"Blessed be the LORD God of Israel; For He hath visited and redeemed His people, And hath raised up an horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant David; as he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began; That we should be saved from our enemies and from the hand of all that hate us; to perform the mercy promised to our fathers and to remember his holy covenant; The oath which he sware to our father Abraham, That he would grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies might serve him without fear, in holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our lives." HIS LAST SERMON

by Ps. Mark Downey

"And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and had taught many, they returned again to Lystra, and to Iconium, and Antioch. Confirming the souls of the disciples, and exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God." (Acts 14:21-22.)

Let me thank you for allowing me to participate in this (court) case as I've been pondering the ramifications, not just in the prison systems, but for pastors, authors and expositors of Christian Identity. There are adversaries who can obviously twist what we're about with impunity in a few prisons with the hopes that these political opinions transform into laws and then those laws are shown in courts to be applicable to people like myself, which would have an unprecedented prejudice against law abiding Identity Christians and perhaps trickle down to mainstream Christian churches. In fact, this strategy is already in motion and I'll discuss it when I get to the SPLC. This case is important because it is blatant discrimination and the perpetrators would love for there to be a domino effect to silence us forever.

My last letter to Scott Perreault was rejected by the mail room, containing four sermons and copies of emails between myself and your law team and my favorable opinion of the phone discussion. I sent the same material to James Fox at another prison and it was accepted. This is not uncommon, albeit a minority of institutions discriminate, but the justification for such actions is always without merit. I am not an attorney, but it would seem this is a violation of law infringing upon a basic principle of law and that is religious freedom, especially as it pertains to Christianity.

The Supreme Court of the United States formally declared in the case of HOLY TRINITY CHURCH vs UNITED STATES, 143 U.S. 471, that, "...these and many other matters which might be noticed, add a volume of unofficial declarations to the mass of organic utterances that this is a Christian nation." An examination of early documents, charters, and state constitutions leaves no doubt that the intent of our founding fathers was to establish a Christian nation and not a pluralistic society in spite of the propaganda and disinformation of what some would have us believe today. I only mention this to show the disparity between Christian Identity and Christendom in general, which many believe has become the apostate church, they have fallen away from the Truth and absorbed other non-Christian doctrines.

In fact, the character of Christianity has morphed into the oxymoronic "Judeo-Christian," two succinct religions opposite to each other. Therefore, I can say with all candor and certainty that Christian Identity is the last vestige of the 1st century Christian church in the world today. This is proven by the fact that 95% of churches today are 501c3 corporations (i.e. Incorporated: created by the state; is your church incorporated?) Christian Identity is created by God and one could say that the Apostle Paul was the first Christian Identity preacher, whereby his epistles are clearly about his kinsmen or race.

It wasn't called Christian Identity, but it was the same thing. The entire Bible is self explanatory as far as being racially exclusive. Christianity is the only religion in the world in which God chooses His people (John 15:16), rather than people choosing their god(s) as in most other religions. All of the Covenants have always been with the same race of people including the New Covenant (Hebrews 8:8 and Jeremiah 31:31).

When Romans 11:25 says "Blindness in part has happened to Israel" it suggests two things:

The views and opinions expressed in the articles herein or herewith are those of the authors and not necessarily those of CIM. They are written by fallible men. You must ask Jesus to guide your studies!

CIM reserves the right to edit submitted or reprinted material in line with CIM editorial policy. CIM does the utmost to ensure that the spirit of articles remains intact at all times.

1. Those who claim to be Israel today do not fulfill this aspect of blindness, and

2. Only part of true Israel is not blind to their Identity. Christian Identity is the “part” of that fulfillment. Also, most Anglo-Saxon Israelites are not blind to the gospel or the Word of God, only to their part in it.

When I was introduced to Christian Identity in 1976, I began a quest in my life to learn as much as I could to see if it was true; that is, if the White race was the true descendants of the twelve tribes of Israel. Consequently, this demanded scholarship to disprove the contention that another group makes, claiming to be God’s chosen people. Over the years I have spent thousands of dollars amassing an extensive library confirming the Christian Identity message with history, archeology, heraldry, language, theology etc. I have two large filing cabinets full of newsletters, articles, research, pamphlets etc.

So when I hear that our movement is nothing but racism and violence, I cringe at the utter vacuum of intelligence and knowledge. It was only after 20 years of prayerful study and being mentored by knowledgeable men, that I was drafted into the pastorship of shepherding a small flock of believers. Since 1988, I have written over 200 sermons and articles. I am no more ordained with worthless pieces of paper than the 12 Disciples of Jesus the Christ. I stand before the Christian Identity community as a respected elder, having earned the expertise of our faith through the aforementioned. I have also collected anti-Christian Identity literature, which falls short of disproving the premise of the foundational truth which we embrace.

Our adherents, which number in the millions, all accept the basic premise that the White race is the true people of the Book, the Israelites of Scripture. We have many illustrious personages who believed in the proper identity of Israel throughout history. Queen Victoria (ruled from 1837-1901) commissioned her royal ancestry to be traced back to King David of which the chart was displayed in the British Museum. Governor John Winthrop of Massachusetts (1630) declared “The God of Israel is among us ... we shall be as a city on a hill.”

Sir Walter Scott (1771 - 1832) wrote “How as my soul liveth, and as He liveth who hath made me ruler in Israel” (referring to Oliver Cromwell). Sir Francis Drake (1540 - 1596) in a prayer stated, “God may be glorified, His church, our Queens and country preserved, the enemies of truth vanquished, that we might have continual peace in Israel.” Alfred the Great (849 - 899) pronounced to his subjects “Be ye kind to the strangers within thy gates, for ye were strangers [i.e. Israelites] in the land of Egypt [Exodus 22:21]..”

Thomas Jefferson (circa 1799) in his eulogy to the death of George Washington said, “I felt on his death with my countrymen, that verily a great man hath fallen this day in Israel.” There is a plethora of quotations which could be cited, which all proves that the identity of Israel in Christian societies throughout history have not been the group today who claims to be God’s chosen people and yet have overtly rejected Jesus Christ as the Son of God. The Jewish crowd before Pilate was so bent on the death of Jesus that they cried out, “His blood [Jesus] be upon us and our children” Matthew 27:25. How could they be God’s chosen people with such hate and violence? (today’s left wing anti-Christian governments and the rainbow crowd would do the same both to Jesus and His followers - if they could, CIM).

The appellation of Christian Identity is not as important as the basic principle which we teach; that is, we are the true Israelites, the literal descendants of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. Some of our adherents have changed their appellation, because of the harassment, intimidation and persecution, to Covenant Theology, Christian Israel, Kingdom Identity etc. The term Christian Identity was coined by Col. William Potter Gale (circa 1950s) who was an aid to Gen. Douglas MacArthur during WWII.

In fact there are many high-ranking retired military men who have aligned themselves with our movement and become active proponents, such as:

- Pastor Earl F. Jones, author and Christian Identity speaker, who fought under General George Patton through all six major campaigns in Europe during WWII in the Third Army, and retired from White Sands Missile Range as Project Manager for Engineering and Testing with the civilian rank of Lt. General.

- During the start of the Korean War, war hero, Lt. Colonel Gordon (Jack) Mohr, was the first American wounded and captured (and tortured), escaping a communist firing squad. He holds the record for the most number of consecutive days on the front line combat duty without a break, (276). He fought the war with a reward of $250,000 in gold, “dead or alive,” offered by the North Korean government. Jack became a fundamentalist Baptist, speaking to groups for 30 years, until he discovered the Christian-Israel truth. Because of his outspoken opposition to liberalism and promotion of the racial message of the Bible, he suffered much harassment from the government (the IRS). These are some of the pillars of our movement, who sacrificed everything they had to make America a Christian nation again.

The Greek word for church is ecclesia and means a called out people (an assembly), not a building or place. We are not a denomination nor the putative church, although we have hundreds of fellowships, Bible study groups and multi-family worship with each being autonomous and independent. Christian Identity may not have perfect unity, but we are just the opposite of apostasy and being a cult. Our unity is based in 1 Corinthians 1:10, “Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment.”

In essence, our movement is a work in progress seeking the Divine Will and God’s plan for the ages. We love the truth of who we are so much that we have no hierarchy, no national headquarters, no king but Jesus. Our body of Christ (Anointed) is comprised of pastors, elders and members, similar to the 1st century ecclesia serving God and the lost sheep of the house of Israel, to whom Jesus declared He came for (Matthew 15:24; Jeremiah 50:6). Our adherents come from all levels of society, rich and poor, white collar and blue collar, from drop-outs to PhDs, young and old alike. We are all White Christian Americans, as well as from Europe, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and Canada, and believe we are the one and the same Covenant People in both the Old and New Testaments.

The only reason we are called an overly simplistic “hate group,” is because our adversaries hate what we believe. If Jesus were to enter the world stage today, they would be the same kind of Pharisees who would hate Him so much, that they would crucify Him all over again. The point I’m making is that the great majority of our adherents are not the silly caricatures invented by our adversaries.

For example, the outrageous Project Megiddo in their opening self-described statement said, “an FBI strategic assessment of the potential for domestic terrorism in the United States undertaken in anticipation of or response to the arrival of the new millennium” was issued in 1999. In other words, a PSYOP group of fear mongering disinformation specialists spreading the propaganda of racism and violence. The report was meant for “official law enforcement use only,” but of course leaked to the public far and wide. The report was an intentional distraction from the scandals and corruption of the FBI to the invented threat of domestic terrorism. It’s a technique deployed by political dirty tricksters to this day to avoid their own misdeeds; they launch calumnious smear campaigns against their perceived enemies. In this report Christian Identity was placed at the top of their list. They proceeded to attribute a false history of its founding to Wesley Swift in the 1950s as it became distinctly American and became the sole property of Aryan Nations, a clownish organization of costumes and misfits.

However, the premise of Christian Identity was well established decades earlier by Howard B. Rand, who made the transition from British Israel to Anglo Israel to Christian Identity. One of his contemporaries was Curtis Clair Ewing who was my mentor for 3 years in the early 1980s. As early as 1927 Rand claimed that the Jews were not really descended from the tribe of Judah. This has since been confirmed by Jewish authors Benjamin Freedman, Arthur Koestler, Alfred Lilienthal and Schlomo Sands. This means that if they were not descended from any of the tribes of Israel, they couldn’t be Semites racially.

Unlike Swift and later permutations of theology called “dual seedline,” Rand did not claim that modern Jews were descendants of Satan, but that they were simply not the true descendants of Judah. Rand’s religious beliefs and teachings have been described as a “peaceful missionary imperative.” And that is the preponderant majority of what constitutes Christian Identity today.

The presumption made by the FBI’s Project Megiddo was that our rank and file believed that a violent and bloody race war would commence in the year 2000, ushering in the “end of the world and Second Coming of Christ.” Nobody that I knew at the time believed any such thing. It was pure hog wash. Every Identity Christian should know that “Ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh” Matt. 25:13. And yet today, evangelical Judeo-Christians are celebrating the transfer of the Israeli’s capitol from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem. This is already fomenting hate and violence and tantamount to hitting a hornet’s nest with a stick. Christian Identity is not agitating this boiling point of senseless conflict, because we could care less about the old Jerusalem. Our focus is entirely on the New Jerusalem and the peace therein (Psalm 122). But the FBI would have people believe that we are consumed with racism and violence.

Not only that, but the demonization of our movement to suggest that we’re preparing “for these events, they engage in survivalist and paramilitary training, storing foodstuffs and supplies, and caching weapons and ammunition. They often reside on compounds located in remote areas,” sounds paranoid.

On the contrary, we are for the most part middle class, living from pay check to pay check and live everywhere. Maybe the FBI could learn what we know and practice from Matthew 6:33 “But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you.” They try their darndest to associate us with right-wing radicals, but we don’t play partisan politics of liberal vs. conservative, because that is not our calling. We are called to bring the Good News of the Gospel of the Kingdom to the lost sheep of the house of Israel, period.

The FBI skews what we advocate by saying, “It is a belief system that provides its members with a religious basis for racism and an ideology that condones violence against non-Aryans.” We condone no such thing. The FBI reinvents the definition of racism however it suits their mode of situational ethics. Our morality, on the other hand, is always the permanent Laws of God to know what is right and wrong.

Webster’s (7th Collegiate) Dictionary definition of racism is “a belief that race is the primary determinant of human traits and capacities and that racial differences produce an inherent superiority of a particular race.” Belief implies assent to expressing the idea of putting the belief into action, in government, religion, art, business, community, home, etc. The racism of a racial group will change from a static to a dynamic character when it becomes the victim of oppression and the peaceful security of the society is at risk. This is a natural confrontation in nature, an instinct for survival. Racism may be the most compelling force or factor in the rise and fall of civilizations.

When God declared in Deuteronomy 7:6 “For thou art an holy people unto the Lord thy God: the Lord thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto Himself above all people that are upon the face of the earth.” Whoever claims to be this “special people” can only be deemed “supremacists” or “above” all others and it is the God of the Bible who declares it, not man. So if anybody wants to talk about “White Supremacy,” They need to talk to God.

Lastly, the FBI’s Project Megiddo fails miserably at trying to justify their lies that Christian Identity has nothing else better to do than to perpetrate violence. It cites a few examples of some people claiming to be Christian Identity, but these people either never read God’s Law or willingly violate God’s Law or are not Christian at all and work for the FBI. This couldn’t have been more exemplary than Hal Turner several years ago who talked like the stereo-typical madman portrayed in the Project Megiddo Report.

However, as it turned out at trial, he was advocating the murder of a judge and his defense was that he was working for the FBI making $100,000 a year. There are other known government agent provocateurs that haunt Christian Identity with impunity. And yet more informants that are hired by private anti-racist organizations proliferate among us. Real Identity Christians are hard working, tax paying people who just want to be left alone and worship and fellowship like all other religious groups in the country.

Most of us are students of the American Revolution, but understand that any sort of arm-of-flesh revolution today would be a losing proposition. That's why our adversaries yearn for white violence so much. So that they can take draconian measures against us. We only seek the Kingdom of God or the government of Jesus the Christ and that revolution starts in our own mind and spirit. Jesus called it repentance: to sin no more. And that is why there is so much temptation today, to entice us with the trappings of the world (sex, booze, drugs, material possessions) and keep us in bondage. We now know that it is not violence that will save us, but rather the simple words and thought that the 'Truth shall make you free.' This does not mean that we are pacifists or discard self defense.

The government document is devoid of any evidence or documentation. It was a false prophecy. The real hate groups that incited such a ridiculous hatchet job was the Anti-Defamation League (ADL) and the Southern Poverty Law Center (SPLC) [The Real Hate Group, Pete Peters, #09 @ $3.85]. From January 1 to the end of December in the year 2000 not one thing happened to give the FBI any credibility in their assessment of the new millennium. In fact, 17 years later there have been no incidences of criminal activity from millions of adherents in our community, much to the chagrin of the FBI. The few cases that can be cited were the nominal lunatic fringe who attach themselves to our religious beliefs, but by their actions disqualify themselves from being Christian Identity. All religions suffer from bad apples who do not represent the tenets of what they believe.

The early 1st century church likewise had impersonators who mimicked the talk, but could not walk the talk. Perhaps the most famous was Judas Iscariot.

Let me make one thing perfectly clear: we are not anti-Semitic, because we are Semitic. Those who claim to be God's chosen people, generally speaking, will not even be able to tell you what the derivation of Semite is. It comes from Shem, the son of Noah, which is also rendered Sem whose descendants were known as Semites.

Anti-Semitism is a bogus appellation exploited for nefarious purposes, which when understood correctly points back to the false accusers. The ADL has a high dependence upon this word for their propaganda and disinformation. The ADL is an unregistered foreign agent using its money power as the nations largest NGO, indoctrinating police, teachers, clergy etc. in its self-serving Zionist ideology.

Zionism, by its very nature, is racist and violent in its stated expansionism in the Middle East. Compared to Christian Identity, there is no comparison to the grand scale of Zionism who represents the antithesis of peace. Why then would the ADL be one of the foremost enemies of Christian Identity in its vicious spy and intimidation campaigns to thwart our conferences, churches and right to assemble, engaging in brutal pressures against lawmakers, Judeo-Christian churches and newspapers, radio and TV who are not mainstream? And now in increasing influence within state prison systems? It's because the Truth is not anti-Semitic.

The other organization hellbent on misrepresenting Christian Identity is the SPLC (Southern Poverty Law Center, which is neither Southern or concerned about poverty). The SPLC is a money grubbing scam posing as the self-appointed inquisitor of hate. Whoever they smear with the politically incorrect tag of "hate group" is taken by the mainstream media as gospel. What qualifies them and their founder, Morris Dees, as judge, jury and social executioner? Perhaps it's the lust for power and/or their love of mammon. The ridiculous spectrum of SPLC-certified agents of hate range from the KKK and neo-Nazis to respectable Christian groups like the Family Research Council in Washington DC and D. James Kennedy Ministries of Coral Ridge, Florida. The SPLC actually inspired a gunman attempting to commit mass murder at FRC headquarters, had he not been stopped, because he used the SPLC "hate map" to target them.

The Philanthropy Roundtable calls out Dees as "a cash collecting machine." The SPLC averages $50 million a year and has been criticized for violating its IRS non-profit status. Again the PR says "They've never spent more than 31 percent of the money they were bringing in on programs, and sometimes they spent as little as 18 percent." Most non-profits average 75%. From a November 2000, issue of Harper's Magazine we read, "In 1986, the Center's entire legal staff quit in protest of Dees' refusal to address issues - such as homelessness, voter registration, and affirmative action, that they considered far more pertinent to poor minorities, if far less marketable to affluent benefactors than fighting the KKK. Another lawyer, Gloria Browne, who resigned a few years later, told reporters that the Center's programs were calculated to cash in on "black pain and white gain."

And in 2017, red flags were raised as the SPLC was busted for shunting millions of dollars to offshore (Cayman Islands) entities. Why anybody would believe:

- A greedy con artist,
- An embarrassment to the law profession, and
- An exposed pedophile in divorce proceedings, is unbelievable.

And yet this is what Christian Identity, representing several million White Christian people has to contend with.

The big business of slander and calumny must cease and desist and it must start with the courts to dismiss fraudulent experts who twist the truth to self-perpetuate their money-making schemes. The net worth of the SPLC is an estimated $334 million in cash and securities and its luxurious offices in Montgomery, Alabama, at a whopping $34 million. As a personal affront, my church in Washington state, the Upper Room, was on the "hate map" for ten years after it had become defunct. It took them several years to put Kinsman Redeemer Ministries (KY) on the map. There's never been anything written about me or my ministries. We're just on a "hate map," which has been designated racist and violent. I must reiterate that the Truth is neither racist or violent or anti-Semitic or any other number of cheap shot ad hominem.

all Pastor Don Elmore

As a pastor, author and astute observer of human nature, I can unequivocally conclude that for some people, all it takes is one or two words and a person or group can be demonized to the pits of hell. In my 10+ years of prison ministry, I have experienced the rejection letters from prison mail rooms, but must say that is only about 10% of the prisons I minister to. The letter usually has the proverbial one or two words, which suffice for eternal condemnation.

All because their source is none other than the ADL or SPLC. In my view of all the documents provided to me from the Michigan Civil Rights Clinic (MSU - College of Law), I could easily discern the fly in the ointment of the defendants in this case. Let me defer to the August 8, 2017 memorandum between Kenneth McKee and David Leach with the subject "Request for Recognition of New Religious Group—Christian Identity." Quoting from the second paragraph, it states, "It was the opinion of the CAC that many core religious beliefs of the Christian Identity religion are similar to those of other Christian religious groups recognized by the MDOC and therefore the religious beliefs and practices of the Christian Identity religion can be adequately met by an existing recognized group." This was their core reason for denying Perreault and Fox their 'Request for Recognition.' Nothing could be made more vague than to cavalierly associate "core ... beliefs" with the whole of Christendom.

It is not core beliefs we want recognized. It is the premise which separates us from an apostate churchianity, which only gives lip service to the Word of God. "These people honor Me with their lips, but their hearts are far from Me." (Matthew 15:8). How many "other Christian religious groups" accept the premise of Christian Identity? Hardly none! The hearts of Identity Christians honor the premise of God's intent for racial exclusivity. We reject the admixture of universalism to the Bible. It's a fact that the entire Bible is only about one people.

That is a premise, not a core belief, which can entail anything from baptism to communion. And even then the latter gives rise to interpretation and thus thousands of denominations having their own mode of application.

There is no mode to Genesis 5:1 "This is the book of the generations of Adam." It is clear and absolute as are thousands of other Scriptures that represent the premise. Everything revolves and hinges upon the premise, not core beliefs which can be manipulated. If the CAC thinks that Christian Identity is going to integrate our beliefs with people whose hearts are far from God, they are mistaken." "Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers" 2 Corinthians 6:14. They do not believe what we believe. The reason for denial is obviously a lack of knowledge as to what Christian Identity embraces as the Truth. Our Truth(s) are plain and simple and cannot be obfuscated through sophistry. When Deuteronomy 7:6 says "For thou art an holy people unto the Lord thy God: the Lord thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto Himself, above all people that are upon the face of the earth," it has the clear import of race. That does not necessarily make us White Supremacist if we forsake and ignore such divine callings found throughout God's Word. It does, however, make us cursed and whoring after other gods if we accept the deceit of universalism.

Which leads us to the fourth paragraph and Mr. Leach's terrible and superficial assessment of what Christian Identity is. He says our movement "Is known to have extreme racist and anti-Semitic views with a history of violence." We know that what Mr. Leach is assuming to be true, is in fact, people who are not really Christian at all, because if they were they would know that repentance, in contradistinction to the arm of the flesh (violence) is how we change things and are blessed by God. I dare say that all of these other Christian religious groups are probably more violent than what most of our rank and file could even dream of. We do not believe Mr. Leach and his little shell game. If an academic study were able to provide statistics, I think you would find more wife abusers, substance abusers, divorce, juvenile delinquency and criminal activity leading to violence, in churchianity.

Most prisoners I'm in contact with tell me they believed in God and came from a Baptist or Methodist or Pentecostal etc. background. They say they knew something was wrong with the church, but didn't know what it was until they found the Christian Identity Truth. Now they can order their lives into the disciplines of Jesus Christ and turn from their wicked ways. That's what I teach them.

I resent armchair theologians who malign me and my ministry with half-baked innuendo and outright lies. But, Mr. Leach is not finished. He has to interject the idea that we are largely comprised of Ku Klux Klan and other unnamed "white supremacist groups." This is a bold-faced lie, bearing false witness and persecuting Christians in the process. Interestingly, Mr. Leach confesses that his source for such an absurd diatribe is ... the SPLC.

And then makes a false conclusion that Christian Identity poses "a threat to the custody, and security of our correctional facility." It's sad that someone with authority can't see that it's not the case with the great majority of prisons who allow Christian Identity literature and religious amenities that those things do not happen. Otherwise, my ministry would be over and I would no longer be able to teach and help my brethren understand and obey the Bible.

As I reread this memo several times, it occurred to me that Mr. Leach is a hypocrite. On the one hand he is saying we're no different than all those denominational churches and so we should join them for worship and fellowship. On the other hand, the seed that Morris Dees planted in his mind is hatching and we're automatically labelled with the buzzwords "racist" and have "a history of violence." We don't have a history of violence. But, here's the hypocrisy: If we're so racist and violent then it stands to reason by implication, that the Judeo-Christian churches must also be cut from the same cloth and are likewise racist and violent. Therefore Mr. Leach would be fomenting exactly what he is allegedly opposed to. He poses a threat to his own institution. Of course, his presumptions are illogical and nonsensical for a lack of knowledge.

In conclusion, let me provide some Christian logic to what we are really about. We are by and large a peace-loving, law-abiding and Bible-believing people who advocate helping our own people, not harming them or anybody else, because it would be unbiblical and counter-productive. What possible victory could we achieve wielding the arm of the flesh and glorify God in the process? Very little. We're not to lobbing off the ears of centurions, but healings and miracles and walking on water, so to speak, in order to glorify our Kinsman Redeemer, Jesus the Christ.

The cognitive dissonance by outsiders presume how we are defined by our enemies, by the real hate groups. The peculiar thing about us is that we are not afraid to discuss or write about race or violence as it pertains to the Word of God. The more they know, the more they will perceive that they've been lied to. Our greatest advocacy is the identity of who we are in the Bible and the subsequent duties and responsibilities, which is to repent of our sins individually and nationally. Peter calmed the anxiety of his brethren after the death of their Lord as persecution was upon them. He said, "We ought to obey God rather than man." (Acts 5:29)

Our enemy and the enemy of Jesus Christ are all one and the same who advocate violence. "The Kingdom of heaven suffers violence and violent men take it by force" Matthew 11:12. We do not live by the sword, because we know those who do so, shall die by the sword. We do not advocate violence as some kind of paramilitary cult, but warn against the consequences of violence. Jesus is our example, not Rambo. Those who advocate violence today miss the point of Jesus' sacrifice. That is the miracle we strive for, to heal the blind that they may see.

TO WHOM WILL JESUS SAY, I NEVER KNEW YOU?

by Jaye Torgerson, Eau Clair, WI

Shortly into the Sermon on the Mount Jesus told His audience, "Think not that I am come to destroy the law." He then warned that they should not "break one of these least commandments," and that if their righteousness did not "exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees" they would not "enter into the kingdom of heaven" (Matthew 5:17-20. "Law," in this context, was the Law of the Lord, the moral compass used by Jesus, and that which He will use to govern the kingdom of heaven at the end of this age. We are not expected to obey these laws perfectly, Jesus did this for us. The requirement is that we follow His example by using them as our moral compass, "for sin is the transgression of the law" (1 John 3:4)

For the purpose of this article, it will be stated that the "kingdom of heaven" — is not in heaven. "Of" does not mean "in." It means the same as "of" in "the kingdom of God," (the kingdom is not "IN" God), the term used by the other Gospel writers. A comparison of Matthew's "kingdom of heaven" in 8:11-12 to Luke's "kingdom of God" in 13:28-29 will reveal both writers as describing the same kingdom, and that its location is on earth. Supporting this is that "things that offend, and them which do iniquity" (Matt. 13:41) are in this kingdom, and will be removed upon Jesus' return. This could not be if Matthew was locating the kingdom of heaven as in heaven.

The question then is, what are "things that offend," what is "iniquity," and is there a connection between these and the people to whom Jesus will say, "I never knew you" (Matthew 7:23)? The prophecy reads as follows:

"Not everyone that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my father which is in heaven. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? And I will profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity." (Mat. 7:21-23).

It cannot be emphasized too strongly that the "many"

in this prophecy are not Muslims, Hindus, or Jews. The context identifies them as Christians, as a certain type of Christian. (the ones who confess with their lips, but their heart is far from Him) Also, it seems to be describing their pastors and leaders. Jesus has returned, and they are asking Him why they are not entering the kingdom as are other yet-alive Christians. Having taught, and done wonderful works in His name, they cannot understand why they do not qualify as having done "the will of my Father." They please their case before King Jesus, but only to hear Him say, "I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity."

Psalm 40:8 and other texts, tell us that the will of God is found in His Law: "I delight to do thy will, O my God; yea, thy law is within my heart." The apostle Paul alluded to this when he spoke of God, saying, "And knowest his will ... being instructed out of the law" (Romans 2:18). So God's will for Christians includes the obeying of His Law. (get your children to memorise the 10 Commandments) Also repeating this truth was the apostle John when he defined sin as "the transgression of the law." (1 Jn 3:4) As a follow-up, he stated that "whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin ... because he is born of God" (v.9). John was not saying that born of God/born again Christians will not sin (they do), but that they will not make a practice of transgressing the law. Also known as repentance, this tells us that truly born again (from above, from an origin) Christians will not practice a particular sin, or sins, even when their government makes it legal to do so. For example, induced abortion, once illegal, was made legal by the US Supreme Court decision, Roe vs. Wade in 1973. Its legality would be one of the aforementioned "things that offend" in the parable of the tares. Government leaders who create policies that "offend" and those who sin by taking advantage of them, are both in the category of "them which work iniquity." It does not take a rocket scientist to understand this, neither the fact that induced abortion is not the only sin made legal by government in recent times.

As of this writing, Jesus is yet sitting at the right hand of God the Father, making intercession for the saints. But according to His I-never-knew-you prophecy, there is a type of Christian in whom the Holy Spirit does not abide, and who our Lord does not acknowledge. He does not, apparently, hear their prayers. It is because they have not asked Him into their heart, or into their life (terminology NOT in the Bible, but used by most evangelical leaders?) No! The reason stated is that they “work iniquity.” The Greek dictionary in Strong’s Concordance tells us that “iniquity” is translated from #458, anomia, and means ‘lawlessness.’ Jesus does not acknowledge this type of Christian for the reason stated in Proverbs 28:9, “He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer shall be abomination.” This puts today’s ‘grace only’ type believers in the I-never-knew-you category. They have twisted Romans 6:14 (“Ye are not under the law, but under grace”) into the idea that, because we are not under the penalty of the law, that the entire law was replaced by some other moral code. As a result, they are not using the moral compass used by Jesus, and are working iniquity/lawlessness.

Sins Corrected by Ezra and Nehemiah, but Rampant in Today’s Church

In the books of Ezra and Nehemiah there are three different sins described in detail. On the subjects of money, marriage, and the Fourth Commandment, these sins are rampant in today’s church. That the laws of God which prohibit them were once both statutory law and Christian cultural custom seems not to bother most evangelicals. Usury for example, God’s law prohibiting the collecting of interest on money (from a brother) was upheld by the church until about the 15th century. Gradually abandoned due to the love of money, (and with the introduction of paper receipts for money), usury is not widely practiced by Christians. One of the many symptoms of this sin is the burden of annual interest on an unpayable $20 trillion national debt (fictitiously created out of thin air). In Matthew 25:26-27 Jesus compared usury to reaping where one has not sown (i.e. unearned income).

God’s Law prohibiting unnecessary commercial activity (working) on the Sabbath was honored in Christendom, well into the 1900s. (The apostolic church observed Sunday as the required, one day in a cycle of sevens). But as the number of Christians in government declined (because Christians voted in atheists and anti-God people), those inconvenient “blue laws” were struck down and the Christian Sabbath is now one of the busiest days for store and restaurant chains. However, and to their credit, the Christian owned and operated Cick-fil-A restaurants, and the Hobby Lobby stores do not open on Sunday. (I avoid long-distance driving on Sunday as much as I possibly can, CIM)

God’s Law prohibiting mixed marriage was also, both statutory law and Christian cultural custom until recent decades. But in the case, Virginia vs. Loving in 1967, the US Supreme Court declared that good was evil by striking down all state laws prohibiting this sin. Since then it has increased ten-fold as most pastors, unwilling to be persecuted for righteousness sake, abandoned this law of God for political correctness. These are the church leaders who join hands with Hollywood, the ACLU, and the Southern Poverty Law Center by labelling the few Christian organizations which speak against this sin, as “racist” and “hate groups.”

In 2015 one sin begat another when Virginia vs. Loving was used as a case precedent by LGBT groups. They argued that state laws prohibiting same-sex marriage should be struck down. As a result, this type of “marriage” also has legal protection, and is being normalized by the social engineers in Hollywood, public education, and mainstream news outlets. In another generation, it too, will be a sin few pastors oppose. In an attempt to excuse their flocks from politically incorrect laws of God, most evangelical pastors will say, “That’s not for us, the law was given to the Jews.” But this is a big mistake because the Law was given to Israel, of which 1st century Jews were mostly not a part. For example, about 20 years before the Jews were scattered in AD 70, James addressed an epistle “to the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad” (James 1:1). Also in contradistinction to those not yet scattered, is that these Israelites (and yes, they were racial Israelites) were accepting Jesus and the New Covenant. James was writing to the greater portion of Israel, those whose ancestors were scattered, and who remained abroad after the 7th and 6th century BC., Assyrian and Babylonian invasions and deportations. The lost tribes of Israel, it was they who were the “other sheep I have which are not of this fold” (Jesus: John 10:16). The Jews knew them as “the dispersed among the Gentiles,” and “the children of God that were scattered abroad” (John 7:35, 11:52).

They were also the Christians called Gentiles in Paul’s epistles. These were the Israelites among whom the Gospel travelled, from the Mediterranean area to Western Europe. We, the people of historic Christianity (Anglo-Saxon-Celtic-Germanic-Scandinavian and related Europeans) are their descendants. We are Israelites, the people of whom Isaiah prophesied, would be “called by a new name ... by another name” (62:2, 65:15). That name is “Christians” (Acts 11:26), and history tells us that Isaiah’s prophecy was fulfilled over 1000 years ago, when the last of Western European nations became known by Israel’s prophesied new name. We are racial Israelites, the people whose responsibility it is to walk in the Law of the Lord. As professing Christians we must make an honest attempt to obey these Laws. To not do so, will put us in the category of those to whom Jesus will say those awful words: “I never knew you.” - adapted from the author’s book: Jew and Non-Jew Israelites #027 @ $17.95

in Josephus, Antiquities, book 8, chap. 7, para 5:

5. But although Solomon was become the most glorious of kings, and the best beloved by God, and exceeded in wisdom and riches those that had been rulers of the Hebrews before him, yet did not he persevere in this happy state till he died. Nay, he forsook the observation of the laws of his father, and came to an end no way suitable to our foregoing history of him. He grew mad in his love of women, and laid no restraint on himself in his lusts; nor was he satisfied with the women of his country alone, but he married many wives out of foreign nations: Sidonians, and Tyrians, and Ammonites, and Edomites; and transgressed the laws of Moses, which forbade the Hebrews to marry any but those that were of their own people. He also began to worship their gods, which he did in order to the gratification of his wives, and out of his affection for them. This very thing our legislator suspected, and so admonished us beforehand, that we should not marry women of other countries, lest we should worship their gods (are any of us, with christmas trees, or Easter eggs?? CIM). But Solomon was fallen headlong into unreasonable pleasures, and regarded not those admonitions; for when he had married seven hundred wives, the daughters of princes, and of eminent persons, and three hundred concubines, and these besides the king of Egypt's daughter, he soon was governed by them, till he came to imitate their practices. He was forced to give them this demonstration of his kindness and affection to them, to live according to the laws of their countries. And as he grew into years, and his reason became weaker by length of time, it was not sufficient to recall to his mind the institutions of his own country; so he still more and more contemned his own God, and continued to regard the gods that his marriages had introduced: nay, before this happened, he sinned, and fell into an error about the observation of the laws, when he made the images of brazen oxen that supported the brazen sea, [Josephus is here certainly too severe upon Solomon, who, in making the cherubims and these twelve brazen oxen, seems to have done no more than imitate the patterns left him by David; which were all given David by divine inspiration; and although God gave no direction for the lions that adorned his throne, yet does not Solomon seem therein to have broken any law of Moses; for although the Pharisees extended the second commandment to forbid the very making of any image, though without any intention to have it worshipped, yet do not I suppose that Solomon so understood it, nor that it ought to be so understood] and the images of lions about his own throne: for these he made, although it was not agreeable to piety so to do; and this he did, notwithstanding that he had his father as a most excellent and domestic pattern of virtue, and knew what a glorious character he had left behind him, because of his piety towards God; nor did he imitate David, although God had twice appeared to him in his sleep, and exhorted him to imitate his father: so he died ingloriously. There came therefore a prophet to him, who was sent by God, and told him that his wicked actions were not concealed from God: and threatened him that he should not long rejoice in what he had done: that indeed the kingdom should not be taken from him while he was alive, because God had promised to his father David that he would make him his successor, but that he would take care that this should befall his son when he was dead; not that he would withdraw all the people from him, but that he would give ten tribes to a servant of his, and leave only two tribes to David's grandson for his sake, because he loved God, and for the sake of the city of Jerusalem, wherein he should have a temple So Solomon died when he was already an old man, having reigned eighty years, and lived ninety-four. He was buried in Jerusalem, having been superior to all other kings in happiness, and riches, and wisdom, excepting that when he was growing into years he was deluded by women, and transgressed the law; concerning which transgressions, and the miseries which befell the Hebrews thereby, I think it proper to discourse at another opportunity.

(A further note of interest: Josephus - chapter VIII:1, "Now when Solomon was dead, and his son Rehoboam (who was born of an Ammonite wife, whose name was Naamah) had succeeded...." [see Deut 23:3, Neh. 13:1])

THE BLOODLINES

by late Ed Sommerville

Throughout all recorded history we have been aware of the bloodlines. This could be the bloodlines of Abraham and his descendants as found in the Bible, and it could also be those of certain royalty or even pertain to the bloodlines of those who have remained the enemies of Jesus for the last 2,000 years.

Until a few decades ago, with the discovery of the miracle of DNA, we believed that all of the information including race, our physical appearance, our IQ, our height, and many other things were passed on to us through the blood. Since there is no blood in the male sperm or the female egg, this would be literally impossible.

One verse in the Bible has been used to promote the deception that all races came from Adam. In Acts 17:26, it states in part, And hath made of one blood all nations of men. We will return to that verse later. One thing we have been aware of for a long time is, that we are not all of "one blood" as erroneously noted, as there are many different blood types. Giving a person the wrong blood could kill them.

During the 20th century a preposterous fairy tale has emerged in the churches. They maintain that the different races came about when God changed their languages at the tower of Babel. Changing a language is nothing compared to changing one's race and all the DNA in his body with no recollection of his former life. About a week or so ago there was a teenage boy featured on TV that had a concussion and was in a coma for a few days. When he woke up he spoke fluent Spanish, and there was no change to his body. Only the Creator could be responsible for this.

Many deluded Christians actually believe that the Adamic White man was instantly changed to a Black man with a low IQ who found himself in central Africa thousands of miles away. They can't explain how he got there nor how they have never accomplished anything over the thousands of years they have been there. The same things could be said of the other races as to how they ended up where they are.

Genesis 5:1 states very clearly that: This is the book of the generations of Adam. Not of man or mankind, but of Adam only. From Genesis 12:3 to the end of Revelation it is the story of Abraham and his descendants. One man's family. The other races are only mentioned when they come into contact with His People, and in most cases con-

ISRAEL'S CALENDAR AND THE TRUE SABBATH

by Curtis Clair Ewing and Charles Wesley Ewing

Some 50 years ago, Rev. S.W. Gamble, a Methodist minister, published a book dealing with Sunday as the Sabbath as found in our Bible. The book had several reprints.

Now Rev. C.C. Ewing has kindly permitted me to see a large number of additions which years of study on his part has enabled him to add to Rev. Gamble's work.

It is well worth your careful study.

tact was not for their good. As a result, the Bible is not any help in determining when the other races were created.

In Genesis 4, we find a very interesting story about Cain. Because of the killing of his brother he was driven out of the land and went east. He feared for his life in another land that someone would kill him. Cain was probably less than thirty years old when that happened. Where did all these people come from that he thought would kill him? There were enough people there to build a city and they had to have been there for many generations, from a former creation.

Since the churches have not come up with an intelligent solution as to the times the other races were created, we can look to what anthropologists have to say about it. They maintain that the Negro and Chinese were created a long time before the White race came on the scene. Yet, both the Evolutionists and the Creationists believe that all races evolved from one race. The Creationists prefer to use the words developed instead of evolved, but they mean virtually the same thing.

We have been told that we are to take the things by faith that we do not understand, but many feel we should not take something by faith when it has no evidence or Biblical base to build on. These races from millenniums past were created by God and all have their own DNA that has not changed from the time of their creation. The only way to change the DNA in a race is by miscegenation. Here is an interesting side note to think about. The American Indian is different than all the other races from one standpoint. He has no facial hair. Have you ever seen a western movie with Indians that have a beard or moustache? It's all in the DNA.

Today's churches are not amazed nor do they have any concern regarding the discovery of DNA as it runs contrary to their doctrines. But then, a person can be dead for thousands of years and they can still manage to recover DNA evidence from them. This has made it possible to trace the DNA from the White European to that of Abraham and the Hebrew people. It can also trace the DNA from today's people called Jews and find where these people originated from.

Over 90% of today's Jews are Ashkenazim, the descendants of Japheth and not Shem (see Genesis 10:2&3), while the Sephardic Jews of today are mixed with other races and are not Israelites. An Israelite, by Biblical law has to have two Israelite parents. By Jewish law, one only has to have a Jewish mother, regardless of the race of the father. As a result there are very few Jews today that are from the seed of Abraham. Today's Arabs, the descendants of Ishmael have far more of Abraham's DNA than the antichrist followers of Judaism have today. It is Abraham's seed through Ishmael that was to be, and is the rightful possessor of what is erroneously called by our deceitful or deceived pastors as "Greater Israel."

Another reason for this deception is to promote the idea of Universalism, as we are told that we are all the same except for the color of our skin. It's hard for them to believe that God created the wicked for His day of wrath. He also uses them to bring us (Israel) low when we are in disobedience to His Laws. There is a big difference between the sinners and the wicked. The Bible alludes to a day that is coming when He will send His angels (messengers) to separate the Christian wheat from the Tares - the tares will be destroyed by His angels and will leave them neither root nor branch. This is verified by many of our prophets. Unfortunately most of today's pastors still cannot distinguish between the Wheat and the Tares any more than they could at the time of Jesus.

In going back to the verse in Acts 17:26,* we know that in some of the earlier Bible texts the word "blood" is "italicized," - added to create a very different meaning to the verse. But the word "blood" was never found in the earliest texts! The verse should have been translated, "And hath made by One all nations." This deliberate deception was also used when referring to the wicked, collectively, they added the word one to Jesus' words in Matthew 13:38. By that change, from the original collective, "wicked" and adding the word "one" gives this verse a whole new meaning. Today they have taken those added words once shown in italics and converted the newer Bible texts to standard words making it appear as if they had always been so depicted.

A few months ago I received an email about a microbiologist who was doing a deep study into the DNA ladder and was completely amazed and overwhelmed at what he had found. He discovered that there was a means of communication that ran from one end of the ladder to the other that went both ways. He was so awestruck by it that he no longer believed in evolution, as only the Creator could be responsible for it.

The DNA plays a large part in animal life as it is what makes the baby ducks follow their mother in single file. It makes blind new-born puppies know where to go for their nourishment. It programs the minds of the migratory birds so they know when to go south for the winter and how to navigate to their destination. It programs the fear in animals to warn them to keep away from predators. The list could go on and on as all the animals have been programmed differently. It even puts the stripes on the zebras (as distinctly different as fingerprints) so they look distinctively different than a donkey.

The one thing we know for sure today, is that there are no physical, mental, nationality or racial characteristics passed on through the blood, as all these things are passed on through the miracle of our DNA. We've all heard it said about someone or people, "It's in their blood." NO, it's not in their blood and I think it's time to realize that there is nothing passed down through the blood and the word bloodline has nothing to do with any of our physical, mental or racial characteristics passed down through it.

*regarding Acts 17:26, the Anointed Standard Translation states: The KJV has promoted the following often-quoted phrasing: "And [He] hath made of one blood all nations of men to dwell on the face of the earth." When this phrase is quoted from the KJV, it is done to imply that God made all the nations of men into one blood. However, this was not the original intent of the KJV translators. In the 1611 vernacular, what was meant was And he made from one blood all nations... The word blood, in fact, is an interpolation, added by the Western scribes in order to attempt to explain what the word one was in reference to. Anointed Standard Translation, this verse reads, “And He made from one every nation of men, to live on all the face of the earth...” The word one in this verse, as nearly all modern translations agree, is in reference to Adam, so that the statement means that God made from one man, Adam, every nation of men, or in broader terms, He made from one racial stock, the Adamic race, every nation of men.

This verse then, serves as the New Testament definition of the word εθνος or nation; this word is commonly translated as gentile. The definition, therefore, is that all nations of men are descendants of Adamic stock. They are all of the same race, the race of Adam. The Hebrew word Adam carries the meaning ruddy, to show blood in the face, flush, turn rosy (Strong’s Hebrew Dictionary, et al). This word indicates that the original Adamic creation was ruddy or able to blush or turn rosy, in other words, a very fair-complected person, or what would today be referred to as a white person. Race-mixing was strictly prohibited in the Old Testament (as well as in the New Testament). Hundreds of examples might be cited, but Deuteronomy 23:2 shall suffice (from the Hebrew):

“A mongrel shall not enter into the Body Politic of the Master, even to the tenth generation shall none of his enter into the Body Politic of the Master. An Ammonite or a Moabite shall not enter into the Body Politic of the Master; even to the tenth generation shall not of them enter into the Body Politic of the Master, forever.”

Since such race-mixing was strictly prohibited, we know, for example, that David was a pure descendant of the original Adamic man. A racial description is given for David in 1 Samuel 16:12, where David is described with the adjective ruddy: “...and he was ruddy...” Ruddy is translated for the Greek word πυρρακης which means to have a ruddy complexion. Josephus, in Jewish Antiquities VI:164, further defines what the first century reader understood by this description, he says of David, “a boy with golden blonde skin, with fiery eyes...” Josephus used the Greek word ξανθος, a Greek term used of a fair-skinned person with light, blonde hair. Thus, if David was a fair-skinned white man, so too was Adam and all of the racially pure Adamic progeny, including Jesus, who in Revelation 22:16, said, “I am the Root and Race of David, the bright and morning star.”

Therefore, when the term nation is used in the New Testament, it is used only of those people who were the racial progeny of Adam. When Romans 16:26 states that the mystery of the Anointed had been made known “to all the nations,” that statement is qualified by Acts 17:26. Many criticize Romans 16:26 and other verses which state that the Good Message had already been or was shortly to be delivered to all the nations, such as Mark 13:10, because, they rightly point out, no student or ambassador or other early Christian is recorded, either in the Bible or in other historical sources, going to any Asiatic or black African nations; though the New Testament does record that the Good Message had been delivered to nations and people such as the Scythians, Greeks, Romans, Parthians, Medes, Elamites, Mesopotamians, Judeans, Cappadocians, Phrygians, Pamphylans, Cretes, Egyptians, Libyans, Cyrenians, Arabians, etc. Yet, all of these nations, in the first century, were composed of white people. However, there is no contradiction between passages that state that the Good Message was to be delivered to every nation and the historical reality that it was not delivered to Orientals, Nubians, etc., when it is understood that by Biblical definition, the term nations, or as some translations render it, gentiles, was only in reference to White Adamites.

THE "RED DRAGON SATAN" OF REVELATION 12

by Pastor Ken Lent

If any book of the Scriptures is riddled and loaded with allegories, it's the book of Revelation. God Almighty never intended us to apply literal meanings to something that is figurative in its context.

People use all manner of metaphors in their daily walk, (paint the town red, cat got your tongue, I'm just dying to do that, etc) and realize those terms for what they are. But when they read from the Book of Revelation about "Satan", for some reason they have a difficult time realizing the obvious truth that this is symbolism in a poetic license of expression. But why should there be such an almost universal mystic esoteric perception concerning the word "satan" in the Scriptures? Surely this has taken place because of the constant bombardment, generation after generation, on the part of denominational theology's relentless insistence that "the Devil is going to get them". People want a "Devil," and, by God, they will have him because in Revelation 12:9 we know that the "Fallen Angel" was cast out of heaven. This may be the most often misquoted verse in the Scriptures used by "Devil/demon" believers to support their position that a literal Devil named Satan is a "second-in-command spirit being," the arch angel in heaven, who rebelled against God Almighty.

"And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him" (Rev.12:9).

But what if this "Devil," like Mystery Babylon in Revelation chapter 17 who is the "whore with whom the kings of the Earth have committed fornication" (17:2), is not a real person after all, but is something else that persecutes those faithful ones in Christ who keep God's commandments (see v. 12:17)?

Certainly, we realize and agree that the great world power Mystery Babylon is not some individual evil female running around hopping in bed with all the world leaders. Could it be likewise that "Satan, The Devil" is something other than an individual being running around causing bad things to happen in the world? The only way we can know for sure is to see what God's Holy Word itself says about this "Devil" of Revelation chapter 12.

The Scriptures, upon closer look, reveal that "heaven" here in chapter 12 is jurisdictional and it has to do with nations and governments in the Earth which becomes evident if we go back and read from verse one.

"And there appeared a great wonder in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet,

GOD SOLD ISRAEL INTO CAPTIVITY

At a time when many thousands of God's people are beginning to realize we are in danger of going into captivity under aliens, it is well that someone injects into their thinking a reason why we might be in such danger. Many are saying that our enemies are too wicked and cunning, they overcome us through sheer weight of their lies and deception. Here you will find what part God played in the captivities of our forefathers. Perhaps you'll have a little more respect for God's participation in the present dilemma facing we Israelites today.

and upon her head a crown of twelve stars: And she being with child cried, travailing in birth, and pained to be delivered. And there appeared another wonder in heaven; and behold a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and seven crowns upon his heads. And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for to devour her child as soon as it was born. And she brought forth a man child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne."

So we see it says, "And there appeared a great wonder in heaven... she brought forth a man child, who was to rule all nations." This is speaking about national Israel from whom Jesus was born. This event takes place on the Earth, as is self evident. Yet it is spoken of as a "wonder in heaven" in that it's by "a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars:"

This "woman" is none other than national Israel and the rulership of Jacob's 12 sons who became the 12 tribes ruling by authority of God Almighty. Joseph's dream in Genesis 37 tells us what these "stars" are.

Gen.37:9-10, "And he [Joseph] dreamed yet another dream, and told it his brethren, and said, Behold, I have dreamed a dream more; and, behold, the sun and the moon and the eleven stars made obeisance to me. And he told it to his father, and to his brethren: and his father rebuked him, and said unto him, What is this dream that thou hast dreamed? Shall I and thy mother and thy brethren indeed come to bow down ourselves to thee to the earth?"

The eleven "stars" (that is, sons) plus Joseph make up the 12 "stars" of Revelation 12:1 and it is the governing nation of Israel, the woman of verse 1. This is Israel in God's ruling national domain, that is, "heaven". The "stars" are governing symbols, but they are regular men in actuality. (movie actors are called:stars")

In Rev.12:3 we see the "Devil" as being a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and seven crowns upon his heads. This is "Satan" of verse 9, "And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him." Yet this same entity shows up just a few verses later as we go to chapter 13.

Rev. 13:1-2, "And I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw a beast rise up out of the sea, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten crowns, and upon his heads the name of blasphemy. [three more descriptions are added to the 7 crowns now, making 10, and are below] And the beast which I saw was like unto a leopard, and his feet were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gave him his power, and his seat, and great authority."

We're also now seeing a blending of qualities that overlap within this entity, as do the likeness of the words as the text progresses. As the red dragon becomes the Devil and Satan (verses 12:3 then v.9), so does the dragon become entwined with the beast (12:3 & 13:1) In 12:3 it has 7 heads, 10 horns, and is "Red"; while the same beast in 13:1-2 has the same power overlapping as the dragon, the horns now have crowns too, and it's now seen like a leopard, bear, and lion. What kind of unified entity is this? And where else can we find this peculiar "entity" in the Scriptures?

Thank God, for He does not leave us in the dark without insight as to the "Devil/Red Dragon/Animal Beast", because the Holy Spirit gave wisdom to a prophet centuries before, who saw this same vision and had explained it to us in plain writing. This is a depiction of jurisdictional government since it is about the nation Israel who brings forth Messiah, yet persecuted (Rev.12:15 -17). Let's turn to the book of Daniel in the Old Testament as we discover what God's Word says this "Satan" of Revelation actually is. Is it a singular person who is Beelzebub the Devil, or just like the woman "Mystery Babylon the Whore" (Rev.17:1, 5), is it some world international system?

Daniel 7:2-7, "Daniel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and, behold, the four winds of the heaven strove upon the great sea. And four great beasts came up from the sea, diverse one from another. The first was like a lion, and had eagle's wings: I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made stand upon the feet as a man, and a man's heart was given to it. And behold another beast, a second, like to a bear, and it raised up itself on one side, and it had three ribs in the mouth of it between the teeth of it: and they said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh. After this I beheld, and lo another, like a leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowl; the beast had also four heads; and dominion was given to it. After this I saw in the night visions, and behold a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with the feet of it: and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it; and it had ten horns." Same as in Revelation 12.

This last beast with the now notable 10 horns was a "devourer". What are these beasts?) "These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth" Daniel 7:17. The beasts are governments. The "devourer beast" is the last beast, and like "Satan, the Devil" in Revelation 12; it has 10 horns. What both Daniel and John in Revelation had seen was the long train of history of the nations in jurisdictional battle against the "stars" (Jacob/Israel) in the Earth.

The last of the Earthly Kingdoms is particularly evil since, as history progressed, this Kingdom had gained (devoured) all the evil traits of the previous wicked nations, absorbing more and more wickedness into its system from the former "beasts". This last evil Kingdom has authority from the "Red Dragon" or red jurisdiction, which we know today, is Edomite (meaning Red) communism. [When mentioning Jacob/Israel, it should be made clear that this is not referring to the "jewish Israeli U.N. State" in the Middle East, which people are not Biblical Israel. The descendants of Biblical Israel are of Isaac's covenant line (Gen.21:12) namely "son's of Isaac" "Isaac's Sons" "Saac Sons" today called "Saxons". The Saxon people eventually migrated to America as Christians and built our Republic.]

WHAT IS MYSTERY BABYLON?

Revelation 17 tells of a fearful vision, a woman that reigns over the kings of the earth. We hear a lot of preaching of a future anti-Christ, some great world ruler who is supposed to appear on the world scene in the future. However, that world ruler must of necessity be something co-existing on the earth with the Christians. How else could she be accused of slaying so many that she was drunken with their blood?

This is a transcription of 29 radio broadcasts that Sheldon did on the subject. Very good!

None of this in Revelation chapter 12 is describing a battle between a rebellious angel called "Satan", and an angel of God called "Michael" long ago in a celestial plane. "Michael" means "who is like God" a position even held by Moses at one time. In this passage it refers to Jesus Christ or the Holy Spirit of Christ. It is Christ and His saints (angels - "messengers") who fight this battle against "the Reds" and are victorious. "And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; and they loved not their lives unto the death." (Rev.12:11)... which is the same event presented by a cross reference with the "devil/satan/lion/bear/leopard/beast" world kingly government entity of Daniel that is defeated by the saints in that book:

Daniel 7:17-18, "These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth. But the saints of the Most High shall take the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever."

Let's note that in this battle between "Satan" and "Michael," Satan is able to bring 1/3 of the "stars" crashing down to the Earth.

Rev. 12:3-4, "And there appeared another wonder in heaven; and behold a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and seven crowns upon his heads. And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for to devour her child as soon as it was born."

Do we think for one minute that this is specifically literal and that "Satan the Dragon" caused one third of the stars of the universe to crash into the Earth? The Earth couldn't survive an asteroid 1/10 its size blasting into it, let alone 1/3 of the stars! No brothers and sisters, the Scriptures here reveal a more truthful message that God wants us to know about.

These "stars" as we have seen are the government ruling authorities (the tribes of Jacob's sons, latter day Saxon Christians) as in Joseph's dream in Genesis 37. When the 12 tribes of Israel were set up as a nation and government coming out of Egypt, they traveled in a "four square formation" with three tribes each on the North, South, East, and West, with the Tabernacle in the center. There was a chain of command given, with four tribes, or 1/3 of "the stars", becoming the dominant leaders of this governmental setup. Each one of these tribes held the banner of each quadrant camp in the foursquare formation. Head of the East camp was Judah, South was Reuben, West was Ephraim, and North was Dan (as shown in Numbers chapter 2).

These four tribes (1/3 of the stars, Jacob's sons) represented the "banner tribes" of leadership standard, or symbolically at least leadership in general. In Revelation 12:4, "Satan" brings 1/3 of the "stars of heaven" (influential leadership) down to the Earth, which is the same ungodly plane of jurisdiction allotted to the systems of "beasts" in Daniel, by the will of God. Do you see why our Congress, our supposed leaders, who claim they are the banner standard of leadership, are today on the same plane as the "reds"? The "battle" in Revelation 12 is going on right now, right in front of us. Our leaders, who are supposed to be our beacon of "leadership stars," have bought into the world communal doctrine of jurisdiction and have sold us out. Our leaders have been cast to the earth by "Satan's tail"; that is "they follow the great Red Dragon" i.e. world Canaanite/Edomite communism. Therefore the term "1/3 of the stars brought down" in this verse is a euphemism for "deceived leadership". God tells us in other places of His Word that the faithless leaders and high minded are brought down, and the obedient are risen up:

Psalm 20:8, They are brought down and fallen: but we are risen, and stand upright.

Isa. 5:13,15, Therefore my people are gone into captivity, because they have no knowledge: and their honourable men are famished, and their multitude dried up with thirst. 15 And the mean man shall be brought down, and the mighty man shall be humbled, and the eyes of the lofty shall be humbled:

Isaiah 9:16 For the leaders of this people cause them to err; and they that are led of them are destroyed.

Job 40:12, Look on every one that is proud, and bring him low; and tread down the wicked in their place.

from late J. Franklin Snook, comes:
AUSTRALIA NEEDS THE DIVINE LAW

You will be blessed by this treatise on "God's Way" of solving problems in the nation. You will find the Bible way very intelligent, very reasonable, and often much simpler and more effective than man's way. God said:

"My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge: because thou hast rejected knowledge, I also will reject thee. Seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, I will also forget thy children." Hosea 4:6.

This study may bring about some reorientation in our thinking, for many labor under the delusion that the Bible teaches only religion and proper conduct on the individual level. Actually only 2/7ths of the text of the Bible deals with religion, per se. In the other 5/7ths we find history, prophecy, and NATIONAL INSTRUCTIONS.

The entire episode presented in Revelation 12 has nothing to do with a "space battle" between organized religion's Satan/Devil and God having a huge cosmic war. It has everything to do with what is going on right now, right here on the Earth in the Saxon nations of the world as God moves to bring His Kingdom to rule the nations with a rod of iron.

John's vision in the Book of Revelation chapter 12 is about our history of nations, jurisdiction of law, and the fight against the Edomite "Red System" (The Dragon/Devil - communism) which has been persecuting our Saxon race with totalitarian ungodly rule for ages and ages. This is our Scriptural reality check.

The mystical elusive "Satan" of the churches has been a sorrowful distraction of man's imagination that has kept most of our people out of the real battle for centuries. How much longer will this fraud continue to lull our people to sleep while they worry about some omnipresent invisible godlike "Devil" and his "demons" presented by the Baal priesthood as supposedly being our "main problem"?

The true "Satan" of the Scriptures can be plainly reduced to two basic factors. First (as we have seen here) those mortal empires of the kingdoms of men who persecute God's people and hate God's government; and second, our own sin in the flesh.

TRUE FREEDOM

Freedom must include the liberty to obey God, the freedom to know God's Will and to do it. Freedom is much more than a right, it is a duty and responsibility.

We are warned in Scripture to be aware of those who promise freedom, but are themselves slaves of corruption (2 Pet. 2:19). We recognise that the 10 Commandments are God's perfect Law of Liberty. The Law of the Lord is perfect -- reviving the soul. (Psalm 19:7) --

WHAT THE BIBLE SAYS ABOUT GOD

by Lawrence Blanchard, ND, MDiv

Posted on February 21, 2018

Biblical theology is the science and study of the God of the Bible. Theologians have created various categories describing this God based on the cumulative evidence from the biblical text. God is omniscient (all-knowing), omnipresent (everywhere), and omnipotent (all-powerful), for example. He is Spirit and the Creator. He is holy and He is love and He is good. All of this is important information in order to understand who God is. But there is also very important information that is specific to the entire context of Scripture and is highly relevant.

God in Context

A correct and accurate understanding of the context of both the Old and New Testaments is this: the Bible is the unfolding story of a specific racial covenant family and God's purpose for them. It is the unfolding historical drama of God's redeeming, sacrificial love through Jesus Christ to reconcile and restore His covenant people to Himself. More could be said, but this is the capsulated context. (If you want to discover that for yourself, read the Covenant Heritage Series.) It is within this biblical context that God reveals Himself.

The God of Who?

Repeatedly, God revealed Himself in a very specific way. He said to Moses at the burning bush:

"... I am the God of your father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob." – Exodus 3:6

When Moses asked God what he should say if the enslaved Israelites would ask who sent him, God responded:

"God, furthermore, said to Moses, 'Thus you shall say to the sons of Israel, "The LORD, the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, has sent me to you." This is My name forever, and this is My memorial-name to all generations.'" – Exodus 3:15

When Moses protested that the Israelites would not believe him or that God had sent him, God demonstrated His power through Moses' staff so

"that they may believe that the LORD, the God of their fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, has appeared to you." – Exodus 4:5

Later, God again affirmed to Moses:

"...I appeared to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, as God Almighty, but by My name, LORD, I did not make Myself known to them. I also established My covenant with them, to give them the land of Canaan, the land in which they sojourned." – Exodus 6:3-4

In regard to the unconditional covenant promise about the land of Canaan, God said to Israel through Moses:

"I will bring you to the land which I swore to give to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and I will give it to you for a possession; I am the LORD." – Exodus 6:8 (see also Exodus 33:1)

God promised that if the people of Israel would repent of their sins and rebellion, should they fall away, that:

"...then I will remember My covenant with Jacob, and I will remember also My covenant with Isaac, and My covenant with Abraham as well, and I will remember the land." – Leviticus 26:42

In Deuteronomy, when Moses recounted all that the Lord had said and done during their forty years of wandering, he reaffirmed the promise of "the land" that Israel would possess based on God's promise to their "fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac and to Jacob, to them and their descendants after them" (Deuteronomy 1:8; see also Deuteronomy 6:10f; 9:5).

The promise of life and prosperity in "the land" which "the Lord swore to your fathers, to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob to give them." – Deuteronomy 30:19-20

Jesus confirmed that in the Kingdom many would come and join Abraham, Isaac and Jacob (Matthew 8:11).

Peter, in the second sermon after Pentecost, preached the gospel to Judean Israelites. He spoke to them about "the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, the God of our fathers" (Acts 3:13). That was their racial roots and spiritual heritage.

The context of the whole Bible reveals God as the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and their physical descendants. Old Testament through New Testament – same God, same people. God does not change!

The God of All?

God identifies Himself as their God and not ever the God of anybody else. He is not the God of the African races or the Asian races or any other race or racial subtype.

Many may protest, "Oh, but that's not fair. God is the God of all 'humans.' He is the God of everybody." Is that in the Bible? Or, is that based on the persuasion of the equality, tolerance, diversity and inclusion culture?

Biblically speaking, God is the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

This fact is meaningful (or should be) to those who are of their descendants. Not the Jews, but the Covenant Race of biblical Israelites who are known today as those of northwest European descent. Their God is the God of their fathers. All the promises to the fathers are to be inherited by them.

Today, that people have been effectually disconnected from their heritage. But God is still waiting. When they seek after their God, the God of their fathers, they will find Him. And when they do, watch out!

The Bible may be, or may not be, about you. If it is, don't waste another moment. Pursue it! Why wait?

WHAT THE BIBLE SAYS ABOUT LOVE

by Lawrence Blanchard, ND, MDiv

Posted on January 18, 2018

The Bonner County Human Rights network helped spearhead the "Love Lives Here" campaign last fall. A rally in one of the downtown parks in Sandpoint sprouted a small crowd of people as they listened to a few pep talks and at least one story of a homosexual. Signs began to manifest in a few front lawns and downtown businesses – "Love Lives Here." Many businesses around town posted the "7B Supports Human Rights" sign in their windows or check-out counters. (7B is the designation for Bonner County, Idaho). What is love?

Love in Modern Culture

What do those who promote and agree with the "Love Lives Here" campaign believe about "love"? How would it be defined? If we are going to have an intelligent conversation about "love," we better come to an understanding about what it means. Basically the human rights people promote "love" as equality, diversity, tolerance and acceptance of everything leading to mutual understanding and integration of races, religions, cultures, not to mention “sexual orientation.” This is “love.” The only thing that is not tolerated is anyone who disagrees with any of their points listed above.

They don’t tolerate any intolerance. Diversity and acceptance only goes so far. They define the parameter. Love is this and not this. Thus said the “7B Supports Human Rights” folks.

Love in the Bible

Okay, so is this love? Let’s compare it to what the Bible says about love.

Jesus Christ reconfirmed what was said in the Old Testament about love. All the commandments that God gave Israel were summed up in two commandments:

“And He said to him, ‘YOU SHALL LOVE THE LORD YOUR GOD WITH ALL YOUR HEART, AND WITH ALL YOUR SOUL, AND WITH ALL YOUR MIND.’ This is the great and foremost commandment. The second is like it, ‘YOU SHALL LOVE YOUR NEIGHBOR AS YOURSELF.’ On these two commandments depend the whole Law and the Prophets.” – Matthew 22:37-40

“God is love,” (1 John 4:16) and those who please Him love Him. That love was verified by Jesus when He stated:

“If you love Me, you will keep my commandments.” – John 14:15

Keeping His moral and ethical laws is the evidence of loving God. Keeping God’s commandments defines what it means to love our neighbor. Love is obeying God’s laws. That is the biblical definition of love. If we don’t obey God, we don’t love God. If we don’t treat our neighbor (a fellow Israelite) in accordance with God’s laws, we don’t love our neighbor.

So, what if homosexuality is promoted and sanctioned by society as good or at least acceptable? How about transgenderism? When God clearly prohibits homosexuality as an abomination, how can engaging in such behavior and promoting it in the name of “love” and “equality” be love?

If God’s law in this regard is violated, how can practicing this behavior or accepting this behavior be love? Keeping God’s commandments is love. Violation of His commandments is not love.

That’s the biblical definition of love. Apparently, it’s not the meaning of love by those who in defiance of God’s laws, support and promote homosexual lifestyles and other sexually perverted activities. And that’s only one aspect of God’s law.

Love Contrasted

So, when you see “Love Lives Here,” it’s “love” as defined by arbitrary humanistic values. It’s defined by people who hate the God of the Bible and His laws. Whatever “feels good” and seems to be “fair” is “love.” And if you don’t agree with that, you’re a person who “hates.”

Well – maybe “hate” is not all bad. We are supposed to hate evil. We are supposed to hate what God hates.

I must ask, “Where does ‘Love Lives Here’ draw the line?” Homosexuality, transgenderism – what’s next? Is sex with children okay? How about prostitution and sex trafficking? As time goes by, more and more perversion is accepted and promoted. It’s bad news!

But all this aside, unless we can arrive on a clear, mutual definition of “love,” there will be no understanding or agreement.

A HARD QUESTION TO ANSWER

If you, as well as most denominational churches teach the doctrine that all people who do not meet the requirements according to their particular denomination, will be tortured for all eternity in a burning hell, I would like to ask a very simple question. I have talked to many pastors and laymen and have yet to hear an answer that made any sense at all. The Apostle Paul said that the wages of sin is death (not burning in hell), but the gift of God is eternal life.

My question, if the wages or penalty for sin is burning in hell forever, and Jesus paid this penalty, why is He not still burning in this hell, instead of being on the right hand of God? Common sense would tell me that the penalty could not be greater than the price paid for it.

Deut. 30:19 tells us, “I have set before you life and death, ... therefore choose life... that you and your children may live.”

There is no third option mentioned, just life or death!

Knowledge serves the facts;

Wisdom serves the truth.

THE SEPARATING OF WISDOM FROM KNOWLEDGE IS POSSIBLY MAN’S GREATEST CALLING

We have all read or heard identical “facts” used to prove the opposite propositions; that is the misfortune of knowledge. Knowledge is the presentation of facts; whereas, Wisdom is putting those facts into a proper perspective. Knowledge can be implied, but wisdom must be inferred. Wisdom is attaining the truth of knowledge, free of all the social innuendo created by the misguided emotions of contemporary political agendas.

Knowledge enables the flesh;

Wisdom is evidence of the spirit.

The social importance of obtaining a conscious separation of knowledge and wisdom is to inhibit the misuse of knowledge as grounds for reducing liberty and morality. Even a casual examination of the most tyrannical governments of the past will reveal that although most of those empires possessed voluminous knowledge, at the same time, wisdom was suppressed.

Truth is essential to the freedom of our nation and the world. Wisdom is politically important because it separates truth from knowledge.

Truth is energy from God; Ignorance is a man-made energy crisis. The bitter fruit of ignorance is suffering.

Why can’t true knowledge work for us today? Why hasn’t wisdom been empowered? If the “wise” were running the world today, wouldn’t they reduce the ignorance and suffering? Of course.

But wisdom and greed do not coexist in harmony - the use of one reduces the power of the other

Those who seek wisdom cannot simultaneously be seeking wealth, and the wise do not control Wall Street or the international banks — Wall Street and the international banks covet their wealth, not wisdom; and so the wealthy, not the wise, are determining public policy.

Yet I still must ask: Where are the wise in our time of trouble?
