justification for making “Trees” into humans when not so designated. Otherwise, they are just plain wood.

Consider the first reference to Trees in Genesis: “...and out of the ground, Yahweh made to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight, and good for food...” No other reason for their “being.”

If the other tree in the Garden, not the well known “Tree of Knowledge,” but the “Tree of Life” was not denied to Adam, what was its significance? Well, Adam apparently did eat of this Tree of Life, because his progeny became its “fruit”. For the Tree of Life is denied in Proverbs 11:30 as follows: “The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life; and he that winneth souls is wise...” If this Tree of Life began in the Garden, its fruit is still being offered. Proverbs again, attributes Trees to “wisdom,” “She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her: and happy is every one that retaineth her...” (Proverbs 3:18) The “she” in this case being wisdom.

This mysterious Tree of Life thus is the promise, an inherited right that began with Adam and his genetic “seed” that was passed along through the Adamites to the Hebrews, to the Israelites to Christians and then to the reward: “Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates of the city...” Revelation 22:14.

3. Eve’s being “beguiled” by Satan led to Cain’s Fatherhood. The Third aspect of proof offered by Seed-liners is tied to the events associated with Eve’s discussion with the “serpent,” otherwise identified as “...more subtle than any beast of the field which the Lord God had made...”

From that single statement we can draw two inferences. One that this “serpent” was the most subtle or smartest of these “beasts of the field,” and two, we can conclude that he appeared in a “human” form, talking, reasoning, walking and observant - confirming to Eve just what the Lord had said, but then injecting in subtlety, the words, “Ye shall not surely die”.

Later, Eve understood what this “serpent” had done to her, telling the Lord that “it” had “beguiled” her. An analysis of this word beguiled from Strong Concordance shows that its first meaning, its first definition, applies to being led astray, to being mentally deluded, and secondarily, morally to seduce, deceive.

So, when Eve states that she was beguiled by this “most subtle beast,” it was her Mind and not her Body that submitted to the invitation - the mind must always first submit and acquiesce, regardless of the act - sexual activity included when applicable, but not here!

Thus, Eve’s sin was disobedience, a fact that appeared to be justified in Adam’s mind also, as the results of ongoing events seemed to confirm - for him - those comments of that most “subtle beast”, that Eve would not die after eating the forbidden fruit.

For Eve’s sin to have been sex, then what was Adam’s guilt? In his failure to control Eve and his acquiescing and participating in Eve’s actions, he became an accessory after the fact, a willing collaborator. Guilt by association. He committed no sexual act as there were no other females mentioned, thus instigating the seed-liners need for "Trees" to be made into humans, so that a female Nachash or serpent, or female "beast of the field" can be conjured up for Adam.

Now, for his subtlety, his stretching of the truth, this "serpent," the most subtle beast, was punished along with Adam and Eve. Punished as a "creation," for that is what he was; formed as a beast of the field (Genesis 2:19) and separate; as opposed to those other beasts of Genesis 1:24 - "beast of the earth."

Creation Differences:

The Significance of being Word Specific!

Here again, there are differences in the two Creations which become apparent by use of the word "field." The words, "beast of the earth" are used in the first creation in Genesis 1, and the words "beast of the field" occurs in Genesis 2, the second creation, but after Adam's having been "formed." A field is a result of the labors of men or in the case of Eden, of God, but the implication is that this beast in the second creation is one that has a specific function, tending the cultivated fields.

Other important differences in the two distinctly separate creations derived from the separate words used to describe their creation: the First being "created" in the Image of Elohiym (Plural) and the Second creation by the "forming" of Adam by Yahweh God (singular). Clearly a separate process was applied to Adam than the process applied by the Elohiym in the first creation.

This "forming" of man by God (even before his birth), is confirmed in His comments about Jeremiah, when God states: "Before I formed thee in the Belly, I knew thee..." Jeremiah 1:4. Just how far back does the Lord go in these, His exclusive selection of His Chosen? Such awesome considerations certainly should awaken our People to consider these most finite details to which He does go in His choices, putting an immeasurable value on all life for this choosing!

Other variations between the Creations, emerge from the fact that the second creation saw the breath of God blown into the nostrils of Adam: but, the first creation did not! And we note also that the female of the Genesis 1 creation, was created when the man was created, a simultaneous event and then they were simply told to procreate, to "replenish" the earth. (implying existence of prior "humans"?)

Eve was "made" from Adam's flesh long after his having been "formed," after Adam had already been assigned tasks to perform and had been instructed by God. In addition, when the instructions, or purposes to and for the two separate creations were given, the first were not instructed or levied with any law nor offered any firm admonitions about behaviour. They were given free rein geographically and simply expected to live off the land so to speak, eating the nuts and fruit, and told only to procreate. No mandatory tasks or stipulations for living were levied on them.

Now, before the second creation, that of Adam, it appears that a considerable lapse of time had occurred following the creation of the first man and woman, as the verses of Genesis 2:1-6 appear to offer an evaluation or a review of this first creation, as we note in these verses, where it states "Thus the heavens and the earth were finished, and all the host of them..." Then a reference in verse 4 states that "...these are the generations, of the heavens and of the earth when they were created..."

But now, in evaluating these six odd verses of Genesis 2, it seems that God was not satisfied with what had been done, and had decided to modify "man" upon the earth. This time, recognizing that there was "...no man to till the ground," and rather than granting him uninhibited free-reign, God set geographic boundaries, and established an agrarian basis for Adam's survival in Eden.

Then, after having blown the spirit of God into Adam's nostrils, God then assigned tasks to Adam for him to sort out the other more recent creations of the animals in Genesis

2, by "naming them." Then, in a most telling of differences in the two creations, God gave Adam instructions that were to be followed - a Law that would test his obedience - a law that would bring to the surface, the inherent weaknesses of the "flesh," for that is what Eve was "made" of, sinful flesh, while Adam, made of the sinless earth, could not be induced to Sin! "Thou shalt not eat of the Tree..."

Thus, it was that Eve became the trigger that induced and introduced "death" to the world, and to both creations it appears, as death apparently had not yet been introduced to the world. Why? Was it a purpose of God to introduce death to the world and use His Chosen, His specially "formed" creature, one exclusively "formed" to insure that untold millions of His Chosen would be introduced to life and then become eternal companions for God, who on one occasion stated that He was lonely? Were the first created, procreating and increasing to beyond supportability? Were there too many of these "creations" in existence for the Earth to handle? Answers to these questions await the resurrection.

An interesting note for Christian Identity and Israel is appropriate to mention here, and it may confirm the significance to the use of the word "forming" of Adam in the second creation. When the word "formed" appears again we find God again doing the forming, it applies to Israel! "Remember these, O Jacob and Israel; for thou art my servant: I have "formed" thee; thou art my servant; O Israel; thou shalt not be forgotten of me..." Isaiah 44:21 (That verse speaks volumes!).

Then, as if to cap the importance of this "forming" of His Chosen, God goes further to state just how important is this word "forming" that He has done, almost as if this shaping, this molding of Adam and Israel were the proudest work of His hands, a sculpturing of His Sons, when He further states unequivocally about Himself. "Before Me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me..."

Certainly Israel's forming, places these, His Chosen

The Impact of Seed-line theory on Israel - Its Talmudic Origins

The internal doctrinal differences on this issue of the Seed-line will continue as long as the Common Enemy remains in control, in power; those possessing a proclivity towards being the antichrist.

Esau/Edom now sits in the Dominion seat, as was predicted in Genesis 27:40, (the last line of Isaac's comments) but they are yet behaving very surreptitiously, fearful of that Saxon wrath, that in one overwhelming instant, could destroy centuries of calculated deceit and deception that has garnered them such unbelievable levels of power and control. Are they the anticipated Assyrians, fearful of having their Plans exposed before achieving total dominion? Will this last opportunity again result in the banishment from nations, as over the centuries? Or will it conclude in that cataclysmic event that Jesus stated would occur before His return, when He sends in His angels to "cut, bundle and burn the tares, before the harvest"? Matthew 13:39. Does this imply that Jacob cannot resolve this issue on his own and must seek this support from the LORD?

This power and control achieved by Esau/Edom stems from being clever and organized, from working in collusion, with a single-mindedness of purpose, following an outline that was conceived in Babylon and persists yet today; in the content and intent of their ancient Talmud, the guidelines for their success that quietly remains in the background, as "subtle" as that beast of the Field, never mentioned or noted by Christian Shepherds as the antithesis to the Bible World. In reality however, the real "antichrist" seen by John is a system rather than a powerful figure.

It seems that the Talmud is always avoided in sermons, as the age-old "fear of the Jews" appears to be drilled into the Shepherds in Seminary: and if not, comments contrary, antithetical to the Talmud, will subject a recalcitrant Shepherd to censure, even by blinded and duped fellow Christians, the "church-goers", now steeped in blindness from the massive hoax of the ages.

Many have succumbed to these Talmudic influences and clever deceit. Shepherds have been induced to adjust Christian concern and lifestyles so subtly, that these changes emerge as doctrines, when in some cases they are in direct opposition to doctrines of the past - changes accommodating abortion, miscegenation, and sodomy - three current examples of this deception now being "accepted" by misled Churchianity.

It is the same trap into which our Seed-liners have also fallen; fallen for a doctrine that ascribes the genetic seed-line of today's Jews to satan by assigning to satan, physical attributes capable of reproduction. Satan is a spirit and spirits cannot manifest such physical attributes for if they could, then satan would be capable of "creating", a capability never granted to it. But for sure, there have been other mental delusions over history that have corrupted our seed, unorthodox doctrines that in themselves, have "beguiled" our Israelites down avenues of confusion, following as blindly as did Adam, culpable and accessories after the fact.

Yes, the Talmud of Judaism and other Rabbinic literature the Kabbalah and Targums as well, do offer confirmation as being the sources of the doctrine of seed line. Some confirmation of this Talmudic involvement follows.

Quoting from Jewish Sources:

Found under the title, Sam(m)ael (Satanil, Samil, Satan, Seir, Salmael, Etc.), is a combination of "sam" meaning poison and "el" meaning angel. In rabbinic literature, Samael is chief of the satans and the angel of death. In the Secrets of Enoch (Enoch 11) he is the prince of demons and a magician. Samael has been regarded both as evil and good; as one of the greatest and as one of the foulest spirits operating in Heaven, on earth and in Hell.

On the one hand he is said to be chief ruler of the fifth Heaven (in Jewish legendary lore his residence is usually placed in the seventh Heaven), one of the seven regents of the world served by two million angels; on the other hand, he is "that great serpent with twelve wings that draws after him, in his fall, the solar system." (Cf. Revelation 12).

Samael is also the angel of death (one of a number of each angels) whom God sent to fetch the soul of Moses when the Lawgiver's days on earth had come to an end. Talmud Yalkut 1,110, speaks of Samael as Esau's guardian angel. Sotah 10b speaks of Samael as Edom's "sar" (angelic prince guardian).

In the Sayings of Rabbi Eliezer, Samael is charged with being the one (in the guise of a serpent) who tempted Eve, seduced her, and became by her the father of Cain. In the Zohar (Vayishlah 170b), Samael is the dark angel who wrestled with Jacob at Peniel, although Michael, Uriel, Metatron, and others have been identified as this antagonist. Samael is also equated with the satan (i.e. the adversary) who tempted David to number Israel. (Rf. 1 Chronicles 21)

Targum, "Jonathan to the Prophets" renders Genesis 3:6 as "And the woman saw Samael the angel of death." This verse is translated in the Paraphrase of Job, 28:7, as "the path of the Tree of Life" which Samael, who flies like a bird, did not know, and which the eye of Eve did not perceive. In Waite, Samael is characterized as the "severity of God" and is listed at fifth of the archangels of the world. But the notion of Fallen angels is not found in the Old Testament. In books like Job, the God-appointed adversary is "hasatan" (meaning "the adversary," and the title of an office, not the designation or name of an angel).

The only possible exceptions are I Chronicles 21 and also II Samuel 24, where Satan seems to emerge as a distinct personality and is identified by name, but scholars are inclined to believe that in these two instances the definite article was inadvertently omitted in translation and that the original read "the satan," i.e., the "adversary."

In the New Testament specifically in Revelation 12, the notion of a fallen angel and of fallen angels is spelled out: "And his (the dragon's or Satan's) tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven (angels) and did cast them to earth, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world; he was cast into the earth and his angels were cast out with him."

This source goes on to identify Lucifer (light giver) who is erroneously equated with the fallen angel (satan)

due to a misreading of Isaiah 14:12: "How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning," an apostrophe which applied this verse to Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon (and not to satan as the son of the morning!)

Again, we should point out that the authors of the books of the Old Testament knew nothing of fallen or evil angels, and do not mention them, although at times, as in Job 4:18, the Lord "put no trust" in His servants, and His angels, He "charged them with folly," which should indicate that angels were not all that they should be.

The name Lucifer was applied by Jerome and other Church fathers, some two hundred years after the time of Christ. It is a Latin word and has no original biblical derivation in either Greek or Hebrew. Indicating that the early Catholic Church had reasons for embellishing Lucifer as well as promoting the doom implied from a created Hell. The biblically illiterate masses were simply more malleable and a more reliable source of economic support derived from induced "fears" of Lucifer and Hell. (My Words) [end quoting from "Fallen Angels: Bibliotheque Nationale reproduced from Regamy, Anges. A Dictionary of Bible Terms].

This issue of Satanic corruption of Eve is a common thread in the Talmud. Here is only one extract from Yebamouth, 102a, 103b for what can be considered the foundation of the Seedline doctrine: Rabbi Johanna said: The Serpent copulated with Eve to infuse her with sensual lust.

Both Talmuds, the predominant Babylonian Talmud and the "edited" and "scrubbed" Jerusalem Talmud, reflect the same verbage. Note also, a characteristic trait that permeates the Talmud: it always states that Rabbi so-and-so, said! Never, does it open with God said, or the LORD said, as this humanist set of severely anti-Christian volumes always refers to some perverted Rabbi or Pharisee for its instructions.

Even later, more modern Jewish publications "recognize" the origin of Cain. The idea that satan fathered Cain is recorded in The Encyclopedia Britannica on Jewish Interpretations of Scripture: "The birth of Cain is ascribed to a union of Satan with Eve." Vol. V111, (1910) p.122. Similarly, The Jewish Encyclopedia states as well: "Satan was the seducer and paramour of Eve." Vol. X1 (1905) p.69.

Jewish thought also has convoluted the biblical words of Eve, who announces on the birth of Cain: "I have gotten a man from the Lord." (KJV) For a new Mother, a proud and satisfying comment! But, the Jewish, "Targum of Jonathan" rewrites this expression to say: "I have acquired a man, the Angel of the Lord. And she added to bear from her husband Adam his twin, even Abel..." Clearly this implies that satan copulated with Eve producing Cain.

That proper historic biblical comment from Eve is however, characteristic of a woman, particularly after childbirth as this was a "creation" of a Man by herself, which placed her, in her mind, on a par with God. He, the Lord, had created a man and so had she! She was as proud of her accomplishment as God had been of Adam. She may have thought that this event was her redeeming solution for having been induced to disobey the Lord. But, then she was probably as disappointed in Cain as God had been with Adam for his failure.

Assessing the Impact of Seed line Theory on "blinded in part" Israel

Clearly, it is essential that today's awakening Israelites not be led into confusion by doctrines that are not firmly established as Christian in basis or acceptance rather by doctrines whose sources come from enemies of the Faith, the enemies of the Truth of the Identity of Israelites in the world today.

That "blindness in part" of which St. Paul writes in Romans 11:25 is now lifted, but for those new Israelites who are awakening to the truth of themselves, being faced with a confusion of doctrines, some which are basically Talmudic, only deters and misleads these newly discovered Israelites from a firm recognition of just Who they are, and more importantly Who they were in the past.

Advising an Israelite that his progenitors were those Hebrews who were once "married" to the LORD, but were to be recognized as His people forever, His Chosen, and manifest in those nations now considered as ancient Israel, becomes confused and misleading. It depletes the value, denigrates the impact of this new found recognition, when asked to accept theoretical doctrines that emerge from sources that are known to be from enemies of the Faith.

It contains no redeeming qualities associated with Salvation, with the Gospel of the Kingdom, and it overlooks the power and planning of the LORD in His resolutions to our problems, as Jesus does seem to imply in Matthew 13, that these "Tares" can only be overcome by the angels, who will be sent in before the harvest to do their work.

Our navigation through this life is much like holding to a selected course for a long flight. Once the course has been measured and the compass course determined; following that compass heading is a prerequisite to reaching the final destination.

If the measured course is in error by only a degree, or the anticipated winds change, or the instructions were wrong, or applied in error during the flight, over time, the error expands, and the duress heightens until the destination cannot be found without applying a mid-course correction.

The same rationale applies to our personal life and our national progress and direction today - our moral compass is askew and a mid-course correction is necessary as the pressure being applied for change, for restoration, comes via Divine duress upon our People, and signals that the time of "Jacob's" troubles may be appearing.

When the winds, head winds of change, increase in velocity, when they change direction, when they buffet our flight path, they influence this path through life. But if our planning and preparation has followed the Word, these headwinds are not reasons to abort the mission to our final destination.

We can make adjustments, wisdom is supplied when requested., but not the values learned and earned along the way, or the hope we have and carry along that came from that one "breath of life" He gave in selecting us as His Chosen.

Must Have for your Library: STORIES OF LOST ISRAEL IN FOLKLORE

By Rev. James B. Haggart

Children for many generations will forever be grateful to the Grimm brothers, Jacob and Wilhelm, for preserving the Fairy Stories for them to enjoy. But not only the children are grateful. Men and women of every clime and country are grateful. Except for the efforts of these two men more than 200 stories might have been lost forever to posterity. The Brothers Grimm have assured for these simple stories an important niche in our cultural and our spiritual heritage. Yes, there is a spiritual content which cannot be ignored. For many of the stories tie in very closely with the stories of the Bible. They are particularly valuable to us for their preservation of the racial heritage which reaches back to the times of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, the Patriarchs of the Old Testament.

WHEN WE FALL

by Daniel J. Mount

PASSING ALONG THE VISION

A lie.

A messy house.

A child rebelling against correction.

A ticket for violating a traffic law you didn't even know existed.

No matter how hard we try to fix our eyes on the goal, it is so easy to get off track. So many things - little things or big things - can cause us to fall back into sins we thought we'd conquered.

It's not always the big things that get a Christian. We can fix our focus on Jesus to the point that we are not tempted to commit adultery, idolatry, or murder. But instead we are distracted by the little things: frustration, gluttony, slothfulness, and especially complacency.

We know how easy it is to fall (back) into bad habits. A recovered alcoholic can go for years without strong drink, yet be sucked back with just one drink. By just us slipping once, we can again be ensnared in an old pattern, a self-destructive cycle we thought we had conquered.

Sin has its pleasure for a season [that's what makes it inviting]. It is often when we are facing the consequences that holy spirit reminds us how we got into the mess. We are pricked in our conscience and see where we have gone astray. This should lead to repentance - to turning back onto the course, and once again fixing our eyes on the goal.

THE LOW POINT

In this cycle of sin, consequences, repentance, and restoration, the low point is right before repentance. How low this point is depends mainly on how seriously we take our walk with God. The closer we get to living a holy, sanctified life, the greater our sorrow when we realize we have slipped off course once again.

At this low point, it is easy to despair. We wonder if we will ever be able to break this cycle of besetting sin. We wish we had the faith of the heroes of the faith. We wish we had their single-minded focus on their goal - on our common goal. We wish we possessed their ability to rise above the circumstances victorious.

But there is something we forget.

ABRAHAM

"By faith Abraham when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whether he went. By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, dwelling in tabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise; For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God." Hebrews 11:8-10.

Perhaps no other Old Testament hero inspires more respect and awe. Abraham desired a son, but God promised so much more. God promised that his descendants would be as the sands of the sea, and that the Messiah would come of his seed.

God fulfilled the promises He made to Abraham - but not before Abraham tried to take matters into his own hands and fulfill them himself, with Hagar. The result, Ishmael and his descendants, has been a thorn in Israel's side ever since.

Yet God forgave Abraham and fulfilled His will in his life anyhow.

SARAH

"Through faith also Sarah herself received strength to conceive seed, and was delivered of a child when she was past age, because she judged him faithful who had promised." Hebrews 11:11.

God worked a miracle in Sarah's life, granting her a child when she was well past the natural age. Abraham's child with Sarah - not his child via Hagar or children via Keturah - would be the child of the promise - because Sarah "counted Him faithful who had promised." Galatians 3:18, 29 - and that seed (Isaac and his descendants) was anointed (Christ - khristos-5547/5548), and heirs according to the promise.

But this was not before Sarah openly doubted the promise, even in the presence of the One who gave it. When the promise was given, Genesis 18 says that Sarah laughed in disbelief. Yet God gave her the strength, the anointing, to have a child because of her faith.

MOSES

"By faith Moses, when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter; choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season; esteeming the reproach of anointing (Christ - khristos 5547/5548) greater riches than the treasures in Egypt: for he had respect unto the recompense of the reward. By faith he forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king: for he endured as seeing Him who is invisible." Hebrews 11:24-27.

God worked the miraculous in Moses' life. We remember him for what he accomplished - not for what he went through before he accomplished it.

Moses enjoyed the pleasures of Pharaoh's household for a season. His decision to forsake Egypt did not come until after he had impulsively killed an Egyptian beating one of his fellow Hebrews. But even then, he would have stayed in Pharaoh's household, except that his slaying the Egyptian had become known. In Exodus 2, Moses' actions don't look exactly heroic:

"And Moses feared, and said, 'Surely this thing is known.' Now when Pharaoh heard this thing, he sought to slay Moses. But Moses fled from the face of Pharaoh, and dwelt in the land of Midian, and sat down by a well." Exodus 2:14b-15.

He fled Egypt initially because he feared for his life - but he ended up choosing to stand with his people in faith. Hebrews 11 continues:

"Through faith he kept the passover, and the sprinkling of blood, lest he that destroyed the firstborn should touch them. By faith they passed through the Red Sea as by dry land: which the Egyptians saying to do were drowned." 11:28-29.

We remember Moses for standing up to Pharaoh and leading the Israelites out of Egypt. Sometimes we forget that he first tried to beg out of the job. Even after God worked several miracles in Moses' presence, Moses argued that his brother Aaron would be a far better spokesman. God ended up letting Aaron work at Moses' side, and used both men.

THE OTHER HEROES

"And what shall I more say? for the time would fail me

God's Choice By Covenant

No one chooses to become one of God's covenant people! Only God chooses whom He wants to be His people. That is why He is God. He alone creates and chooses. The most common question that arises is this: If God has made a covenant with only one race of people, what about the other races? What happens to them? Isn't God unfair to exclude them?

to tell of Gideon, and of Barak, and of Samson, and of Jephthah; of David also, and Samuel, and of the prophets.” Hebrews 11:32.

God called Gideon to deliver His people from the Midianites. Even after God gave Gideon the sign of dew on the fleece but not the ground, Gideon still doubted and asked God for the opposite sign. Yet God ultimately used his faith and brought about a victory.

In the time of Deborah the prophetess, God called Barak to fight and defeat the army of the Canaanites, led by Sisera. Barak doubted God and would not go to battle unless Deborah came with him. Yet God used his faith and wrought a victory.

Samson's failures are well known; on several occasions, he fell prey to the lusts of the flesh. Yet God worked through him still.

When Jephthah led the Israelites in war against the Ammonites, he made a vow to God: If the Israelites won, once he returned home, Jephthah would sacrifice the first living thing that came out of the doors of his house to greet him. He must have questioned God during this time. Though we have a few glimpses into his thoughts, this must have tested his faith deeply.

David also fell prey to the lusts of the flesh. But he was a man after God's own heart, and after his prayer of repentance (in Psalm 51), God created a clean heart in him and used him for the rest of his life.

Samuel, the last of the judges, struggled with God over Israel's rejection of his ministry implicit in their request for a king. Ultimately, in I Samuel 8, God explained to him that “...they have not rejected thee, but they have rejected Me, that I should not reign over them.” Yet through faith Samuel spent years longer as God's servant to a nation that had rejected Him.

Looking briefly at the New Testament heroes, Peter was afraid and denied his Lord when it came to crunch time. But he was forgiven and his faith was restored. He became a fearless spokesman for Jesus the Christ.

In Romans 7, Paul confessed to the world that his flesh continually drove him to sin, and that this conflict led him to the point of despair. But in Romans 8, we see the victory, where Paul proclaims that there is now no condemnation in Jesus, and that “...the law of the spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death.”

THE COMMON THREAD

Through the lives of each of these heroes of the faith, we see common threads. God had called them to a purpose, a calling that in their case would forever make a mark on history. Yet each struggled with doubt, and stumbled along the way.

Sometimes we view history, especially Bible history, through a rosy lens. We think these men were somehow more than men. But they were not. They were ordinary people with the same frailties as you and I. They did not become heroes of the faith because they ran a perfect race. The heroes of the faith are not the ones who have never fallen.

They are the ones who stand to run again.

THE CLOUD OF WITNESSES

“Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before Him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.” Hebrews 12:1-2.

Sometimes I think that in eternity, we will look back at our brief life on this planet much the same way as a parent watching a baby learning to walk. We know that we will stumble and fall. The important part is that we rise to run again. In this race, the only ones who have never fallen are the ones who have never run.

Over time, hopefully our stumbles and sidetracks will be fewer and farther between, but until we reach the goal, our enemy will keep trying to get us off course. When we fall, we rise again, return to the course, and press on.

This race is a race we run “with patience.” It is not a race of speed, but a race of endurance. The purpose is not to reach the goal first - it is merely to reach the goal.

As we run this race, we are surrounded by a great cloud of witnesses. These heroes of the faith have run the same race we run now. They stumbled, they fell. But they rose to run again. And they cheer us on to the finish.

CORRUPTION OR CORRECTION

by Pastor Roy B. Anderson

Eighty-five years ago, when I was a boy, we children with mother and father would go to town, leaving our home unlocked. Upon returning home nothing was disturbed or taken. Rape or the violation of women and children was unheard of. On the farm we worked, and took care of the animals and read books by kerosene lamps when it got dark.

Sundays we went to church and Sunday School. When we had birthdays according to our age, we would drop pennies into a jar. After this was done, the entire Sunday School would say, “May sunshine and sorrow be gladness with a beautiful birthday in heaven.” [we used to do something similar, in just singing ‘happy birthday’ when we were all together, for those who had had their birthday during the week - not having a special ‘day’ for each birthday. I think it was a better way, CIM].

What has happened in America and to families today? Today we live in an age of corruption. This is found in government, business, labour, international relations, gambling, vice, pornography, organized crime, families and just about everything. This affects all of us through taxes, prices at the stores and the moral fibre of our children. It affects families, our security and it has a demeaning effect of marriage and ethics in public education which causes the lack of integrity in those we trust.

True! These conditions are not new in our society but God's Word tells us that they will get worse in the last days preceding the coming of the Christ.

What are some of the signs that show corruption that would precede Jesus' coming? We all hear it, whether in the street or as it fills the air waves. It is foul language with all its vulgarities and obscenities. not only do we hear all this profanity, but deception, lies and false claims through advertising and promotional propaganda. Christians were warned to avoid these things, the Apostle Paul wrote:

“Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers.” Ephesians 4:29, Companion Bible.

The Apostle Paul did not stop there with this advice, for he continued on by saying:

“Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice: and be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ’s sake hath forgiven you.” Ephesians 4:31-32.

Even worse than profanity and pornography is the corrupting of God’s Word through false interpretations and deliberate deception. In this morning’s paper, the Sun News here in Las Cruces, dated July 22, 2002, the headlines stated: “Learn to use corporate accounting tricks at home.” This suggests to its readers excepting from the truth for personal gain. Look at the Ten Commandments, and you will see that this deception violates all the principles that God set down in His Law.

As the serpent lied to Eve in the Garden of Eden, so today, many advocate and teach us sin. Paul wrote to the church at Corinth:

“But I fear, lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtlety, so your minds should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in the Christ.” II Corinthians 11:3.

If we want to be true to Jesus and His Word, then listen to what Paul said:

“For we are unto God a sweet savour of Christ, in them that are saved, and in them that perish: to the one we are the savour of death unto death; and to the other the savour of life unto life. And who is sufficient for these things? For we are not as many, which corrupt the word of God; but as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God speak we in Christ.” II Corinthians 2:15-17.

There are many fears that people have today in this century. Fears of pollution, insecticides, cancer causing agents, the contrails left of airplanes and the list grows and grows. But there is a greater corruption that comes from the flesh, from human reason, from social sources rather than spiritual. All of these others may be good for some, but many have no moral standards. Immorality permits corruption, sexual promiscuity breeds marital infidelity, prostitution, pornography, illegitimacy, venereal disease and abortion. Lust for political power leads to graft, intimidation, bribery, favours and pay-offs. The lust for economic power leads to price-fixing, monopoly, commodity control, usury, and embezzlement.

Those who follow these corrupt ways in their lives must answer in the Day of Judgement, when Christ returns. Paul said to the Galatians:

“For if a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself. But let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another. For every man shall bear his own burden. Let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things. Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption: but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting.” Galatians. 6:3-8.

So true! So true! Those who read these same verses in another Bible often are deceived to believe something other than the truth. It’s important to be close to God so that the Holy Spirit can reveal the truth. I find many people who are fleshy are led and deceived. Very often, people who are leaders in some field of endeavour, think that they are so great, that they know God’s Word better than God’s Chosen. But as Paul said: “They are nothing.”

Immorality, if permitted, also corrupts other things. The Christian should not be surprised when he or she sees organized crime in the liquor trade and gambling. Organized crime is the lust for power and is destructive. Very few can offer a means of correction. Three things must be done to correct those things that have been corrupted. They are:

1. To restore those things that have already been corrupted.
2. To make sure what has been corrected does not revert back to further corruption.
3. To preserve and safely keep these truths from further corruption.

We, who are the believers in the truth of God’s Word, must “stand fast” and heed the advice given to us by the Apostle Paul. For he said to Timothy:

“All Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works.” II Timothy 3:16-17.

The Word of God is given by inspiration, not only for doctrine, but also for correction. The purpose is to build moral character and enable us to walk in God’s laws, seeing what is righteous and abiding in God’s will. Then it is relevant that all Scripture is for correction. Corruption demoralizes us personally, demeans us socially, degrades us politically, and destroys us spiritually.

Always remember! If you use the Scriptures for correction as your authority, then your opponents end up attacking the Bible, not you. The Scriptures are the Christian’s main line of defense, source of strength and final authority.

The prophet Isaiah tells us what happens when no correction is given or accepted. Youth are first corrupted, and then they become the corrupters.

“Ah sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, a seed of evildoers, children that are corrupters: they have forsaken the Lord, they have provoked the Holy One of Israel unto anger, they are gone away backward.” Isaiah 1:4.

If there is no correction, then youth become the corrupters. As a result of all this, then the whole of society suffers from this self-corruption, deception and oppression. The ultimate in any society is that individuals who know the truth are rejected by the people: and those who know not the truth are rejected by the Lord. As the prophet Jeremiah stated, we are selected as a tower amongst God’s People. Listen to what God told him to say:

“I have set thee for a tower and a fortress among My People, that thou mayest know and try their way. They are all grievous revolters, walking with slanders: they are brass and iron; they are all corrupters.” Jeremiah 6:27-28.

So have hope, you who love and fear God. You were put here to do God’s will. Do not become discouraged “Stand sure”, God knows, and take it from one who has endured ridicule for the truth. We will continue to correct corruption for we are God’s precious jewels and a better time is in store for us. God bless you all.

We find people in all walks of life who, even though they get punished for what they have done, still refuse to be corrected. Jeremiah spoke correctly when he said:

“And though they say, ‘The Lord liveth’; surely they swear falsely. O Lord, are not Thine eyes upon the truth? Thou hast stricken them, but they have not grieved; Thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction: they have made their faces harder than a rock; they have refused to return.” Jeremiah 5:2-3.

But what about this nation that we call America? Is it correcting the evil that we see or hear each and every day? God is speaking to this nation as I write these words. Even in the highest of offices and places of trust, we have corruption. Thus Jeremiah states:

“But this thing commanded I them, saying, ‘Obey My voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be My People: and walk ye in all the ways that I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you’...But thou shalt say unto them, ‘This is a nation that obeyeth not the voice of the Lord their God, nor receiveth correction: truth is perished, and is cut off from their mouth’” Jeremiah 7: 23, 28.

When we have both the people and the nation corrupted, we are indeed in serious trouble. Those who believe and receive the Lord’s correction are spared: but those who refuse correction are corrupted, with no one to blame but themselves. The Bible not only describes the corruption and its causes, but also gives instruction for correction. In the Book of Proverbs, we read:

“My son, despise not the chastening of the Lord; Neither be weary of His correction; For whom the Lord loveth He correcteth; Even as a father the son in whom he delighteth.” Proverbs 3: 11-12.

And because God corrects those in whom He loves, so should we as parents do for our children whom we love.

“Train up a child in the way he should go: And when he is old, he will not depart from it.” Proverbs 22: 6.

And again we read:

“Foolishness is bound in the heart of a child; But the rod of correction shall drive it far from him.” Proverbs 22:15.

Young people are corrupted to the extent that parents have not corrected their children. Many families suffer because their children leave the nest and make a mess out of their lives, thus causing grief and unrest in the family.

“Correct thy son, and he shall give thee rest; Yea, he shall give delight unto thy soul.” Proverbs 29: 17.

All this also applies to daughters too. We are not to withhold correction from our children. Read Proverbs 23:13. Often parents are so busy correcting our children that they fail to correct themselves. We also fail to correct our society in which we live.

So first, we must correct ourselves. As a horticulturist, may I suggest that we start pruning our own tree before we begin to prune the branches of others. As a horticulturist, when we see a tree with sick branches, we trim and treat that wound after we prune. A sick tree cannot bring forth good fruit whether it’s an apple, peach, cherry, or any other kind of tree. Likewise, we relate this same thought to people. For Christ said:

“Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit. A good tree can not bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.” Matthew 7:17-19.

It is difficult in this day and age to escape corruption. We can escape this by accepting and believing God’s precious promises and believing God’s precious words to us. Peter, an energetic and bombastic man, said:

“But these, as natural brute beasts made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of the things that they understand not, and shall utterly perish in their own corruption.” II Peter 2:19.

The reality of it all is that corrupt beings cannot correct anything anymore than a corrupt tree can bear correct good fruit. The people we elect into office make many promises, but the Bible says:

“While they promise them liberty, they themselves are the servants of corruption: for of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage.” II Peter 2:19.

We are held in bondage by the usury of this Babylonian system in the USA, the economic system which is corrupted, the media, yes, and even our educational system needs overhauling. There are many other areas that are corrupted, too numerous to mention here.

Jesus said that in the last days we would see nation against nation, famines, earthquakes, which would characterize the last days. Taxes and inflation would eat our earnings, anti-life and immoral practices would erode our society, crime rising and causing insecurity: yes, and even preachers would have no solution to all our woes.

What is needed is a comprehensive and a competent plan for reconciliation of all these basic conflicts. People neglect the Bible because they, who are fleshy, believe they know better than God’s saints. If we believe what God calls us to do, His will, we will have a good start for correction of corruption. There are five thoughts I leave with you, so that you might have hope. These are:

1. God reconciled us to Himself by Christ Jesus.
2. God gave us the ministry of reconciliation.
3. God, in Christ, reconciles the world to Himself.
4. God committed to us this word of reconciliation.
5. We are to call the world to be reconciled to God.

Reconcile means to restore. To do this we restore friendship and fellowship. Mostly because we are estranged from God, and we need to settle differences and bring ourselves not only to acquiescence, but also to submission, so that harmony and peace can be attained.

Reconciliation justly requires in ourselves a change of attitude, a change of behaviour, that we can look upon all mankind to bring them to Christ. This is sadly needed, especially amongst Christians. Our saviour died on the cross, (tree, Greek: Stauros and Xylon not in Latin), so that all who come to him might be saved.

When we look at the Old Covenant and the New Covenant, we find people saying that the Old was done away with. But listen to what the Apostle Paul had to say on this matter. Paul said:

“But now in Christ Jesus ye who sometimes were far off are made nigh by the blood of Christ. For he is our peace, Who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us; Having abolished in His flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances; for to make in Himself of twain one new man, so making peace; And that He might reconcile both unto God in one body the cross, having slain the enmity thereby: And came and preached peace to you which were afar off, and to them that were nigh.” Ephesians 2:13-17.

Did you hear what Paul said? He said: that the only difference between the Old Covenant and the New Covenant was that, in Christ’s sacrifice on the cross, He abolished only the law contained in the Ordinances. So when people say that the Old Covenant with God’s promises to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob has been done away with, these people are deceived in their beliefs. They need correction, because they have corrupted God's Word.

There is only one hope. God's ministry of reconciliation involves personal and national salvation, the healing of the body, the nation, and the victory of Christ in His Kingdom here on earth. What God has ordained for His Creation, He offers you personally. Draw near to God and He will draw near to you someday. Someday every eye will see Him and every knee will bow and every tongue confess that Jesus is Lord to the glory of God.

LIBERALISM IS BOTH RACIST AND HYPOCRITICAL

by William Finck

Not that we even accept the false Liberal vs. Conservative as paradigm - for both ideologies as they are practiced in the West today are severely flawed - however here we shall comment upon the blatant hypocrisy of Liberalism when it comes to the issue of race. It is the Liberal who insists upon programs - in the United States anyway - such as so-called equal opportunity and affirmative action, unlimited third-world immigration into traditionally White nations and massive relief and aid campaigns for the people who remain behind in those third-world nations, especially whenever indifference towards White areas hit by equal calamity.

Often the more conservative among us are decried by Liberals for being "racists", when we speak out against certain Liberal policies. These policies include, but are not limited to, such things as handouts to those who do not deserve to be the recipients of other people's money, jobs for applicants who are unqualified for certain positions yet who still get hired for them, or university admissions for marginal students, all to meet someone's ideal of equity. Liberals use all sorts of schemes, veiled and otherwise, to implement these policies, such as adding unearned points to test scores for minorities, the waiving of certain requirements, and so on up to out-right quotas.

Yet when a Liberal insists that a non-White person be given points on an employment or promotional exam simply because the person is not White, then the Liberal is in essence insisting that non-White people are unqualified failures who cannot get a position without such help. Even non-Whites who actually earned such positions fairly are then disparaged. It is therefore the Liberal who is racist.

And when a Liberal insists that non-White countries need a handout every time one of them suffers some sort of disaster, then the Liberal is in essence insisting that non-White people cannot help themselves. It is therefore the Liberal who is the racist.

When a Liberal insists that the White nations are flooded with aliens, so that the aliens can have some opportunity that they cannot have at home, then the Liberal is in essence insisting that the plight of these aliens in their own countries is hopeless, and that they are unable to provide any opportunity. It is therefore the Liberal who is the racist.

When a Liberal insists that students of colour must be awarded university admissions that they cannot obtain without special consideration, then the Liberal is in essence insisting that non-White people are academic failures or have deficiencies in intelligence that prohibit them from eligibility without such consideration. It is therefore the Liberal who is the racist.

And the hypocrisy of Liberals is even more glaring than their systematized racism. For most Liberals would indeed profess to believe in Darwinian theory. Just ask one Liberal about evolution and you will most often find this to be so. Yet they do not practice their belief. For it was Darwin who described natural selection as a mechanism of evolution, and who also used the phrase "survival of the fittest" in reference to it. Yet it is the Liberal who insists upon bypassing natural selection by educating, employing and promoting those who are - by their own tacit insistence - less fit to be educated, employed or promoted. And this is, of course, at the expense of the "more fit" who can meet the qualifications without preferences. Therefore, the Liberal is a racist, and a hypocrite.

Liberalism as it is practiced today is a self-righteous arrogance which is destructive of all cultures while claiming to embrace all cultures. Yet it is destructive of White culture beyond all others, since Liberals in their hypocrisy only beat the drums of diversity in White nations. Nobody, for instance, has been demanding third-world immigration into China, a monolithic society of one-and-a-half billion yellow people. For that reason, Isaiah the prophet wrote of the day when "The vile person shall be no more called liberal, nor the churl said to be bountiful." Isaiah 32:5.

In order to effectively counter its disease, those who stand against the devices of Liberalism must cease from fearing its calumny, Conservatives must not fear the "racist" slander. Since God is the author of race, and His Law as it is often repeated in Genesis is "kind after kind" and "everything after its kind", then racism is in essence love - and not hate.

Racism is the love of God's original creation, and the desire to preserve it. Anti-racism and miscegenation are the desire to destroy that original creation. This is true regardless of one's opinion of non-Whites and other cultures. It is also true if your god is evolution, or the God of the Christian Bible.

DO AMERICANS REALLY WANT TO FIX THE NATION?

No They Don't. Not Yet Anyway!

by Ken Lent.

Why don't they? Because they have had too much of everything for too long of a time, and are quite the Biblically famous gathering of "heady and high minded lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God," mentioned in II Timothy 3:4 in the Bible. Modern Americans either love their drugs, unnatural affections of multicultural unions and sodomy praisers, big government licensing, on the left - or they love their corporate material grabbing, credit banking investments, and "keep up with the Jones' houses" on the right - both sides (left and right) loving these personal preferences above first loving God.

There's a lot of complaining going on in the nation these days. "We need public option health care", "Public health care is communism", "Let's trust moveon.org", "Watch Fox TV News", "Obama will ruin us", "Sarah Palin for President", "Give socialism a chance", etc., etc., etc. Nobody agrees on anything, except "don't obey God's laws", which everybody agrees upon.

The reality, and I mean the higher level reality, of what is going on in America is bigger than any of the controversies of "right versus left". Until Americans "really get" what is going on, our nation's turmoil and downward spiral into insanity and misery will increase on an exponential scale. That's because God's hand in the national matter of things is the determining factor of ALL that is "going on".

You want "Health care Reform"? Here it is sweet and simple:

"If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I (God Almighty) hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land." 2 Chronicles 7:14.

Instead of fifteen hundred pages of a federal legislative text that nobody can understand, that's one sentence given by Yahweh God Almighty to His nation of rebellious people. Will we soon see America implement this call from on high? By the people's own choice probably not; not until they can't any longer make a trip to Wal-Mart for loading up the dinner plate.

Will even boastful "Christian Americans" try God's plan first? Apparently not. Not even church goers want to hear this, because church goers have no intention of learning God's Laws to see what "wicked ways" God is actually talking about to begin with. If they were to study God's Laws to learn what "wickedness" is, church goers would see that it would soon put a major kink in their lifestyle and their Sunday social events, not to mention giving up their pagan holidays such as Christmas and Easter, and instead begin honouring God's seven Holy Feast Days as given to us in the Bible.

Furthermore, God forbid they would have to put down their pork (swine flu) chops and ham sandwiches. Or, (social nightmare of nightmares) what if they found out that Bible Law prohibits "whites" from marrying "non-whites"? What would their Melting Pot neighbors say to that? We couldn't have that now, could we? Some vocal and pushy atheists may even unrightfully accuse us of having a "hate crime thought".

Being the spoiled lot that they are, instead of obeying God's Laws for the nation, today's Americans would rather side with Glen Beck, Barack Obama, Newt Gingrich, Alex Jones, Oprah Winfrey, MSNBC, Fox TV, or their favourite Internet show, before they would ever admit that a Divine Hand of God's Providence caused America "to be" in the first place, and that it is to God Almighty we must turn to get out of the mess we have gotten ourselves into.

Do you think that this isn't the real problem? and our only real solution? Then explain this all you (as yet) unhumbled college degree-ed, well read, left wing or right wing self proclaimed experts of "I'll tell you what the issues are".

1. There has never been a nation as powerful, wealthy, influential of world events, and blessed in every way as the United States of America. Even the advanced nations of Europe got a huge "kick back" from America during the modern invention and productivity era that greatly eased human suffering on many fronts due to the success of our free enterprise goods and services.

Many nations have been blessed by America's wealth. God Himself says that He has caused this when early Americans called upon Him at our nation's beginning - "For what nation is there so great, who hath God so nigh unto them, as Yahweh our God is in all things that we call upon Him for?" Deuteronomy 4:7 "But thou shalt remember Yahweh thy God: for it is He that giveth thee power to get wealth." Deuteronomy 8:18.

2. Can right or left wing political pundits and analysts explain that Jesus Christ two thousand years ago said to a corrupt Judean government, "The Kingdom of God will be taken from you and given to a nation bearing the fruits thereof," Matthew 21:43, that He is "The King of Kings,"

Revelation 17:14, that the numerical value of the name "Jesus" in Greek (Iesous) is 888, that it takes a double witness to establish a matter (Deuteronomy 19:15; Matthew 18:16), and that "888 doubled" equals 1776, and the number of the nation of Christ's latter day government?

3. That God's national emblem is that of the Great Eagle? (Deuteronomy 32:11,12; Exodus 19:4; Revelation 12:14).

4. That God has ordained that His nation on its immediate land area is to have forty eight administrative districts (states)? Numbers 35:7.

5. That the "righteous decrees" (Job 22:28; Proverbs 8:15) of God's liberty were ordained to take place in 1215 (Magna Carta), 1776 (Declaration of Independence), 1787, (the original US of A, Constitution), as all specific numbered years were foretold and set forth in the Holy Bible some three thousand years ago? And that these Biblically foretold "date/times for law" are all Saxon Christian sacred law?

6. That the Saxons (white Christians are the descendant of Isaac in the Bible with whom God Almighty has His Kingdom covenant (Genesis 17:19; 21:12), and that the name "Saxons" comes from "sons of Isaac, Isaac's sons, Isaac's sons, Saxons", who established America?

7. That the present land "US of A" is the land of the former Genesis "Eden" (Adam and Eve's home), that our five Great Lakes are really four lakes, and are the "four heads of the river in Eden" (Genesis 2:10), God's original home for His people?

8. That the prophetic "serpent" of the world system which governmental system hates Yahweh God, hates His family of people, and hates His national Kingdom, is trying to have Adam's Saxon Christian family removed from the American/Edenic land area yet once again, just as when Adam and Eve were tricked thousands of years ago? (Genesis 3:1; Revelation 12:13-17).

Americans, things aren't as they politically seem and you need to find out the higher calling of your destiny or else you are done! America needs God's Laws and it needs to start in the individual family.

Not convinced yet? Don't worry, there's tons more - because God Almighty has a clear message to end time America, and it has been waiting for thousands of years to be discovered in His Written Word. You can read the primary Biblical, governmental, and racial aspect of what is really happening in and to America by taking a little time to read "America Bequeathed \(Three Parts\)" found at this link: <http://www.solarsabbath.org/AmericaBequeathed1.pdf>

This will take you less time to read than it takes you to watch one Super Bowl game. Are you ready to solve the "national health care problem"? Then get right with your Maker and Father - Yahweh God Almighty, and He will do it for you for this He has promised!

"If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I (God Almighty) hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land." 2 Chronicles 7:14.

Forward this National Health Care Message to all white Christian patriots who love their country. Blessings!

Greetings in Jesus' Name. We have another wedding coming up God Willing, in August. But this time it is here so we are not travelling south. Still much work to be done outside with cleaning up, burning rubbish and milling logs. Thanks again to all whose kind donations help to keep things running. The expenses just seem to mount up. We appreciate all your mail, just sorry we can't respond more. May our God continue to bless His people,
