"Blessed be the LORD God of Israel; For He hath visited and redeemed His people, And hath raised up an horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant David; as he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began; That we should be saved from our enemies and from the hand of all that hate us; to perform the mercy promised to our fathers and to remember his holy covenant; The oath which he sware to our father Abraham, That he would grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies might serve him without fear, in holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our lives." A PROBLEM OF THE HEART

by late Charles A. Weisman

There's a problem that every one of us possesses, and which has plagued our people for the past 6,000 years. A problem of the heart, which means within us, or in one's innermost nature. It surrounds the nature and workings of what is called the human heart. You'll be surprised at the scope and magnitude of this problem.

The nature of the heart has many different facets and attributes. In Mark 7:21-23, Jesus points out some of the attributes of the heart: "For from within; out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness: All these evil things come from within, and defile the man."

The problems are not all evil. The Bible speaks of other attributes and facets of the heart. The Bible speaks of a heart that is jealous, sorrowful, loving, greedy, joyful, stony, curious, merry, understanding, blind, angry, fearful, forgiving.

Some of these aspects are needed, they're important in our life, while others are not and are rather problematic. The heart reveals the nature of what we are. Proverbs 27:19 says: "As in water face answereth to face, so the heart of man to man."

The heart, like a mirror, shows us what we are inside. Proverbs 4:23 says "Out of the heart are the issues of life." This is how important the heart is in our life.

The heart is not something that is easy to describe. It can be referred to as emotions, but it is something much more than that. It is a thinking process, but associated with illogical thoughts. It's part of what is called the carnal nature; and is also part of what is called our imagination. Since it is within us, the ways of the heart are readily accessible. And being such an intimate part of us, the heart appeals to our nature and to our thinking.

Some Problematic Aspects of the Heart.

The first and foremost problem of the heart is that it is contrary to the Ways of God. In Genesis 6:5 we find the first mention of the word heart: "every imagination of the thoughts of a man's heart was only evil continually." Gen. 8:21 says: "... for the imagination of man's heart is evil from his youth..." Isaiah 55:8 - God says, "My thoughts are not your thoughts..." The thought process is connected to the heart.

Proverbs 19:3 says, "The foolishness of man perverteth his way: and his heart fretteth against the Lord." Romans 8:7 says "... the carnal mind is enmity against God..." In Hebrews 3:12 the writer warns us "Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God." So you see the potential always exists. We have to watch it constantly.

The heart will to some degree draw us away from God. Look at all the denominations and religious doctrines we have that fly under the banner of being Christian - they are all based on the heart - not on any solid or rational understanding of the Scripture or of God. Some of these doctrines include:

The Rapture—where you don't have to worry about bad or troubling times ahead. The nature of the heart is that it does not like to worry, so the rapture serves as some sort of safety valve for that purpose.

God Loves Everybody—this is very easy for the heart to accept.

Spiritualizing—spiritualizing Israel or Christianity or sons of God - the heart does not like to face the cold hard facts of the physical world, and physical Israel.

His Law is Done Away With—His Law is control and restraint, the heart does not like control and restraint. It wants to be free, open and independent to do its own thing.

Futurism—the heart can put off things and avoid work now.

When You Die you go to Heaven—the heart seeks pleasant things

Evil Originates from a Devil and Not from God—just pure unlogic thoughts when the Bible says otherwise.

We are not to Physically Counter or Combat Evil Here on Earth—the heart finds this fearful and wants to avoid this.

Another doctrine that doesn't appeal to the heart is that the real God is out of the Bible—that does not appeal to the heart. We can go back to Mt. Sinai with the golden calf for an example. The real God has this particular attribute that His presence is not always known 'they' had a problem with the real God. The heart really wants to have a visible god or one whose presence is known. And when God's presence was made known to the Israelites, it was followed by thundering, lightening, earth shaking, and a loud thundering voice. This was very unsettling to the heart. So they had a golden calf. What are the attributes of the golden calf? It was always there; and it didn't make any noise; it was a god that conformed to the human heart.

There are many other attributes of the True God that are not appealing to the heart. Some of these are a God of Wrath; a god that discriminates and segregates and is prejudiced; a God that hates, puts people in captivity and bondage and slavery; a God that is to be feared; a God that predestinates certain things to happen; a God that requires strict obedience to Him and His Law; a God that judges, punishes, kills and destroys; a God that creates evil and brings plagues upon a people. These are attributes of the True God which many in Christendom have rejected.

This True God, we have to understand, requires faith; faith that He is what the Scriptures tell us He is, and what nature reveals of Him to us. But man has a desire to have a god that appeals to his heart; the God that exists must conform to the human heart.

What all these Christian denominations have done is that they have taken a few attributes of the real God that do appeal to the heart, such as forgiveness, love, mercy, grace, salvation; and they have expanded these way out of proportion to help fill in the gaps of all the other attributes that they have rejected. In the process of doing so, they have essentially created a new god, a false god. Then they go to some priest or minister and they say "Make us a god." What type of God? They are like the ancestors of old who in Ezekiel 14:3-7 set up idols in their heart.

We need to understand this point: these Christian have faith in their new god, the one they have set up in their heart. They have faith in a god that loves everyone, no matter what; they believe in a god that will take them to heaven; they believe in a God that requires them to be passive towards evil; they trust in a god that will rapture them out of any tribulation.

What has happened is that their heart has caused their faith and trust to be mis-directed and mis-placed. They have a faith in a god of the heart, not the God of the Bible.

Many times God says: Your heart is far from Me. Why did He say that? Because it (the heart) had faith in that other god over there; the one that was established through their heart. It comes down to this: Is faith going to be the motivating element that leads us to God, or the impulses of the heart? Because of the nature of the heart, whatever appeals to it is 'good and right' and whatever does not appeal to it is 'wrong or bad.'

This is why so many Godly precepts can be presented as cruel, barbarous, evil, and hateful. It's why some can get away with calling good evil, and evil good.

That's the way the heart actually sees it. None can go contrary to this god of the heart. 'None can point out that this attribute is missing or this one is out of proportion because what you're doing in effect is saying that 'their' god doesn't exist. So the doctrine of their god is nothing but a reflection of the heart. They're not from the Bible or faith in the Bible, but from what their heart tells them.

Humanism and Socialism

have gained much ground through the nature of the heart. Civil Rights, since they first started after the Civil War (War of Northern Aggression), were always based upon the heart. They have to get equality; it doesn't matter if they're even talking about a frog, as some of the qualities touch the heart.

I'd like to read something from the Congressional Record in the 85th Congress, volume 103, June 7, 1957. It's in the House of Representatives and they're discussing a Civil Rights bill. There is a Mrs. Granaham speaking:

We don't have to be an expert in the technicalities of the law.

So right away she's setting the law aside, and doesn't want to base this Civil Rights bill on that.

I think it's a case of consulting with one's heart and conscience, and reaching one's decision from the standpoint of the 'new world order' - the one world philosophy to be made to appeal to the heart.

Humanists say "if we could all just learn to live together in peace and brotherhood with one another and accept everyone as they are, this would be a great and wonderful world to live in." Sounds pretty good, but where is the historic evidence?! Where in history did all races, creeds and religions live together in peace and harmony and brotherhood? It never happened. They can't base it on history, so they have to base it upon some emotional appeal to the heart.

Interracial marriage: a while back I was watching a TV talk show. They were talking about interracial marriage and they had some interracial couples there. The basic sentiment of the audience and the host was “If they love one another, what difference does it make what race they are?” See how that touches the heart? No appeal is made to any social, biological, legal or other ground—only the heart. It couldn’t stand on the other grounds.

Crime and Drugs: The heart wants peace and comfort. It doesn’t want to be frightened by crime and drugs, so they establish these powers according to ‘Public Policy.’

We have gradually become a nation of men’s hearts. It’s the heart that determines what is right and wrong; it’s the heart that controls things in government. The manipulators could not have gained control of the people, had an understanding heart and the Law of God been firmly established in their heart.

Such issues then, must be a question of Law, not what the heart feels is right. In Eden there was an issue as to whether it was right or wrong to eat from a certain tree. The Law said it was wrong—the heart said, with feeling, “that looks desirable, it must be right.” It requires faith to believe in the Law that God has given us.

So why have the Socialists and Humanists and Serpents of this world been so successful in spreading their philosophy and establishing their principles and concepts in the land? Because they have the human heart on their side; this internal engine of deceitfulness and unGodliness working for them. They know it’s there and they know how to manipulate it and use it to their benefit [look at the campaign for a ‘yes’ vote on same-sex-‘marriage,’ just for the benefit of 24,000 sodomite couples Australia-wide who ‘want’ to get ‘married,’ - the majority must bow].

Why do we have such turmoil?

Because, in a sense, the human heart rules and reigns in the land. This may prompt the question - “How does that effect the Kingdom?”

Jesus the Anointed has stated several times that the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand. If it’s at hand, why can’t access be made to it? It’s because the Humanistic and One World concepts are at heart—they’re within us—they are very accessible and they are very appealing.

The closer we get to the ways of the heart, the closer we get to the Humanistic, Socialistic, One World Order; and the farther we get away from God’s Order and His Kingdom.

The Kingdom will be wide open to us once we have faith in God’s Order and Law, and not in the ways of the heart; once we learn to act according to His Law, and not our heart.

Here is another principle of the heart which you may be able to see working in your own lives. After I noticed this same problem occurring in many good, patriotic Christian individuals, and myself as well, I turned to the Bible and noticed that some of the apostles suffered from a particular problem of the heart, and it was especially prevalent with the Apostle Peter.

For lack of a better term, I refer to this as the ‘Peter Principle.’ The nature and cause of this particular problem occurs in a situation where one has a strong feeling towards something—a loyalty or respect or love or concern for something—Peter said ‘I know the order of things, you’re the Master, I’m the servant. You’re not going to wash my feet.’ But Jesus said ‘If I do not do it, you will have no part in the Kingdom.’ Peter wants to be a part of it so he said, ‘Wash my hands, my head, all of me.’

John 18:10, When the soldiers came to take Jesus, it was Peter who took up the defense of Him; But was this according to God’s way? No, because Jesus said How can Scripture be fulfilled?

Why didn’t Peter think of that? Because his heart directed him differently. His heart was motivated to think of Jesus’ safety, not of the Scriptures. The heart judges things by their appearance and the heart is impulsive and acts quickly. In these and other instances Peter used his heart to determine what was proper and right to determine God’s ways, and he was wrong every time.

Many have done this in Christendom. I have seen it hundreds of times. Errors being made such as this. Peter had a strong faith and conviction and reliance on Jesus, but Peter was blind in certain truths of facts to the ways of God. The heart, if it prevails, is going to misdirect faith and loyalty, and result in error. You cannot interpret the Bible through the heart. It will not work. It didn’t work for Peter, and it’s not going to work for us.

The same principle occurs with parents, too. They have a love for their children, but they do not always do what’s right for their children.

What is the Solution?

What Can We Do About It?

Peter corrected some people with a problem of the heart in Acts 18:22, as an example. We have to understand this principle: We’re born that way. The nature of evilness and foolishness and wickedness of the heart is only a question of degree. We are all sinners, it’s a question of degree.

Since we are born with it, the Bible says train up a child in the way he should go. Proverbs 22:15 says, Foolishness is bound in the heart of a child, but the rod of correction shall drive it far from him.

Another part of the solution: Proverbs 8:5 says, Be of an understanding heart. Proverbs 2:2-6 says — not facts and knowledge and data, but — an understanding heart. What does an understanding heart do for us? 1 Kings 3:9 says, to discern between good and bad;

Imagine what this country would be like if all people had an understanding heart! Without the knowledge and wisdom of the heart, oftentimes the destruction of this precept will be appealable and the establishment of bad ones seem right.

The Bible also tells us that we must guide and direct the heart, rather than it directing us. In other words, we must have command and control over our heart. Proverbs 23:12, Apply thine heart unto instruction.

The heart is not going to naturally gain instruction; it is something that has to be applied, directed for instructed. Proverbs 23:19 says, Hear thou, my son, and be wise, and guide thine heart in the way. In other words, guide your heart; not letting your heart guide you. When your heart guides you, it's always going to guide you in the wrong direction.

We have chaos and disorder in this land because the heart is guiding us. We are not doing what the Bible tells us to guide the heart. God also has said many times, Set your heart to seek God. Don't let your heart seek a god; because as I have shown, your heart will always seek out another god, a false god. So set your heart to seek God Almighty, according to Scripture.

The heart is just like a stubborn foolish and rebellious child. The heart needs to be guided and directed at all times. An example of the magnitude of the heart and the role God plays in it: Look at the difference between the Old Covenant and the New Covenant. One of the main reasons the New Covenant was established was to correct or remedy the problem of the heart. The people back then had a stony heart, a heart of stone, and this caused them to be stiff-necked and rebellious, going out of the Way of God.

Ezekiel 11:19 says And I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within you; and I will take the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them an heart of flesh. This problem could not be corrected except by God Himself.

So if you have a problem of the heart, you know where to look. You have to seek out God and ask Him for aid, that He will give you an understanding heart or take away stoniness of the heart and put the Laws in your heart in a more sound manner.

The heart then, is an important key in our lives. For even in the present day it has been a key in our many failures in the eyes of God. The heart is the key in explaining the many social, political, economic, and religious problems in some measure or degree, as most are related to the problem of the heart. The heart is the key to our relationship to God, and in having our faith properly placed in the True God.

The heart is a key for explaining the ability of the enemy to have control and power over us. It is a key to understanding our error and ignorance; to resolving disagreements among us.

It is a key to the Kingdom, that will allow us access to it; a key to our being delivered from the current crises we now find ourselves in; that is, if we have faith in God Almighty and His Law, and not in our own hearts.

As Proverbs 28:26 and 25 says, He that trusteth in his own heart is a fool ... but he that putteth his trust in the Lord shall prosper.

CHEMICAL GENDER MANIPULATION: TURNING BOYS INTO GIRLS...!

Over the past ten years I have received a massive increase in phone calls and letters from people who either have family members or themselves who have been suffering from estrogen dominance. What this does in men is cause lowered testosterone, enlarged breasts, increased body fat, depression, loss of libido and andropause; all symptoms which were basically unheard of fifty years ago.

In the case of estrogen dominance in women, it is usually combined with an increased rate of fibroid tumors, irregular periods and breast or ovarian cancer.

Parents call in complaining or asking for help with young boys and male teenagers who are dealing with estrogen dominance symptoms. Their symptoms are slowed maturation, confused gender identity, much smaller reproductive organs and an issue of increased transgender identification.

Young girls with estrogen dominance usually start their period very young (some have been known to start as early as three years of age); usually accompanied with weight gain; sometimes to the extreme.

Why is This Happening?

Several years ago, I wrote an article on andropause and reduced sperm count which caused infertility. The root cause of this is so awful that it borderlines on conspiracy theory. The problem is: It is fact, not theory!

This makes it all the more difficult to write about, since it is affecting so many individual lives and lives of families.

In his book Brave New World, Aldous Huxley discusses the estrogen dominance problems which are caused by the elite globalists as a form of population control; which is literally chemical warfare!

Years ago, and to this day, the Rockefeller Foundation was heavily involved in the promotion of eugenics. This is the science of planned depopulation control. This included forced birth control and sterilization to reduce the world's population. (the Georgia Guidestones advocate a world population of 500 million, they need to kill off about 11 of every 12 people to achieve that).

There are two ways that Eugenics can be achieved:
Increase the death rate: — done!

Decrease the birthrate: — done!

The following is a quick, simple lesson on brain chemistry. A little known fact I learned in Neuro Chemistry while in school at Florida State University is that in mammals, including humans, all offspring initially have a female brain; including boys.

During the utero cycle, the “Y” chromosome signals the mother to release testosterone. This increase in testosterone causes the ovaries to become testicles and change the female brain of the male infant to the brain of the male; or at least, that is what is supposed to happen. Remember, it takes a required amount of testosterone from the mother to do this change. Testosterone and estrogen are antagonists, and one can dominate the other. If too much estrogen is present, then the testosterone cannot do its job.

Back in the 1940s, the Rockefeller companies introduced plastics into the Eco System. They knew when they did so that many of the plastics were xenoestrogens, which if consumed by humans, would feminize males.

Always remember that gasoline is a by-product of the petro-chemical industry. It used to be disposed of as a waste product. Oil companies earn thousands of dollars per barrel by making xenoestrogens in the form of cosmetics, perfumes, drugs, plastics, fertilizer, weed killer, detergents; and the list just goes on and on.

The gasoline could literally be given away for free as a by-product. Again, many of these plastics and compounds being used today are known as xenoestrogens. If absorbed into the skin or taken internally, they react in the body as estrogen [if you use any form of plastic container in a microwave oven, you will compound the release of xenoestrogens into the food].

This increase in estrogen, in many cases, is the root cause of the problems already mentioned.

I include in the xenoestrogen category most plastics, especially [but not limited to] those that contain BPA, Round Up, Atrazine, hand sanitizers, makeup, and petro-chemical soaps like Dawn. This short list is only a few of the actual list which is in the hundreds, if not the thousands.

If a pregnant female is exposed to this onslaught of estrogen mimickers, then in many cases sufficient testosterone cannot be released to make the male fetus a fully developed male. When this happens, the brain will remain female. It will not become a male brain. And, in many cases, reproductive organs in the male are extremely small. The result will be a feminized boy with a female brain and small genitalia—basically a woman in sort of a male body—a metro male.

What a mess all this becomes when men play God with nature. These half men and half women act and think like women. In many cases, but not all, they are attracted to men, and some want to wear makeup, dresses and women’s jeans. This is not a joke or a subject for ridicule, for these men are literally chemically castrated in the uterus.

Huxley referred to this as

THE CHEMICAL WARFARE PLAN

I must admit, it has worked very well. Again, what I am discussing here is not a conspiracy, but it is a biological and chemical fact. The goal of the globalists, by their own statements is to reduce the world’s population. They will do this by using the following:

1. Sterility
2. Separation of males and females.
3. The breaking up of the traditional family.
4. Gender manipulation, confusion of sex identity.
5. Higher and higher divorce rates.

Several years ago, as part of its continual obfuscation campaign, The American Chemical Association banned the use of BPA in baby bottles. This was a joke, as it was never readily used in baby bottles. But they failed to ban the use of BPA as a liner in cans and in water bottles.

The plastic wraps used in microwave food contain phylates, another potent estrogen compound. This plastic literally melts into the microwaved food, loading it with estrogen.

Taking all this a bit further: We are mammals and we release pheromones. These pheromones are used to attract men to women. The pheromones are picked up through the olfaction glands. There is a reason that cowboy westerns were so big 50 years ago. In those days, most women wanted tough, rugged men. Most of the men wanted to be tough, rugged guys.

However, when women are on the birth control pill, their body is chemically placed into a pregnancy mode. At this point they want a nurturing, fatherly type for a mate. This is just basic hormone chemistry. Many women who are on birth control pills end up marrying metro males, which then produce more metro males.

Please remember, I am not singling out anyone in this article, but am giving you the facts in reproductive biochemistry. Birth control pills were originally released to the public through the eugenics program. This cycle has now gone on for over sixty years. I realize that in many parts of the world the population is overcrowded and the indigenous population are not able to feed themselves.

My father was born in 1901. I once asked him, Why did the Roman Empire fall? He chuckled and simply stated They stopped raising little Romans. We have also stopped raising little Americans/Australians (i.e. Israelites!)

Our glandular system or endocrine system consists of several glands. They include the thyroid, pituitary, hypothalamus, adrenals, and the pineal gland. Please go to Wikipedia to discover what each does in our bodies.

Now I am going to discuss a few endocrine disruptors and their effect. Fluoride, bromide, iodine, and chlorine are all halogens. The fluoride is in our tooth paste (or water), bromide is in baking goods, chlorine is in our water, Iodine is used by the thyroid. When these other halogens are consumed, the thyroid thinks they are iodine and absorbs them. This is bad.

Heavy metals including barium, aluminium, and lead are also endocrine disruptors. I discovered both barium and aluminium in the air we breathe via testing of my rain water.

If it is in the air, we basically aspirate these heavy metals into our lungs. The lungs are a potent delivery system. That’s why inhalers work so well. I don’t know how the aluminium is getting into the air, but it is probably through geo-engineering—also known as Chemtrails.

I quite often —more often than not — see planes spraying over our house. The trails behind the planes do not dissipate like normal contrails. But I am unable to take a direct sample from the planes. So, again, it's in the air, and I can only speculate the source of it.

Even the municipally treated water and the well water is full of estrogen and pesticides. This onslaught just never seems to end.

Years ago one study from the University of Pittsburgh showed one hot fifteen minute shower was the equivalent of drinking eight glasses of contaminated water. Remember, the lungs absorb the contaminated steam from the water.

Another culprit is high fructose corn syrup. Atrazine, the weed killer, is liberally used on corn. This potent estrogen compound then contaminates the corn and the high fructose corn syrup. The run-off of this product, combined with Round-Up, are two of the most polluting herbicides on the planet.

All of these estrogens are causing an ever-increasing andropause in men. This is when men go into male menopause from a lack of testosterone. Andropause was non-existent fifty years ago. This can easily cause depression in men, and it also decreases their libido. This lack of motivation can become systemic throughout their lives.

Many men resort to testosterone replacement therapy. My testosterone is normal. When I was forty, it was still that of an eighteen year old. I do not willingly expose myself to estrogens and I take the ultimate estrogen blocker every day. Remember, estrogen and testosterone are antagonists.

When these men are sufficiently depressed, they are given Prosaic and Viagra—what a combination! No one bothers to tell them that the Viagra can make you go blind and deaf. Men resort to taking all this, and potentially become blind, deaf, impotent, and depressed!

Leave it to the petro-chemical industry to deal a person a full house—what a mess! Another note about Viagra: It contains phylates—more estrogen.

The Rockefeller petrochemical industry is literally waging a chemical castration war on the men of our nation. Not to mention the massive increase of breast, ovarian, and infertility problems in women.

Even the use of bleached tampons are affecting women as they contain xenoestrogens, and can change a female's hormonal profile—and let us not forget about GMO foods, which cause sterility by the fourth generation.

What Can You Do to Protect Yourself?

1. Get a distiller (for your water)
2. Do NOT microwave with plastics, better yet: Don't use a microwave.
3. Do NOT use petroleum soaps, like Dawn.

4. Never use Soy or Soy formula.
5. Do NOT drink out of plastics.
6. Do NOT use Viagra.
7. Do NOT get immunizations.
8. Do NOT use birth-control pills.
9. Do NOT use bleached tampons
10. Do NOT use bakery products containing bromide.
11. Avoid prescription drugs as much as possible, especially Statin drugs. They all can cause cancer and they can destroy brain function.
12. Avoid Herbicides and Pesticides.
13. Avoid meat and dairy with hormones, especially butter and eggs.
14. Do NOT drink fluoride or chlorine in your water or toothpaste.
15. Use a shower filter to protect from chlorine and fluoride.
16. Don't use cans with a BPA liner.

LUCIFERMAS

Pastor Don Elmore

Hear the word which the LORD speaketh unto you, O house of Israel. Thus saith the LORD, Learn not the way of the heathen, and be not dismayed at the sign of heaven: for the heathen are dismayed at them. Jer. 10:1-2.

I got underwhelmed on Monday (in November) when they began to play Christmas music at my workplace. Songs like Jingle Bells, Santa Claus is Coming to Town, Silent Night, The First Noel, White Christmas, etc. Repeatedly they play this Christmas serenade every day, every hour, every minute without ceasing. It will drive me very close to the point of insanity.

This will happen because they will play this mostly secular Christmas music until the second week of January. I thought in my mind, that for sure, that there was no way that Christmas was a Christian holiday—it had to be misnamed. Why would the world get so excited about it each year if it was truly a Christian holiday?

LUCIFERMAS should be its correct name, not Christmas. But that couldn't be correct either, as he never died and never was resurrected. That is the real meaning of a Mass—the death. They are eating the body and drinking the blood obtained from the death of their god.

The hallways have Christmas trees placed strategically throughout the building. Why did they put up trees? The evergreen tree was an ancient symbol of life during winter. Many early Christians were hostile to such practices. The second-century theologian Tertullian condemned those so-called Christians who celebrated the winter festivals, or decorated their houses with laurel boughs in honour of the Roman emperor.

Christians have an important decision to make. Either you go along with this pagan-commercialized Roman Catholic holiday or you forget any such religious celebration and go about a normal day of work or relaxation on December 25th. The Puritans fined any of their settlers who did not work on this day, except if this was the weekly Sabbath day. Sola Scriptura was the cry of the reformers. It should be the cry of all modern-day Christians

Christmas is the glorification of the Mass of Christ. That is what the Romanist means by Christ's mass or Christmas. It is the main mass of all their special masses. It is when the priest says the words that changes the wafer into the actual body of Jesus and the wine into the actual blood of the Saviour (their doctrine of Transubstantiation). The congregants of this false Church eat and drink the blood of their god. This is forbidden in the Law of the God of Israel (Lev. 3:17)!

It is like the pizzagate scandal that has broken out. The child-sex trafficking that is rampant in Hollywood, California; Washington D.C., and elsewhere in the United States and in the civilized world. This one was revealed by Wikileaks emails that exposed the government, especially the federal government, including the Clinton Foundation, with child sex-trafficking.

What Donald Trump said about Hillary at the Catholic charity dinner just a couple of months ago was revealing. He referred to the popular unbiblical saying that "It takes a village to raise a child" by saying that "in Haiti, Hillary has taken a lot of villages." Reference to the missing 10,000 - 15,000 children in Haiti that have been put in the pedophile trafficking circles.

Wikileaks emails exposed many of John Podesta emails.

John is a non-elected official who is an important person in both Obama's and Hillary's presidential campaigns. He basically helped run them. He served in both of their national campaigns as their manager. He also acted as Chief of Staff for ex-president Bill Clinton.

The code words that were used in his emails make no sense if one reads them in the regular way. In the known homosexual organizations, these words are commonly used and understood. Basically they are:

Pizza = little girl
Cheese = girl under 4 years old
Hotdog = little boy
Pasta = boy under 4 years old
Ping-Pong = perverted sex
Ice Cream = male prostitute
Sauce = orgy

This scandal is the biggest one in United States history, whether we believe it or not. Whether most Americans ever find out about this scandal, it is occurring right before their very eyes. This is the result of the occult, freemasonry, satanic jewish influence that has produced this bizarre, wild, and very hard to believe lifestyle with all its religious sacrifices and practices.

It even involves ex-president Bill Clinton's flying over 26 times on, and, with billionaire Jeffrey Epstein's jet named "Lolita Express." Epstein, who spent 13 months in prison and home detention for solicitation and procurement of minors for prostitution, has allegedly had a team of traffickers who procured girls as young as 12 to service his friends on "Orgy Island," an estate on Epstein's 72-acre island, called Little St. James, in the U.S. Virgin Islands. Hillary and Huma Abedine also are known to have gone on at least 6 visits to this island.

The locations in the Pizzagate scandal in Washington, D.C. is:

1. Besta Pizza—with the pedophile symbol for little boys on their logo. It was changed just last week. It is owned by Andrew Kline, a high federal government officer.

2. Comet Ping-Pong owned by James Alefantis. He is the homosexual lover of another high government official.

3. Terasol Bistro and Artisan Gallery which has a pedophile symbol on their logo: a small hand inside a larger hand; a small heart inside a larger heart.

4. Beyond Borders — Charity focused on Haiti funded by the Clinton Foundation.

This massive sex-trafficking ring, that involves both president Obama and Vice-president Joe Biden, Bill and Hillary Clinton, and a host of many others, especially many elites in the Democratic Party. This is a major scandal that involves the most powerful and most influential people

It even involves the Department of Justice. It involves a host of movie, television and singing idols. We must wait and see what happens but Miley Cyrus' former child star now grown up into a very goofy, satanic leader, is obsessed with Pizza. She even dresses in bizarre pizza outfits, has a pizza comforter on her bed, and has Instagrammed all kinds of pictures of her and pizza. Pray that our Father will send the men to reveal this scandal and convict each participant.

One of the initial disturbing finds in this collaborative investigation was the "art performance" of "Spirit Cooking," that has been enjoyed by the Podesta brothers, Alefantis, and even the Clintons. "Spirit Cooking" is "inspired" by occult sacrament ritual stemming from Aleister Crowley's doctrine which has been loosely categorized as "sex magick." This sacramental aspect is the consideration of human bodily fluids being charged

COMPETING VIEWS OF DOMINION

Roman Catholic vs. Reformed

Dan Ford

A key to understanding the story of American colonization is knowing the ideas of dominion that drove Europeans to the New World. One view was that European kings conquered America by their divine right of dominion. Another was that the dominion of (Jesus) Christ was carried by the people and families who planted His kingdom. The one was based on the crusading spirit of Roman Catholicism, the other upon the ideas of liberty and property of the Reformed Christian faith. These two widely divergent models tell the story of the failure of tyranny and the success of liberty. In this message, Mr Ford examines these two widely divergent models of colonization and the keys of true dominion that ultimately led to a nation of free nand industrious people.

with a specified metaphysical energy. Abramovic is close to entertainers like Lady GaGa, Jay-Z, Beyonce.

It just goes on and on. Many of the top celebrities, such as movie stars, television artists, political big-wigs, athletes, CEOs, etc. are involved in this anti-god movement. What should we expect when they reject the God of the Bible? Perversions are just getting more and more obscene [just watch what happens now that Australia has passed S-S-M laws]. True Israelites are joining the other races of the earth in serving the god(s) of the heathen.

Is Barry Soetoro gay? Is he married to Michael Obama, a transgendered person? Are their children not theirs, but are Martin Nesbitt and Anita Blanchard the real parents of Sasha and Malia? Have you ever seen a picture of a pregnant Michael (Michelle) Obama?

America is in the midst of a major sin problem. If we ever knew the whole story it would put many of us Israelites immediately on our knees and cry out to our God for help! One wonders if it has ever occurred before. Well it has. Where do you think that it occurred previously? One place was in the ancient kingdom of Judah. The ancient kingdom of Judah! God's covenant people acted like this before? How could that happen? Weren't they the people who were once the citizens of a nation that was ruled by God And even after they demanded to have a king like the other nations, why would they sink to such a low level of behaviour? But they did.

Our study is found in 2 Kings 21 and 2 Chronicles 33. We will study the verses in the later reference.

“Manasseh was twelve years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty and five years in Jerusalem; But he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, like unto the abominations of the nations, whom the LORD had cast out before the children of Israel.” 2 Chron. 33:1-2.

Who was Manasseh's father? Was he a good or an evil king? Would it surprise you if he were one of the best kings who ever reigned in Judah? It was Hezekiah. And it was the LORD who saved Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem from the hand of Sennacherib, the king of Assyria, by destroying completely in one night the most powerful army in the world. Hezekiah was good friends with Isaiah the prophet and he asked for his help on several occasions. Hezekiah instituted several reforms in Israel and was a good king. In fact, he was one of Judah's best kings.

During Hezekiah's time, the House of Israel had been taken captive, first by the Syrians, then later by the Assyrians. The Assyrians also took captive most of the House of Judah. They captured 22 fortified cities in the territory of the House of Judah, the Southern Kingdom. All that remained was the capital city of Jerusalem. The Assyrians surrounded the city, blockading it, letting nothing enter or leave. They were waiting for the people to eventually starve to death or waiting for them to make their dash past the army in their effort to stay alive. Judah/Jerusalem had very little chance of survival. The kingdom of God was about to be destroyed.

The House of Israel existed no more as a nation. It had already been taken into captivity. Most of the House of Judah was in captivity too. Only Jerusalem was left (so any talk of 'lost Ten Tribes' is just hooley! As it was all twelve tribes who were taken to Syria and Assyria. It was only Jerusalem which was taken to Babylon, from which 45,000 returned with Ezra and Nehemiah). But Hezekiah asked Isaiah for help. And they prayed together about this helpless situation that they were in.

But the only thing that could save them happened. God intervened and demonstrated his mercy upon Judah (Hosea 1) [Just like He did when He intervened at Blood River in South Africa on Dec. 16, 1838, a day to remember!] After hearing their prayers, the LORD sent one of His angels, who cut off the mighty men of valor, and the leaders and captains in the camp of the king of Assyria. There was confusion in the camp and in one night 185,000 Assyrian soldiers lay on the ground dead. The House of Judah was saved. And the army of Judah didn't kill any of the Assyrian troops. The God of Israel had saved Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem from the hand of Sennacherib, king of Assyria, and from the hand of all others, and guided them on every side (2 Chronicles 33:22). Wouldn't that be great if it happened again?

Shortly after this miraculous victory, Hezekiah dies and his son, Manasseh takes over the throne. So, what happened to this son of Hezekiah? The Bible doesn't give us the details. It just tells us that he came to the throne at the age of 12. Bible scholars believe that he shared a ten-year co-regency with his godly father, King Hezekiah, so he would have been 22 when his father died. Just a few years after Judah was spared from complete annihilation, the kingdom had completely forgotten what their God had accomplished and begun serving other foreign gods.

Despite his father's godly example, Manasseh quickly turned the kingdom from a spiritual high to a spiritual low, described as being more evil than the nations (of Canaan) had been committing when Israel had dispossessed them from the land. Manasseh was one of the worst kings in Judah's history, maybe the very worst [are the contemporary monarchs any better?]. He committed sins that were worse than many of the mongrel nations that God had put out of the land for their sins.

How forgetful could the covenant people of God be? God had just performed a mighty miracle on their behalf and then a short time later they are serving another god or gods! But there were few Bibles available back then. They had to be handwritten as there were no printing presses or computers to type them out. In fact, the Bible says that at one time they lost even the few Bibles they had.

THERE ARE DISCIPLES OF BAAL in America.

Pastor Sheldon Emry

There are actually people who are carrying out what is known in the Scriptures as Baal worship. Many of our people just simply so not know what Baal worship us. They don't understand it or recognize it when they see it. If Old Testament Israel went into captivity for it, will we fare any better if we follow Baal worship. Learn to recognize the traits, and see where and by whom they are practiced.

Of course, at best, they had only part of the Old Testament, as it was not yet completed; and the New Testament was still several centuries from even happening. What they had, they had to hear it from the priest who read it to them.

Whatever the reason, Judah had forgotten the God who had intervened and saved their kingdom. The son of Hezekiah, the king, was either influenced by the wrong people (perhaps he had gone to university), and/or did not believe what his father had taught. He immediately began the worship of false gods, even Baal worship.

“For he built again the high places which Hezekiah his father, had broken down, and he reared up altars for Baalim, and made idols and worshipped all the host of heaven [astrology], and served them. And he built altars in the house of the LORD, of which the LORD had said, In Jerusalem shall my name be forever. And he built altars for all the host of heaven [horoscopes on websites, magazines and papers] in the two courts of the house of the LORD. And he caused his children to pass through the fire in the valley of Hinnom; also, he observed times, used enchantments, and practiced sorcery [pharmaceuticals], and dealt with a medium, and with wizards: he wrought much evil in the sight of the LORD to provoke him to anger.. And he set a carved image, the idol which he had made, in the house of God, of which God had said to David and Solomon, his son, In this house, and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen before all the tribes of Israel, will I put my name forever; Neither will I any more remove the foot of Israel from out of the land which I have appointed for your fathers IF ONLY they will take heed to do all that I have commanded them, according to the whole law and the statutes and the ordinances, by the hand of Moses. So Manasseh made Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem to err, and to do worse than the nations whom the LORD had destroyed before the children of Israel” (2 Chron 33:3-9).

What a turn-around; from the father, Hezekiah, to his son, Manasseh. Manasseh in contradiction to the good example and good education his father gave him, completely abandoned all that he was taught and established a lifestyle that was counter to the ways of God. Manasseh:

- Abandoned himself to all impiety,
- Transcribed the abominations of the heathen, then
- Ruined the established reforms that his father had worked so hard on creating,
- Profaned the house of God with his idolatry,
- Dedicated his children’s death to Moloch,
- Made evil lying oracles his guides and counsellors,
- He gave no regard to the choice God had made of Sion to be his rest for ever, and Israel to be His covenant people,
- Embraced other gods,
- Debauched His chosen people,
- Made them to do worse than the heathen.

What made this even more terrible was the fact that God spoke to Manasseh and his people by His prophets, but they would not listen to them. One would have to wonder how the whole kingdom would follow the son of the righteous king into such a dark, satanic life style. Killing their own sons by burning them in the fire of Molech (not much different to aborticide today), participating in drugs (as is being done today) and magic, dealing with wizards, repeating enchantments (taking part in Halloween), putting up false altars in the House of God, etc. became common doings in the life of most of the inhabitants of Jerusalem and the surrounding area.

We may admire the grace of God in speaking to them, amidst their obstinacy in turning a deaf ear to him. God constantly sends the warning to His people to “learn not the way of the heathen.” Their culture is not my culture.

We are to stay away from it. Is he sending anyone to us telling us the same thing, now? Now from this, let us learn:

1. That it is no new thing, but a very sad thing, for the children of godly parents to turn aside from that good way of God in which they have been trained. Parents may give many good things to their children, but they cannot give them God’s mercy.

2. Corruption in worship are such diseases of the church as it is very apt to relapse into sin again even when they seem to be cured. Beware when you have success, for a great challenge is about to become part of your life.

3. The god of this world has blinded men’s minds. Protestants who swear that they hate the Catholic Mass, love to participate annually in gift buying and singing the songs, and putting up trees that are related to the Christ’s Mass.

Manasseh combines into one person the most flagrantly offensive sins we can imagine. He set up in the kingdom of Judah in a manner that they followed the ways of the heathen:

- He established Baal worship in the temple in Jerusalem (is that like forcing clergy to perform ‘gay marriages’?)
- He practiced witchcraft, sorcery, and spiritualism (vaccinations and pharmaceutical ‘medicines’?)
- He participated in human sacrifice, offering his own sons in the fire to Molech (abortion and euthanasia).
- He slaughtered many innocent people, besides his own sons, including many prophets (euthanasia?). Many scholars also believe that Manasseh was guilty of the murder of the prophet Isaiah by putting him between two boards like a sandwich and sawing him in two from head to toe.
- He caused the city of Jerusalem, and the kingdom of Judah, to do more evil than the nations whom God had destroyed before Israel. He was also the most wicked king in the history of Judah.

God was so angry with this most wicked sinner of his time. What should the LORD God of Israel do?

3. Torture him,
4. Give him an incurable disease,
5. Have him captured and put into prison, or
6. Leave him alone?

God knew that He would have to do something drastic to get the kings attention. So, he put it into the heart of the Assyrian king to put a hook in Manasseh's nose, bound him with bronze shackles, and drag him to Babylon! And that is exactly what the king of Assyria did. So, Manasseh is taken to Babylon and is put in prison.

“And the LORD spoke to Manasseh, and his people, but they would not hearken. Wherefore, the LORD brought upon them the captains of the host of the king of Assyria, who took Manasseh in chains, and bound him with fetters, and carried him to Babylon. And when he was in affliction, he besought the LORD, his God, and humbled himself greatly before the God of his fathers. And prayed unto Him; and He was entreated by him, and heard his supplications, and brought him again in Jerusalem into his kingdom. Then Manasseh knew that the LORD, He was God.” (2 Chron. 33:9-13).

What happened to the most wicked of all of Judah's kings when he was taken in captivity by the king of Assyria and placed in a prison in Babylon? Did the king of Judah plan to eliminate his life in turmoil and make an escape from the prison where he was held? Did he feel that he didn't deserve to be there because he was innocent and not guilty? No, he didn't do either of these two options.

Manasseh had to experience great suffering and calamity before he would seek after the God of his fathers (as may some of our leaders!). How much suffering he could have saved himself from experiencing if only he would have sought God earlier! But, he did humble himself now while he was in prison. Manasseh humbled himself greatly before the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

The commander of the Assyrians had defeated Manasseh in battle, overtook him in flight, and carried him into captivity to Babylon. While the king of Judah lay in affliction he had time for calm reflection, and his prison thoughts happily took a right direction.

He saw with bitter regret the evils of his reign, and whatever was the means of opening his eyes:

1. Whether he read the sin of apostasy as the justification for his punishment, or
2. He traced the debased condition of the heathen in the great northern empire, or
3. He believed that his prison sentence was right and correct, his views were entirely altered. He humbled himself at the retrospect, and he besought the LORD to release him from prison, that he might enjoy an opportunity of repairing, as far as possible, the ills that he had previously done.

His prayer was heard, even though it had a few mistakes in it. God looks at the heart, and, after a duress of nearly two years, his heart was changed. He was restored to his kingdom and throne at Jerusalem as an Assyrian vassal, such as his grandfather Ahaz, and his father Hezekiah, in the beginning of his reign, had been.

In thus restoring Manasseh, the king of Assyria was actuated only by the political motive of having a tributary and defendant province between his own proper kingdom and Egypt, his hereditary enemy. But God, who has in His hands the hearts of men, overruled the king of Assyria for higher purposes; and sent back Manasseh as a new man to govern Judah, which was still to enjoy a season of respite.

Manasseh's prayer (found in the Apocrypha) portrays God not only as a God of justice but as a God of mercy and forgiveness who can pardon sins and restore the life of a person and of a nation. The prayer is not given in our Bibles, but is only referred to as having been given. Here is his prayer as found in the Apocrypha:

THE PRAYER OF KING MANASSEH: Chapter 1

“O Lord, Almighty God of our fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and of their righteous seed; who hast made heaven and earth, with all the ornament thereof; who hast bound the sea by the word of thy commandment; who hast shut up the deep, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious name; whom all men fear, and tremble before thy power; for the majesty of thy glory cannot be borne, and thine angry threatening toward sinners if importable: but thy merciful promise is un-measurable and unsearchable; for thou art the most high Lord, of great compassion, long-suffering, very merciful, and repentest of the evils of men.

Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodness hast promised repentance and forgiveness to them that have sinned against thee: and of thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance unto sinners, that they may be saved. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the just, hast not appointed repentance to the just, as to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, which have not sinned against thee; but thou hast appointed repentance unto me that am a sinner: for I have sinned above the number of the sands of the sea.

My transgressions, O Lord, are multiplied: my transgressions are multiplied, and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of heaven for the multitude of mine iniquities. I am bowed down with many iron bands, that I cannot lift up mine head, neither have any release: for I have provoked thy wrath, and done evil before thee: I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandments: I have set up abominations, and have multiplied offences.

Now therefore I bow the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I have sinned, O Lord, I have sinned, and I acknowledge mine iniquities: wherefore, I humbly beseech thee, forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities. Be not angry with me forever, by reserving evil for me; neither condemn me to the lower parts of the earth. For thou art the God, even the God of them that repent; and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodness: for thou wilt save me, that am unworthy, according to thy great mercy.

Therefore, I will praise thee forever all the days of my life: for all the powers of the heavens do praise thee, and thine is the glory for ever and ever. Amen."

Manasseh had been totally destructive of all that his father had done. For example:

- Hezekiah had repaired the altar of God:

Manasseh ordered its destruction - he desecrated the temple of God.

- Hezekiah led the people to worship the one and only true God, the LORD God of Israel;

Manasseh led the people astray to worship false gods.

He even sacrificed his own sons in the fire of Hinnom. He led the people of Judah astray from God. He practiced sorcery, witchcraft, and all the other wrong ways that are practiced without much thought today.

But after serving two years in prison, Manasseh had changed. There were four things that the Bible says that king Manasseh did to seek the LORD God of his fathers:

1. Besought God to deliver him from his afflictions.
2. Humbled himself greatly before God.
3. Prayed until God heard him.
4. Made supplications to his God to bring him again to Jerusalem and his remnant kingdom.

When God had delivered him from his personal affliction and captivity, and had returned him back to his own kingdom, he was a changed man. Manasseh had repented. Manasseh returned to his throne and ruled similarly as his father had ruled.

This is what needs to happen in our nation, especially in our day. What Manasseh did, our last several leaders and their wives did, and senators and representatives have too. Sorcery, murder, abortion, euthanasia, worshipped false gods, said enchantments, channeled the dead, practiced sexual perversions and encouraged them in others, erected idols, dealt with mediums and wizards, and so on, these were common practices among them and their people. Would some great affliction cause them to change their opinion and repent? We need to have a humbled, repentive president/prime minister/leader who desires to do what our God commanded us to do.

1. One of the first things that a true Christian president would do is get rid of the usurious Federal Reserve Bank/RBA and all the alphabet organizations that go along with that satanic evil. It has made slaves of practically everyone in this nation.

2. The second thing, would be to eliminate the holidays of the Roman Catholic Church; such as Christ's Mass and Easter.

3. The third thing would be to cease the tolerance of all false religions and doctrines. No false temples, no shrines, no synagogues or mosques would be allowed to be built and the ones standing in our nation would be destroyed.

What an uproar that would cause in our nation today in just doing these three things. And there is a lot more to do.

"Now after he built an outer wall for the city of David, on the west side of Gihon, in the valley, even to the entrance of the fish gate, and compassed about Ophel, and raise it up a very great height and put captains of war in all the fortified cities of Judah. And he took away the foreign gods, and the idol out of the house of the LORD, and all the altars that he had built in the mount of the house of the LORD, and in Jerusalem, and cast them out of the city. And he repaired the altar of the LORD, and sacrificed on it peace offerings and thank offerings, and commanded Judah to serve the Lord God of Israel. Nevertheless, the people did sacrifice still in the high places, yet unto the LORD, their God only." (2 Chron 33:14-17).

Manasseh made 10 reforms when he returned from his captivity and humiliation. Manasseh built up his city and his kingdom.

1. Manasseh built a high wall outside the city of David on the west side of Gihon and in the valley to the entering in of the fish gate, and compassed about Ophel.

2. Manasseh put captains of war in all the fortified cities.

3. Manasseh eliminated all the strange gods.

4. Manasseh took away the idol that he had made, from out of the temple.

5. Manasseh also took away all the altars he had built in the mount of the temple, and in Jerusalem.

6. Manasseh cast the altars out of the city.

7. Manasseh repaired the altar of the LORD.

8. Manasseh sacrificed on the altar of the LORD in the temple.

9. Manasseh commanded the people of his kingdom to serve the LORD God of Israel.

10. Manasseh permitted his people to use high places for making sacrifices to the LORD.

Hezekiah would have been proud of his son. Manasseh who started out his reign by destroying everything that Hezekiah, his father, had reformed, now was attempting to do the same thing that his father had done. From being the worst of all of Judah's kings, Manasseh became one of the best. But it happened at the end of the longest reign in Judah's history: 55 years.

"Now the rest of the acts of Manasseh, and his prayer unto his God, and the words of the seers who spoke to him in the name of the LORD God of Israel, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Israel. His prayer also, and how God was entreated by him, and all his sin, and his trespass, and the sites on which he built high places, and set up idols and carved images, before he was humbled: behold, they are written among the saying of the seers.

So Manasseh slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his own house: and Amon, his son, reigned in his stead." (2 Chron. 33:18-20).

Manasseh was a changed king. He was a descendant of David and he had repented. But most of the inhabitants of Jerusalem had not. So, it is not surprising that the reforms that Manasseh tried to make were superficial. It is so sad, that neither the authority nor example of Manasseh, could then, after the long prevalence of the grossest corruptions of heathenism, reestablish order throughout his kingdom in conformity with to the Law of God.

When Manasseh died, his son, Amon, came to the throne. He reverted to the way of life his father had once lived and later repented of, while he was in an Assyrian prison. His son trespassed more and more until he far outstripped his father in the number and variety of idols and images he introduced. He even placed an idol in place of the ark in the holy place in the temple.

Things got so bad in the days of Amon, that a conspiracy gathered against the king and slew him. Then Amon's own people, seized his murderers and having put them to death, raised the son of the murdered monarch to the throne. Things just got worse and worse. Today's world just isn't much different, except for the advanced technology (now people carry their little i-dol in their pockets or talk to it while driving, or walk into things while sending messages to someone else; they even take their little I-dols to church with them, and allow themselves to be distracted from God's Word. Interesting that the word should be preceded by the ego-centric prefix "I").

The question that we must address is who is the God that we serve? We believe that it is the same covenant God who Judah served for just a short period. The Bible is showing us not to forget Him, as He will not forget us. Wouldn't it be great if one of our national leaders would have a real experience of repentance, just like Manasseh did, and lead our nation back to God?

Blessed be the LORD God of Israel.

THE GOSPEL OF HEALTH

The Allopathic Model

by James Jester

The allopathic model is wrong in their approach to how the body works. The body functions as a whole, i.e. everything is based on cells even though there are different types of cells. Allopathic medicine sees the body as parts, and so, they treat the parts not the cells. Thus, there are "specialists" for the heart, kidney, bones, skin, etc. The medical profession makes no claim of a "cure" for anything, only "treatments." Treatments can go on forever—a cure does not.

Take for example, Alzheimer's disease. A so-called expert on the disease recently said that Alzheimer's might be infectious. But Alzheimer's is a degenerative condition, not a disease that one can catch from someone else. Is there a demon going around sprinkling people with Alzheimer's dust? No, that is nonsense! These "experts" called "doctors" also claim degenerative diseases are just random—that they are a mistake or in the genes. If any of these theories from medical doctors are true, then why do children not get degenerative diseases?

A doctor can not do a thing to help your cells. The allopathic model only does three things for your cells: poisons them, radiates them, or removes them (i.e. cut, burn and poison). That is what they do best. Medicines made from chemicals are toxic to cells and attempt to fool them into acting differently than how God designed them. Radiation kills or maims cells. An operation removes part or all of the cells of a particular organ that God intended for your body to have. Thus, this method rarely finds the source of the health problem that caused the particular organ to malfunction. They are treating the symptom rather than the cause by cutting out body parts or poisoning the cells. Is this not madness? The allopathic model is a failure when it comes to health. It appears that the 21st century is the beginning of a return to the natural (and biblical), homeopathic model of treatment for health problems (I hope so).

"He causeth the grass to grow for the cattle, and herb for the service of man: that he may bring forth food out of the earth" (Ps. 104:14).

"... and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations" (Rev. 22:2).

CELLULAR HEALTH

True health begins at the cellular level. Health is not about what your doctor can do—it is about what you can do. This is good news, for it is much cheaper than allowing the medical route to keep you sick and use you for an ATM machine. The Allopathic medical model does not treat cells—it treats body parts that have reached a critical stage. Another way to look at it, is that there really is no such thing as "heart disease," it is cellular heart disease. Or, there is no such thing as "cancer," it is cellular cancer. The condition of cancer is cells that have simply gone crazy because they are at wits end for having been starved and poisoned over a long period with "food" that was lacking nutrition and filled with toxic additives.

Most of what people eat is not food. We may call it "food" but it is so processed and packaged that virtually no nutrition remains. We may satisfy our hunger, but our cells are starving, and someday we will pay for what we took into the body.

All chronic disease comes from consistently bad eating. By the time you reach a chronic condition, your health has already been compromised, possibly for years. All disease comes from one common malady: dirty blood. Dirt is composed of digestive toxins and sugar (think of sugar as "dirt"). All disease begins in the gut. You can tackle digestion by fasting a few days. Then introduce good organic food one item at a time to identify digestive problems. Eliminate foods that cause negative effects. This will cause the body to begin a new healing process and turn things around for better health.

The only truly good food is organic (which means living), not just food that "tastes good." The saddest thing is that most people have eaten dead food (S.A.D. - standard Australian diet) since the industrial revolution of the 20th century. We must return to what our ancestors ate for millennia, i.e. live food. Remember, only you can provide nutrition for your cells.

abbreviated selections from Josephus’ Antiquities of the Jews (Israelites), book IV, Chap. VIII:
from Moses’ last speech, that may be of interest:

6. He that blasphemeth God let him be stoned, and let him hang upon a tree all that day, and then let him be buried in an ignominious and obscure manner.

7. Let those that live as remote as the bounds of the land which the Hebrews shall possess, come to that city where the temple shall be, and this three times in a year, that they may give thanks to God for his former benefits, and may entreat him for those they shall want hereafter; and let them, by this means, maintain a friendly correspondence with one another by such meetings and feasting together—for it is a good thing for those that are of the same stock, and under the same institution of laws, not to be unacquainted with each other; which acquaintance will be maintained by thus conversing together, and by seeing and talking with one another, and so renewing the memorials of this union; for if they do not thus converse together continually, they will appear like mere strangers to one another (so will their children).

12. When the multitude are assembled together unto the holy city for sacrificing every seventh year, at the Feast of Tabernacles, let the high priest stand upon a high desk (pulpit), whence he may be heard, and let him read the laws to all the people; and let neither the woman nor the children be hindered from hearing, no, nor the servants neither; for it is a good thing that those laws should be engraven in their souls, and preserved in their memories, that so it may not be possible to blot them out; for by this means they will not be guilty of sin, when they cannot plead ignorance of what the laws have enjoined them. The laws also will have a greater authority among them, as foretelling what they will suffer if they break them: and imprinting in their souls by this hearing what they command them to do, that so there may always be within their minds that intention of the laws which they have despised and broken, and have thereby been the causes of their own mischief. Let the children also learn the laws, as the first thing they are taught, which will be the best thing they can be taught, and will be the cause of their future felicity. (emph. CIM)

13. Let every one commemorate before God (in prayer) the benefits which he bestowed upon them at their deliverance out of the land of Egypt, and this twice every day, both when the day begins and when the hour of sleep comes on, gratitude being in its own nature a just thing, and serving not only by way of return for past, but also by way of invitation of future favours. They are also to inscribe the principal blessings they have received from God upon their doors.

23. Let the Hebrews marry, at the age fit for virgins that are free, and born of good parents. And he that does not marry a virgin, let him not corrupt another man’s wife, and marry her, nor grieve her former husband: nor let free men marry slaves, although their affections should strongly bias any of them so to do; for it is decent, and for the dignity of the persons themselves, to govern those their affections.

38. And let it be always remembered, that we are not to defraud a poor man of his wages; as being sensible that God has allotted these wages to him instead of land and other possessions; nay, this payment is not at all to be delayed, but to be made that very day, since God is not willing to deprive the labourer of the immediate use of what he hath laboured for.

40. Let those that have made themselves eunuchs (vasectomies) be had in detestation; and do you avoid any conversation with them who have deprived themselves of their manhood, and of that fruit of generation which God has given to men for the increase of their kind: let such be driven away, as if they had killed their children, since they beforehand have lost what should procure them (i.e. any form of contraception); for evident it is, that while their soul is become effeminate, they have withal transfused that effeminacy to their body also. In like manner do you treat all that is of a monstrous nature when it is looked on;

42. When you have beaten your enemies in battle, slay those that have fought against you; but preserve the others alive, that they may pay you tribute, excepting the nation of the Canaanites; for as to that people, you must entirely destroy them.

43. Take care, especially in your battles, that no woman use the habit of a man, nor man the garment of a woman.

WOULD SOMEONE PLEASE DISCRIMINATE!

by Andrea Schwartz

We live in a world where there are words one is not allowed to say, and preferences one is not allowed to have. How remarkable that we have become so obsessed with offending no one that we manage to offend everyone at some point. What’s more, as our society has focused on avoiding hurting anyone’s feelings, we offend God at almost every twist and turn.

One should not expect much from a world that has elevated man to the position only God Almighty rightly holds. It is in the church that this phenomenon is most disturbing. While it is true that we all begin our lives as sinners, it is not true that all people are the same. There is a difference. There are two kinds of sinners: those trying to honour God and obey His Law, and those who are in open rebellion against Him. When preachers repeat the misleading statement that we are all sinners and none is better than the next, it groups all people (whether redeemed or not) into the same category. However, this is simply not true!

The redeemed in Jesus Christ are a new creation; old things are passed away and all things have become new (2 Cor. 5:17). This means that the person who made a practice of stealing steals no longer. It means that the person who regularly used other people as sexual objects no longer thinks, speaks, or behaves in that manner. It means that those focused on their own selfish desires, now defer to serving others (in family and community) as their living sacrifice unto their Savior and Redeemer. Those who are striving for holiness by means of God's Word are the people we should prefer (Gal. 6:10); these are the faithful we should discriminate in favor of. R.J. Rushdoony notes:

"To accept every act as holy is to deny emphatically the principle of discrimination in terms of good and evil. Faithfulness in adherence to an absolute law, and to persons and causes in terms of that absolute law and the sovereign God of that law. As against faithfulness, the way or walk is made a systematic unfaithfulness as man's life, joy, and pleasure...

Because there is no principle of discrimination between good and evil, man and animals, persons do not count."¹

Exercising discrimination and judging righteous judgments are the marks of one who is covenantally faithful to God. The evidence of being born again should be an obvious transformation in the lives of those who were dead in their sin and made alive in Jesus the Christ. Yet modern Christianity makes allowances for all sorts of besetting sins and condemns those who judge them according to the Law-word of God. In short, what is promoted as love and care is actually an intolerance to God Himself.

"We cannot use our feelings and experience as a test or standard. We readily develop a tolerance for many things. Our tolerance for pornography, national corruption, profanity, and sin in general has greatly increased in the past generation. Things once held to be intolerable are now hardly noticed. What was once shocking on television, for example, is now tame fare, and what once destroyed a politician's career is today no problem.

In brief, our level of tolerance is a false standard. This is why Isaiah declares, "To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them" (Isa. 8:20). We cannot use our thoughts and feelings as a standard: only God's Word is the test. We ourselves readily develop a tolerance towards sin and evil" God's Word remains the unceasingly clear and uncompromising Word.

The result of becoming tolerant towards sin is that we become intolerant towards God and His Word.²

[and can't we see that in society today? CIM]

Waking Up From Our Daydreams

The world of statist planners determines for us what our likes and dislikes should be, all in the name of liberty and freedom. However, lest we forget, true liberty is the freedom to obey God. Moreover, God is the ultimate discriminator. He discriminates between the faithful and the unfaithful, the godly and the ungodly, the repentant and the defiant. Are we to be holier than God when it comes to making selections of friends, education, employment, words we choose to vocalize, or thoughts we have? Christians have bought into the idea that if we show preferences (discriminate) to those who abide by God's law, openly and deliberately, we have somehow proven ourselves unworthy. Quite the contrary. Rather than living in the dream world of humanism, we are called to live and work in the real world of God's enscriptured Word. The acquiescence to humanistic political correctness and hindered speech merely places us on the road to hell. As Rushdoony notes:

There is neither dreaming nor daydreaming in heaven, but only in hell. To dream or to daydream is to imagine what might be, or what might have been, and the redeemed of the Lord live in an eternal day which surpasses all imagination.

It is, however, the essence of the fool and the sinner to prefer dreams and illusions to reality.³

Thus, every false restriction on speech or attitudes because they might offend social planners is to agree with a supposed reality that is impossible to attain.

Those who live in terms of their daydreams soon despise reality and its opportunities. Possibilities lie not in the dream world, but in reality, in the world around us. ... Our thinking about what might be or what might have been is needless, and also wrong. It is our obedience to the Lord that best reckons with tomorrow's problems.⁴

The Issue Is One of Faithfulness

Life, as Jesus noted, has enough troubles on a daily basis (Matt. 6:34), and no humanistic program, legislation, or mandate that ignores God's Law will ever right those troubles or wrongs. We must come to grips with the reality that most of life is mundane and routine without much excitement. When we strive for a utopia apart from God, we sin in failing to meet each day's challenges undergirded by the law-word of God.

The main concern of the Christian is the responsibility of faithfulness in everyday living, duties, and problems. Those who want excitement in their marriage, their church life, or their daily living are saying that they do not want responsibility, nor do they want maturity.

Paul, speaking against the hunger for continual "higher experiences," said, "When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things." Now, Paul said, I meet life's responsibilities as a mature man in Jesus, with faith, hope, and love (1 Cor. 13:11-13). This is God's requirement for all of us. Just as the valleys of California are more productive than our mountaintops, so too are the daily duties of the Christian walk more productive than the mountaintop experiences.⁵

As we embrace the callings and situations God has placed us in, the greatest of which is the commission to disciple the nations, our concern should not be governed by a fear of accusations of racism, sexism, ageism, genderism, sizeism, or the multitudes of "isms" waiting to be claimed. Rather, we should be about our Father's business and making every effort to judge, by judging righteous judgments. And, if we are wondering how we will become equipped to make such judgments, the answer lies in learning and applying God's Law to every area of our lives and our thoughts!
