THE ONLY WAY TO PEACE, HEALTH, AND PROSPERITY

From Destiny Letter

Perhaps more important to the human being than any other factor in life is his attitude toward Law; for all basic laws are divine in origin. As a matter of fact, man's very existence depends upon the keeping of certain fundamental laws of life, which if violated, result in sudden death!

There is only one source and origin of all basic laws and this is true whether they govern the material universe, the physical creation, or the spiritual, moral and economic life of man. That source is God—the fountain-head of all law and order—who has already revealed to men His Laws which govern an orderly creation. To know and to keep those laws is to live; while to belittle or disregard them brings destitution and want, until death terminates a life of sorrow and suffering, the direct result of failure to keep and observe the Laws of God.

In the words of the Psalmist, "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handiwork!" (Psalm 19:1). This is an acknowledgement of Divine Law manifested in the ordinances of heaven. The operation of the Law of the Lord, however, is not confined to the physical universe alone, for even the least and the smallest in creation is numbered, weighed, and measured in accordance with law. Jesus had this in mind when He said, "But the very hairs of your head are all numbered."

Scientists may not always recognize the hand and power of Deity in the law and order evident in the field of investigation, but they do recognize that there exists a rigid law, which they respect and keep, knowing that its violation brings penalties.

In some cases such violation has resulted in the death of the careless experimenter.

Natural laws, so-called, govern the entire operation of the universe from the great heavenly bodies which roll in their circuits to been recognized as following the cause in orderly process because of the inexorable operation of these laws. This is understood fully by men who have familiarized themselves with God's Laws of gravity, physics, mechanics, chemistry, mathematics and the many and varied multiplicities in the operation of these laws in their innumerable ramifications—all of which supports the thesis of law and order which the scientists have learned to respect and keep.

Now recognized natural law does not cover the entire scope of the Divine Regulations which control, govern and preserve an orderly universe. God in His Providence has enacted other laws as well which, if kept, would usher in a Utopian Age—an age bringing benefits to mankind beyond the fondest dreams of those who have longed for real peace and lasting happiness. These are necessarily laws of governmental administration.

An understanding of the perfect laws of administration, however, cannot be acquired by men through any process of experimentation—a method which was effective in bringing to light the existence of the physical laws of the universe. The brief fact is that it is impossible in this way to come to an understanding of God's Laws of justice, equity and moral conduct.

Man, himself the result of Divine creation in accordance with law, was given by Divine revelation the perfect law of life, the keeping of which would result in peace, happiness and prosperity. Violation of that law was destined to bring injustice, poverty, distress and war. Man may talk of freedom and liberty but there can be no liberty nor freedom apart from law! And when men refuse to observe and keep it the ensuing license results in violence and strife, with chaos as the ultimate end of that society which ignores the Divine Law.

Man in a state of rebellion spiritually has so far refused to recognize or heed the way of life which would give him peace and bring prosperity in all of his endeavors. In the very beginning God began to reveal His Laws unto men. The very first command of God to Adam became a rule of action, or law of life, unto man.

The Way of Life-and-Death

The positive law of life as given to our first parents in the Garden of Eden was to eat of the fruit of the trees in the Garden and live. The negative law was contained in the command to abstain from partaking of certain forbidden fruits with the warning that the violation of this command would be followed by death. Physical health and well-being depended upon man obeying the first, while keeping of the second assured him of life unending and continuous spiritual communion with God. Thus the Divine Command had become law unto man. But mankind—created in the image of God—was given the right of choice: in obedience—a blessing; in disobedience—a curse. The first would bring continuous health and life—the second, trouble and death. By act of will, man was now able to choose his course, for before him lay two roads—one the way of life, and the other the way of death.

What is Sin?

Many have asked the question, What is sin? The answer is simple. Sin is disobedience to the commands of God, a refusal to keep His Laws. John declared this when he said, “Sin is the transgression of the law” (1 John 3:4).

Law, insofar as it regulates the conduct and action of men and nations, is a rule of action established by a recognized authority with power to enforce justice and direct duty. God is a recognized authority and He has full power to enforce His commands which must ultimately be observed, kept and obeyed; for the Divine Law can not be altered or removed—they are a constant—and the passage of time has no effect upon them.

Human regulations, designated as law by men, are often but temporary acts of appeasement to counteract the result of failure to keep and administer the Law of the Lord. By such means men have endeavoured to meet their needs and to find a human solution for existing troubles which have in reality resulted from the breaking of Divine Law. Such man-made regulations undergo continual revision as time marches on! New generations come and changing conditions in the human experiment show the lack of foresight and wisdom in legislative enactments; for when the enactments of men are at variance with the Divine Law there can be only one result—trouble for men. This is true whenever men refuse to conform with the laws of God which govern the universe; or fail to observe and keep God’s moral, spiritual, and economic requirements—including the perfect laws of governmental administration.

Before considering the subject of Divine Law in its application to man, both individually and collectively, it is essential that we first settle satisfactorily the question of the entire scope and application of the Divine Laws, and man’s relationship to these laws. This become necessary because of the prevalence of a doctrinal teaching which has had a definite influence upon Christian men and women to such an extent that it has led some to ignore God’s injunction to observe and keep all His Law. In thus ignoring the law such have failed to recognize the Divine plan of the operation of the Law of the Lord as it governs our physical well-being, economic security and national prosperity.

The Psalmist, in speaking of the law, states, “The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple. The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes.” And although even this is said of the Law of the Lord, yet some ignore this declaration of the Psalmist, with its unmistakable clarity and meaning, and teach that they are free from the need of keeping His Law. This doctrinal teaching is based on the assumption that because of Grace (the unmerited favor of God through His Son Jesus the Anointed), Christians have been exonerated from the need of keeping the law. If a man is free from keeping the law, however, he is at liberty then to be used as a cloak to cover sinning (for sin is the violation of the law), which is repugnant to all the teaching of the law and the direct commands of God as given in both the Old and the New Testaments.

We Must Keep the Law

Nowhere in Scripture is it stated that a Christian is free from the need of keeping the law. While the Word of God states that a Christian is not under bondage to the law, yet this freedom from bondage cannot in any sense be construed as a license to violate law.

It is unfortunate that the gift of Grace has been used to perpetrate a doctrinal belief contrary to the clear teaching of the Bible. Violation of Divine Law is sin whether that law is violated by a Christian or a non-Christian, regardless of any doctrinal excuse that might be made for such violation.

Divine Law is All-Embracing

Now the scope of the Divine Law embraces all the needs, activities and requirements of men and nations; limiting, guiding and directing them in all the things that should, and should not, be done. Christians are amiss in not knowing and understanding these laws.

A knowledge of the Law of the Lord would unfold for Christians a much clearer concept of God’s plans regarding His people than they have now. The possession of such information would open up before the Christian world the marvelous scope of that law in its entirety and in its application to the needs of men and nations. Such an understanding would once and for all settle the question that no one group of men, Christian or otherwise, are exempt from law observance. It would prove the absurdity of all the excuses given by men to justify their violation of the law; and would show that even to claim the right to ignore or violate Divine Law is, in itself, sin.

Sin, as defined in the dictionary, is wholly in accord with the Biblical definition of law violation. The dictionary states that sin is “Any want of conformity to or transgression of a rule of rectitude or duty, especially as made known through the conscience or the revealed Word of God: disagreement in thought, word, deed, or desire, whether by omission or commission, with the Divine Law.”

This necessity of law observance must first be established, for unless this is done many Christians will continue to ignore the Divine Laws to their own hurt—thinking that in so doing they are justified because of their acceptance of the teachings of an erroneous doctrine which has belittled the need of such law observance. No man in his right mind would be so foolish as to hold for one moment that the Divine Laws of the physical universe need not be observed. The sane and intelligent Christian recognizes that he must keep them or suffer the consequences resulting from their violation. Is a man, though Christian, justified in a deliberate violation of the requirements of Law as laid down in the Ten Commandments? Would he in his violation be immune from the evils resulting from their violation? Certainly not! And what is true regarding these moral laws of God is also

100 PROOFS ISRAELITES WERE WHITE

The many proofs are listed which undoubtedly prove the ancient Israelites were white. That the Anglo-Saxon-Celtic-Germanic European people today are in fact the true and only descendants of Israel who inherited all the promises made to our forefathers.

true regarding the Divine Laws of administration with their rules and regulations governing economics, jurisprudence and the health of His people. Men or nations violating these laws will find themselves subject to the operation of punitive clauses of the law and will suffer under the curses pronounced for their violation.

Christ is our Advocate

Paul is very clear in his statements regarding all this, for evidently he had in mind those in his day who were teaching a doctrine of law violation paralleling that which is held by some Christians today. He said, "Sin (law violation) shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under the law (in bondage to it), but under Grace (free from the penalties) having favor with God and able to keep that law through His Son Jesus the Anointed." He continues, "What then? Shall we sin (that is, violate the law), because we are not under (the bondage of) the law, but under Grace? God forbid. Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin (law violation) unto death, or of obedience (law observance) unto righteousness?"

The Apostle clearly states here that Grace does not give a license to anyone to violate law, for such violation he declares is sin. What advantage then has the Christian? Very much, for as John says, "If any man sin (that is, violate the law), we have an advocate with the Jesus Anointed the righteous." This being so, Paul could say, "Therefore being justified (escaping the penalty of the law through the righteousness of Jesus) by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus the Anointed."

Perhaps the one great difficulty regarding the absolute need of observing Divine Law and which is responsible for much of the confusion regarding that law has been the failure to recognize the distinction between the laws contained in ordinances and those given in Commandments, Statutes and Judgments. The lack of a clearly defined definition of the Divine Law in each of its particular applications and especially concerning the operation of the ordinances is responsible for most of this confusion.

God's Word Stands Immutable

Our purpose in writing Digest of the Divine Law (#321 @ $24.25) was to set forth the operation of these Laws and to clarify for our readers the distinctions between 1) the laws which govern the activities and operations of men and nations, and 2) the ordinances or ritual. These ordinances had their place and purpose in the Divine plan fully revealed through Jesus the Anointed in His life, ministry, death and resurrection. As to the laws apart from the ordinances it was shown that if we must obey some, then we are bound to keep them all! If we can, with impunity, violate some, then God has failed and the Bible has ceased to be an authority for the guidance of men and nations. But God has not failed and the authority of His Word still stands immutable in its teaching and law.

The New Covenant so stressed by the teachings of Christianity is, according to the Bible, definitely associated with the keeping of the law. Jeremiah prophesied and Hebrews affirms. "I will put my law in their inward parts, and write them in their hearts." If then the Christian is not bound to keep the law, how can it be written into his heart? After the New Testament had been established Paul declared that he was dead to the law. What law? Certainly it could not be that law which was written into his heart as the result of the work of the Holy Spirit! Later Paul asks the question, Why serve the law which was added? This was the law unto which Paul declared he was dead, for that law which was added to the Commandments, Statutes and Judgments received by Israel at Mt. Sinai was none other than the ordinances which were given as the result of Israel's sin when Aaron built the golden calf which they worshipped. These ordinances became a schoolmaster to bring the people to Anointing. Now that Anointing has come, the schoolmaster is no more needed; nor is it necessary to be in bondage to the ritual, which law Paul declared he served no more.

"Confusion" is the only word which explains the condition existing in the minds of so many Christians regarding the law through the failure to recognize the ordinances as that law which was added. The ritual does not have to be observed; but the Commandments, Statutes and judgments are still in operation and every man and nation will ultimately be compelled to observe and keep them. The day will yet come when God's people will be compelled to recognize the operation of these Divine Laws.

Ezekiel prophesies of that time and says, "They shall also walk in my judgments, and observe my statutes, and do them." (Ezekiel 37:24). Let us familiarize ourselves with these Divine Laws which the nation will yet be compelled to observe, keep and obey. In that day, "The law shall go forth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem." (Micah 4:2).

As the result of God's recognition of the needs of men there have been revealed to mankind rules and regulations, the keeping of which will bring prosperity and happiness to all men everywhere. Observance, with the resultant peace and goodwill, will yet characterize all national and international relationships.

It is this recognition on the part of men and nations of the Jehovah administration as set forth in the Divine Law which is essential. It is the crying need of a world full of trouble and strife.!

PASSOVER

Observances
by Pastor Mark Downey

If we do not truly rejoice in God, for what He is in Himself, and that because of all the perfections which are eternally resident in Him, then how dwelleth the love of God in us? Each of us needs to be most prayerfully on his guard against devising an image of God in our thoughts which is patterned after our own evil inclinations. Of old the Lord complained, "Thou thoughtest that I was altogether such an one as thyself" Ps. 50:21.

"If Thou, LORD, shouldest mark [impute] iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand?" Ps. 130:3. We might ask ourselves this question for it is written, "The ungodly shall not stand in the judgment" Ps.1:5. Three out of four believers do not stand in the 'Parable of the Sower' (Luke 8:4-14) because of different grounds representing the heart or soul of people who come under the hearing of the Word. 75% of the ground is unfruitful and they remain so because the Holy Spirit did not cultivate them prior to hearing the Word.

Those represented by the wayside hear the Gospel, but it does not pass further than their ears. Those whose hearts are represented by the rock also remain unchanged, because their hearts remain as hard as a rock, and the seed of the Word of God does not take root in their hearts. And then there is a ground that is already infested with seeds from thorny weeds. Then the thorns spring up and they choke the seed of the Gospel. They bear no fruit that is pleasing to God. All three remain as barren as before the seed of the gospel was sown. The reason for this is that we are all born into this world without righteousness, "As it is written, there is none righteous, no, not one" Romans 3:10.

If we find a few people who do seek after the God of the Bible, then God must have performed a miracle in their hearts, because nothing of this sort will come out of their own heart. God must have given them a new heart. It must mean that God has mercy on some and God has given them a new heart as a free gift. We read, "For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Romans 6:23). This free gift of eternal life comes through what Jesus the Christ our Lord has done for whomsoever God wants to bestow this free gift.

What did Jesus do? Well, we know that the Lord Jesus Christ went to the Cross. What did He do there? "But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us" (Romans 5:8). In other words, the Lord Jesus Christ died an atoning death for us, when we were still in rebellion against God. He did that because He loved us.

Who is us? It is the 25%, the small fraction of Israelites who believe on the Lord Jesus. "Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace. And if by grace, then is it no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. But if it be of works, then is it no more grace: otherwise work is no more work" Romans 11:5-6

Grace is an entirely unmerited divine assistance given to man. If it cannot be merited by anything we do, or by anything we intend to do, then God must make the choice on whom He wants to bestow this grace. That is why this group of people is called "the election of grace". If salvation is in any way dependent on something we do, then salvation is no more by grace, but it is by works. Otherwise work is no more work. If salvation depended on our choosing to serve the Lord Jesus Christ, then salvation is by works. If God foreknew that we would choose to serve the Lord Jesus, and God would bestow His favor only upon those of whom He foreknew that they would choose to accept Christ, then salvation is by works, and Christ did not have to come to die on a Cross. Then God would have designed another salvation program; otherwise work is no more work. What a glorious realization that God is doing all the work of salvation, and God receives 100% of the credit. "There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ (an Anointed people belonging to) Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit" Romans 8:1. He paid the penalty for our sins, and He paid the full price.

This is what people have heard, but if they're standing in thorny ground, they will still try to serve two masters. "Whosoever doth not bear his Cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple" Luke 14:27. But of course, the people represented by the thorny ground did not hear that.

They hear only those things that they want to hear.

Jesus became a stone of stumbling for the leaders of the Jews who insisted on a salvation by works. The Jews believed, and they still do, that they could become right with God through obeying the Law. Therefore Jesus became a stumbling stone for the Jews, and He became a stumbling stone for many who are not Jews, who also believe that we must do something to get right with God. The grace of God is really offensive to some people. They think all they have to do is follow the ceremonial law.

"But Israel, which followed after the law of righteousness, hath not attained to the law of righteousness. Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the law. For they stumbled at that stumbling stone; As it is written, Behold, I lay in Sion a stumbling stone and rock of offence: and whosoever believeth on Him shall not be ashamed" Romans 9:31-33. Here is the plain truth about the conflict between the Jews and Jesus. The Lord Jesus Christ is a Stone of Stumbling and a Rock of Offense to the Jews. Jews hold on to a salvation based on doing the works of the law, whereas God says: "Whosoever believeth on Him shall not be ashamed". All those who stumble at the doctrine of Jesus crucified, all those who cannot believe that the Lord Jesus Christ suffered and died only for His elect sheep find Jesus a Stone of Stumbling and a Rock of Offense, because they are offended at God's plan of salvation by grace alone.

The true Jesus died on the Cross at Calvary and His shed blood, that is His physical death, did indeed atone for all the sins of His people. His sacrifice was a once and for all substitutionary sacrifice that requires no repetition and no supplementary act on the part of man in order for it to become effective. His physical death is sufficient to cover every sin-past, present and future-of all those whom God gave to Him. The Lord Jesus Christ became our sin-bearer, and qualified to be our substitute before the throne of Justice, and qualified to be our sin-offering to atone for our sins, because He was the Lamb that God had provided for us for this purpose.

"Blotting out the handwriting of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to His cross" (Colossians 2:14).[the record of our transgressions]

"...but now once in the end of the world hath He appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of Himself" (Hebrews 9:26).

"...we are sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once and for all" (Hebrews 10:10).

"For by one offering He hath perfected forever them that are sanctified" (Hebrews 10:14).

"...unto Him (Jesus) who loved us, and washed us from our sins in His own blood" (Revelation 1:5).

All these Scriptures testify to the fact of the all-sufficiency and all-efficiency of Jesus' once and for all sacrifice for His sheep on the Cross. There is only one Savior and if one does not abide in His doctrine, if one does not believe in the only Gospel which reveals the righteousness of Jesus Christ, without which no one can be saved, then one is without God and without hope: "Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ [Anointing], hath not God..." II John 9.

To suggest that Jesus' atonement was incomplete and must be completed by us doing a work, such as submitting ourselves to ritual, ceremony or observance, is an insult to Christ, and is an insult to God Almighty. When God says that Christ has done all the work, and has completed the task fully on the Cross without our presence, and without our approval, then who are we to protest this statement from God in the Bible, and to design our own plan of salvation whereby we must also do some work for our salvation.

"Purge out therefore the old leaven... For even Christ our Passover is sacrificed for us" I Cor. 5:7. The last Passover as prescribed in the Old Testament is what we recognize as the 'Last Supper' with Jesus and His disciples. The old feasts were designed to show us how God fulfills His promises. Today, we remember the life, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ with the instructions for communion i.e. "This do, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of Me." For as often as you eat this bread and drink this cup, you proclaim the Lord's death till He comes" (I Cor. 11:25-26). The fact that a sacrificial lamb on the night of "The Last Supper" is not mentioned in the New Testament narrative is significant. Paul rebukes the Corinthians for their carnal observance of remembrance as not being the Lord's Supper, but their own: "When ye come together therefore into one place, this is not to eat the Lord's supper" (I Cor. 11:20).

John called Him, "The Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world" John 1:29. In Revelation 7:14 the saints, "Washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb." Do not let the symbolism of our divine cleansing be confused with the blood of animals, for we no longer sacrifice through ordinances. What Light of Jesus Christ hath communion with the dark practices of Jewish traditions? "For the glory of God did lighten it [the Kingdom of God], and the Lamb is the light thereof" Rev. 21:23.

Prophetically, Daniel declares the feast days as something that was to stop the moment Christ died on the cross. "And he shall confirm the covenant with many for one week: and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, and for the overspreading of abominations he shall make it desolate, even until the consummation, and that determined shall be poured upon the desolate" (Daniel 9:27). The temple veil ripped completely in two and Jesus said, "It is finished" (John 19:30).

All that is coming from keeping the feast days is a faith that learns how to embrace the "old leaven" of the Pharisees. All the world knows, "they" do indeed proclaim with boldness that Messiah has not yet come. But, the ungodly shall not stand. The elders of the synagogue set up false witnesses which said, "This man ceaseth not to speak blasphemous words against this holy place, and the law; For we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the customs of Moses delivered us" (Acts 6:13-14). Well guess what? The Lord made true His Word in 70 AD and little lambs without blemish were no longer sacrificed on Passover in that place ever again. We should learn from history... His story.

WHAT THE BIBLE SAYS ABOUT WHITE SUPREMACY – PART 1

Lawrence Blanchard, ND, MDiv

Included in the list of pejorative, race-obsessed, buzz words intended to express a belittling connotation of criticism and disrespect is "White supremacy." If you want to make White people cringe and cower, just let loose the racially-charged epithet accusing them of White supremacy to bring them to heel. Immediately "White supremacy" conjures up a worldview belief and conviction that White people are superior above all other races and should dominate over them. In the prevailing atmosphere of racial and cultural equality, this idea is abhorrent and is to be rejected and condemned in no uncertain terms. This ranks right up there with armed robbery and murder.

Understanding White Supremacy

But who stops and asks, "What does 'White supremacy' mean?" How is it to be defined? You see, that's the first problem. How can anybody intelligently think about, be discerning about, or have a reasonable conversation about "White supremacy" unless it is defined and there is agreement on an exact definition? So, for the sake of argument, let's go with the above-mentioned notion that "White supremacy" means that one believes that the White race is superior over other races and should dominate or have control over them.

The second problem that must be solved is this: White supremacy in respect to what? Painting an undefined, broad-brush conclusion on White supremacy will be inaccurate and distorted. For example, if you look at what race is represented on the college or pro football or basketball arenas, it is pretty evident that Blacks dominate over Whites. They not only are over-represented in numbers, but even more so since Blacks comprise only about 13% of the total American population compared to 61.3% of Whites. In the area of these sports Blacks dominate over Whites. Is that because Blacks are superior in these sports? Looks like it to me. Black supremacy. So what? Who cares just so long as your team wins – right? In truth, Blacks and other non-White people are exempt from any supremacy talk.

White Supremacy and Civilization

Let's look at another example. How about the area of civilization and culture? Few ask about whether White people historically are more civilized and advanced than, let's say, Black African countries. It's quite the rage in today's elite equality culture to discredit and reject Western European civilization. And there are numerous debates on what constitutes civilization and culture. But let's get real. If all civilizations and cultures were equally the same, then why do White people seek out other areas where White people live? Why, since the Civil Rights Acts of 1964 and the Immigration Act of 1965, have White people fled racially-mixed areas to seek out their own communities and now even larger regions of the country? Are White people just evil, good-for-nothing racists? Do they think they are just too superior compared to other races?

Why is it that virtually no one goes on vacation to Somalia, but will definitely go to Germany, Ireland, Sweden or Austria, for example. If the other races with their cultures are so wonderful, why is it that they are all moving to White countries instead of staying home? And why aren't the Whites illegally or legally immigrating to India, Somalia, Haiti or the Arabian countries? Why are Whites fleeing South Africa since Black rule took over? By the way, have you ever heard of any White “no-go zones”? No. They are all of other races – mostly Black, or Moslem.

White Supremacy – Ideology and Reality

The truth of the matter is that White civilizations and culture are historically preferable and superior. In what respect? Law and order, arts, health, sanitation, education, inventions, government, agriculture, transportation, music and so forth. The equality and diversity crowd would howl at this, but who among them is going to prove their ideology and move to a neighborhood that is, let’s say, at least 30% non-White? Few would put their money where their mouth is and send their children to a racially-mixed school. No, they will seek out White people like themselves, yet they hypocritically deny the real reason. You know I’m right.

The truth is that non-White civilization and culture is simply not compatible for White people. Call it what you want, but that’s reality.

So please, to those who use “White supremacy” in a mindless attempt to demonize White people for their own self-preserving agenda, get off your “White supremacy” high horse and let’s just be honest. And, by the way, I don’t know of any individual White person who wants to dominate the other races. They just want to be left alone – by themselves without the threat of non-White invasion in the very few White homogeneous areas left.

Bottom line? The “White supremacy” line is just a tactical weapon to beat White people down. So, if you’re White, don’t fall for it.

Part 2

An honest, cursory review of history reveals that the past great civilizations were built by White people, the White race.

- Sumer (c.3100-2300 B.C.)
- Phoenicia (c.3000 B.C.)
- Egypt (c.3000-526 B.C.; founded by Menes, descendant of Ham—Psalm 78:51; 105:23,27)
- Assyria (c.2400-607 B.C.)
- the Indus Valley of north-western India (c.2000 B.C.)
- Persia (c.2000-331 B.C.)
- Greece (c.750-168 B.C.)
- Parthia (c.500 B.C.-A.D.225)
- Rome (c.500 B.C.-A.D.33)

All of these civilizations sprang from the Adamic or White race (also a synonym for Aryan, Indo-European, and Nordic).

The Bible, Israelites, and White People

But what does that have to do with the Bible in respect to White people? The biblical genealogies from Adam on reveal a common, uninterrupted family line to Noah and later Abraham (Genesis chapters 5-11). This selective genealogy continued on to Isaac, Jacob and the 12 tribes of Israel. The rest of the Old and New Testaments (Genesis 12-Revelation) are about those people.

Contrary to popular religious opinion, which falsely teaches that the people of Israel are today’s Jews, the true physical descendants of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob are the descendants of the northwest, European people – the Anglo-Celto-Saxon, Germanic, Scandinavian and kindred people. This truth is almost universally unknown today and heartily condemned by the modern religious world. But nobody who rejects this truth has done their research. I have, and I wrote a book about it, Identifying Biblical Israel Today. So, for the sake of argument (because it’s virtually impossible to have an intelligent conversation with an ignorant person), you will just have to accept my statement about who the chosen covenant Adamic family line is – for now, at least. Many of you already know.

So, if the real Israelites are a portion of the White race, what does God say about them, in respect to White supremacy? Let’s begin with Deuteronomy 7:12-14:

“Then it shall come about, because you listen to these judgments and keep and do them, that the LORD your God will keep with you His covenant and His lovingkindness which He swore to your forefathers. He will love you and bless you and multiply you; He will also bless the fruit of your womb and the fruit of your ground, your grain and your new wine and your oil, the increase of your herd and the young of your flock, in the land which He swore to your forefathers to give you. You shall be blessed above all peoples; there will be no male or female barren among you or among your cattle.”

If Israel obeyed the laws of God, He would keep “His covenant” with them and bless them “above all peoples,” among other promises. Of course, this blessing of supremacy above all peoples was conditional under the Old Covenant.

God’s Choosing

This blessing is repeated in Deuteronomy 10:14-15:

“Behold, to the LORD your God belong heaven and the highest heavens, the earth and all that is in it. Yet on your fathers did the LORD set His affection to love them, and He chose their descendants after them, even you above all peoples, as it is this day.”

The blessing of supremacy and God’s choosing Israel was rooted in God’s love for their fathers Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. Deuteronomy 26:18-19 it states:

“The LORD has today declared you to be His people, a treasured possession, as He promised you, and that you should keep all His commandments; and that He will set you high above all nations which He has made, for praise, fame, and honor; and that you shall be a consecrated people to the LORD your God, as He has spoken.”

Speaking to Israel, Moses confirmed that God would “set you high above all nations.”

Once again, God promises that He would bless Israel, setting them “high above all the nations” (Deuteronomy 28:1) and specifically describing that supremacy:

“The LORD shall cause your enemies who rise up against you to be defeated before you; they will come out against you one way and will flee before you seven ways.” – Deuteronomy 28:7

“The LORD will make you the head and not the tail, and you only will be above, and you will not be underneath, if you listen to the commandments of the LORD your God, which I charge you today, to observe them carefully...” – Deuteronomy 28:13

Deuteronomy 28 contains the blessings and curses God said He would do if Israel obeyed Him or disobeyed Him, respectively. Again, the blessing of supremacy was conditional. On the other hand, the curses are also conditional. It would be instructive to take the time to read all of Deuteronomy 28.

Why Did God Choose Israel to Be in Dominion?

The point is that it was the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob who decreed and placed Israel in a position of supremacy. Why? Because Israel was ordained to be God’s servant to bring forth righteousness and justice and establish His Kingdom. It's a matter of an order of authority. That's how God's Kingdom operates. God's Kingdom is about order and peace.

But alas, there is nothing but increasing chaos and oppression all over the planet. The Israel of God today has been misidentified as the "Jews." The real Israel, for decades and centuries, has rejected their heritage, the God of their fathers, and His laws. Consequently, their nations have been the tail and their enemies rule over them.

Nothing will change until they seek the God of their fathers, humble themselves and repent. Unless they turn back to their Creator, their nations along with the rest of "humanity" will continue to suffer and be destroyed by God's enemies.

Created and Ordained

White people are superior to the other races, as expressed in their culture and civilizations, only because they were made in the image of God. They are the descendants of biblical Israel and their God has ordained that they be elevated above all other peoples for the sake of His Kingdom. However, they are incapable of fulfilling this responsibility unless they repent and come under the rule and reign of Jesus the Anointed, their Kinsman Redeemer. One day that will come about when true Israel has decided it has suffered enough and has nowhere else to turn for deliverance except the Lord their God. The promise of II Chronicles 7:13-14 still stands. Read it!

"If I shut up the heavens so that there is no rain, [anyone experiencing drought lately?] or if I command the locust [alien invasion] to devour the land, or if I send pestilence [cancer, AIDS, etc] among My people, and My people who are called by My name [a reference to Numbers 6:22-27] humble themselves and pray and seek My face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, will forgive their sin and will heal their land."

I realize this is a very uncomfortable topic. But the God of the Bible has clearly chosen a people for a purpose. We cringe at this idea of supremacy perhaps only because we still believe the "equality" doctrine of our times. If anyone rails against "White supremacy" just ask them what the Bible says.

WHAT THE BIBLE SAYS ABOUT RACIAL INTERMARRIAGE

By Lawrence Blanchard, ND, MDiv

Our modern culture of diversity and inclusion is not opposed to racial intermarriage or any form of race-mixing. Increasingly, this lifestyle is promoted and accepted as "normal" in the media and entertainment industry, government policy, and churches. Fewer people of any race than ever before oppose such a practice as forbidden. Tolerance is the new religion of "love" and it feels so right! Everywhere you look, you see mixed-race couples. I cringe when I think of their offspring.

Secular and Religious

It matters not whether a favorable acceptance of racial intermixture in marriage comes from the secular realm or the religious world. Both are in agreement. Racial intermarriage is okay.

I can understand why the "new age" religions would accept this. Most of them are based on either Hinduism or this idea of "the universe" – whatever basis they have for "it just feels right" or "it's all about love."

But the Catholic and Protestant religious systems, who claim to be conforming to the biblical standard, are just as supportive of racial integration. It makes sense though. If the consensus of opinion is that all races came from Adam, then all have a common origin and are, therefore, equal. So, why not marry interracially and produce racial mixes? It makes no difference. Many would call that "biblical."

What the Bible Says

Of course, as I have said before and consistently written about in my books, there is also absolutely no evidence in the Bible, history or genetic science regarding this assumption which is commonly accepted as fact. There is no provable foundation to say that all races have a common origin in Adam.

What the Bible does say is that God created Adam, male and female, in His image and likeness and commanded them to "be fruitful and multiply" (Genesis 1:26-27). And then, from the first Adam and Eve, children were born and successive records of genealogies show a direct, unbroken descent (Genesis 5, 10 and 11). The "nations" of the Bible are all of one race – the race of Adam and Eve. The nations of the Bible do not include any other race nor does the Bible imply the popular, all-inclusive "human race" theory. The problem is that the "Christian" religious world would like to add in their theories about how this one racial family line somehow became all the races and racial subtypes we see today. See my discussion of this in Book Four, God's Covenant Creation.

Instead of just admitting the plain, simple evidence of what the Bible says, they have complicated things by going beyond Scripture, integrating their own scenarios. Of course, they just try to justify their approach of racial intermarriage and the universal racial application of the Bible. How would they ever justify world missions otherwise?

The Critical Issue

There are two differing conclusions about racial origins and racial intermarriage. But it's not just a difference of opinion that can be debated academically, as if there were no critical consequence. Consider the following logic:

God chose to create a race of people in His own image and likeness.

He did so to give them a commission and purpose – to "be fruitful and multiply" and to "subdue" and "rule" the earth.

God set the Adamic race over all the rest of creation in order to administrate everything according to God's laws. We could say that God created Adam to rule in His kingdom like an owner of an estate equips his son to manage it. God equipped Adam to perform that function by creating him in His image and likeness.

That rulership and commission would be inherited by Adam's physical descendants.

As God created Adam in His image and likeness, so that image was passed on to his descendants. The critical connection is revealed in Genesis 5:1-3:

“This is the book of the generations of Adam. In the day when God created man, He made him in the likeness of God. He created them male and female, and He blessed them and named them Man in the day when they were created. When Adam had lived one hundred and thirty years, he became the father of a son in his own likeness, according to his image, and named him Seth.”

God’s image and likeness in Adam and his wife was passed on to Seth and on down through a special family line to Noah (Genesis 5). By implication, this image and likeness of God was retained throughout the generations of Adam.

Consequence of Racial Inter-marriage

So, what happens when that image and likeness is broken by non-Adamic racial inter-marriage that produces racially-mixed children? No longer is that racially pure image and likeness of God retained. It is completely compromised and significantly diminished.

The biological DNA integrity is necessary to retain the integrity of God’s image and likeness. If the DNA is compromised, so is the image and likeness of God. Thus, God’s created order for Adam and all of His creation is forever obliterated. This is encompassed in the commandment “Thou shall not commit adultery” (Exodus 20:14). Adultery means to mix something that was pure (subsequent statutes in regard to race-mixing can be seen in Leviticus 18:23 and 20:15-16). The marriage relationship is sacred and the key to protecting the race of Adam in order to fulfill God’s commission and purpose for creating Adam in the first place. That’s why it was the death penalty to commit adultery in any form.

The Bible says that racial inter-marriage destroys God’s created order of authority and the integrity of the Adamic race and their purpose to rule and reign with God in righteousness, order and peace.

BE YE NOT UNEQUALLY YOKED TOGETHER THROUGH DECEPTIVE LOVE

by Adam de Witt

When it comes to wedlock, most Christians have only a hazy understanding of Biblical norms as to who makes a fitting spouse. On the whole, their main criteria is a spouse preferably of their denomination, secondly of another congregation and thirdly, simply by the emotion of ‘love.’

On the surface, these three standards seem fine in an ideal world. As our world is becoming less ideal, from a Biblical perspective, it stands to reason that Christians need to look more closely to what the Bible demands.

Today, Christians are choosing spouses in a way that, in truth, is very little different to those who are worldly (i.e. fleshly, un-anointed). Many Christians think that just because Jesus fulfilled the law they don’t need to. Therefore, we should see what Jesus had to say to Christians when it comes to their daily walk and in particular, in their wedded state.

Most Christians are totally unaware that a statement of matrimony was given in conclusion in Revelation. Jesus said many things on relationships, often these can be open to doctrinal interpretations. So to overcome the danger of misrepresenting words, He gave a closing statement on wedlock, and in conclusion, so as to add a fixed perspective to all the former rulings, locking these into a solid standard. The conclusive remark in Revelation, is aimed at Christians. Most church-goers seem to think that Old Testament laws applied to Jews, certainly not to Christians. Later on we will show the problems with this line of thinking from N.T. scripture. Yet, in the N.T. the following verses are aimed not at Jews, indeed there can be no doubt the target audience is ‘Christians only.’ Again, if Jesus fulfilled the law, so should we. Fulfill does not mean to cancel, but quite the opposite; Chambers 20th Century Dictionary puts it this way: “Fulfill,” ‘to carry into effect.’ Thus by fulfilling the law, Jesus brings the law into effect for Christians.

Romans 8:4, “That the righteousness of the Law might be fulfilled [brought into effect] in us, who walk not after the flesh but after the spirit.” Here we see two things, the “spirit” has something to do with “LAW” and that the “LAW” must be EFFECTIVE, or part of our daily walk, or applied to one’s life. Jesus APPLIED TO HIS LIFE [FULFILLED] THE LAW. Romans 13:8, “...for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law.” The meaning is quite clear. By bringing into effect God’s Laws into our daily lives, [thus by living them] we are able to give love, or by not doing so our love is simply worthless. Love for that matter here is not worldly or fleshly love, but something defined by God. What is God’s definition of love? Firstly, God’s idea of ‘love’ is far more than a fuzzy, warm emotion with romantic notions. It needs working on, work is governed by rules, or laws. “...a labour of love ...” 12 Thess. 1:3. Love needs to be taught (1 Thess. 4:9). And the rules of love are THE LAW!

Without living The Law and instead living by “emotional love” is not living in love by God’s standard.

“By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and keep His Commandments.” 1 John 5:3.

Note it did not say Ten Commandments. Commandments means RULES, i.e. all the laws of which the Ten Commandments are a condensed summary. “And this is love, that we walk after His commandments. This is the commandments, that, as ye have heard from the beginning, ye should walk in it.” 2 John 1:6.

John 14:15, “If you love Me, keep My commandments.” “...therefore love is the fulfilling [making effective] of the law.” Rom. 13:10.

So-called N.T. Christians who do not know the laws can not fulfill or bring into effect the law and thus by the words in 2 John 6, they do not love God! Sure they love Him on their terms, but God wants you to love Him in HIS TERMS!

The word Commandment in the O.T. comes from MITSVAH and means “LAW.” It is used nearly always to mean the Laws of God that regulate all aspects of society, from what we eat to how we deal with murderers. In the case of the Ten Commandments, the word is Dabar. The implication in this case, is “Laws as an issue,” chronicled, or as tidings, pigeon-holed, hence as a summary. In the N.T. the word is nearly always from Entole, used in reference to the O.T. ‘Mitzvah’ and the Greek version meaning “injunction,” and “order,” “precept,” “laws.”

“Here is the patience of the saints (meaning the ‘called-out-ones,’ i.e. the Anointed belonging to Jesus), here are they that keep (OBEY) the commandments (LAWS) of God and the faith (TRUST) of Jesus.” Rev.

14:12. The definition of a Christian according to Scripture therefore, is not one who lives by the law or one that lives by trust in Jesus alone, but does BOTH! The churches tend only to teach trust in Jesus and thereby do their flocks a great harm. The harm (or evil) was and is that whole congregations would be without the law or, they would be LAWLESS from a scriptural perspective. This means that in the area of wedlock, Christians would be making spouse choices in the dark, because the purpose of law is not to gain righteousness, but to define sin, and shed light upon it, so as to avoid it. The “mis-marriage syndrome” of the 20th century is working its way through all society, particularly in the Christian circles which ought to know better. How after all, can a Christian depart from iniquity, if they can’t define it by law? 2 Tim. 2:19 “... He knoweth them that are His. And every one that nameth the name of Anointed (i.e. calls themselves Christian) DEPART FROM INIQUITY.” And, because they live law-less, then they ought not be surprised to find Jesus say to them the following words (but they think these only apply to those not of THEIR denomination) “Not every one that saith unto Me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that DOETH the will of my Father which is in heaven.” What does the word “will” here mean? It is translated from thelema, ‘a determination, act or deed, purpose, decree;’ in abstract form, which is not applicable here it can mean pleasure, desire. However, even in the abstract form the “desire of God” does not let Christians off the hook. The desire or pleasure of God is that YOU OBEY His Laws! There is no way out! So, DO IT!

“... Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord have we not preached in thy name? And in thy name have cast out devils (spooks, curses, demons)? And in thy name done many wonderful works?” (sent out missionaries, started ‘Halleluyah churches’ all over the 3rd world, and so on). I don’t know if these Christians get it, but Jesus is being a little cutting here, He is mocking their values. He then goes on to say what He really thinks of their deeds, “... And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you; depart from me, ye that work iniquity.” (i.e. Lawlessness). The word means “violation of the law,” a transgression of God’s Law, from anomia.

In fact none of the laws were done away with. Jesus removed the CURSE of the law (i.e. the penalty - everlasting death), in doing so, the falling short of the law will not rob us of the promises. These shortfalls are meant to be accidental rather than deliberate on our part. Then Jesus’ first work, the covering of sin works. The first work therefore lifted the law to a more perfect level, a maturer level. A higher level does not mean a forsaking. Yes, even sacrifices in the temple still count. But the sacrifice is now daily whereby you sacrifice yourself each day, putting to death the old nature inside the more perfect temple, your body as part of the body of Anointed (a humble and a contrite heart, read Psalm 51, have a similar attitude).

Thus, your will should line up with Jesus’ will. Think about it. How can the Laws be on your heart if you don’t want to live by them? During the less mature level “the show of correction” was outward; for instance, for a transgression we shed blood for all to see. On the more mature level (after Jesus’ first work) the “show of correction” is inward; for a transgression, the blood of Jesus is shed in us. But in both cases we are to obey the Law.

It is time to look at Revelation, the ‘uncovering.’ Turn with me to the words of the Anointed where He has a number of things to say about the seven churches; Christian churches, don’t forget! Most Christians agree on few things but by and large they accept this much, that the seven churches of Revelation were and are Christian; and that there were more than seven Christian centers in Asia Minor. In Rev. 1:4 the seven churches are also “to come” to typify seven distinct “spirits,” or “ghosts,” or “mindsets” of the church age. Yet few Christians are aware that Jesus gave a stern warning on wedlock in the following chapter, largely because they do not know their Biblical history

Rev. 2:14 “... But I have a few things against thee (it is not a good thing for Jesus to have a bone to pick with you) because thou hast there (in your midst) them that hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balak to cast a stumbling block before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols” i.e. partake in things from food to spiritual (ghostly, mindset) food, that contradicts the laws of God, but that is only the flow on effect of the “stumblingblock.” The crux of the matter is “... and to commit fornication.”

Now most Christians would see the word “fornication” and say, “well that clears me, my wife and I have no extra-marital hanky-panky.” But wait, ... ‘fornication’ here must be taken in the light of the “Doctrine of Balaam”! That is to say, the slant, the perspective, the context. The word stumbling-block here means “cause of displeasure” or “sin.”

Balak was the king of the Moabites (born of incest from Lot’s daughters) when the Israelites were coming out of Egypt, he knew his people faced being “licked up” Numbers 22:4, so he sent for Balaam to curse the Israelites. Numbers 25:1-2, deals with eating and forming relations with the daughters of Moab, called whoredom, i.e. fornication (unlawful relationships). By making a reference nearly at the end of the New Testament, Jesus makes it clear what all should know: God does not change, nor His Laws; even on what is deemed as fitting “mating stock.” Fornication in the sense of “free-love” is not the issue (although undoubtedly a part of it) because there is no damning reference to Israelite men with Israelite women (who may have expected a more proper wedding). The reference is clearly a damning of Israelites (men) with Moabites (women). There is no mention of the men being wed or unwed. The matter of fornication is specified to be in the area of what we would call today: mixed-marriage, or interracial partnership (married OR unmarried, living together) [Hebrews 12:16 calls Esau a fornicator, even though Genesis 28:9, 36:2, 36:6 say he married his wives - but unlawful marriages!] And if you wish to back this from a second witness, read what Josephus wrote. His historical account of Numbers 22 to 26 states that Israelites (our forebears and thus relevant to us) could not be harmed or destroyed BUT by drawing our kin into sin, i.e. to break God’s Laws [‘they’ continue to draw us into sin to this day, hence bringing God’s curses upon us!] This means that sinning and bringing lawlessness into the midst of our folk is GENOCIDE. Hollywood and the Churches are chief in getting us to transgress the law, they are chief in “FOLK MURDER” or genocide. Why? Hollywood teaches sin and the churches teach lawlessness. The whole history of our folk in the Bible and in Josephus shows this to be true. Indeed, look at our nation today. Numbers agrees with

Josephus that Balaam was unable to curse our forefathers, but something would work. From Josephus: "... misfortunes, and those for a short time, whereby they may appear to be brought low, may still befall them ... So that if you have a mind to gain a victory over them for a short space of time, you will obtain it by following my directions:- Do you therefore set out the handsomest of such of your daughters as are most eminent for beauty, and proper to force and conquer the modesty of those that behold them, and these decked and trimmed to the highest degree you are able (made up and painted, like prostitutes, and dressed in order to attract and entice). Then do you send them to be near the Israelites' camp, and give them charge, that when the young men (randy bucks, lusting after women) of the Hebrews desire their company, they allow them..." (that is, get the Moabite women to prostitute themselves in order to get the Israelite men to sin). The account gives details on how our men fell for these women, how they ate (wined and dined) with them, forsaking, in doing so, God's Laws on "be ye separate." Eating with, or wining and dining is an old custom that means you approve of, or agree with the company you are keeping; one then offers or sacrifices oneself to others; and wittingly or otherwise, to their gods. [Richard Hoskins used to say, Living room, dining room, bedroom]. Wining and dining, even today is wrapped in romanticism and is an unofficial, but real pact. (Beware of taking someone else's wife or husband to lunch or dinner!) "... for by this means God will be angry at them (our forefathers)." 2 Peter 2:10-15 relays the account stressing the sin. Also "Woe unto them ... (those who) ran greedily after the error of Balaam ..." Jude :11. The way of Balaam is the teaching of "we are all one" - or "the brotherhood of man" —"we are all God's children" ... promoting the mixing of Israelites with non-Israelites (Anglo-Saxon with non-Anglo-Saxon) i.e. a humanist "brotherhood of man." (if it is promoted by the media and government, there is a pretty good chance its against God's Law!). In case you think the Bible does not give enough conclusive proof of 'race' being the issue, then read on in Numbers, "... and, behold, one of the children of Israel came and brought unto his brethren a Midianitish woman in the sight of Moses, and ... all the congregation ... and when Phinehas ... saw it he rose up from among the congregation and took a javelin in his hand, ... and thrust them both through .. So the plague was stayed from the children of Israel..." "Phinehas hath turned my wrath away from the children of Israel."

Ezra 9:1-4 tells of mingling in no uncertain terms and places this sin squarely as the chief cause of the Babylonian captivity. God created us to be a servant nation (God's servants). The word nation in the N.T. is translated almost always from the word Ethnos meaning 'race,' from which we get the word Ethnic. How can we be a servant race if we are all hybridized? Hybrids are not a race (many hybridized plants produce seedless fruit, or fruit with seeds that will no longer produce, cross a horse with a donkey and produce a mule, which is sterile). "Race" is determined by a sort-begets-sort. One male Israelite plus one female Israelite always begets Israelite offspring. One Negro male plus one Negro female always begets Negro offspring. Kind-after-kind, each after its own. One Israelite plus one Negro (or anything else non-Israelite) begets neither Negro nor Israelite, but a hybrid. Oh, don't try and fool yourself with throwbacks, think about it.

What is the Biblical ruling on hybrids? "A bastard (Heb. Mamzer - mixed blood, mongrel) shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord, even to his tenth generation shall he not enter..." Deut 23:2. Can you see why Phinehas took the matter so seriously? Serious enough for the Anointed to comment on as recorded in Revelation. Hybrids are not deemed part of the servant race. Total hybridization means the extinction of God's servant race, it seeks to thwart God's plan for the earth. That is why it is so evil and brings on God's wrath. I cannot over-stress the point. Jesus was talking to Christians, NOT Jews. Christians deceive themselves as Peter says when they tell themselves this does not apply to them.

So, what if you are in a Balaam relationship? What can you do? I recommend you put things right between you and Jesus before He says, "I never knew you." When He puts it right, it will be too late. Will He put it right, if so how? The book of Ezra shows how to effectively repent (change your ways - go the other, the right way), we'll look at that shortly. For now we will see what Jesus will do at the time of His second work (the removal of sin), Matt. 25:31, "When the Son of man shall come in His glory, and all the holy angels (separated messengers) with him then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory: And before him shall be gathered all nations: and he SHALL SEPARATE THEM one from another, As a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats." Notice Jesus is talking of a time when all nations are mixed.

Up until the 1950s most nations lived separate, apart. But since the 1960s that changed. In the USA, the end of segregation laws; in Europe, mass immigration from the 3rd world; in the early 1970s the end of the White Australia Policy and in the 1990s the end of Apartheid (Separation) in Suid Afrika.

Now we have, in what was once Christendom a total melting pot of nations, headed by a United Nations. Note that the Anointed was talking to a Christendom hell-bent on the doctrine of Balaam. Only Christendom (the West) is now a melting pot. The word nations here in Matthew is from the word Ethnos. Don't let your Balak church leaders beguile you, Jesus is not talking about separating unbelievers from believers. They are lying if that is their argument. Note carefully, Jesus said He will separate "ETHNICS" as (or in like manner) sheep are separated or pulled away from the goats. The sheep and the goats here symbolize ethnic groups and individuals thereof. "Then (after separation) shall the king say unto them (i.e. the ethnic sheep) Come ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom..." vs 34. [Note: only Israel are called 'sheep' in the Bible, and this will answer the disciples question in Acts 1:6, with the Kingdom being restored or inherited by Israel]. But to the others, "...depart from me..." vs 41.

Evidently, the latter group saw themselves as Christians in vs 44 but the vs 45, 46 show that their ministering is not reckoned as worthy by The Anointed. Why? Because their love is on their terms, not on God's terms!

The book of Ezra is given as an example of learning on how to solve the problems of being in a mixed wedlock. First acknowledge your sin, repent thereof; know in your heart you need to show your love of God, not as lip service but in deed (see James 2:14-22). Then pray for deliverance from the adulterous bond. (adulterate: make impure, make

by James Bruggeman

It is the author's hope that this little book will help to awaken more of God's people to their true Biblical Identity.

The chief area of contention between our view and Mr. Yair Davidy (in his book The Tribes) is the proper identification of the Israelite tribe of Judah. Is modern Judah synonymous with modern "Jews," as Mr. Davidy asserts; or does the Bible and history indicate that the German people are modern Judah?

unsober; make murky; in the sense of ethnics, commit hybridization).

Ezra 9:1-4 "The people of Israel (that's us folks!) .. have not separated themselves from the people of the lands ... For they have taken of their daughters for themselves and for their sons: SO THAT THE HOLY (means Separate, set apart) SEED have mingled themselves with the people of those lands ..." Ezra recounts his dismay at this 9:5 "And at the evening sacrifice I arose up from my heaviness ... I fell upon my knees and spread out my hands unto Yahweh my God ... our iniquities (race-mixing) are increased over our head ... O, our God what shall we say for WE HAVE FORSAKEN THY COMMANDMENTS." There is that word Commandments. Again, Commandments means more than the Ten Commandments. Ezra understood that race-mixing is in violation thereof. Thus "Commandments" refers to the Law system as a whole.

Read Ezra's whole prayer from vs 6 to 15. Read it with a heartfelt need to have deliverance from the SIN of race-mixing. Ezra did it for our nation. He was so hurt by this genocidal sin, that he wept bitterly (Ezra 10:1). Thankfully, his fellow ethnics, also saw the crime or misdeed clearly and made an oath between themselves and God, "to put away all the wives and such as are born of them ... and let it be done according to THE LAW." Ezra 10:3. Those that did not do so within 3 days were to be "separated from the congregation (i.e. excommunicated) ... and their substance forfeited" 10:8. Ezra interceded for our folk. In a way he was a Christ type, he was assuredly an anointed person. The separation of Ezra's day, is a type and shadow of what is to come. But we are all called to be Christ-like.

Currently, in modern melting-pot Babylon, it is hard to simply send away the non-Israelite partner. So pray often and heartily for God's help. It works, I know. Years ago I was in this wretched state. In the end she left, God's doing ... Then a period of great loneliness. But then, I was lonely with her. Everyday I awoke feeling I was laying with something strange, someone who was not bone of my bone and flesh of my flesh.. As time went on, often my eyes could not help noticing women who were bone of my bone and flesh of my flesh. I began to feel an emptiness so deep. Only a new beginning could bring an end to this curse of Balaam.

There is a way out of being unequally yoked, but you must want it. That want can only come if your love for Jesus is honest and you are honest with yourself. Remember, God will not be mocked!

All Christians seem to agree we are in a form of Babylon today. Ezra reminds us that race-mixing was a primary cause of being ruled by the ungodly. If Christians want a better world, then this matter is to be taken very seriously. The brotherhood of man is a humanist programme, does that not say enough? The churches speak ill of the New World Order, but their main platform harmonizes with the New World Order, i.e. to mingle the Holy Seed with the non-Israelites, in order to breed Israel out of existence (in one generation!). Why is it that the churches promote the same? Answer, Because they teach the Way of Balaam! Just ask Jesus, consult Revelation. This is also another good reason to keep your young people away from the TV, as the TV "programming" (yes, YOU are being "programmed") is also geared to teaching that inter-racial marriage is fashionable. And, you can rub shoulders with inter-racial couples at 'church.' Look well to who your children socialize with, because if they marry outside of Israel, YOU will NEVER have Israelite grandchildren to inherit the kingdom!!!

SAXON CHRISTIAN: TATTOO -- NOT FOR YOU

Slowly, little by little, God's people have been adding to their wayward habits in rebellion against God for many generations now. Tattooing the body is just one of dozens of ways which modern day white "Christians" have forgotten the good laws of God and have accepted heathen customs as something to be considered as "cool." But God says to not do this, and here are the reasons in a nutshell:

1. If you are a Christian, you were once in a world that is part of a death-doomed system because of rampant sin and the failures of man to govern in righteousness.

2. Jesus decided to save you out of the world system of death, and to put you in His eternal Kingdom of life everlasting.

3. Jesus bought (purchased) your body out of the world's sin by paying a great price to rescue you. That price was His crucified body and shed blood unto death, where He then conquered death by His resurrection to life again.

4. God's Word teaches us that before Jesus had done this, that we were owned by the world system. However, not that we have been purchased by God and lovingly placed into His Kingdom, God owns our body now (because He paid the price for it). God wants what is good for us and wants us to honour our body now for Him, and to not mutilate it with piercings, cuttings, or tattoo markings (as are so commonly seen everywhere today). These practices of self-mutilation are all part of heathen religious rites of backward superstitious people. (We're also to treat our body good with proper (clean) food intake, but that is another subject). Here is what the Bible says:

"Ye shall not make any cuttings in your flesh for the dead, nor print any marks upon you: I am the LORD" (Leviticus 19:28) [note the column reference for the word "marks," as it means "tattoos"] This is a LAW given by God. Transgressing the Law is sin - 1 John 3:4.

The apostle Paul tells us to give glory to God in our body as well as spirit:

"What? Know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Spirit which is in you, which ye have of God, and are not your own? For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's." (1 Corinthians 6:19-20)

The apostle Peter informs us that the price God paid for us was Jesus' blood:

"Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed (bought back) with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers; but with the precious blood of the Anointed, as of a lamb without blemish and without spirit." (1 Peter 1:19).

Britannica World Dictionary, 1956.

"Tattoo" itself isn't even an English word of the white Christian civilization! It is a Tahitian word from the other side of the world.

TAT-TOO tr. verb To prick and mark (the skin) in patterns with indelible pigments. — noun A pattern or picture so made. [*<*Tahitian tatu *<*ta, mark] — er noun — -ing noun.

"Maories" are aborigines of New Zealand, and often have extreme tattoos even covering their faces. For a Christian to desire this causes grief to God; "And grieve not holy spirit of God whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption." (Ephesians 4:29) Your body is the temple of holy spirit — 1 Corinthians 6:19.

CHRIST CONQUERED THE DEVIL

(Prince of this world)
by pastor Ken Lent

Contrary to what church clergy have told their congregants for centuries, there is not one verse in the Scriptures that supports the teaching that a literal personal "spirit being" devil named Satan, ever existed. That is not to say there is not satan in the Bible. There certainly is—and the word satan is mentioned in several verses. But God's Word clearly describes that adversary as two things. 1) Sin in our flesh. 2) Wicked people who oppose God's righteous government.

As the fable goes, supposedly "The Devil" was once a high angel in heaven but he rebelled against God and was cast down to planet Earth. The plain truth us, this doctrine has been used for ages to frighten people into obeying the institutional churches and their priests — "after all," we've been told, "it's only the priests or ministers who can teach us how to be protected from Satan's scheming spirit force." For this claimed guide to spiritual protection, generations of unsuspecting people have given their money, dedicated their lives, and pledged their property to the churches. The doctrine of a personal Devil and "his demons" is superstition rooted in Roman Catholic and Judaic ignorance of God's Word, and yet it has been passed onto, and still promoted by the Protestant churches as well. Euphemistically, "to have a devil" only meant that a person had an illness, in the New Testament application of that term, although some people by then were believing in the Jewish occult spiritism of demons.

The word "superstition" is used only once in the Scriptures at Acts 25:19. It is when Paul is contending with the chief priests and elders of the Jews, and those corrupt priests were interrogating Paul about "certain questions against him of their own superstition --" (see verses

2,5,15,25). In line with God's truth taught by Paul, that word we see as superstition here is the Greek word Dice-ee-dahee-mon-ee-ah, Strong's Greek dictionary reference #1174, 1175 which specifically means "fear of demons" (at 1169, 1142). ["Superstitious" is used only once as well, Acts 17:22, from the same Greek root word at #1169 (fearful) of 1142 (demons)]. Are we then to believe in that Jewish doctrine? And why does God's Word in the original text refer to belief in "evil spirit being entities and their forces" as superstition?

For the truth seeking Christian, there is a great spiritual danger in letting one's understanding succumb to this false Judaic/papal teaching. That danger is a subtle but effective sabotage in one's heart, of the true reason why Jesus came in the flesh, and of knowing the purpose of His salvation for us. God's Word repeatedly tells us that Jesus the Christ came to destroy SIN that reigned in our flesh, and not to destroy an imaginary "Devil" as many clergy insist.

In this spiritual fact of being saved from sin our salvation securely rests. When this is received, the door to defeat Jesus' very real adversaries who hate His government becomes unliked as well. As the Scriptures teach, Jesus has enemies that actually are living beings, but these are mortal people with wicked dispositions who can be dealt with appropriately by lawful means. They are not spirit beings with mysterious powers.

The Scriptures teach that the real conversion of a believer (and his coming out of the ways of the world) is that he is made alive to the understanding of Jesus' salvation. This means to know with a heartfelt certainty exactly what it was that Jesus destroyed so that we may be saved unto eternal life! Scriptural repentance is changing one's mind to admit that we can't save ourselves by our works, but are saved by God's gift of grace. (Eph. 2:8,9; John 5:24). The fruit that results from this true repentance is obedience to God through spiritual love (John 14:15; 1 John 5:3). Repentance is not deciding to fight a "cosmic Devil and his demons" in some frantic "spiritual battle" which Paul knew was superstition (Dice-ee-daheee-mon-ee-ah). Believing that Jesus came to destroy a 'personal Devil Being' foe, and that our primary and present battle is against this being's supposed evil force, is a denial of the salvation wrought by our God. Why? Precisely because the Scriptures explain that the real Devil that Jesus came to conquer is SIN in our mortal flesh, our worst enemy according to God. The secondary meaning of a "satan" is with this word being used to describe mere mortal people who are adversaries of The Everliving God and His Laws ["satan" merely means "opponent, adversary," Strong's Hebrew #7853, 7854. It was the translators of churches that inserted an upper case capital "S" to this regular noun in English Bibles whereby the personal "Satan" Devil was then promoted as a doctrine.]

The Salvation Truth - Scriptures lay it out concisely:

A very short review of what exactly what "devil" it was that Jesus destroyed by His crucifixion on the cross, is as follows: (this is by no means a complete study)

Hebrews 2:14 "Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, He (Jesus) also Himself likewise took part of the same; that through death He might DESTROY HIM that had the power of death, that is, the

THE OLD JERUSALEM IS NOT THE NEW JERUSALEM
A great part of this absurd teaching about old Palestine is caused by the erroneous belief by ministers that the Jews are Israel and that the Jewish state of Israeli is the "regathering" of the tribes of Israel. I wonder how many preachers have stopped to think that there are about the same number of Jews now in old Palestine as there were Israelites in the Exodus from Egypt over 3,300 years ago. And if there was any one thing God promised Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, it was to multiply their seed!
#106 @ sug don $8.80

devil."

Romans 6:6 "Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with Him (Jesus), that the body of SIN might be DESTROYED, that henceforth we should not serve sin."

Furthermore, what does the Bible teach concerning that which is the cause of death, the "power of death," which entered into the world? A fallen angel devil or maye a cosmic New Age Galactic Devil Force? Not true. It's none other than sin:

Romans 5:12 "Wherefore, as by one man (Adam), SIN entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned."

Romans 6:23 "For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus the Christ our Master."

Plainly, as we see above, SIN (not an invisible Devil person) is the cause and power of death. But "hold on" you might say, "my preacher says that The Devil is the Prince of this world." And just what is the "prince of this world" that reigns in the evil of men's hearts? Is this prince a literal Devil called Satan as some teach? Again, No! God's Word itself explains it's own symbolism. It is sin which is "the prince who reigned" over the world.

(Jesus said) "Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: but for this cause came I unto this hour. Father, glorify thy name. Then came there a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again. The people therefore, that stood by, and heard it, said that it thundered: others said, An angel spake to him. Jesus answered and said, This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes. Now is the judgment of this world: now shall the PRINCE OF THIS WORLD be cast out." John 12:27.

Praise God, the Scriptures teach that Jesus came to cast out this "reigning prince," however this "prince" is the same thing that we just read in the verses above where Jesus destroyed the "devil," that is namely SIN at the Crucifixion.

Romans 5:21 "That as SIN HATH REIGNED unto death, even so might grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life by Jesus Christ our Master."

Romans 6:16 "Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, HIS SERVANTS YE ARE to whom ye obey; WHETHER OF SIN unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?" (a really good example here of how the Bible personifies sin as a ruler, a reigning prince, and a "his").

Plus the Scriptures further explain that this "Devil" who was condemned by the cross of Jesus by which cross that "Devil" was destroyed and taken away from "his" rule, is actually sin itself. This is the salvation of the sacrifice of Jesus - - His triumph over sin, personified by the term we know as "the Devil." Jesus didn't condemn and destroy a "spirit Devil," rather He condemned and defeated sin for us.

Romans 8:3 "For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God sending His own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh."

1 John 3:5 "And ye know that He was manifested to take away our sins; and in Him is no sin."

Yes, dear Christian brothers and sisters, Jesus the Anointed was manifest in the flesh for the purpose of providing His kinsmen with the greatest of salvations - the destruction of sin in our flesh (the "devil") - by which destruction we are made pure unto eternal life in the eyes of our loving Heavenly Father. In that true salvation Jesus has conquered SIN (the Prince of this world) for us, by which victory He has now set His servants free to teach His Kingdom government in the Earth with victory.

Adulterated doctrines about "satan" and wasting valuable time in fighting an imaginary "him/it" are obstructions in enforcing God's Kingdom Laws. The faithful ones in Anointing have much to do at this time in history and need not be entangled with misdirecting influences of institutionalized church councils, rather "but speak thou the things which become sound doctrine" (Titus 2:1). As the Scriptures tell us, Jesus destroyed sin's hold of death on us as He destroyed sin itself ("the devil prince that reigned") on His cross for all those whom He has chosen. It is now our job to teach the Kingdom, God's government for the family and the nation.

In the Israel Truth Movement, many people talk a "the good old days." Some people remember the 30s or 40s or 50s when there was great enthusiasm for the revelation of who the descendants of Jacob are. My grandfather found acceptance in a British Israel group of men that he did not find in the local church. Certainly, the holy spirit was with those Bible study groups that were all over the English-speaking world. Today people could care less about the Israel message and see no value in it.

Many Christians see it as a movement of the past that has no relevance today. One Christian I talked to predicted the death of it when the "old people" die off.

I believe the answer to our dwindling numbers is to look forward. Things may have been wonderful in those years gone by, but they are gone and will not return. It is alright to share fond memories of "the good old days" but many people cannot relate to such memories. Recently I watched a video on You-Tube on the internet called "Sheep Among Wolves - volume 2" which is about the fastest growing underground church in the world (according to the video), in Iran. In the video there are interviews with church members. Their faces are blanked out and their voices disguised. One of them compared the underground Iranian church with the churches in the modern western world. This person said their fast-growing church looks forward to the coming return of Jesus, whereas the churches in the modern western world concentrate on modern living and how to live in the modern age. (people are more interested in what they can get in Babylon: high salary, nice house and flash car, that in seeking FIRST the Kingdom of God).

Are Christians in the western world even interested in the return of Jesus? I frequently hear Christians say, "He may be here tomorrow, or He may not come for another hundred years." Last week I heard a Christian say He may not be here for another 2000 years! Most Christians are just concerned with having a comfortable life and do not give much thought to the millennial reign of The Anointed. Jesus said, "Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom. Sell that ye have, and give alms; provide yourselves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also." Luke 12:32-34. Our treasure should be in heaven. We now have holy spirit who is with us for all guidance. Let us be thankful for that, but in the future, we shall have God our Father living with us in the New Jerusalem which comes down from heaven.

"Look upon Zion, the city of our solemnities: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that shall not be taken down; not one of the stakes thereof shall ever be removed, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken. But there the glorious Lord will be unto us a place of broad rivers and streams; wherein shall go no galley with oars; neither shall gallant ship pass thereby. For the Lord is our judge, the Lord is our Lawgiver, the Lord is our King; He will save us." Isaiah 33:20-22. We Christian Israelites are to look forward to our future in the city of God. We are to teach and preach about the kingdom of God. That is a part of the Bible that the churches do not teach and preach because it is all about Israel exclusively, and they cannot connect with the idea of a kingdom of Israel. They would think a kingdom of the Jews, but the Jews do not worship the king. If any preachers try to promote a kingdom of the Jews, their preaching will be a failure because it is not inspired by holy ghost. Holy ghost is the spirit of truth, the mindset of separation. We teach the truth about the kingdom of God and about Israel. Without that truth much of the Bible remains a closed book.

"Hear the word of the Lord, O ye nations, and declare it in the isles afar off, and say, He that scattered Israel will gather him, and keep him, as a shepherd doth his flock. For the Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and ransomed him from the hand of him that was stronger than he. Therefore they shall come and sing in the height of Zion, and shall flow together to the goodness of the Lord, for wheat, and for wine, and for oil, and for the young of the flock and of the herd: and their soul shall be as a watered garden: and they shall not sorrow any more at all. Then shall the virgin rejoice in the dance, both young men and old together: for I will turn their mourning into joy, and I will comfort them, and make them rejoice from their sorrow." Jeremiah 31:10-13. That glorious day is to come after Jacob's time of trouble (Jeremiah 30:3). We are in that time of trouble. It is going to get worse and worse until we finally call on God for help. He (Jesus) will then come and save us after we cast away our foolish pride and yield to Him. Our people shall then "come and sing in the height of Zion." Let us follow the example of Abraham and turn our vision toward the glorious city of God, the city of peace, the New Jerusalem.

[There my Lord I shall be meeting,
Ever live in peace with Him,
In that pearly-gated city
In the New Jerusalem. - CIM]

"By faith Abraham, when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went. By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, dwelling in tabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise: For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God." Hebrews 11:8-11.

I believe these scriptures hold the key to our success in the Israel Truth Movement. If we can concentrate on teaching our people what the kingdom of God is really about, I believe God will bless our ministry. Our vision is glorious. "But ye are come unto Mount Sion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels, of the general assembly and church of the firstborn, which are written in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect, and to Jesus the mediator of the New Covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than that of Abel." Hebrews 12:22-24.

ED (TKC) Sadly, it's true what Mr. MacDormand writes, "Today people couldn't care less about the Israel message and see no value in it." Some may even use the declining numbers as a reason to stop attending meetings, but as long as we are able, we must do our best to promote the Gospel of the Kingdom and Salvation, but also, to diligently sow the seeds of the Israel Truth as far and wide as possible. This we try to do through our magazine, our website, and through other communications.
