ONE RACE, ONE BLOOD, ONE LIE

By Jim Jester

Scripture Reading: Acts 17:22-28, ASV

"And Paul stood in the midst of the Areopagus, and said, Ye men of Athens, in all things, I perceive that ye are very religious. For as I passed along, and observed the objects of your worship, I found also an altar with this inscription, TO AN UNKNOWN GOD. What therefore ye worship in ignorance, this I set forth unto you. The God that made the world and all things therein, he, being Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; neither is he served by men's hands, as though he needed anything, seeing he himself giveth to all life, and breath, and all things; and he made of one every nation of men to dwell on all the face of the earth, having determined their appointed seasons, and the bounds of their habitation; that they should seek God, if haply they might feel after him and find him, though he is not far from each one of us: for in him we live, and move, and have our being: as certain even of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring."

In the recent mid-term elections, the Republicans avoided a worst-case scenario: the "Blue Wave." Many good Americans breathed a sigh of relief. But, what about the "brown wave" (immigration). The margin of Republican victories gets smaller with each election. Democrats are not far behind and the few victories they had were in highly populated areas, such as the cities. These areas are mainly of the darker races, which usually vote democratic. There will be no relief. As long as the races of color keep coming in, so the "browning" of our country will continue. The "browns" will nearly always vote Democrat because they care not about the laws of God, or conservatism. Thus, the Democrats will regain political power in the near future and more states (like Texas) will turn Blue (like California). Demographics is everything – the brown wave will translate into a blue wave. We hope America does not have to face a Bolshevik type communist revolution. Unless, America repents, there will be no relief from increasing wickedness and oppression of Christians. We need God's Law: White immigration only.

In recent days, we have heard of some of our people whose families have had someone marry into another race. As time goes on, it seems, this terrible sin becomes more widespread. And, it will continue regardless if our people are in church or not (because most churches promote it, or go along with it).

Moreover, who is responsible for this adulteration of our race? Sure, we can point the finger to the archenemy of Christianity, the jews and other politicians; but besides them, it lies in the heart of all "judeo-Christian" churches and their seminaries. And narrowing it down even more, many of these churches get their information and advice on the race issue from none other than "Answers in Genesis" (of course, most of their answers are wrong). This parachurch organization (a 501c3, tax-exempt creation of the state) works outside and across denominational lines and specializes in things that individual churches may not be able to specialize in by themselves.

While A.I.G. claims to be a Christian apologetic organization, I believe they do more harm than good in proclaiming the Christian message. They feed doctrinal error to individual Christians and churches who come to them for advice. I'm sure they feel the same about us in Christian Identity.

The book entitled "One Race, One Blood," by Ken Ham and Dr. Charles Ware of the "Answers in Genesis" organization takes a prominent role in all that the organization stands for. Not only is the book for sale on their web site, but chapters of it are posted online along with other articles that parrot their philosophy of racial integration, inter-racial marriages, egalitarianism and anti-racism, all with a Christian twist. the book and a Vacation Bible School program for sale called "The Incredible Race." All of these resources are designed to encourage children to race-mix, which in turn will eventually lead to more inter-racial dating and marriages with brown mongrelized offspring. It's getting harder and harder for Israelites to find white spouses.

Their ultimate goal will lead to White genocide, for no combination of any hybrid couple can produce a White child. The only reason any of us today are White, is that our ancestors (for thousands of years) chose to marry within their own race. If liberals were to achieve their goal of breeding Whites out of existence, how is that achieving diversity? A world of brown people? No Whites? No variety in hair color? No variety in eye color? If Whites were gone, the world will be far less diverse than it is now.

Egalitarians are hypocrites of the worst order when they say they want "diversity" because the White race is the most diverse race of all the races in the world. Of course, in the mind of the liberal, White people do not count or measure up to their definition of "diversity." So, how is making everyone brown being diverse? Also, we never hear of liberals wanting to make Africa "more diverse" by pushing for White migration into Africa. The same could be said of other "darker" countries, like India.

My Message to A.I.G.

To the credit of Answers in Genesis, they do have some valid Christian positions opposing the theory of evolution. However, the little good they provide will never outshine all of the darkness they promote by encouraging our youth to destroy forever their racial progeny. This treatise will prove them wrong. Their philosophy of "only one race" (the human race) is a blatant lie. A.I.G. loves to clothe itself in Bible garb (in its name is Genesis), yet in practice they quote very little of the Bible. Instead they quote from specially selected "scientists" that are supposedly experts in their field.

While A.I.G. condemns evolution (and rightly so), they turn around and support evolution to explain the various races. They believe in a very fast evolution of a little less than 300 years of change. Then they turn around again and say there actually are no races, for "races" are only "social constructs."

Paul at Mars Hill

Our Scripture reading is the account of Paul addressing the Greeks of the court (Areopagus) on Mars hill. His speech was somewhat of a shock to the prideful Greek culture. The Greeks took much pride in the accomplishments of their nation; indeed, they were the measure of all things; and every nation around them wanted to be like them. ("Man is the measure of all things." A statement by the ancient Greek philosopher Protagoras, 420 BC. It is usually interpreted to mean that the individual human being, rather than a god or an unchanging moral law, is the ultimate source of value.) The Greeks constructed five of the Seven Wonders of the World. The Greeks looked down on anyone else as inferior (barbarians) to them, even those of their own racial brethren. This is why Paul spoke of God, the creator of all things, who had "made of one, every nation of men to dwell on all the face of the earth..." (Acts 17:26, ASV).

The companion verse to this: "These are the families of the sons of Noah, after their generations, in their nations. And from these were the nations divided in the earth after the flood." – Genesis 10:32 (no mention of blood here either).

Paul is simply stating biblical history for the Greeks. In so doing, he "popped the balloon" of Greek arrogance. We could say that Paul wanted the Greeks to be more inclusive. But it was not the kind of inclusiveness of today's egalitarian. It was the inclusiveness within our own race.

Then, moving on to verse 28 of our passage, Paul adds this comment, "for in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain even of your own poets have said, 'For we are also his offspring.'" This is a familial term – it is racial. Evidently, some of the Greek poets must have admitted that they were the "offspring" (children) of God the Creator; but they did not know His name or who He was. Well, Paul knew who this God was: He was the God of Israel. And Paul knew these Greeks were descended from the tribes of Israel many centuries ago. This is easily proven by how Paul uses the term "Gentiles" in his letters. The people of the N.T. are the same as in the O.T.

Paul was being charged (as seen in Acts 17:18-20) with bringing in new doctrines; and perhaps false gods. But he assures them he was not. He saw what the city was like – everywhere he looked, there were gods. Acts 17:16, "Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was stirred in him, when he saw the city wholly given to idolatry." Surely, Paul must have defended himself of these charges by saying something like, "you have plenty of gods already, and I do not need to add any more." Matthew Henry comments:

"Socrates, who had exposed the pagan idolatry, was indicted in this very court, and condemned, not only because he did not esteem those to be gods whom the city esteemed to be so, but because he introduced new demons; and this was the charge against Paul. Now he tacitly owns the former part of the charge, but guards against the latter, by declaring that he does not introduce any new gods, but reduce them to the knowledge of one God, the Ancient of days." – M. Henry

Paul did not condemn the Greeks for paying homage to "the unknown God" but says, this is the God I want to speak about.

"Then Paul stood in the midst of Mars' hill, and said, Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious. For as I passed by, and beheld your devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you." – Acts 17:22-23

The use of the word "superstitious" in our language today sounds a little too negative and Paul was not expressing such, but was very respectful of the Greeks and their culture. Many translations use the word "religious" instead.

Concerning this passage, the JFB Commentary says:

"I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious — rather (with most modern interpreters and the ancient Greek ones), 'in all respects extremely reverential' or 'much given to religious worship,' a conciliatory and commendatory introduction."

Paul was quite a diplomat in reaching his race, his fellow Israelites. This is biblical inclusiveness (within the race); and, the historic background for the passage in question.

Blood

With a book that has in its title, "One Blood," using Acts 17:26 as its theme and proof text, one would expect there to be some analysis of that verse. But there is no study or biblical exegesis of this verse. There is no study of related scriptures. There is only presumption that it means what the authors say it means. In fact, One Blood, One Race hardly uses any Scripture at all to support the authors' beliefs about race. Any book trying to build a doctrinal position based on one verse is very foolish. Any theologian studying the Bible knows very well that in order to conclude on a certain doctrine, one must examine all of the Scriptures of that particular subject in question.

Proof that "One Race, One Blood" is one big lie, is the fact that the word "blood" was originally absent from the text of the best authorities, including the 26th edition of the Nestle-Aland Greek New Testament and the 3rd edition of the United Bible Societies' Greek New Testament. Likewise, some translations do not use the word "blood." It is well-known that there have been errors made in the Masoretic text (from which the KJV comes) of the Bible. This also brings up the possibility that the Masoretes (Jews) also deliberately inserted words to sway the meaning of the text. After all, Jesus Christ said they were "liars" and would do the work of their father the devil. Proper understanding reveals that the word "blood" is awkward for these reasons:

When we use the term "blood" today, we often use it to denote race, heritage, lineage or relationship. We might say someone is of royal blood or is mixed blood, etc. But the Bible does not use the word in this biological way. "Blood" is used to refer to the life-giving principle common to all, even animals. Following the same manner of the interpretation (presumption) of egalitarians would mean that we are also related to animals! The usage of the word blood to indicate a biological relationship is archaic, because up until recent times we had no knowledge of DNA or blood types: A, B, AB, O. It is a little known medical fact that the blood between the races is not the same. Yet, A.I.G. uses the word blood to indicate a biological relationship, claiming it is "scientific." These four blood types alone prove that not all blood is the same, or "one."

The only other way the Bible uses blood is in reference to sacrifice or atonement. It was not used to indicate the biological relationship of people. Therefore, it is a monstrous error, or blatant lie, to say that "one blood" in Acts 17:26 means "all people are related."

The word "blood" was never used in the Bible to convey the idea of one who is a relative or biologically related. Instead, it uses the words "bone and flesh" to note biological relations: Genesis 2:23, "And Adam said, This is now bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh: she shall be called Woman, because she was taken out of Man."

2 Samuel 19:12, "Ye are my brethren, ye are my bones and my flesh:"

Ephesians 5:30, "For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones."

In modern language, those speaking these verses might have said, "you are of my blood." But that meaning did not exist in biblical times, so they used "bone and flesh." If our verse in question (Acts 17:26) had said, "God has made all men of one bone and flesh", the egalitarians might have a fair argument. But, as it is with "blood", they have no argument.

Since we are not talking about genetics in Acts 17:26, we could admit that all people do have the same "blood" (in the sense that blood means "the essence of life"). Mankind, humankind, and animals all have this "essence of life". Blood carries oxygen, nutrients, and antibodies to the cells and tissue and takes away the carbon dioxide and waste. All races and mammals have that in common.

The subject of our verse in question is not blood, but nations.

"And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation" (Acts 17:26, KJV).

The verse does not say that individual men are from one blood, as this verse is often read, but rather that nations (which consist of men) are from one. Most people do not see this because of the erroneous teaching (and lies) of egalitarians such as A.I.G. In our society, nearly everyone has a mental block regarding race. Once we understand that the issue is nations, we can see that the word blood only confuses the matter. The word "from" is more important than the word "of," and it should be interpreted that way:

"And He made from one every nation of men to dwell upon all the face of the earth appointing the times ordained and the boundaries of their settlements" (Acts 17:26, CNT).

Even if the word "blood" belongs in the verse, it cannot mean the equality of all races, because the verse uses the word "men", which in biblical terms means "Adam." He was the first white man and wherever the word "man" is used in the Bible, it refers to the Adamite. Other bipeds of color are human, and are properly not considered men in the Bible. This is all that the verse is speaking of; it is not including everyone on planet Earth.

One Man

If not one blood, then one what? It is one man. That man was Adam, the first White man who was placed by God to take the position of authority in the garden, to be fruitful, and to multiply. Adam provided the racial line descended from Seth.

Bullinger's Companion Bible: One Blood — The texts omit "blood." The "one" here means either Adam, or the dust of which he was formed.

The Interpreter's Commentary: from one (some manuscripts add "blood"), i.e., from Adam.

Peake's Commentary on the Bible: "From one." The Western text adds "blood", probably failing to realize that the reference is to Adam.

But, we should remember that the verse would not read, "God has made of Adam all men." Rather it would say, "God had made from Adam all nations." In this verse, Paul is stating biblical history to the Greeks.

This is the cross reference to our verse in Acts:

"When the Most High divided to the nations their inheritance, when He separated the sons of Adam, He set the bounds of the people according to the number of the sons of Israel" (Deut. 32:8, KJV).

Notice how similar this is to Acts 17:26. The N.T. is based on the O.T. and the Bible is its own commentary. Adam is the man that God used to create Adamic nations. These are the only nations of which Yahweh had a purpose and a Covenant destiny. Notice, the sons of Adam were "separated" and the borders (natural or figurative) were established according to the sons of Israel. Certainly, there is no multi-racial society in existence under these conditions. "This is the historical record of Adam's generations. When God created mankind, he made them in his own likeness" (Gen. 5:1, ISV). Adam's descendants became the nations spoken of; and they were White (as any lexicon will admit). This was the beginning of the kingdom of God on Earth.

Two Family Trees

Did all races come from Adam? A.I.G. says yes, in order to justify their theory that "race" is a "social construct" and therefore it is normal to marry among all humanoid bipeds. However, Eve also bore Cain, who married and had his own family tree of descendants. Thus, there are two family trees: one from Cain and one from Seth. One was wicked and the other righteous. Therefore, not all races on the planet came from one man. Then why does our scripture in question speak about one man? Because the Bible is God's revelation about the salvation of one racial line of descendants, i.e., the Israelites, God's Covenant creation. The lines of Cain are cursed and are not the objects of God's grace. They are not included under the Covenant.

We assert that all the races did not come from Adam. Some races or "people groups" came from the line of Cain.

There has always been enmity and conflict between the descendants of Cain and the descendants of Seth. "And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel" (Gen. 3:15). Although most churches have never considered the truth found in this verse, it is undeniable that there are two seed-lines in view here. T

Science tells us there were civilizations older than the time of the Bible. The Bible is simply silent on those pre-Adamic periods because it is the history of Adam, not these other races. The Bible tells us that Cain traveled to the east (Gen. 4:16); There in the land of Nod, Cain married and built a city. It is evident that a "city" is filled with people. These were not Adamic and not people of God. It is foolish to think that Cain married one of his sisters (from Eve), for who in the family would permit a murderer to marry their daughter.

Genesis 3:15 Summary - All of the false judeo-Christian churches try to say that the only meaning behind Genesis 3:15 is the future coming of Jesus Christ. While this is certainly true, the main import of racial consciousness in this verse is left out, or deliberately ignored (partly because of the tainted Masoretic Text).

1) R. L. Harris, explaining the Hebrew word zera', or "seed" in Genesis 3:15, was right in stating that it described the "whole line of descendants as a unit"... Yet the serpents, who were in first century Judaea represented by the Edomite Jews, are also a "line of descendants as a unit" down through, Canaan, and Esau, and called "satan", the Adversary, among other epithets, often in the New Testament.

2) [The lexicographer,] Gesenius, explains that the seed of the woman of Genesis 3:15 is not a single son only, but rather "offspring, progeny, descendants" as it plainly means elsewhere, and that theologians who think otherwise are "polemic." Surely somehow these "polemic" [a strong verbal or written attack] theologians are well-represented today, and we who agree with Gesenius are accused of polemicism! - Finck

Therefore, the woman's "seed" of Genesis 3:15 is the entire line of Adam's descendants through Seth; which of course includes our Lord Jesus Christ, but not Him exclusively.

Strangers in the Bible

The judeo-Christian of the "Answers in Genesis" persuasion may ask, "Is there any proof in the Bible that other races exist?" Yes! The verses where God told Israel to kill the cursed races (of Canaan) in the land; and the races mentioned that are classified as "beasts of the field"; there are also places that refer to the "stranger" (or alien).

There are two sets of original words that have been translated into the words stranger, strangers or alien. One set of Hebrew words refers to a "stranger" as one who is an Adamic kinsman of the Israelites. The other set refers to the "stranger", that is of another race. Here is just one example of the stranger indicating the same race.

"And he said unto Abram, Know of a surety that thy seed shall be a stranger in a land that is not theirs, and shall serve them; and they shall afflict them four hundred years" (Gen. 15:13).

The word "stranger" here is "geyr" (H1616): "properly a guest; by implication a foreigner; - alien, sojourner, stranger." There is one Hebrew synonym for this word: toshab (H8453). It is found in Leviticus, and means practically the same thing.

"And the sabbath of the land shall be meat for you; for thee, and for thy servant, and for thy maid, and for thy hired servant, and for thy stranger that sojourneth with thee" (Lev. 25:6).

These are verses speaking of the same kind of people. In both cases, there is no implication of hostility or ill will.

The set of Hebrew words that refer to a "stranger" of another race are: nakar, noker, nekar, and nokriy. These words connote a very different view of the word "stranger" than the others. Nokriy is defined: "From H5235 (second form); strange, in a variety of degrees and applications (foreign, non-relative, adulterous, different, wonderful): - alien, foreigner, outlandish, strange (-r, woman)."

The placing of the word adulterous with words: non-relative, alien, and outlandish is significant. In ancient Israel, sex with a non-Adamic person was considered adultery. Furthermore, study of the Greek words of the Septuagint that mean adultery, also confirm that this is true. The English word, adulterous, means "something mixed." This is the way that Strong is using the word. Clearly, relations with this kind of "stranger" led to dire consequences then, and are still a curse today. This "stranger" is one of another race (not Adamite).

"Thou shalt in any wise set him king over thee, whom the LORD thy God shall choose: one from among thy brethren shall thou set king over thee: thou mayest not set a stranger over thee, which is not thy brother" (Deut. 17:15).

In this verse, nokriy (H5237) is used. Evidently, God Almighty does not believe that all races are brothers.

Another Hebrew word translated as "stranger" in this sense is the word zuwr (H2114). It means: "to turn aside; hence to be a foreigner, strange, profane; specifically, to commit adultery." Again, note the connotation of adultery. The word zuwr first appears in Exodus:

"And they shall eat those things wherewith the atonement was made, to consecrate and to sanctify them: but a stranger shall not eat thereof, because they are holy" (Ex. 29:33).

As has been proven, the English word "stranger" can mean two different things: either a racial brother living in another location, or a racial alien:

Furthermore, when the Greek Septuagint is used, the exacting language of the Greek makes these issues of race quite clear. Over and over, in the Septuagint, the word allogenes (allos = another, genos = race) is used to show prohibitions regarding these kinds of "strangers." Properly interpreted, this word means "of another race." To deny that races exist is to reject the meaning of the Greek. This word, allogenes (another race), should be remembered as great ammunition (the "silver bullet" or nemesis) against those who come against us saying, "there is no race," for it proves them wrong. They may not accept the two types of "strangers" (as found in the KJV) but how can they deny a second witness of the truth as found in the Septuagint (allogenes), which our Lord Jesus used as the Word of God. If you remember nothing else in this sermon, do not forget this word (Greek: Allogenes).

Conclusion

Did all the races come from Adam and Eve, as Answers in Genesis and others teach? They claim that Adam and Eve were "mid-brown" and carried the genes for the other races. Through the process of what they call "speciation", the other races appeared. But this theory is a genetic impossibility; for hybrids (heterozygous) do not produce their own kind. Once a population becomes hybrid (mixed) they continue to produce hybrids. It would be infinitesimal for one of them to find the complete genetic package to result in the "speciation" of the four major races we see today (Caucasian, Negroid, Mongoloid, and Dravidian).

According to Dr. Larry Blanchard,

"The earliest date of the biblical flood is 3275 B.C. using the Septuagint dates. Archaeology has unearthed drawings made on some walls in Egypt depicting four distinct races that dates back to 3000 B.C. That means that this remarkable process of "speciation" took place in less than 300 years! There is no possible way, apart from divine intervention, that this could happen. It would require far more faith to believe this fantastic theory than to simply acknowledge that God in His sovereign wisdom created the different species and races we see today." - Did All Races Come from Adam, p. 90.

The sixth commandment says, "You will not mongrelize" (Exodus 20:14 & Romans 13:9). This is the true meaning of the Law, not as it is usually translated as "adultery" which commonly is defined as "marital infidelity." In these two references, the original words for "adultery" are defined in Strong's dictionary as "to commit adultery." What's wrong with this picture? Didn't your teacher in school tell us we must not define a word using the same word? The teacher was right! In our Exodus reference of the KJV Bible the word is naw-af, which in Strong's means: "adultery, woman that breaketh wedlock." And, in our Romans reference, the word is moicheuo, which in Strong's means: "to commit adultery." Now while there is some truth in these definitions, overall they are misleading and incomplete, thus left open to any private interpretation. The dictionaries and lexicons have changed over the years, and newer editions usually copy from the previous editions.

The word for "adultery" is the Greek word, moicheuo. This family of words is found throughout the Bible. It is used in the Septuagint (Exodus ref.) and the New Testament (Romans ref.). According to the Theological Dictionary of the New Testament by Gerhard Kittel, it means, "of the intermingling of animals and men or of different races."

That is quite a difference in meaning (and another "silver bullet" for the race-mixers)! This definition is the classical definition of mongrelization. In the Latin Vulgate, the Latin word is adultero, which means: "To mix (a substance or kind) with another, adulterate: to impair the purity or strength of, to give a variety of appearances to, change... to corrupt, debase" (Oxford Latin Dictionary). Here again, a similar definition; and when this is applied to people, we have mongrelization. Therefore, we find an ancient agreement between the Greek and Latin meanings of these verses, i.e., an explicit prohibition against miscegenation. These definitions should be enough to convince any intellectually honest person of the truth found in the Bible.

V-070919 Israel: A People Called, pt 1, Dan Gayman

The lesson here is to beware of those who come citing Greek and Hebrew words to support their race-mixing views, because they may be using the wrong dictionary. Furthermore, remember the rule you learned in school: never define a word using the same word. Hosea said (5:7, ASV), "They have dealt treacherously against Jehovah; for they have borne strange children: now shall the new moon devour them with their fields." Miscegenation is a great sin against our God.

Ezra said (9:1-3, ASV), "Now when these things were done, the princes drew near unto me, saying: The people of Israel, and the priests and the Levites, have not separated themselves from the peoples of the lands, doing according to their abominations, even of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites. [Aren't these racial types with us today in their progeny?] For they have taken of their daughters for themselves and for their sons; so that the holy seed have mingled themselves with the peoples of the lands: yea, the hand of the princes and rulers hath been chief in this trespass. And when I heard this thing, I rent my garment and my robe, and plucked off the hair of my head and of my beard, and sat down con-founded." Was he upset over nothing? Was he a racial bigot? No, Ezra knew the Law of God.

"Now therefore let us make a covenant with our God to put away all the wives, and such as are born of them, according to the counsel of my lord, and of those that tremble at the commandment of our God: and let it be done according to the law" (Ezra 10:3, ASV). Was Ezra wrong for following God's Law of White Separatism?

After examining the Bible, we can plainly see that Answers in Genesis and the authors of the book, One Race, One Blood, are really no different than any other cult that pulls one verse out of the context of Scripture and builds a false doctrine upon it. The doctrine that allows for race mixing and miscegenation is causing the death of the White race; and ultimately, Christian civilization. Furthermore, all who are guilty of it are worthy of death according to the Law of God.

Here are some quotes by well-known men concerning race.

"As a social anthropologist, I naturally accept and even stress the fact that there are major differences, both mental and psychological, which separate the different races of mankind. Indeed, I would be inclined to suggest that however great may be the physical differences between such races as the European and the Negro, the mental and psychological differences are greater still." – L.S.B. Leakey, The Progress and Evolution of Man in Africa, Oxford University Press, 1961.

"I have given my life to alleviate the sufferings of Africa. There is something that all White men who have lived here, like I have, must learn and know: that these individuals are a sub-race. They have neither the mental or emotional abilities to equate or share equally with White men in any functions of our civilization. I have given my life to try to bring unto them the advantages which our civilization must offer, but I have become well aware that we must retain this status: White the superior, and they the inferior. For whenever a White man seeks to live among them as their equals, they will destroy and devour him, and they will destroy all his work... Never accept them as your social equals or they will devour you. They will destroy you." – Dr. Albert Schweitzer (1875-1965), Christian physician and medical missionary in Africa, a recipient of the Nobel Peace Prize. [look at South Africa today]

I believe these men, but more importantly, I believe the Scriptures. These are authoritative, not "Answers in Genesis."

One can choose to believe the theories of A.I.G. and their lying judeo churches on race. You can ignore professional experts in their field of study, such as quoted above. You can deny the facts of genetics and heredity and the fact of God's law of "kind after kind." You can deny the Bible's plain statements about racial consciousness. But if you live long enough to see the death of a race, then it will be too late for you to do anything about it. You cannot have it both ways: either God is right and man is lying, or man is telling you the truth and God is lying. Whom will you follow?

We, the churches of the Fellowship of God's Covenant People, call on Answers in Genesis, et al, to repent of their sins of encouraging inter-racial marriages, miscegenation, conspiracy to commit White genocide, promotion of the book, One Race, One Blood, and the VBS program, "The Incredible Race." It should be understood that to properly repent would also mean for A.I.G. to remove such materials from publication and remove non-whites from their staff.

We call on all churches that have bought their Vacation Bible School program, "The Incredible Race," to repent of promoting race-mixing and perverting the young minds of Christian children everywhere; and that they return the said program to Answers in Genesis for a refund of God's money.

If A.I.G. and the associated churches will not, or cannot, repent, then obviously they will be left to the judgments of God. Our prayer is, may Yahweh protect our dear Christian children from the likes of A.I.G. and judeo-Christianity. Amen.

Video You May Have Missed GLOBAL WARMING? GLOBAL GOVERNANCE?

If you were to ask ten people on the street if mankind was causing global warming (climate change), at least eight out of ten would say, yes. After all, Al Gore's Inconvenient Truth allegedly provides incontrovertible evidence that this is the case. Contrary to what is heard in the media, however, there is overwhelming evidence that the warming we are experiencing is natural. The debate is still raging within the scientific community. 81 minutes

GENETICALLY MODIFIED SEEDS: Conceived as a Weapon

GM seeds and GM food carry great risks for all nations, so much so that for many reasons it is probably imperative these foods be banned outright. This subject is too large to be discussed here, but one aspect requires brief notice. If we were to ask about the origin of GM seeds how the idea was conceived and developed, who did the research and who provided the funding, how would we reply? We might reasonably suggest that the concept originated in the Biology or Agricultural Department of some university, or that a government lab doing research on food supplies might have conceived and pursued the idea. Or, we might suggest a private company in the agricultural field was looking for more productive varieties of grains and stumbled on the process.

We might suggest all those answers, but in each case we would be wrong. GM seed was conceived, promoted, researched and funded by the US Department of Defense - the American War Department. GM seed was never meant as a way to feed the hungry, but was instead conceived and designed as a weapon, or more precisely, as a weapons-delivery system. Genetically Modified seed was never intended to support human life, but to eliminate it.

GM seeds is neither more productive nor healthier than traditional heritage crops, and is far more expensive and destructive, but it presents almost irresistible military advantages against any nation that becomes dependent on this source of food grains. One is that the US can use it as a political weapon, refusing to supply seed to a disfavored nation, perhaps causing widespread famine and dislocation. The other is more sinister, in that many groups have experimented with gene-splicing technology, inserting unrelated DNA into various seeds.

In one case in Canada, a government department discovered an "anti-freeze" gene contained in the blood of fish living in Arctic waters, permitting them to survive in waters of sub-zero temperature.¹ The scientists spliced this gene into Canadian wheat crops, permitting the wheat to withstand freezing temperatures without damage. Monsanto also forced these genes onto tomatoes, resulting in the first GMO tomato.² An American research lab spliced the genes from fireflies into tobacco plants, producing a tobacco field that glowed in the dark.³

These examples may be harmless, but others are much less so. The US Defense Department has invested huge sums in research directed to splicing lethal genes into these GM crop seeds, including smallpox, bird and swine flu viruses, corona viruses, the plague, AIDS, and more. As a military weapon such science is priceless. Why begin a shooting war when Monsanto or Cargill can sell rice, corn, and soybeans that contain smallpox, HSN1, or a corona virus? When the seed is harvested and passes into the nation's food supply it could, within weeks, exterminate 50% or more of the population without firing a single shot.

And this was precisely the reason GM seed was conceived and developed by the Americans. It is a weapon of war, designed and meant to deliver to a nation's entire population a lethal virus or other disease, to literally exterminate an enemy with no risk to the aggressor. Many scientists and US military documents have demonstrated that seeds are far cheaper and much more effective than bombs in the search for military domination. One such military document I've discussed elsewhere stated the cost per death of an enemy population by nuclear, conventional and biological weapons, the latter being orders of magnitude less than the former.

Genetically Modified Politicians: Their Battle to Persuade the Public to Accept GM Food

In 2001 scientists at the Epicyte bio-lab in San Diego created a GM contraceptive corn, having discovered a rare class of human antibodies that attack sperm. Their researchers isolated the genes that regulate the manufacture of these antibodies and inserted them into corn plants, creating horticultural factories that make contraceptives.^{4,5} Shortly after the 2001 Epicyte press release, all discussion of the breakthrough vanished. The company was taken over by Biolex and nothing more was heard in any media about the development of spermicidal corn. Epicyte, DuPont and Syngenta (sponsors of the Svalbard Seed Vault) had a joint venture to share and use this technology. Silvia Ribeiro, of the NGO ETC Group, warned in a column in the Mexican daily La Jornada, that "The potential of spermicidal corn as a biological weapon is very high," and reminisced about the use of forced sterilizations against indigenous peoples.

The Doomsday Seed Vault at Svalbard

A new and serious cause for concern is the recently-announced seed vault built on a piece of barren rock named Svalbard, which is owned by Norway., is very remote near the North Pole, and virtually inaccessible. According to press releases, the seed vault has dual blast-proof doors with motion sensors, two airlocks, and walls of steel-reinforced concrete one meter thick. There are no full-time staff, but the vault's relative inaccessibility will facilitate monitoring any human activity. The stated purpose is to share the entire world's heritage seeds so that crop diversity can be saved for the future, but that crop diversity is already "saved," stored in vaults all around the world. What do these people foresee, that such a remote and secure facility should be developed?

The promoters and financiers of this venture are the same people who control the world's GM seeds and who have been among the most outspoken proponents of drastically reducing the world's population: the Rockefeller and Gates Foundations, Syngenta, DuPont, Monsanto and CGIAR. These are the same people who are actively destroying crop diversity all over the planet. Why would they suddenly get religion and decide to save in Norway the same seeds they are destroying everywhere else?

Some time ago, William Engdahl wrote an excellently researched article on this subject of the seed vault and arrived at the same conclusion, that the vault was created as a storehouse for lethal biological pathogens, the DNA of which can be combined with GM seed and unleashed anywhere with the help of these same seed companies. No other use would explain the list of participants or the need for the remote location and virtually nuclear-proof security. Engdahl asked, "Is it a coincidence that these same organizations, from Norway to the Rockefeller Foundation to the World Bank are also involved in the Svalbard Seed bank project?"⁶

5G - EDUCATE YOURSELF

The Problem Threat

This is about Health - Privacy - Loss of Local Control - Government working with Corporations to pass on something that the taxpayers have to pay for at the end of the day.

5G is not a simple upgrade in your cell service. This is a major increase and change in the type of radiation to which we will all be exposed 24/7, whether we use the service or not.

If you don't want one of these cell towers in front of your home, threatening your health, and depreciating the value of your property, you need to speak up.

Why is this multi-billion dollar Telecom industry rushing 5G through? What are 'they' afraid of? Why can't we hold off a few years and have an open debate about this? Are they doing this just so they can sell a new generation of phones, more chips, more data and get richer and richer from selling more stuff?!

There will be no such thing as privacy or freedom possible if 5G is rolled out - we will have "smart" homes, "smart" businesses, "smart" highways, "smart" cities and self-driving cars. Virtually everything we own and buy, from refrigerators and washing machines to milk cartons, hairbrushes and infants' nappies, will contain antennas and microchips and will be connected wirelessly to the internet.

The only remaining thing is the consumption of the consumer - which is what they have with 5G, the Data.

Along with the installation of the cell towers, small cells, and everything else, we're going to have hundreds of thousands, if not millions, of new sensors around us. We'll have a Smart phone that has a built in microphone and has a built-in listening device, and it's not just government you have to worry about - there's some 16-year-old sitting in a garage that knows how to hack your computers. There are brilliant minds out there, some just doing it for fun, and others who may have more nefarious purposes.

THE DANGER

Did you know there are no biological health studies done by those pushing 5G for people or for our environment/earth? Trees form a natural antenna with earthy energies. But tree leaves block 5G millimeter waves (MMWs) to the tune of 70%, which is why trees are already being cut down by the thousands!

Trees are essential to our survival. And anything that has water in it will absorb almost all the signal. People have 70-75% water in them(!), and if you get between your phone and a 5G tower, you've lost the 5G signal.

Medical Definition of Microwave Sickness (from Webster's Dictionary online): a condition of impaired health reported especially in the Russian medical literature that is characterised by headaches, anxiety, sleep disturbances, fatigue, and difficulty concentrating and by changes in the cardiovascular and central nervous systems and that is held to be caused by prolonged exposure to low-intensity microwave radiation.

Even the World Health Organization (WHO) classified wireless as a possible carcinogen in 2011. Are you aware that insurance companies will not provide coverage against EMF risks?

The Telecom Industry is a 17 trillion dollar network pumping out pretty aggressive frequencies with zero dollars spent for safety - they won't measure for anything but thermal effects, despite over 10,000 peer-reviewed scientific studies, including from NASA and our military, showing biological damage - after all, 5G is currently a military weapon and used for crowd control.

Do you remember the CIA recently stating that embassy workers in Cuba were attacked by a microwave weapon, and developed neurological problems: headaches, dizziness, nausea. And 60-Minutes did another episode talking about this also happening in the Chinese embassy where State workers reported the same thing.

Has government ever approved anything else before that has caused harm? How about cigarettes, asbestos, etc.? What does the FCC have to gain by approving levels that are not safe for people? Can bought-and-paid-for science really happen? Most people don't want to believe that's true.

But did you know the Harvard Ethics Department did a report called How the FCC Is Dominated by the Industries It Is Presumably Regulating? The FCC is chaired by a former Verizon attorney. Aren't we basically asking the wireless industry to regulate itself by putting the FCC in charge?! Does the FCC even have a health department?! They do have lots of money, and spent 92 million dollars for lobbying last year. Isn't this putting business priorities over people priorities?

The microwave radiation waves created by 5G will be more concentrated in the skin and the eyes. The Telecom industry still has 1.9 billion dollars worth of lawsuits regarding cell phones causing brain tumors they haven't settled. They are still dragging out Murray vs. Motorola in the courts for 17 years now! If you're harming people, and it continues, isn't that a Criminal Offense? Shouldn't we handle it that way?

IOT and the connectivity of all smart devices: smart phones, smart television, smart cars, etc. They are smart because they are gathering data on what you are doing, watching, what you are saying, who you are speaking with, when you are doing it, why you are doing it and basically having that data mined about people. This is Artificial Intelligence (AI) completely running the show.

There is zero coverage in MainStreamMedia of 5G. It's only independent media keeping up with 5G. What do you notice today outside of the Artificial Intelligence (AI) programming that is just everywhere; you see all this messaging about Climate Change. It's constant. It's in every movie, it's on TV, every little thing they're going to blame on climate change. They are talking about humans as though they are the virus.

What this really comes down to is there are deep connections between the same powerful groups and families that have already accumulated the world's resources; the same people who ran big oil are the same people now behind climate change.

THE PROTOCOLS OF THE LEARNED ELDERS OF ZION

These protocols give the substance of addresses delivered to the innermost circle of the Rulers of Zion. They reveal the concerted plan of action of the Jewish Nation developed through the ages. The claim of the Jews that the Protocols are forgeries is in itself an admission of their genuineness, they never answer the facts corresponding to the threats they contain. Henry Ford said, they fitted the world situation then in the 1920s and they fit it NOW!

We have to learn to discern between the fear that is trying to manipulate us vs. the fear we really need to be able to face and do something about. They're having you look at the fight about Trump, rather than the real issue: 5G!

Convenience....?

WE are tempted with gadgets that seem to make our lives more convenient. For those that want the 'convenience' of the Internet Of Things (IOT), and are willing to accept three risks, even to their children, pets and other forms of life, fine, Let them have it.

But what right do 'they' have to force it on those that don't want IOT...?! And hasn't this industry encouraged addiction to cell phones and Wi-fi?

It will be made more and more convenient to get along with these technologies. More and more jobs will be for you to depend on Facebook, to participate in these technologies. Every step you make will be monetized, to where Data is the new 'oil.' Some people are going to make incredible fortunes arising from this new economy.

We need to be aware of how we are being engineered to accept this new 'normal,' where people no longer have rights. Who is it that wants an autonomous vehicle? Anybody you know? Isn't it those wanting to make money from its sales that are pushing it? Considering the accidents that have already happened with them, how can they ever be trusted to be safe?

Who Is Going to Accept Responsibility?

It's time to place the burden of responsibility for the damage that is already happening where it belongs: on those who stand to profit from the deployment of 5G. And especially the harm done to our precious children and to our pets, trees, birds and bees.

The microwave radiation waves created by 5G will be more concentrated in the skin and the eyes. Short term exposure can have adverse physiological effects in the nervous system, the immune system and the cardiovascular system. Long-term exposure may pose health risks to the skin, the eyes and the testes (resulting in sterility).

Safe and Better Alternatives:

If it's speed they're looking for, fibre optics is 10,000 times faster than wireless, it's more cyber secure, more private, and can carry a tremendous amount of data. In cases of emergency, these wireless systems go down — and they cannot run without power like Land Lines or Fiber Optics can. No hospital, bank or police station is going to depend on a wireless system, — they are wired!

A wires connection is safer, faster and more secure. Wireless is an inferior technology, this is an issue of industry directing government, rather than government directing industry with what's best for the public.

What You Can/Should Do:

There is an International Appeal to stop 5G on earth and in space. Over 100,000 people, including hundreds of doctors and organizations from 170 countries have already signed the appeal. It says in part:

If the telecommunications industry's plans for 5G come to fruition, no person, no animal, no bird, no insect, and no plant on earth will be able to avoid exposure, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, to levels of RF radiation that are tens of hundreds of times greater than what exists today, without any possibility of escape anywhere on the planet. These 5G plans threaten to provoke serious, irreversible effects on humans and permanent damage to all of the earth's ecosystems.

There is no one holding a gun to us, making us use this technology. It's being presented/sold as a matter of convenience but the reality is we are actually allowing this to happen because of our lack of awareness of what's going on and a lack of connectivity with each other.

The big issue about all this wireless technology is that we cannot detect the threat - you can't see, feel, hear or smell it. Young children want a smart phone because they don't know it's not good for them. We need to start educating our children about this to be responsible themselves, because they are the ones that will suffer much more than adults will. We have to protect our children. You can't put wireless networks inside grade schools! or put wireless towers next to a school.

The FCC passed a rule, not a law, that says local governments no longer have control over 5G rollouts. Local governments do control the right-of-way, and it's their responsibility to protect the health, safety and environment of the people they represent — and they can. Maybe we can help. There are law suits going on around the world to stop 5G. Let's educate our local officials and our communities. No one wants to stop technology — but we need to demand Safe Technology.

CORONA VIRUS

It Seems to Have Taken Over the "Dreaded" Measles Virus - Pun Intended by Dave Barley

It would seem that's all that needs to be said, because it is causing abject fear in most people. We are told to not worry, as they talk about the "pandemic" at nauseam, but our worries will soon be over because they will soon develop a vaccine that will save us all. That is truly scary.

More than a million people are infected world-wide, most of them reportedly live in China. They have been lying to us about this fiasco. Lying to us about this whole virus creation and how many have been infected including other viruses. When have we been able to trust the Chicom's? Do they have a track record of truthfulness? For that matter does our government and pharmaceutical industry? Hey, I think they all fail. As of this writing around 14 people have died in the United States. By the way, more have died from the regular type of flu and many more from plain car accidents in the same time frame. This disease hype is just hype. Our rulers love to keep us in fear.

Nonetheless, practicing hygiene will pay off. Don't sneeze on others, cover your mouth with your arm, not just your hands. Avoid Mexico, China, Vietnam, Korea, Taiwan, Philippines, etc. Well, you get the point. Most places in the USA (and Australia) are very safe, but you might not want to take a cruise at this time.

Has anyone heard of population control? Well, this is a form that is being unleashed upon various communities, and they are doing much more than simply monitoring this virus. Think about it. This is a man created virus like the swine flu, SARS, AIDS, or Ebola. We may be in for much more, but hundreds (worldwide, most of them from China) are dying and yes, I do believe animals are involved at first as a way of transmitting this virus. I simply do not accept the story they are telling us as prima facie evidence. Almost all vaccines are created out of animals being infected and animals are ultimately the general way in which disease is transmitted and humans are their Guinea pigs. Mixing and manipulating. Of course, their vaccines all contain animal cells, mercury, corrupt human and animal DNA, and other chemicals such as formaldehyde. The ultimate point is a serum of monstrous (truly scary) substances are being used and manipulated and this is PHARMACIA or SORCERY. Talk about a witch hunt. The Bible certainly told us the truth, but most of the people are not deeply investigating what God's Word is actually stating. Too many are looking on the surface and playing church. Listen to these verses:

"And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee; and the voice of the Bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee; for thy merchants were the great men of the earth; for by thy sorceries (Greek word: Pharmakia) were ALL nations deceived." Rev. 18:23.

Often we read in other verses about plagues and other things about these merchants: Rev. 16:1; 9-11; 17:1-18; 18:2-5; 8-9.

This is a man/government created virus, which some are now saying it came out of Canada, and there are many forms of speculation. It did not simply appear out of an animal or person, but was created to do what it has been doing. What must be done? It does seem that more are being isolated, but remember we are in Mystery Babylon not in a perfected Kingdom yet. Remember, many are involved in this fiasco. Immigration control in the extreme needs to be tighter.

Bible verses on quarantine: Leviticus 13:2-5, 31-33; 34-46; 14:8; 15:19; Numbers 5:2-3, 31:11-20; Deuteronomy 23:10-11; 2 Kings 7:3, 15:5; 2 Chronicles 26:21.

My job and our work is to God's Covenant Israel White people. We certainly should not be for a multicultural society and mixing our efforts which will only lead to mixed results. Yes, I understand that there are non-white people who are nice and have been helpful in many ways and some that even understand that the Israelites are white. God bless these people. But the answer is and will always be found in the Word of God and it is to Israel. Dare we look anywhere else? Shall we exercise some multiracial approach and somehow think we will receive a better result The Bible is unto Israel, and we must teach that.

The problem is when people try to be multicultural in their approach to the Bible and they get a corrupted vision and purpose. It is skewed to say the least. The Bible will straighten things out when it is correctly applied and it must be followed properly and in keeping with the Holy Master's desire. The world is mostly taking a blend-all, mix-all approach which is further distorted with Zionism. Let us not have such a view and perspective which is based upon what is humanistic Zionism. Such a view is the peoples' undoing because it is full of all things that are against the purposes of God's Kingdom and Creation. There is Right and there is Wrong!

DISOBEYING GOD'S FIRST CREATION ORDER TO MAN "BE FRUITFUL AND MULTIPLY"

By Ellen Meyers

Immediately after God created man in his own image and likeness, "God blessed them and said to them, 'Be fruitful and multiply; fill the earth and subdue it.'" (Genesis 1:28). This blessing and order were repeated after the Flood; "Then God blessed Noah and his sons, saying to them, 'Be fruitful and increase in number and fill the earth'" (Genesis 9:1). We read that "Sons are a heritage from the LORD, children a reward from Him. Like arrows in the hands of a warrior are sons born in one's youth. Blessed is the man whose quiver is full of them" (Psalm 127:3-5), and that "Blessed are all who fear the LORD, who walk in his ways. You will eat the fruit of your labour; blessings and prosperity will be yours. Your wife will be like a fruitful vine within your house; your sons will be like olive shoots around your table. Thus is the man blessed who fears the LORD" (Psalm 128:1-4). It is the burden of this paper that most people in the so-called Christian West have disobeyed God's first creation order/command to man, have despised His promised blessing attached to it, and will therefore be stripped of dominion and prosperity in favour of other people who have obeyed God's first creation command to man.

Factual and statistical information substantiating this charge comes from the well-researched article The Cost of Wholesale Contraception by James A. Miller. Miller reports that on May 9, 1960 the U.S. Food and Drug Administration approved the birth control pill as safe for contraceptive or birth control use. At the same time the Pill also began to be taken by Western European women. This marked the end of the baby boom and beginning of the disastrous Sixties. At first the Pill's effect was slow, but births began to decline from an all-time high of 4.3 million in 1957 by more than 16 percent in 1964. By 1965 the American birth rate had declined to 19.4 a level barely above the rate of the Great Depression. Birth rates kept declining till an all-time low of 14.6 in 1975. This decline took place, amazingly, amidst mounting propaganda for "zero population growth" spearheaded by Dr. Paul Ehrlich's 1968 book, The Population Bomb.

The first to feel the consequences of this demographic development were the maternity wards of hospitals, and next, the manufacturers of baby food such as the Gerber Products Company, which suffered a decline in sales for

On May 9, 1968, exactly eight years since the Pill was approved, the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists promulgated a new policy asking that "social and economic factors" be considered in allowing abortions. In 1970 the American Medical Association adopted a similar policy. Public demand for legalized abortions also arose to "contraceptive failure." Abortions in the USA now number an estimated one and a half million annually and may rise substantially as the administration removes legal barriers still left from previous administrations. Abortions around the world number around 55 million annually.

American elementary schools were next. From 1979 to 1982 children entering first grade were a million fewer each year. In 1985 there were nearly eight million fewer elementary school students than in 1969. This decline caused a surplus of elementary and intermediate school buildings and teachers.

Not only the Pill but sterilization chosen increasingly as the surest and permanent means of birth prevention (i.e. abortion before the fact) took its toll. In 1965, 73 percent of American husbands and wives aged 15 to 44 were able to have children; this total declined by 52.7 percent by 1982. At the same time, the share of wives or husbands who had been surgically sterilized climbed from 15.9 percent to 38.9 percent according to a study released in February 1985 by the US National Center of Health Statistics.²

Next the high schools were "Reeling from the birth dearth of the late 1960s and early 1970s." (American Demographics magazine). Colleges broadened admissions, lowered their retention standards, or else recruited overseas. The highly visible presence of many third world students on American college campuses today is largely due to this development.

The economy at large began to suffer as the absence of millions of customers, contracepted or aborted out of existence took effect. Consider especially the declining need for new housing, which is the place setter for the rest of the economy. Experts predict that total new housing starts including rental apartments, which already dropped from 1.75 million units in the 1970s to 1.5 million in the 1980s, will fall to about 1.1 million by the mid 90s. This situation may continue well into the net century and be relieved only by immigration. Incidentally, housing built since the 1960s reinforces the birth dearth cycle by making little if any provision for large families. Today the rare Christian couples obeying God's creation command to be fruitful and multiply must almost invariably do with old obsolescent housing in decaying neighbourhoods to shelter their children.

As is becoming well known, contraception and abortion threaten the Social Security systems in the West. The ratio of workers to retired persons is expected to drop from 4-1 now to about 2-1 soon. Miller writes that "The only visible answer is young, tax-paying immigrants." As to Europe, it is slowly vanishing. In nation after nation, the number of births occurring annually has already fallen below the number of deaths. Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Great Britain and Hungary slipped into natural population decrease during much of the 80s.

Some of the lowest fertility rates ever registered in all human history - about 1.3 children per woman, more than 40 percent below the zero-growth rate - have been registered in such "Catholic" countries as Italy and Spain. The fertility rate for Europe as a whole has been running about 1.6. Recent demographic projections have put Western Europe's population in 2050 at a hundred million fewer persons. High social disruptions are already occurring as millions of immigrants from Africa and the Middle East flood the emptying continent next to them.

The same inexorable logic applies in the US throughout the developed world. People from healthy birth rate nations are being recruited into below replacement nations. Throughout the industrialized world, Xenophobia is appearing along with these: an economy going sour, families breaking, sexual diseases rampant, abortions rising.

In what can only be called an addiction to the Pill, nation after nation is literally losing the will to reproduce and survive. Miller's sobering report ends here. Add to it that in Europe many of the immigrants are Muslims who in some instances are buying unused empty formerly Christian churches to transform them into mosques and demand that Muslim law (the Sharia) replace the law of the country in districts where they have become a majority (it has happened in England.). Their leaders are well supplied with financial resources for expansion and proselytizing by oil-rich Arab governments. If this development continues, it will mean a rude chastening for the vast majority of European secular materialists and severe persecution like in most Islamic countries today, for the small Bible believing Christian minority.

Now the Muslim people did obey God's first creation order to be fruitful and multiply, and this is why Islam is the world's fastest growing religion today. It is estimated that Muslims will number 1.9 billion people, or 25 percent of all humanity, by the year 2020. Europeans, on the other hand, including European Christians, did not even replace themselves. Thus the Muslim people may accomplish the hegemony of Europe in the 21st century which they failed to obtain by war five hundred year ago. As to the United States, Hispanic immigrants may well recover by sheer population pressure the American South-West wrested from Mexico a hundred year ago.

Disobedience of God's first creation command to be fruitful, multiply and fill the earth characterizes the overwhelming majority of Western Christians. Not God their Creator and Lord, but the wealth and wisdom of this world is evidently first and foremost in their minds when it comes to having children. This materialistic attitude prevails in almost all churches as well. No sermons are being preached about God's first creation commandment, nor about the clear implication of Roman 12:1, which entreats Christian believers to "present your whole bodies as living sacrifices, holy and pleasing to God, which is your reasonable (or spiritual service)." We are not obeying this Biblical, New Testament call when we withhold our bodies reproductive capacity from our Lord. Yes, some dear couples cannot have children or not as many as they would like, for child-bearing is a gift from God's hands (Genesis 16:2, 21:1-2.

SO, YOU CALL YOURSELF A CHRISTIAN. . . .

Robert Alan Balacius

What makes a Christian a Christian? What makes God, God? Did God ever abolish His Law? What moral standards does God require His People to follow? Does it matter what we eat? What did Peter's vision really mean? Can God ever change His nature? Can God ever change His Word? Is a Christian really a Christian if he doesn't bear the fruit - live the life - Christ commanded? Who will survive the Great Tribulation?

25:21, 30:2, 1 Samuel 1:19, Luke 1:25, 36:-37, etc) With others one spouse yearns for more children while the other is adamantly opposed; the Lord knows their thoughts and innermost hearts (Psalm 139:1-4) Many Christian couples, like their non-Christian contemporaries, were voluntarily sterilized in the 1970s and 1980s. Now a few of them, persuaded of the unbiblical nature of this step, obtain reversals and rejoice in more children.

All this is in stark contrast to the Russian Christians persecuted under communism. Through most of the 1980s this writer sent letters of encouragement to hundreds of Russian Christians imprisoned in the Gulag for their faith, and to their families. Amazingly, most of them had many children (five, six, seven and more were quite common). This is a shining testimony to their obedience and trust in the Lord, and it is one important reason why Christianity persevered through seventy years of merciless suppression. It is doubtless also a reason why our Lord has now rewarded them with religious liberty actually greater than in the United States! They can pray, read and be taught the Bible, and study scientific evidences against evolution and for creation in their schools, universities and over their public television stations; in supposedly Christian America we cannot.

The idea that the world is facing a population explosion threatening our environment and /or food supply has been advanced since the late 1960s when the decreasing birth rate in the West was already well under way. Numerous well-informed researchers have refuted this idea with solid facts. On the alleged population explosion, consult especially the masterful book by Princeton professor Julian Simon, The Ultimate Resource (Princeton University Press); which documents the blessing and indeed necessity of population growth for the economy. Professor Simon is not a Bible believer, yet his work confirms the benefit of obedience to God's first creation command to man. Another excellent resource book is Humboldt State University professor Jacqueline Kusun's The War Against Population (Ignatius Press). An older but still most informative classic in this field is Dr. Colin Clark's Starvation or Plenty (New York: Taplinger, 1970); documenting that by using the agricultural methods practised in the Netherlands in 1970 a world population of 35.1 Billion (seven times the present population) could be fed at a very high living standard (pp. 157-158). For recent information of alleged hurt to the environment, see the book by Dixy Lee Ray, Trashing the Planet; Ellen Myers "Population Resources and Ecology - A Bibliographical Essay." Creation Social Science and Humanics Quarterly, v1:4 (Summer 1984), Carl E. Bruce. "Environmentalism - Leading Mankind Down the Garden Path." Creation Social Science and Humanics Quarterly, XIV:4 (Summer 1992); or contact the organization Committee for a Constructive Tomorrow, PO Box 65722, Washington DC 20035.

God's very first commandment to man recorded in the Bible tells us to be fruitful and multiply and fill the earth and have dominion over it. It came to us with God's blessings and children are His reward (Psalm 127 and 128). We have not fulfilled it; nor has it been superseded by the lying doomsday prophecies of God's and man's enemies, ultimately inspired by adversaries (Ephesians 6:12). People

The Key to Sanity

You are living in a totalitarian State, but this State is so totalitarian that it doesn't just control your home, school, church, family and income. It controls your attitude and your opinions. It was constructed through radio, TV, newspapers, and magazines, which became the substitute for Bible reading between WW1 and WW11 How did a "free people" who championed democracy" wind up in a government that could totally regiment them?

who will not be fruitful and multiply will sooner or later lose their dominion over the land they occupy to other people who do obey God's first creation order. Last, but not least, we Western Christians, unlike our persecuted brothers in the east, have almost wholly exchanged faithful obedience to God in the matter of having children for the materialistic wisdom, wealth and comfort of this present godless world. As God blessed our brothers in the East for their sacrificial obedience, so He will punish us for our disobedience to this. His first creation order to man.

LOCKDOWN: WHAT IS HAPPENING?

by Lawrence Blanchard

Massive, unprecedented changes are taking place in our country and around the world, as you know. These changes, driven by governments (National, state and local) and media outlets, have successfully created fear, panic and uncertainty about what is happening and what is coming next. My intention is to offer some insight and perspective in this and subsequent articles on the situation upon us, for what it's worth.

THEORIES

You may be aware of the many theories out there that lend an alternative view of what is going on behind the massive and ever-increasing restrictions to our lives such as recommendations of self-quarantine limited to small group gatherings (now 10 people or less - Germany restricts to 2), "social distancing," restaurants either closing or limited to "take-out" only, curfews, restricted travel, and so forth. Our world as we knew it has radically and swiftly changed and nothing will be the same again. Is it all because of this "Invisible enemy" labelled the Corona Virus "Pandemic" or is something going on behind the scenes that we are not aware of? Theories abound.

Q

One popular theory is Q or Q Anon. This theory purports that there is a secretive agenda and plan among certain patriots, including President Trump, to take down thousands of "bad actors" involved with "crimes against humanity" involved with pedophilia, child trafficking and ritual murder, among others. The Corona Virus Pandemic is a cover to make arrests and indict at least 13,000 people worldwide. Already, this theory claims many arrests have taken place. For example, Tom Hanks and his wife were purportedly arrested recently for pedophilia crimes under the guise that they tested positive for the "virus" and were quarantined in an Australian hospital for 14 days. Apparently they were to be extradited to the United States. I read they have been released from the hospital. Is he still under arrest awaiting extradition? Anyway the Q informer claims a lot of good things are going on behind the scenes, but I have no way to verify anything. I need hard evidence. Otherwise, it is all just speculation to me and requires implicit faith to believe, I am not willing to go there. My opinion here is not in any way intended to invalidate anyone who has a sincere belief about Q.

Q and Biblical Theology

Let's assume for a moment that Q is, in fact, real. Let's assume that the operatives of the "deep state" are being taken down behind the scenes away from the public eye. Will the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob use this admirable cause to restore liberty and peace based of law and justice? I would love to see things change for the better. We must however, step back and think about some of the reasons why we have, for decades, experienced God's judgement on our People in all their historic lands.

Let me mention a few:

1. We have welcomed and promoted the mixing with other races and racial subtypes at every level.

I read one Q report that said that no matter what your race or creed, we are all in this together and for the sake of the "human race" we must continue the fight. Human race? Do we really think God is going to honor that abominable, unbiblical concept? Q is bypassing the central unalterable Biblical truth O God's holy (separate) Covenant Race for whom Jesus the Christ shed His blood. No. There can be no compromise here. There will be no victory.

2. We have welcomed and promoted the lie that the "Jews" are in fact biblical Israel = the chosen people of God. Q doesn't mention to my knowledge, that Jews, and especially those who follow the rabbinic teachings of the Talmud, are those who hate Jesus the Christ and God's true Covenant people. Does Q address the destructive doctrines of "Christian" Zionist churches who love those who hate us? Will God compromise this false teaching and "overlook it for now" so we can return to a lawful government? No The God of the Bible will not remain silent until the truth is proclaimed about the Jews and the fact that they are significantly behind the wickedness we are experiencing.

Of course, many fear being labeled as "racist" and "anti-Semitic," but we must not be moved away from these issues for a "hope" that Q is going to rescue us.

What is the answer, then, to the present crisis? Here is my answer. We must rebuild through knowledge and understanding about what the Bible actually says and means. Biblical truth will help us discover what God has ordained as His way of restoring the foundations. This must be accomplished through the local church assemblies of His Covenant People.

This is the reason I have written the books in the Covenant Heritage Series (www.yourbiblicalheritage.com/covenant-heritage-series.html) and developed the Bible Mastery Boot Camp. (www.yourbiblicalheritage.com/bible-master-boot-camp.html). They are tools you can share with others and rebuild.

The System

Apart from the theories out there, I do know one thing, "the system" particularly in the national and global economy realm was set up to fail over a century ago. As I explained in the first section of my latest book, The Kingdom of God Manifested, (www.yourbiblicalheritage.com/the-kingdom-of-god-manifested-book-seven.htm;) the financial/banking world system was designed to subjugate and control all the people. I discuss the history of the development of this false money system and arrived at the conclusion that, within this system, no hope of its defeat. It overrides everything else, no matter what you may hear, see, believe, or vote for. But, then again, the Covenant-keeping God of our fathers has revealed the solution to defeat the powers of darkness. That's Section Two of the book.

I will continue the subject matter of the Lockdown soon.

SO, WHAT'S WRONG WITH OUR FOOD TODAY

At the turn of the 21st century there are many foods that have been devalued, altered or contaminated by man. This is the result of modern farming and processing techniques by over processing, over refining (e.g. white bread, white rice, white sugar, white salt, etc) and the use of agricultural chemical fertilizers, i.e. nitrates, superphosphate, herbicides, pesticides, fungicides. Then there is the addition of chemical fillers, enhancers, artificial dyes and sweeteners, emulsifiers, bleaches, preservatives, solvents, pollution of our air via transport and industrial fuels and our water via fluoridation and chlorination. In the year 2005 there were over 100,000 synthetic chemicals permitted for use in Europe alone. In today's lifestyle many people are busy, tired, stressed and sedentary. the end result - people are facing enormous problems with their health.

God's instruction in Leviticus 25:3-5 was to rest our crop pastures every seven years. This practice allowed the soil to regenerate and restore a good balance of minerals. The rotation of crops was also beneficial to establishing nutritional soils. In our society these two practices are seldom undertaken today. If we have healthy soils, then in turn our plants will contain life-giving nutrients and be disease resistant. The same applies to the human body - eating healthy foods produces a healthy body.

Another change in our eating habits came about when refrigeration became available to the general population in the mid-20th century, this brought about an increased consumption of animal foods. Meat lacks the plant nutrients to combat disease and to build the immune system. Few people realize our farm animals are injected with growth hormones and antibiotics, these substances are eventually deposited into their flesh and milk and subsequently pass on to humans. Our bodies are able to cope well with 'small' amounts of animal meat and 'small' amounts of animal milk and its by-products e.g. yoghurt, cheese etc... However, if we regularly eat a considerable amount of the animal foods and limit vegetables, salad item, fruits, uncooked nuts, seeds and whole grains, the consequences of incorrect eating could well be illness and disease.

A new form of food production is Genetically Modified (GM) plants, the results of which are still being evaluated and the benefits are highly questionable - are they really needed at all? Genetic Engineering (GE) involves the removal of a specific gene from one plant and inserting it into another totally unrelated plant, this crossbreeding would never occur in nature, nor are these plants as God designed them. Recent observations have shown that many bee colonies have been wiped out, why, they will not feed from G.E. plants. We need bees to pollinate our plants.

Also, today there is little water, this has been replaced with a variety of sugary or chemically sweetened soft drinks (check your labels for the amount of sugar in everything, it will shock you!) Black tea (not herbal teas) and coffee are diuretics, so the body actually loses more water than it takes in. Water is the best self-defense against illness as it maintains an alkaline bloodstream, keeps the body hydrated, maintains a good blood volume, increases circulation by thinning the blood, enabling it to carry life giving nutrients to all living cells and transports waste matter from the body. Water is also the main component of blood plasma and carries oxygen to the body's cells to provide heat and energy. (Adults should drink between 2 to 3 liters of water per 24 hours)

In addition to all these things is the negative effect of long-term cold storage of our fruit and vegetables, this storage diminishes their nourishing vitamin/mineral content, in some cases significantly. It may be months before we consume these foods, yet they are sold as 'fresh' foods.

Ill health is affecting the lives of Christians and non-Christians alike in similar proportion, even though Christians have prayer and dozens of healing verses in the Bible to claim - see Exodus 15:26, Psalms 103:3, Isa

Isaiah 40:31, Matthew 8:17.

We always seem to hear about the Aboriginal stolen generations but never "The White Stolen Generations," which was much larger than the Aboriginal babies taken from their mothers.

Did you know that in Australia there is another stolen generation, one which shares the pain and consequences? It's called the "white stolen generation" to distinguish it from the Aboriginal stolen generation.

In the five decades up to 1982, the newborn babies of young single women were forcibly removed from them for adoption, a practice sometimes called 'baby farming'.

Mothers were drugged, tethered to beds, not allowed to see their babies, told they were dead. Many of these adoptions occurred after the mothers were sent away by their families due to the stigma associated with being pregnant and unmarried.

More than 250,000 white mothers lost their babies to forcible removal at birth by these past illegal adoption practices. Groups such as Adoption Loss Adult Support and Apology Alliance offer help and support.

Between 2010 and 2012 apologies were offered by Western Australia, South Australia, ACT, New South Wales, Victoria and Tasmania. Prime Minister Julia Gillard offered a national apology to these affected by forced adoptions in 2013.

IN 1947, THE AUSTRALIAN POPULATION WAS JUST 7.5 MILLION;

It Was Ninety Percent White

The Preamble of the Constitution is meant to reflect the reality and the character of a nation. But in today's politically correct Australia there is one reality and character that cannot be discussed - this WHITE AUSTRALIA. It is true that Aborigines were here before the white man but it is also true that the white man built Australia into what it is today.

A more specific truth is that those people that built Australia were not immigrants, they were Anglo Celts, they were the British race. Paul Sheehan in Among the Barbarians, stated it as follows:

"The half century 1947 -1997 saw a social revolution in Australia that was bloodless, democratic and open-minded. In 1947, the Australian population was just 7.5 million; it was ninety percent Anglo-Celtic; it was ninety nine percent European; the Aboriginal and Asian population were less than one percent of the overall population; public policy still enshrined White Australia, which had helped define the nation since independence; links with Asia were minimal; the British Privy Council was still the ultimate court of appeal. Aborigines did not have citizenship, and had barely any role in society (emphasis added)." (P.39).

So the simple fact: until after the Second World War Australia of essentially totally British stock, the culture was English and the relevant civilization was Anglo-Saxon. The political system was the English Westminster System, the law of the country was the English common law and the religion was Christianity. As Paul Sheehan makes clear this had been the case from 1788 until very recent years.

This is a truth. If it is true to say that the trees belonged to the Aborigines it is equally true to say that everything that the eye could see in 1950, that had been built by a single culture and a single race. But this is one truth that cannot be placed in the preamble. No, it is not racist to say that the Aborigines were here first. It is only racist to declare in the Constitution the name of the people whose ingenuity and hard work built the country.
