"GATES' GLOBALIST VACCINE AGENDA:

A WIN-WIN FOR PHARMA AND MANDATORY VACCINATION"

Posted on April 20, 2020 by Ben Williams

Robert F. Kennedy Jr., Chairman, Children's Health Defense – April 09, 2020

Vaccines, for Bill Gates, are a strategic philanthropy that feed his many vaccine-related businesses (including Microsoft's ambition to control a global vaccination ID enterprise) and give him dictatorial control of global health policy.

Promising his share of $450 million, of the $1.2 billion to eradicate polio, Gates took control of India's National Technical Advisory Group on Immunization (NTAGI), which mandated up to 50 doses (Table 1) of polio vaccines through overlapping immunization programs to children before the age of five. Indian doctors blame the Gates campaign for a devastating non-polio acute flaccid paralysis (NPAFP) epidemic that paralyzed 490,000 children beyond expected rates between 2000 and 2017. In 2017, the Indian government dialed back Gates' vaccine regimen and asked Gates and his vaccine policies to leave India. NPAFP rates dropped precipitously.

In 2017, the World Health Organization (WHO) reluctantly admitted that the global explosion in polio is predominantly a vaccine strain. The most frightening epidemics in Congo, Afghanistan, and the Philippines, are all linked to vaccines. In fact, by 2018, 70% of global polio cases were vaccine strain.

In 2009, the Gates Foundation funded tests of experimental HPV vaccines, developed by Glaxo Smith Kline (GSK) and Merck, on 23,000 young girls in remote Indian provinces. Approximately 1,200 suffered severe side effects, including autoimmune and fertility disorders. Seven died. Indian government investigations charged that Gates-funded researchers committed pervasive ethical violations: pressuring vulnerable village girls into the trial, bullying parents, forging consent forms, and refusing medical care to the injured girls. The case is now in the country's Supreme Court.

South African newspapers complained, 'We are guinea pigs for the drug makers.'

In 2010, the Gates Foundation funded a phase 3 trial of GSK's experimental malaria vaccine, killing 151 African infants and causing serious adverse effects, including paralysis, seizure, and febrile convulsions, to 1,048 of the 5,949 children.

During Gates' 2002 MenAfriVac campaign in Sub-Saharan Africa, Gates' operatives forcibly vaccinated thousands of African children against meningitis. Approximately 50 of the 500 children vaccinated developed paralysis. South African newspapers complained, "We are guinea pigs for the drug makers." Nelson Mandela's former senior economist, Professor Patrick Bond, describes Gates' philanthropic practices as "ruthless and immoral."

In 2010, when Gates committed $10 billion to the WHO, he said "We must make this the decade of vaccines." A month later, Gates said in a TED Talk that new vaccines "could reduce the population." And, four years later, in 2014, Kenya's Catholic Doctors Association accused the WHO of chemically sterilizing millions of unwilling Kenyan women with a "tetanus" vaccine campaign. Independent labs found a sterility formula in every vaccine tested. After denying the charges, WHO finally admitted it had been developing the sterility vaccines for over a decade. Similar accusations came from Tanzania, Nicaragua, Mexico, and the Philippines.

A 2017 study (Morgenson et. al. 2017) showed that WHO's popular DTP vaccine is killing more African children than the diseases it prevents. DTP-vaccinated girls suffered 10x the death rate of children who had not yet received the vaccine. WHO has refused to recall the lethal vaccine, which it forces upon tens of millions of African children annually.

Global public health advocates around the world accuse Gates of steering WHO's agenda away from the projects that are proven to curb infectious diseases: clean water, hygiene, nutrition, and economic development. The Gates Foundation spends only about $650 million of its $5 billion dollar budget on these areas. They say he has diverted agency resources to serve his personal philosophy that good health only comes in a syringe.

In addition to using his philanthropy to control WHO, UNICEF, GAVI, and PATH, Gates funds a private pharmaceutical company that manufactures vaccines and is donating $50 million to 12 pharmaceutical companies to speed up development of a coronavirus vaccine. In his recent media appearances, Gates appears confident that the Covid-19 crisis will now give him the opportunity to force his dictatorial vaccine programs on all American children – and adults.

COOKING THE COVID BOOKS

Posted on April 24, 2020 by
Ben Williams –

All indications are that the COVID-19 pandemic is a complete fraud. The virus may actually exist, but the “pandemic” is fabricated. Yes, there are deaths. But deaths ALWAYS increase in the winter, particularly among the elderly who are hospitalized or in rest homes due to long term illnesses and compromised immune systems. It appears that the hospitals and doctors are cooking the books to make it look like these typical deaths are from COVID rather than ordinary diseases.

Here are some statistics found in CDC charts.

In March-April of 2020 we see a huge drop off (about 50%) of pneumonia and influenza-related deaths. At the same time a sudden explosion of COVID-19 deaths are reported.

This appears to be a result of doctors taking death numbers away from pneumonia and influenza reports and re-classifying them as COVID-19. Yes, the doctors are literally forging death certificates by reclassifying flu and pneumonia deaths to say they died from COVID-19. Why would they do this? Because they are directed to do so by their superiors whose hospitals receive more government funding for COVID cases.

The result? The reporting of pneumonia, influenza, and usual winter deaths declined, and deaths attributed to COVID-19 suspiciously rose. One of Bill Gates favored books is How to Lie with Statistics.

Mis-coding regular death cases to COVID-19 cases was due to financial incentives offered to hospitals and doctors to do so. The CDC-issued billing coding for hospitals literally bribes doctors and hospitals to up-code normal pneumonia cases to COVID-19 cases to be reimbursed at a 3-fold higher rate ($13,000 to $39,000)?

Isn't it amazing how blatant liars and conmen can feed off gullible people? You simply cannot believe anything you see or read from the mainstream news media. Sadly, most people cannot accept the fact that devils have been allowed to occupy every major position of mass information and influence. It is the result of the common people for too long not being vigilant and responsible.

Thank God for the remnant who, while not noticed by the sleeping masses, are nonetheless awake and not falling for the hucksters and con-men.

IT'S NOT ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

What's Really Going On with the Economic Lockdowns?

Posted on April 26, 2020 by Ben Williams

Jim Holt – 4/24/2020

When the State tells you it's safe to go to Home Depot to buy a sponge but dangerous to go and buy a flower, it's not about your health.

When the State shuts down millions of private businesses but doesn't lay off a single government employee, it's not about your health.

When the State bans dentists because it's unsafe, but deems an abortion visit is safe, it's not about your health.

When the State prevents you from buying cucumber seeds because it's dangerous, but allows personal lottery ticket sales, it's not about your health.

When the State shuts down barber shops and salons because it's dangerous, but the Governor can get his stage make-up done, and hair done for 5 TV appearances a week, it's not about your health.

When the state puts you IN a jail cell for walking in a park with your child because it's too dangerous, but lets criminals OUT of jail cells for their health - It's not about YOUR health!

When the state tells you it's too dangerous to get treated by a doctor for chiropractic or physical therapy treatments yet deems a liquor store essential - It's not about your health!

When the State lets you go to the grocery store or hardware store but is demanding mail-in voting, IT'S NOT ABOUT OUR HEALTH.

WAKE UP PEOPLE — If you think this is all about your health you're mistaken! Please open your eyes! Stop being led like blind sheep.

THIS EXPLAINS A LOT.

Most Deaths Listed As COVID-19 Have Been In Nursing Homes Or Elderly People With Other Deadly Health Problems

Posted on May 13, 2020 by Ben Williams

As of Wednesday April 8th, 43 residents of the Life Care Center in Kirkland, Washington had died of coronavirus in the first deadly coronavirus outbreak in the United States.

Another 39 residents died at Canterbury Rehabilitation & Healthcare Center in Virginia also perished from the disease.

43% of New Jersey deaths involve nursing homes.

In Minnesota 71% of the deaths are in nursing homes.

UK did this too, and thousands of care home patients have died – blamed on COVID-19 when in fact many of the deaths were caused by malpractice and/or neglect.

This is the same policy they used in Italy!

Plus, the tests for COVID are wildly inaccurate and therefore mean nothing. But hospitals and nursing homes have been instructed to list COVID-19 as the cause of death regardless of the real cause of death. Hospitals are compensated by receiving $19,000 for each patient they list as COVID, and $38,000 for each patient placed on a respirator machine (experts confirm that the respirators are killing sick people). Hospitals are going broke due to the shut-down and due to the lack of patients. They happily comply and falsify their records to say "COVID" for patients so the hospital can receive needed money from the government.

People who have taken a flu shot in the past are likely to test positive. Millions of people have a corona virus in their system from past flu and cold infections (most of which are corona-type viruses), to which they have developed immunity. They can test positive (false positive). Especially vulnerable are the elderly in nursing homes or those who have been in hospital care recently and have been plied with all sorts of vaccines including flu and pneumonia vaccines which further compromise their immunity and health. They are set up to catch communicable diseases that comes around.

CHEAP FOOD IS AN ILLUSION

by Jorg Mardian

Food seems simple. Farmers and ranchers grow it. Grocery stores sell it. You eat it. But the truth is far more complex, far more corrupt, and far more toxic to your health.

Growing, selling and eating food changed in a big way in 1933. That is when the federal government began intervening in food commodity markets with the New Deal and the Agricultural Adjustment Act. Since then, the government has manipulated simple supply and demand in an attempt to stabilize crop prices and farmer's incomes and to provide consumers with an affordable, reliable supply of food.

But in providing these subsidies the government has entangled itself in a brier patch of complex effects and special interests such as agribusiness monopolies. Through their relationship with politicians, lobbyists for these giant entities wield enormous power in controlling markets and influencing food and agricultural regulations.

What have been the effects? Agribusiness monopolies have surged, expanded and multiplied. Meanwhile, nonindustrial, smaller farms have folded up: junk food has filled the aisles; and we are suffering a pandemic of obesity and other diseases.

Its Not About Supply and Demand

Farm subsidies may seem like a nice thing if you picture a happy Midwestern farm family receiving a modest supplement to their modest income. That is not what is happening. These subsidies are actually largely a form of wasteful corporate welfare.

Between 1995 and 2012, $285 billion taxpayer dollars were spent on commodity subsidies. Almost 70 percent of that was spent on five crops: corn, cotton, wheat, rice, and soybeans.

More than 85 percent of these subsidies go toward the largest 15 percent of farm operations and the richest farmers and landowners. Small farms growing fruits and vegetables are generally excluded from these programs, which are approved and defended by congressional agricultural committees.

Farm subsidies persist not because of supply and demand or the best interests of small farms or of consumers, but because of government involvement and political power. Food has become an industry - an industry polluted with herds of lobbyists, political pandering and inside deals. Farm and insurance lobbies spend tens of millions of dollars supporting congressional, political campaigns, and then heavily influencing Congress when their candidates are elected.

The resulting policies have provided financial benefits to large agricultural corporations and have actually encouraged unethical behaviour along with factory farming, monoculture and the slow-strangulation of family-owned farms.

You Are Subsidizing Twinkies

Agribusinesses are using your tax dollars to increase their size and their power, and to pay lobbyists who will influence politicians, who will send them even more tax dollars. At the same time, these corporations are producing unhealthy junk foods for you to eat. And, because they receive your tax money, they can make their junk food cheap to buy compared to nutritious - but unsubsidized - foods like fruits and vegetables.

According to the California Public Research Interest Group the government has given out nearly $300 Billion in agricultural subsidies since 1995. Most of that sum has subsidized crops that are processed as junk food ingredients.

"[T]he money spent on junk food subsidies since 1995 is enough to buy nearly 52 billion Twinkies, which, if laid out end to end, could encircle the globe 132 times,"(???) reported the Huffinton Post. "The recently re-released Twinkie is made with 17 taxpayer-subsidized ingredients, including corn starch, corn syrup and vegetable shortening" (July 16, 2013).

In 2016, the inflation-adjusted price of fresh produce increased by 40 percent, while the price of processed food decreased by as much as 30 percent. That means it is much cheaper to buy a burger, fries and a soda from a fast-food chain than to buy grass-fed beef and veggies and grill your own dinner.

Thanks to market manipulation, prepackaged snacks, ready-to-eat meals, fast food, soft drinks, corn-fed beef and others are not only more convenient, they are cheaper. Fast food restaurants like McDonald's are actually lowering their prices.

Tasty, Cheap, Convenient—and Lethal

The result is, people are killing themselves one bite at a time. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, seven of the top 10 causes of death are chronic diseases. Heart disease and cancer account for nearly half of all deaths.

It may seem like your $4.99 meal deal only costs you $4.99, but it costs you a lot more than that. The cumulative price you are paying over your lifetime could hardly be higher.

"Cheap food is an illusion," author Michal Pollan said in the documentary Fresh. "There is no such thing as cheap food. The real cost of the food is paid somewhere. And if it isn't paid at the cash register, it's charged to the environment or to the public purse in the form of subsidies. And it's charged to your health.”

The federal government now finds itself in the position of moving mountains of cash for the ultimate purpose of getting consumers to eat junk food on the cheap. The world of cheap food you see around you is not normal. To avoid unhealthy food produced by a corrupt system, you have to use more than just a little discernment. It is a battle!

See past the illusion. It takes more work. But when you find yourself and your children healthy and happy in a sea of heart disease and cancer patients, you will know it was worth it. Buy organic if you can!

THE BOOK OF ENOCH

by Ken Lent

(evidence is presented that the 'Book of Enoch' was never written by Enoch of Genesis chapter 8)

What do we make of a few similarities between the Bible and the Book of Enoch? Can we count on the book of Enoch for sound doctrine? There are those who cite Jude 14 & 15 in our New Testament, where the same quote is found in Enoch 2:1.

“14 And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the LORD cometh with ten thousands of his saints, 15 to execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against Him.”

Does this mean that Jude quoted from the book of Enoch and that Jude considered the book of Enoch to be inspired Scripture? No, it does not. All it means is that in the ancient world the “real Enoch” was known for having said this. Whoever wrote the book of Enoch quoted this statement from Enoch, and so did Jude. They simply both used a common source, either an oral source or a written one still buried in the middle east sands. There is no implication that Jude took this quote from the book of Enoch, nor that Jude had recognized any of that book as inspired in any manner. The book of Enoch is not mentioned in the Bible, and no prophet or apostle draws upon it to teach any doctrine.

On the contrary, instead of any prophet or apostle quoting from or agreeing with the passages written in the book of Enoch, we find the opposite—the Word of God and the book of Enoch are travelling in different directions on major doctrines of faith.

Concerning the Name of Salvation (Jesus the Christ of Nazareth) — the Bible teaches that this is the ONLY Name of Salvation for Israel.

“Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is NONE OTHER NAME (Jesus the Christ) under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.” Acts 4:12.

In all three languages (three witnesses - Hebrew, Greek, English) that have carried God's Word for Israel while migrating westward, that name is the same — Yahshua, Iesous, Jesus - NO OTHER NAME!

Yet the book of Enoch dares to teach the blasphemy that another name is our salvation. The name of Phanuel; an angel. In chapter 40 we read:

“8. After that I asked the angel of peace who went with me, who showed me everything that is hidden: ‘Who are these four presences which I have (9) seen and whose words I have heard and written down?’ And he said to me: ‘This first is Michael, the merciful and long-suffering; and the second, who is set over all the diseases and all the wounds of the children of men, is Raphael: and the third, who is set over all the powers, is Gabriel: and the fourth, who is set over the repentance unto hope of those who inherit eternal life, is named Phanuel.’ (10) And these are the four angels of the Lord of Spirits and the four voices I heard in those days.”

So according to the book of Enoch the name that is set over repentance and eternal life is a supposed angel's name, whose name is PHANUEL! Where is this “Saviour Angel” mentioned in the Bible? Nowhere. Angel worship was an Edomite Judaic superstitious invention that gained popularity in the centuries before Jesus the Christ — and the book of Enoch is loaded with this heresy. The only place these angels existed was in the imagination of occultists of that era.

God's divinely inspired Word tells us who rules over repentance between a man and God, and it's not some Jewish imagined angel named Phanuel... “For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus.” (1 Tim. 2:5)

“Him (Jesus) hath God exalted with His right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins.” (Acts 5:31)

What does 1 John 2:22 teach us about those who deny that Jesus is the Messiah Saviour whom the Bible says is the Master of our repentance?

“Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Anointed (Christ)? He is anti-christ, that denieth the Father and the Son.”

God's Word calls the book of Enoch a liar. Whom shall we believe? Judaic superstitions or Scripture? Who saves us? Jesus who alone is The Anointed, or Phanuel? That's not all we find in the blasphemous book of Enoch, chapter 69:8-12,

“8. ... And the fourth was named Penemue: he taught the (9) children of men the bitter and the sweet, and he taught them all the secrets of their wisdom. And he instructed mankind in writing with ink and paper, and thereby many sinned from eternity to (10) eternity and until this day. For men were not created for such a purpose, to give confirmation (11) to their good faith with pen and ink. For men were created exactly like the angels, to the intent that they should continue pure and righteous, and death, which destroys everything, could not have taken hold on them, but through this their knowledge they are perishing, and through this power (12) it is consuming me.”

Let's consider what is claimed here — a fallen angel

named Penemue is the source of our wisdom, and that writing with ink and paper is the great sin that condemns us for eternity. This is yet another Jewish fable found in the text of the book of Enoch. Still continuing - unsuspecting Christians are introduced to more superstitions by those who teach from this uninspired book. How about so-called fallen angels mating with mortal women to produce 450 foot giants?

Chapter 7:

“(2) And when the angels, the sons of heaven, beheld them, they became enamoured of them, saying to each other, Come, let us select for ourselves wives from the progeny of men, and let us beget children. (3) Then their leader Samyaza said to them; I fear that you may perhaps be indisposed to the performance of this enterprise; (9) These are the names of their chiefs: Samyaza, who was their leader, Urakabameel, Akibeel, Tamiel, Ramuel, Danel, Azkeel, Saraknyal, Asael, Armers, Batraal, Anane, Zavebe, Samsaveel, Ertael, Yurel, Yomyael, Arazyel. These were the prefects of the two hundred angels, and the remainder were all with them. (10) Then they took wives, each choosing for himself; whom they began to approach, and with whom they cohabited; teaching them sorcery, incantations, and the dividing of roots and trees. (11) And the women conceiving brought forth giants, (12) Whose stature was each three hundred cubits. These devoured all which the labor of men produced; until it became impossible to feed them; (13) When they turned themselves against men, in order to devour them; (14) And began to injure birds, beasts, reptiles, and fishes, to eat their flesh one after another, ... and to drink their blood.”

If this is true, where are the skeletons/fossils of the 450 foot giants roaming the earth? A football field is only 300 feet long. Rarely, enticing hoaxes have been presented only to later be exposed as fakes.

The Bible teaches that there were giants in Old Testament times, but they were mere people. As seen with Goliath the Philistine (1st Samuel 17:4), he was 9’6” tall (not 450 feet). What the Bible has taught about reality, the book of Enoch has taken and grossly exaggerated by adding silly myths of different pagan religions.

The notion of “fallen angel demons” mating with daughters of men is a Babylonian/Jewish/Papal fable that contradicts the Word of Yahweh once again. God’s Word teaches no such thing as literal “demons” seducing women. If demons sexually seduce women, why does it not happen today? Why aren’t women today giving birth to gigantic half demon/half people infants, after a night of mating with a supposed “invisible demon”? This again is a wild speculation within the fables of the book of Enoch misquoting Genesis chapter 6. In that chapter we read that “The sons of Elohim (a word meaning ‘mighty ones’ in several different applications) saw the daughters of men that they were fair.” (v.2) This was simply an aggressive race of warrior people, probably Cain’s mixed line of Nod-ites, that intermarried with Adamic White women. What does the Bible clearly say about their offspring? The “giants” they produced were “mighty MEN which were of old, MEN of renown.” (v.6) These men of renown were wicked (v.5), they were corrupt and they were violent (v.11); - however -- they were not “half super angelic, half humans” 450 feet tall. This account is typical of the multi-religious legends mixed with Bible history that we find written in the book of Enoch.

To make things worse, according to the book of Enoch, we can’t even defend ourselves against evil people who prey violently upon our Saxon folk without having a “spiritual guilt trip” about it. In the book of Enoch, chapter 69:4-6, we find:

“4. The name of the first (bad angel) Jejon; that is, the one who led astray all the sons of God, and brought them (5) down to the earth, and led them astray through the daughters of men. And the second named Asbeel: he imparted to the holy sons of God evil counsel, and led them astray so that they defiled (6) their bodies with the daughters of men. And the third was named Gadreel: he it is who showed the children of men all the blows of death, and he led astray Eve, and showed the weapons of death to the sons of men the shield and the coat of mail, and the sword for battle, and all the weapons.”

First we have more obsession about claimed angelic sexual seduction of women, then we see that one angel, Gadreel, was named the culprit who seduced Eve, But the Scriptures plainly teach that it was “the Nawcash (Hebrew text)” translated “serpent” who tricked Eve in the Garden of Eden. (Gen. 3) Then we have this same supposed Edenic evil angel Gadreel showing men (Adamites) how to use weapons, as if the use of weapons comes from an evil source. That’s not what King David tells us, a man after Yahweh’s own heart (Acts 13:22). The Bible declares that there is evil in the Earth and that there is “A time to love, and a time to hate; a time of war, and a time of peace.” (Eccl. 3:8) The knowledge to defend ourselves by use of the sword comes from Yahweh, not from a “wicked fallen angel.” As King David testifies, “Blessed be Yahweh my strength, which teacheth my hands to war, and my fingers to fight: My goodness, and my fortress; my high tower, and my deliverer; my shield, and He in whom I trust; who subdueth my people under me.” Once again, the book of Enoch proves itself to be a contradiction to the Holy Scriptures. The entire book is replete in occult and superstitious fables that were prevalent in the ancient middle east of Idumean Judea.

It is one thing for our Christian family to read such books for the literary interest which they may or may not hold, but the ‘Book of Enoch’ and other such spurious books were never given to our people by the holy spirit for instruction in matters of faith.

I CREATE EVIL

by Arnold Kennedy

In the aftermath of the World Trade Center demolition, there are many questions that people are asking. This also applies to other calamities and pandemics. The most common question is, “Why did God allow it?” Very few are acknowledging any possibility that God did it, because if they did, they would be going against the popular flow. We will make some examination into the verse below that literally says, “God did it.”

“I form the light, and create darkness. I make peace, and create evil; I the LORD do all these.” Isaiah 45:7.

In this short verse, there are several different verbs translated as, “form,” “create,” “make,” and “do.” These are all in what language experts call the “participle active mood.” A definition of this mood is as follows, “The participle represents an action or condition in its unbroken continuity, and corresponds to the English verb, “to be” with the present participle. It may be used of present, past or future time.” From the use of these verbs, together with the associated nouns, we can see that these facts never change. What God does in a given situation never changes.

In the Hebrew, we have:

“form” =
yatsar (Strongs 3335)
“create” =
bara’ (Strongs 1254)
“make” and “do” =
asah (Strongs 6213)

These verbs “cover the field” in regard to activities such as:

[a] What a potter does, in terms of human activity, including conception, and divine activity.

[b] What a creator does, in terms of choice, choosing a people for Himself.

[c] What an organiser does, in terms of fashioning, transforming, and shaping, changing circumstances, and also cutting down.

[d] What an accomplisher does, in terms of attending, working, making, celebrating, ordaining, preparing, dealing with, and offering.

Going a stage further, we can see these activities include opposites which are translated as:

[a] “light” and “darkness.”

[b] “peace” and “evil.”

“Light” is ‘owr (Strongs 16 which is inclusive of all forms of light, life, prosperity, instruction and of Jehovah as being Israel’s light.

“Darkness” is choshek (Strongs 2822) usually translated as “darkness.”

“Peace” is shalom (Strongs 7965) that conveys the idea of completeness, soundness, health and prosperity, contentment, and good relationships.

“Evil” is ‘ra (Strongs 7451), which conveys every-thing opposite to what “shalom” means.

When we study verses like Isaiah 45:7, there is absolutely no suggestion, that when evil occurs, it is just a case of “God allowed it,” as we hear so often said in religious circles. All the different verbs, together with the opposites immediately above, declare to us that there is no field of activity in heaven and earth that God is not the prime mover of. As the “Almighty” there is no other authority or originator of anything. Paul indicated that not everyone has this knowledge, saying in this 1 Cor 8:4 passage, “There is none other God but one,” and continues on to say, “But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by (for) whom are all things, and we by (for) Him.” “One” in Greek is a numerical term, so there is no other being in competition with Him.

If we agree with this, then how could we say that God was not the originator of the WTC (or any other, such as COVID19) disaster? There is no shortage of passages in the Bible such as those below. These show God’s hand as being the creator of evil against Israel, when Israel was sinning against God.

“And the anger of the LORD was hot against Israel, and he delivered them into the hands of spoilers that spoiled them, and he sold them into the hands of enemies round about, so that they could not any longer stand before their enemies. Whithersoever they went out, the hand of the LORD was against them for evil, as the LORD had said, an as the LORD had sworn unto them: and they were greatly distressed.” Judges 2:14-15.

“And the children of Israel did evil in the sight of the LORD, and forgot the LORD their God, and served Baalim and the groves (government and earth worship). Therefore the anger of the LORD was hot against Israel, and he sold them into the hand of Chushanrathaim king of Mesopotamia: and the children of Israel [you could read: the descendants of Jacob] served Chushanrathaim eight years.” Judges 3:7-8.

“And the anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel, and he delivered them into them into the hand of Hazael king of Syria, and into the hand of Benhadad the son of Hazael, all their days.” 2 Kings 19:3.

Who did these things (as emphasized) to God’s people? God did! And always there is a similar reason given, and the reasons are not commonly accepted. Churches say it is not the nature of God to do these things.

In the New Testament pages we are told that all these Old Testament happenings are examples to us to show that God’s method of dealing with His sinning people has not changed.

“Now these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted. Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them: as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play. Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and fell in one day three and twenty thousand. Neither let us test the anointing [christ], as some of them also tested, and were destroyed of serpents. Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer. Now all these things happened unto them for ensamples: and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come.” 1 Cor. 10:6-10.

These verses determine that God’s method of operation and reasons have not changed through the New Testament, even up to our day. Churches should note it is still the nature of God to do this! Even a little of the fear of God would work wonders in the congregations.

Although we read about, "All those innocent people being killed" at the World Trade Center [and other places for other causes], we can hardly accept that this was a godly-living country, living in the fear of God, when these things happened. All these people referred to may have been innocent of committing deliberate offence to Islam, but were all innocent of sin against God? Is not the rest of the population, including the Government, likewise ungodly? Concerning "towers" falling, we read in Luke 13:2-5 "And Jesus said unto them ... Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were sinners above all men that dwell in Jerusalem? I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish." So the nation has had a stark warning of what will come unless the "except you repent" is heeded!

The selection below from a message presented at Times Square Church, shortly after the WTO event, confirms this view and "says it all."

"The Bible makes it crystal clear" God used enemy nations to chasten his people. The Lord wielded these enemies as an instrument of warning to Israel, calling the nation to repent. "O Assyrian, the rod of mine anger, and the staff in their hand is mine indignation. I will send him against an hypocritical nation, and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge, to take the spoil, and to take the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the streets" (10:5-6) - God charged this coalition of Israel's enemies to chasten his chosen people. The Lord was trying to warn Israel, "You've lifted yourself up with pride. Now I'm about to bring you down. I'm going to allow you to be disciplined by your enemies."

The enemy coalition launched their massive attack. And, suddenly, the Israelites watched in horror as their buildings began to collapse. Fires raged throughout the cities, burning down stately structures. In a short time, Israel was in flames. And God's people began to wail, "The bricks are fallen down ... the sycamores are cut down" (9:10)

After witnessing the recent disasters in New York and Washington [and elsewhere], we can begin to imagine the emotions of the ancient Israelites. Yet, did Israel repent after this horrifying attack? Was there a nationwide acknowledgement that God was sending them a warning? Did the rulers hear God speaking through the awful calamity? No. Israel's reaction was just the opposite. The people's initial fear quickly gave way to a flood tide of national pride. "All the people ... say in the pride and stoutness of heart" (9:9).

The Hebrew word for stoutness in this verse signifies a sense of greatness. In other words, once the attack died down, the Israelites regained their confidence. They declared, "The bricks are fallen down, but we will build with hewn stones: the sycamores are cut down but we will change them into cedars" (9:10). They were saying, in other words, "These calamities aren't from our Lord.

They're simply fate, unfortunate disasters that can't be explained.

"We're a great and mighty nation. We're made up of a proud, unbending people. And we're going to let the world know we're coming back. We'll build everything back bigger and better. Where we used bricks before, we'll use stone. And where we once built with cheap construction, we'll use better materials. We're a God-blessed nation. And we're going to come through this disaster stronger than ever."

Doesn't all this sound very familiar? The Lord himself used a evil enemy to send a warning of chastisement to his people. He wanted to wake them up to their compromise, bring them back to Himself, pour out his blessings on them, and surround them with his protection. Yet, throughout their days of grief and horror, God's people never once acknowledged his hand in it all. No one asked, "What is the Lord saying through all this? Is he trying to speak to us?" No one thought for a moment that such a proud, great nation could be humbled and chastised. On the contrary, the people used the occasion to defy any such thought. They refused to hear God's warning to them.

Yet, even so, we risk missing God's message to us. Think about it: when our public assemblies call for a moment of silence, we think it's true repentance. When we see politicians singing "God bless America," we think our nation has turned back to God. When we see sporting events observe a silent minute at halftime, we think it's a spiritual experience.

But is this all that's going to come out of our recent disaster? Will people in sports stadiums stand in silence for a minute, then go back to painting their bodies in wild colour, chug beer after beer, and scream maniacally for their favorite team?

Like most people, I wept as I saw Senators and Congressional leaders standing on the steps of the Capitol, singing, "God bless America ... stand beside us, and guide us..." Yet, as I was crying, the Lord reminded me, "Many of the leaders you see singing have worked to rule me out of American society. They are even determined to remove my name from the history books. And they've allowed the murder of millions of babies through aborticide."

Suddenly, I was struck by the absolute hypocrisy of it all. We give lip service to God, but we continue our slide into the mire of immorality. If God wouldn't spare other nations that have outlawed him, why would he spare this nation? He'll judge us even as he judged Sodom, Rome, Greece and every other culture that has turned its back on him.

Then David Wilkerson went on to say prophetically:

Devouring fires will rise to the heavens (Australia knows about them, don't they?)/ Darkness will cover the land. The economy will be hit with a staggering blow (and haven't we all just experienced that?). And there will be disunity in the nation, in communities, in neighbourhoods, in families (social distancing?). People will look out only for themselves, in a desperate fight to survive (face masks?). And God help you if you come near them. I believe our window of opportunity to respond to God's call is brief. We all should pray that our nation repents and turns back to the Lord. But our most intense prayers should be for our own hearts; "Lord, let me tremble not at the disasters, but at your Word. I want to hear your voice in all of this. Cause me to turn wholly to you."

So, in all this, did God send a warning to us? Did God "do it" referring to WTC, Corona, bushfires? Is God raising up Moslem extremists in order to chasten us? Let us go ahead a little further in chapter 47 of Isaiah where we started. In vs 9 we read, "Woe to him that striveth with his maker." This is about arguing against God's righteous judgments. What is the President doing? Does he think he can strive against God where God has "created evil"? He says the nation is going to destroy evil, where "evil" to him is anything that operates against the welfare of the nation.

We hear nothing from him, or church leadership, about either the evil of the internal sins of the nation, or of the external sins his country commits against other countries. Some people consider the control of other nations by the USA, through the applying of economic sanctions and financial manipulation, to be a form of terrorism. So far there has been no trumpet sounded to call for national repentance to that morally corrupt nation. We can read in many places in Scripture where God hears the genuine call for mercy, and then God turns and judges those He used to chasten His people. In this God says, "I have created the waster to destroy" - (Isaiah 54:15), this time destroying those opposing God's children, when God's children are in a repentant state.

So where are the churches in all this? Mostly supporting the leadership, or otherwise silent! There is wicked multi-faith prayer for "remembrance," but none for repentance to the God of Israel. One reason for this is their concept that the whole thing is part of an ongoing war between God and what they think of as being a lesser god they term "Satan." They do not realize that the latter term is used for anything that is an "adversary" or "opponent" to God in thought or deed. Scripture records that the Jehovah, or Yahweh, became a "satan" to Israel when Israel was sinning. Jesus once called Peter "satan." This shows we should not ascribe personality to a particular being (as translators have done) to whom we can ascribe blame for our misfortunes. In what churches affirm, most are actually "satans" themselves in believing God is not sovereign. They do not understand the full meaning and implications of, "I for the light, and create darkness; I make peace and create evil: I the LORD do all these." Can it now be seen how many churches think when they say, "God allowed it"? That could never be in the way that they think! But the Internet pages and television responses show the prevalence of the ideas most of our churches hold.

Although they may not like to admit it, their thinking leads to wrong conclusions; their secret thinking goes like this:

- [1] A good God would destroy evil.
- [2] An all-powerful God could destroy evil.
- [3] Evil is not destroyed.
- [4] Therefore, there cannot possibly be such a good and powerful God.

Their conclusions effectively are that if God was effectively and totally good, He would destroy evil. It is not God who creates "evil," in their view. This follows on to conclude, "If God is unable to prevent evil, therefore He is impotent." We may claim otherwise to other people and amongst ourselves, but most have a secret inner thought that places them where they will have their portion with the unbelievers. Listen carefully, you will hear this "God allowed it" theme in churches. It comes out too in the much-debated theme, "Why does God permit evil"? If we were to ask instead, "Why does God create evil"? We would take much care with our God-given freedom of choice. We would understand the blessings of obedience are set before God's people, as are the curses of disobedience. It is God who "forms," "creates," "Makes" and "does" both! Yes, both!

It would help if we put the following verses from Hebrews 10 behind our pulpits.

"For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins, But a certain fearful looking for of judgment and fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries. He that despised Moses' law died without mercy under two or three witnesses. Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace? For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again,

The Lord shall judge his people. It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God."

Numbers might well dwindle for a start (and we have seen that), but so be it. There would then be a "righteous remnant" God then could (and would) destroy the evil against His people.

* * * *

While many people profess to be Christians, and profess to "love God" and "love Jesus," they seem to have forgotten "If you love me, keep my commandments," a theme that is repeated often: Ex. 20:6, Deut. 5:10, 7:9, 11:1, 11:22, 19:9, 30:16, Josh 22:5, Dan. 9:4, John 14:15, 1 John 5:2,3., because when we try and follow: "By their fruits ye shall know them," and not by listening to what they say, as actions speak louder than words (Matt. 7:16, 7:20., and we observe people coming out of a church, and walking across the road on Sunday to buy a newspaper, or a pie, or go to a restaurant for lunch, or go to their place of employment because "the boss wants them to work," or eating unclean and forbidden things, even seeing inter-racial marriages in the churches, we can only assume that these things are more important to them than, "Keep my commandments." However, they also show that they really are not Christians,

MANUFACTURING RACIAL HATRED

Lawrence Blanchard, ND, M.Div.

I have waited until now to discuss the George Floyd incident and its ongoing aftermath. I felt that, perhaps, there was more information coming that would clarify what actually happened and why. From the very beginning of this breaking story, it all smelled too much like a contrived situation with an agenda.

Using incidents like this has been historically common place. For those who still have the ability to think and reason, the operating Marxist/Communist people and organizations have deliberately, and with malice, created circumstances to escalate chaos, division, and hatred between races. Especially since the 1964 Civil Rights Act and the advent of MLK to force the equalization and integration at every level between Negroes and Whites, including affirmative actions policies, racial tensions have increased. But the common reason that is always promoted is that it is always the White People's fault.

They are the ones who are the problem. They create and sustain "systemic racism" and oppress the Negro. "Social injustice" toward Negroes is, and always has been, the White sin which must be decisively dealt with at all costs. That's the common theme.

Enter George Floyd

What timing now for this George Floyd incident to take place just on the heels of the fake Covid-19 "plandemic" and the unjustifiable lockdown of the entire country, as well as many others around the globe. What incredible pressure has been brought to bear on our People and everyone else that really cannot be measured. The stress that it has caused people personally and financially will be the subject of future sociological studies. To add to this scenario, now comes the purported killing of George Floyd by a White police officer – all filmed on location for at least eight minutes.

The White officer and the other three non-White officers were immediately condemned, arrested, charged with various murder charges and, of course, immediately convicted by the news media and government, among others. There will be no "innocent until proven guilty" for any of these involved, no matter what the facts are. On the other hand, there have been reports with some evidence that all the above are "crisis actors" and not really police officers at all, and not even Floyd was killed. Most likely this story is yet to unfold in more definitive detail.¹

What Actually Happened

Now we are getting information from video footage that raises a whole bunch of questions about what took place during this episode. One video showed a Negro male was apparently lifeless, the White office removed his knee off his neck, an EMT truck rolled up, and two cops got out of the truck and slapped this guy on a gurney and put him in the truck. No paramedics. No routine check for vital signs or other on site medical attention. And there are other videos.²

Here is a list of questions that have not been answered, or probably will never be addressed and answered:

Why does one photo from behind show the man on the road is not handcuffed and the video from the front that he is handcuffed? Why is the cop car in the restaurant surveillance video different than the one Floyd was lying behind (different car numbers)? Why were the cops in the surveillance footage that arrested him different than the police in the actual incident? Why does the video show the diesel fuel price as 99 cents instead of the regular price in the area of $2.49? Why does the Police Car have a non-Municipal license plate with "Police" on it? Why does Derek have a completely different police badge on top of a second police badge matching his partner's if they work for the same precinct?

Why is it not odd that both Officers Tou Thao and Derek Chauvin have both previously been investigated for excessive use of force and not charged by State AG Amy Klobuchar?

Additionally, Officer Derek Chauvin is married to his partner's sister Kelli.

Is there any cop dumb enough to continue kneeling on someone's neck for 8 minutes when surrounded by people and being video recorded?

Is it possible for the deceased's cousins and fiancé to be completely tearless during interviews?

Why does the main cop have one hand in his pocket most of the time he's kneeling? Why did the kneeling officer appear completely cool and calm, as if he was posing for the camera?

Doesn't it seem strange that Floyd and the officer that knelted on his neck worked security together on the same shift at the El Nuevo Rodeo Club, the officer for 17 years (both were laid off because of the Covid Virus)?

Why do the neighbors of this officer say they didn't know he was a cop and never saw him in uniform? Why has the same attorney been hired as with all the other big supposed police killings of blacks? Attorney Benjamin Crump. The same attorney that worked on previous cases that resulted in busses bringing in rioters from outside the city? Why does store surveillance video show Floyd calmly and submissively walking with the officer and not resisting arrest while the officer gently allowed him to sit down on the side walk, and multiple officers calmly chatting with him? Is this the kind of suspect that a police officer would feel the need to put on the ground and place his knee on his neck?

Why did the EMT workers (wearing Police Uniforms including bullet proof vests) roughly handle and dump the unconscious George on the stretcher? This is not how trained emergency workers lift a person with a possible neck injury. Why did they not attempt triage or try CPR?

Can someone really not breathe when someone kneels on his neck and is the victim really able to speak for considerable periods of time if he can't breathe?

Post killing: Why is a white man that looks like an undercover (St Paul) cop in black and a riot gear mask carrying a black umbrella walking around breaking windows (and others dressed similarly starting fires) and instigating a riot? Is this reminiscent of "umbrella man" during the JFK shooting?

Why were almost all the rioters leading the destruction of the neighborhood at the beginning of the riots “white” and not from Minneapolis... in a black neighborhood after a police killed a black man?

Why did the Chief of Police make it a point that those inciting the riots and arsonists were not from Minnesota?

Why was a CNN news crew not only detained but also arrested?

It all reeks of a set-up job!

The Aftermath

As you probably know, there have been numerous, destructive and violent protests and riots around the country, and in other countries, spontaneously taking place at the same time all because of this Floyd incident. Spontaneously or planned?

Terrorist groups like Antifa and Black Lives Matter, and an assortment of white-looking people have been given a pass to wreak havoc anywhere they want. What is disturbing, but not surprising, is that these groups perpetrating unlawful acts of destruction of property, looting and murder have been aided and abetted by hidden actors including financiers and even some law enforcement (in some cases). We do know that pallets of bricks have been strategically delivered for these hooligans to use to smash windows and for other destructive purposes.

Now we have government officials praising the protests and even joining them “in solidarity” like the Mayor of Los Angeles. LA is still on lock-down and yet, street protests continue unabated with the mayor approving. And, by the way, there is no need for masks or social distancing. The so-called protestors and the mayor get a pass on that, too.

Altruistic Mindless Reactions

What is most disgusting is the slough of mindless, knee-jerk reactions from corporations and businesses and celebrities of all sorts who are happy to take advantage of their hatred toward White People and their total commitment to advance and promote tolerance and diversity at the expense of the truth. For example, one sign I saw read, “White people – Do something.”

Amazon came out with this:

Black Lives Matter

Amazon stands in solidarity with the Black community . . . followed by a series of free-to-watch civil rights and racial injustice documentaries favoring the Negroes, of course, and always vilifying Whites.

I am on several email lists of alternative health organizations in which I have received something like the following:

Over the past week, we've been working with many leaders in the integrative and mental health fields to develop a collective statement, "Healing Our Nation: Addressing Systematic Trauma with People of Color."

We fundamentally believe that all people must be treated with respect, dignity, and humanity. We believe black lives matter. port dismantling systemic racism.

White guilt, baby. That is what conventional, but errant, evangelical Christianity is all about. This is the agenda!

And there have been numerous displays featuring White people kneeling before Negroes to beg forgiveness and kissing their feet – literally. You can probably find pictures of this sort of thing through an internet search.

Well, this is the product of the years of government schools run by Marxists and culturally-sensitive churches.

(you should read Arnold Kennedy's: "Should Christian Schools be 'Culturally Sensitive'? # @ $ - To tolerate one culture within another is to change the civilization of that region to a new blend of highly developed material and spiritual resources, The question is, therefore, should Christian schools and churches be sensitive to the presence of forces that will ultimately bury or bas- tardise the very Christian principles they seek to teach and uphold?)

Once again, the whole Floyd thing is a sham. Don't fall for it.

The biblical solution to this racial conflict is separation. Let the White People have their own land governed by their people under their system of laws. Same for the Negroes. Same for the Asians. Same for everybody else.

Racial and multicultural integration doesn't work. Never has and never will.

CROSSROADS: WHAT MUST HAPPEN NOW? PART 2

*Lawrence Blanchard, N.D.,
M.Div.*

New revelations are arriving every day. The plans of the enemies of Jesus Christ and His anointed Covenant People diametrically opposing the manifestation of the Kingdom of God are being exposed:

- Planned fake epidemic
- Planned faulty testing
- Planned false numbers
- Planned mandatory testing
- Planned mass vaccinations

(or else)

- Planned destruction of the economy
- Planned destruction of small businesses and ability to make a living

We are facing the rapid advancement of an ongoing lockdown by the controlled Marxist/Communist, totalitarian, global government. It is here - now.

Our Options

What is the answer to this surreal situation that is all too real? What must happen now to defeat and conquer the forces of this darkness? Is there an answer?

Will it be the soon victory of Q Anon? That would be a welcome surprise if such a thing exists.

Will it be the second coming of Jesus the Christ? Some are convinced that will happen. I hope it's soon because things are deteriorating quickly and we are in a serious, unprecedented state of affairs. We are going from economically "critical" to life support.

Do I believe that Anointed Jesus will once again deliver His People, Israel? Yes, but from what I read in the Bible, He plans to do that in and through every local church assembly. I discuss this at length in Book Seven, The Kingdom of God Manifested.

Resolved

Whereas the Bible says:

- Since Christ is seated at the right hand of the Father; whereas
- He rules in supremacy over all other rulers, authorities, powers and dominions; whereas
- He is Head of His church; and whereas
- His church body is likewise seated with Him co-reigning with that same supremacy (Ephesians 1:17-23; 2:6) . . . then, nothing is impossible that the God of our fathers cannot do in and through every local church assembly.

Nothing! Even in the face of such formidable and seemingly insurmountable spiritual forces of wickedness because you see, it is a matter of authority. Who has supreme authority here?

What "They" Fear

You wouldn't know it by the way "they" (the powers of darkness at every level) act with their confident assertions, pronouncements, and threats. They are acting pretty "high and mighty" with complete control of the airwaves and with all their trillions of fake money.

Think about their control. The political, legislative, and judicial system, the TV and radio stations, a good deal of the internet, the "money" system, the military including local militarized law enforcement, and let's not forget the Catholic and Protestant religious systems. They have all been corrupted.

But the top-down handlers all fear the true local church of the Living God. They fear its authority. They fear the power of Jesus Christ and the unseen, but real heavenly host that is the military might of God all around us (Hebrews 12:22-24). They fear losing control at the local level and that's where the power of the church comes in. The powerful new world order is rendered impotent if the local level is controlled by the church of the Living God with Jesus Christ as its Head.

They fear that, through the true, obedient local church assembly the truth will be revealed:

- That the covenants of the Bible have been misapplied.
- That the People of those covenants have been misidentified.

- That commonly used words like; Jew, Gentile, man, christ, and world have been misinterpreted.

- They fear the local church assembly as the pillar and foundation of the truth (I Timothy 3:15).

What Must Happen Now?

Simply this. The local assembly in your area must be started and built. You want to see things changed and transformed? You want to see the Lord God be glorified in power not just to deliver His People, but to take authority. We must engage. We must rebuild!

Who do you know in your local area to whom you can introduce the covenant message? You can use the Bible Mastery Boot Camp video series as your guide. It comes with a set of recommended instructions on how to begin. More than that, ask God to help you every step of the way and with every one you talk with. He will show you as you step out on faith. Ask God to open "a door for the word . . . and to make clear the way" you ought to speak (Colossians 4:3-4). Order here.

TAKE RESPONSIBILITY

Joel Hilliker

"It's not my fault." How often have you heard—or said—this? Everyone wants to blame their problems on someone or something else: their parents, their socio-economic status, their schooling, their boss, their friends, the big banks, big business, racists, sexists, special-interest groups, self-serving politicians . . .

Actually, this isn't just a modern trend. People have been trying to wriggle out of responsibility since God asked Adam a direct question: "Have you eaten of the tree of which I commanded you that you should not eat?" Millennia of excusing, covering, evading, shirking, shrugging, and rationalizing later, we have elevated avoiding responsibility to an art form.

STOP. Your life is your responsibility. Accept that fact!

Anyone who goes through life focusing on what other people aren't doing for him, what they owe him, or the raw deal life gave him, NEVER GROWS UP. In some form, he forfeits responsibility for his life.

"When I was a child, I spoke as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child," the Apostle Paul wrote, "but when I became a man, I put away childish things" (1 Cor. 13:11). The man who believes society owes him a comfortable living still thinks like a child. The person who grouses about how unfair the world is, and how riches a privilege are just a matter of luck or corruption, still thinks like a child. The woman whose failures are always someone else's fault is stuck in childish thinking. The individual content to live off of his parents' largesse or a government handout still understands as a child. The man focused more on what the world should do for him than on what he can contribute to others is not yet thinking like an adult.

Maturing means you move from deflecting blame to accepting responsibility. You move from being a passive observer to an initiator. You move from victim to doer. You move from expecting things to providing things. Maturing means seizing your God-given power to direct your own life, to welcome challenge, to surmount obstacles, to achieve victories.

Blaming other people for your problems is a trap. Of course other people's actions affect you, but don't deceive yourself. God says the person who is responsible for you is you. "But let every man prove his own work, and then he shall have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another. For ever man shall bear his own burden" (Galatians 6:4,5). You must carry your own load. In fact, God wants you to go beyond that, and to reach out to help others carry their burden as well (vs 2).

"[W]hatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap" (verse 7). If you don't like what you're reaping, take a hard look at what you've been sowing. And start making some changes.

God is radically pro-responsibility! Think about the command in 2 Thessalonians 3:10: "that if any would not work, neither should he eat." That is God's way: Everyone who is able must work in order to eat. If we followed this command, there would be whining and pleading, maybe even yelling—but in the end, everyone would take responsibility, everyone would work, and everyone would eat.

Our modern world, intoxicated with government benefits and welfare programs, has come to view that as cruel. We believe we have a better way: Give the meal to the irresponsible sluggard. Who cares if it stunts his growth, his maturity, his productivity, his dignity and even his happiness? [we should begin to apply this to all foreign aid programs as well]

God says that if a man does not provide [note that the woman looks to her household - Prov 31], for his family, let alone himself, his religion is worthless (1 Tim. 5:8). Is this cruel of God? Or is He trying to teach you to become useful and skillful? Does He want you to suffer, or does He want to make you stronger and happier?

Taking responsibility means the buck stops with you. It means taking ownership: You cause something to happen, you do all you can to make it a success, and you accept the blame if it fails. If this is your priority, you will become dependable and trustworthy, fulfilling your commitments to others. If it is not, you will be unreliable, unpredictable, distracted, needful of reminders, always showing up late: you'll consume more time, attention and resources than you produce.

Shirking responsibility for your mistakes is another trap. Until you own up to your own failures, you'll remain stuck in them. "He that covereth his sins shall not prosper: but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy" (Prov. 28:13). Confess your error! Then forsake it: Make a different choice the next time. And teach your children to do the same. Don't let them get away with passing blame and sidestepping guilt. Teach them to be upfront about their mistakes.

Accepting responsibility builds momentum toward greater responsibility. God wants to give us a lot of responsibility. He is watching to see what we do with what we have. When He gives resources or talents, He wants results.

The man who produces the most results is the one God can entrust with more responsibility (Matt. 25:28).

Someday you will have to stand before God and give account (Romans 14:10-12). At that point you can't look around, pointing fingers of blame at others. Those people will have to answer for themselves. And you, face to face with God, will have to answer for yourself. Don't wait until then to start. Take responsibility. As you do, you'll grow up and fulfill much more of your God-given potential.

HAVING A KINGDOM RESOLVE

by pastor Dave Barley

"It was the best of times, it was the worst of times blah, blah, blah." [first line in the book A Tale of Two Cities by Charles Dickens]. No, it is the best of times for our manipulators and the worst of times for we the people, but for true Christians, our faith remains in Jesus the Christ and His Living Word.

True freedom and liberty never has and never will come from our illustrious government and all of its various agencies. You know, part of me is starting to believe that this virus may not have been perpetrated by man, but by God Almighty [see I Create Evil, page 5]. It just may be possible that they will not come up with a "devilish coronavirus vaccine" because they got caught with their pants down in what has taken place (just a thought, and a possibility). Several doctors have put forth this idea, further stating they personally do not think this vaccination will ever become a reality. We know they (more than Bill Gates) would jump at such a chance and even manufacture one if given the opportunity. I'm certainly not saying "get such or take any vaccine." Most of us do not know where this created virus will lead. Our economy, of course, is in shambles. Many dumbed down people still accept whatever they are told by the media, government authorities, slimy doctors, and such. We are thankful to those who have awakened and are asking the right questions.

To Bible-believing Israelite Covenant Christians, there are certainly things we should hold to and we need to be firm in our Kingdom of God resolve.

“For other foundation can no man lay that they is laid, which is Jesus the Christ. Now if any man build upon this foundation gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble; Every man’s work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man’s work of what sort it is.” 1 Corinthians 3:11-21.

In other words, Jesus the Christ is the true foundation. All other foundations are temporal. This coronavirus or whatever we may face in life is temporal. It will not last and neither will any other schemes they have up their New World Order sleeves. I am so glad I have God’s Word to depend upon, read, follow, and orient myself towards His Kingdom Purposes. We are not of this world and its systems; we are of our blessed Redeemer Jesus the Anointed. He who has begun a good work in you shall bring it to pass. Philippians 1:6. We are of another order, the order of King Jesus and His marvelous Kingdom Plan of the ages.

“If any man’s work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward. If any man’s work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; yet so as by fire. Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the spirit of God dwelleth in you.” 1 Cor. 3:14-16.

There are some heavy spiritual things which are being revealed unto His people. Basically, we are given to understand that through the spirit we are changed and are being transformed. This “fire” is a burning in our members or bodies to purge away the idolatry of self, flesh, and other forms of rebellion which are at enmity with Jesus’ Purposes. Our reward is to be transformed into His (Jesus) image and likeness. We are to be new creatures in Him, even separated unto Him, and taken out of this world order into His Kingdom Order.

Only Israel was called and of them, only a Remnant has answered this call. Many are called, but few are chosen [Matthew 22:14]. This Temple will not be made with untempered hands, but with the tempered hands of the holy spirit and by those who are helping make themselves ready for the Marriage Supper of the Lamb.

“If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.” 1 Cor. 3:17.

“Destroy” is after the meaning of “burned” without getting too technical. So to speak, one is turned over to the devil or adversary, or self (destruction) if an Israelite will not pursue the things of the Kingdom of God and His Righteousness. Instead, if they are pursuing the things of this world, even the false pleasures of this world, they have their reward, and one day will cry out in bitter anguish at the realization of what they have done.

“Let no man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise.” verse 18.

Do this before its too late. Become a “fool in Anointing” which is what the world already thinks of us, but, in fact, we shine forth as lights of Divine Wisdom and Grace. Be enduring upholders of the faith, Let the world have its temporal fun calling us fools and having their way with us—it is all for Jesus and His Glorious Kingdom.

“For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God, For it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness. And again, The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain. Therefore let no man glory in men. For all things are yours;” vs 19-21.

I cannot say it better, “...let no man glory in men.” The Lord knoweth their thoughts and ways which are vain. He knows that they are scheming and plotting against Christianity. One day “all things” will be yours. This temporal Edomite bowl of Red Pottage they have sold their Jacob-Covenant-Israel birthright for, will fully be ours.

For our Redemption draweth nigh. Hallelujah!

NO CLOSE ENCOUNTERS

by Alan Edwards

“For where two or three are gathered together, in my name, saith the Lord, there an I in the midst of them.” (Matt 18:20)

This period of time (April/May 2020), is such that we are unable to congregate with others in groups larger than two or three, unless we have several children. However, for the most part, we are not gathering in His name, our Lord Jesus Anointed. For by and large, we have abandoned Him and in many cases have never known Him. We do not even ask Him for mercy and forgiveness, that we may have this current plague taken from us.

When Moses was used by God to be His instrument in delivering His people from the Egyptians, one plague was not enough, for Pharaoh’s heart was hardened. In this time, it is our (the people’s) heart that is hard and unrepentant, for they know not what they have done. Therefore, it is possible that even when this plague has ended, others may take their place, and these may be even worse than so-called COVID19. It is thus essential that we collectively seek the face of God and change our attitude from one of total rebellion against God. A rebellion that sanctions every evil under the sun.

We are told we must adhere to “social distancing,” yet another piece of meaningless terminology, designed in part to keep us from talking to one another. Yet, we do not mind, as a nation, from being distanced from the Almighty, whose very world this is, having created it and everything in it. We are therefore prevented from discussing whether the lockdown is actually beneficial. In Sweden they have not closed pubs, bars, restaurants, etc., and have a death rate per capita rate far less than the UK and USA. How can this be? Does this country have more trust in God than we do? Or is it that its leaders are not blinded by a partisan and atheistic scientific fraternity. You know, the ones who believe in the impossible myth of Darwinian Evolution.

It is my belief that this genetically engineered virus was released specifically to harm our Israel nations and that China had already produced an antidote for use in that country, prior to its release, which in effect was an Act of War, dressed up as a tragic accident. And China was very quick to suspend all flights into and out of Hubei Province, once the outbreak had passed the point of onward transmission. The Chinese leaders are now gloating about how much damage this virus is doing to the Western countries, in particular, the United States. This leadership is evil beyond measure, yet our foolish nations have been keen to ratchet up the links that bind us to it. It is interesting to note that the current President of China is Xi Jinping, whose first name Xi is the Greek letter for the number 6. Also, that he was born on the 15th June 1953, or 6.6.666. And additionally that his age at present is 66. Of course, this may not be significant, but we cannot just ignore this set of figures. For Revelations clearly states that the number of the Beast must have:

ME? OBEY HIM?

Elizabeth Rice Handford

Once the responsibility of submission is understood and practiced, the plan of God brings privileges, blessings and joys which cannot be achieved any other way.

#043 listed @ $11.05 NOW $7.00

is 666 and that this is the number of a man. One particular individual.

So, we are currently up against the Red C. And there seems to be no escape, for we have sold our nations into subjection to this monster (which persecutes its own people as well as others). It is rabid and resourceful and is utterly contemptuous of us. We need to pray as never before and also drop our fear of this virus, because although there is danger, this has been exaggerated for political purposes. We must strengthen our FAITH and open our eyes and minds to TRUST absolutely to our God. And dare I say it, not feel we have to participate in the globally orchestrated activity of all clapping our health workers, even though they undoubtedly deserve it. For this sort of mass action can soon become a blueprint for Government ordered group/mindset as a form of indoctrination. Please reread George Orwell's novel, 1984. Above all, we should question everything, that atheistic governments tell us (and they are all this) and remind them that God gave us a brain for this very purpose. And sometimes, perhaps, every time we are exhorted to do this or that; or think this or that, to say in return, "WHO ARE YOU PEOPLE?" (like they did in the film Close Encounters, when presented with a falsely contrived situation) for it may be that they are just doing the work of adversaries. Let us pray diligently for guidance and illumination that we may not be deceived.

Let us conclude with the inspiring and comforting words of Psalm 27:1-6,

"The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes, came upon me to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell. Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear: though war should rise against me, in this will I be confident. One thing have I desired of the Lord, that I will seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to inquire in his temple. For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his pavillion: in the secret of his tabernacle shall he hide me. And now shall mine head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me: will I offer in his tabernacle sacrifices of joy; I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto the Lord."

LET US HAVE BIBLICAL SEPARATION

by pastor Dave Barley

By the way, many black people now want their own kind of "so-called police," which is really black thugs. Fine, then let them pay for this without the so-called White man's money or help. They want to blame the White people for their problem, and so, the solution I see is to separate!

Furthermore, they should have their own land because, obviously, they only want to blame White people for their problems. Do you really expect these people to one day wake up and say to themselves, "Oh gosh, we were wrong, we need the White man's order for there to be some type of sanity. We need the White man's money. We need his laws, we need his land, etc."

This is not going to happen, so let us talk about the terms of separation and let us make this happen. Let us not pretend this is not a major problem. Let us come reason together and set out a Biblical narrative on this.

Presently we see a few White people kissing the shoes of Negroes and begging them for forgiveness. When really, this ought to be the other way around. But yes, such madness will continue if this is not stopped and strongly addressed for the insanity that this produces. God is Almighty and His Word is highly blasphemed in this and God's judgment is certainly going to continue with this type of behaviour.

"Now therefore make confession unto the LORD God of your fathers, and do his pleasure: and separate yourselves from the people of the land, and from the strange wives. Then all the congregation answered and said with a loud voice, As thou hast said, so must we do." Ezra 10:11-12.

Keep in mind, that with most hymns people sing, there is much error, resulting in what some have called HYMN-BOOK THEOLOGY, as these erroneous views and doctrines are cemented in the mind by much repetition of the songs. In 1543, the time of the Reformation, it was said:

"As for public prayers, there are two kinds: the one consists simply of words, the other of song ... And indeed, we know from experience that singing has great strength and power to move and to set on fire the hearts of men in order that they may call upon God and praise Him with a more vehement and more ardent zeal. It is to be remembered always that this singing should not be light or frivolous, but that it ought to have weight and majesty [hence much singing was done with pipe organ accompaniment]. Now what Augustine says is true, namely that no one can sing anything worthy of God which he has not first received from Him. Therefore, even after we have carefully searched everywhere, we shall not find better or more appropriate songs to this end than the Psalms of David, inspired by the Holy Ghost. And for this reason, when we sing them, we are assured that God puts the words in our mouth, as if He Himself were singing through us to exalt His glory..." {Calvin on Congregational singing - not to endorse Calvin, or Augustine, but a true statement nevertheless). If you don't want to promote and be influenced by false doctrines, take note and be careful what you sing.

Greetings once again in Jesus' name. This month, July, we will again be making a contribution to our American friends who continue to supply is with, and let us use, their material. Its use continues to be appreciated!

In September, we will again be making a contribution to the Loeries Children's Home in South Africa. So if you want to contribute towards that, we appreciate you getting your donation in prior to September. The last few times, the donations for the Loeries have been going down from what they had been previously. They appreciate your help.

Please note that the prices on some books have been reduced to clear them, and are being sold below cost and in some cases will only barely cover postage costs. But we would rather have someone benefit from them than see them thrown out, or fall apart from age.

Our God has been merciful and I have been having more good days than bad days as far as my heart is concerned, and I appreciate your prayers. It seems that wheat and wheat products have been a major contributing factor so we have given up on that and other things and changed our diet considerably. Dairy may also be a problem as we have given up that as well. Taking garlic, vitamin E and cayenne pepper are all beneficial for blood, circulation and heart related matters, and we do take lots of them.

Thank you again for the letters, orders, clippings and support. We appreciate them all very much. Keep it up. Try and get others interested in being on our mailing list. May our God bless you and keep you, make his face shine on you and be gracious unto you and give you peace and safety in these trying times,

"GATES' GLOBALIST VACCINE AGENDA:

A WIN-WIN FOR PHARMA AND MANDATORY VACCINATION"

Posted on April 20, 2020 by Ben Williams

Robert F. Kennedy Jr., Chairman, Children's Health Defense – April 09, 2020

Vaccines, for Bill Gates, are a strategic philanthropy that feed his many vaccine-related businesses (including Microsoft's ambition to control a global vaccination ID enterprise) and give him dictatorial control of global health policy.

Promising his share of $450 million, of the $1.2 billion to eradicate polio, Gates took control of India's National Technical Advisory Group on Immunization (NTAGI), which mandated up to 50 doses (Table 1) of polio vaccines through overlapping immunization programs to children before the age of five. Indian doctors blame the Gates campaign for a devastating non-polio acute flaccid paralysis (NPAFP) epidemic that paralyzed 490,000 children beyond expected rates between 2000 and 2017. In 2017, the Indian government dialed back Gates' vaccine regimen and asked Gates and his vaccine policies to leave India. NPAFP rates dropped precipitously.

In 2017, the World Health Organization (WHO) reluctantly admitted that the global explosion in polio is predominantly a vaccine strain. The most frightening epidemics in Congo, Afghanistan, and the Philippines, are all linked to vaccines. In fact, by 2018, 70% of global polio cases were vaccine strain.

In 2009, the Gates Foundation funded tests of experimental HPV vaccines, developed by Glaxo Smith Kline (GSK) and Merck, on 23,000 young girls in remote Indian provinces. Approximately 1,200 suffered severe side effects, including autoimmune and fertility disorders. Seven died. Indian government investigations charged that Gates-funded researchers committed pervasive ethical violations: pressuring vulnerable village girls into the trial, bullying parents, forging consent forms, and refusing medical care to the injured girls. The case is now in the country's Supreme Court.

South African newspapers complained, 'We are guinea pigs for the drug makers.'

In 2010, the Gates Foundation funded a phase 3 trial of GSK's experimental malaria vaccine, killing 151 African infants and causing serious adverse effects, including paralysis, seizure, and febrile convulsions, to 1,048 of the 5,949 children.

During Gates' 2002 MenAfriVac campaign in Sub-Saharan Africa, Gates' operatives forcibly vaccinated thousands of African children against meningitis. Approximately 50 of the 500 children vaccinated developed paralysis. South African newspapers complained, "We are guinea pigs for the drug makers." Nelson Mandela's former senior economist, Professor Patrick Bond, describes Gates' philanthropic practices as "ruthless and immoral."

In 2010, when Gates committed $10 billion to the WHO, he said "We must make this the decade of vaccines." A month later, Gates said in a TED Talk that new vaccines "could reduce the population." And, four years later, in 2014, Kenya's Catholic Doctors Association accused the WHO of chemically sterilizing millions of unwilling Kenyan women with a "tetanus" vaccine campaign. Independent labs found a sterility formula in every vaccine tested. After denying the charges, WHO finally admitted it had been developing the sterility vaccines for over a decade. Similar accusations came from Tanzania, Nicaragua, Mexico, and the Philippines.

A 2017 study (Morgenson et. al. 2017) showed that WHO's popular DTP vaccine is killing more African children than the diseases it prevents. DTP-vaccinated girls suffered 10x the death rate of children who had not yet received the vaccine. WHO has refused to recall the lethal vaccine, which it forces upon tens of millions of African children annually.

Global public health advocates around the world accuse Gates of steering WHO's agenda away from the projects that are proven to curb infectious diseases: clean water, hygiene, nutrition, and economic development. The Gates Foundation spends only about $650 million of its $5 billion dollar budget on these areas. They say he has diverted agency resources to serve his personal philosophy that good health only comes in a syringe.

In addition to using his philanthropy to control WHO, UNICEF, GAVI, and PATH, Gates funds a private pharmaceutical company that manufactures vaccines and is donating $50 million to 12 pharmaceutical companies to speed up development of a coronavirus vaccine. In his recent media appearances, Gates appears confident that the Covid-19 crisis will now give him the opportunity to force his dictatorial vaccine programs on all American children – and adults.

COOKING THE COVID BOOKS

Posted on April 24, 2020 by
Ben Williams –

All indications are that the COVID-19 pandemic is a complete fraud. The virus may actually exist, but the “pandemic” is fabricated. Yes, there are deaths. But deaths ALWAYS increase in the winter, particularly among the elderly who are hospitalized or in rest homes due to long term illnesses and compromised immune systems. It appears that the hospitals and doctors are cooking the books to make it look like these typical deaths are from COVID rather than ordinary diseases.

Here are some statistics found in CDC charts.

In March-April of 2020 we see a huge drop off (about 50%) of pneumonia and influenza-related deaths. At the same time a sudden explosion of COVID-19 deaths are reported.

This appears to be a result of doctors taking death numbers away from pneumonia and influenza reports and re-classifying them as COVID-19. Yes, the doctors are literally forging death certificates by reclassifying flu and pneumonia deaths to say they died from COVID-19. Why would they do this? Because they are directed to do so by their superiors whose hospitals receive more government funding for COVID cases.

The result? The reporting of pneumonia, influenza, and usual winter deaths declined, and deaths attributed to COVID-19 suspiciously rose. One of Bill Gates favored books is How to Lie with Statistics.

Mis-coding regular death cases to COVID-19 cases was due to financial incentives offered to hospitals and doctors to do so. The CDC-issued billing coding for hospitals literally bribes doctors and hospitals to up-code normal pneumonia cases to COVID-19 cases to be reimbursed at a 3-fold higher rate ($13,000 to $39,000)?

Isn't it amazing how blatant liars and conmen can feed off gullible people? You simply cannot believe anything you see or read from the mainstream news media. Sadly, most people cannot accept the fact that devils have been allowed to occupy every major position of mass information and influence. It is the result of the common people for too long not being vigilant and responsible.

Thank God for the remnant who, while not noticed by the sleeping masses, are nonetheless awake and not falling for the hucksters and con-men.

IT'S NOT ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

What's Really Going On with the Economic Lockdowns?

When the State tells you it's safe to go to Home Depot to buy a sponge but dangerous to go and buy a flower, it's not about your health.

When the State shuts down millions of private businesses but doesn't lay off a single government employee, it's not about your health.

When the State bans dentists because it's unsafe, but deems an abortion visit is safe, it's not about your health.

When the State prevents you from buying cucumber seeds because it's dangerous, but allows personal lottery ticket sales, it's not about your health.

When the State shuts down barber shops and salons because it's dangerous, but the Governor can get his stage make-up done, and hair done for 5 TV appearances a week, it's not about your health.

When the state puts you IN a jail cell for walking in a park with your child because it's too dangerous, but lets criminals OUT of jail cells for their health - It's not about YOUR health!

When the state tells you it's too dangerous to get treated by a doctor for chiropractic or physical therapy treatments yet deems a liquor store essential - It's not about your health!

Most Deaths Listed As COVID-19 Have Been In Nursing Homes Or Elderly People With Other Deadly Health Problems

Posted on May 13, 2020 by Ben Williams

As of Wednesday April 8th, 43 residents of the Life Care Center in Kirkland, Washington had died of coronavirus in the first deadly coronavirus outbreak in the United States.

Another 39 residents died at Canterbury Rehabilitation & Healthcare Center in Virginia also perished from the disease.

43% of New Jersey deaths involve nursing homes.

In Minnesota 71% of the deaths are in nursing homes.

UK did this too, and thousands of care home patients have died – blamed on COVID-19 when in fact many of the deaths were caused by malpractice and/or neglect.

This is the same policy they used in Italy!

Plus, the tests for COVID are wildly inaccurate and therefore mean nothing. But hospitals and nursing homes have been instructed to list COVID-19 as the cause of death regardless of the real cause of death. Hospitals are compensated by receiving $19,000 for each patient they list as COVID, and $38,000 for each patient placed on a respirator machine (experts confirm that the respirators are killing sick people). Hospitals are going broke due to the shut-down and due to the lack of patients. They happily comply and falsify their records to say "COVID" for patients so the hospital can receive needed money from the government.

People who have taken a flu shot in the past are likely to test positive. Millions of people have a corona virus in their system from past flu and cold infections (most of which are corona-type viruses), to which they have developed immunity. They can test positive (false positive). Especially vulnerable are the elderly in nursing homes or those who have been in hospital care recently and have been plied with all sorts of vaccines including flu and pneumonia vaccines which further compromise their immunity and health. They are set up to catch communicable diseases that comes around.

CHEAP FOOD IS AN ILLUSION

by Jorg Mardian

Food seems simple. Farmers and ranchers grow it. Grocery stores sell it. You eat it. But the truth is far more complex, far more corrupt, and far more toxic to your health.

Growing, selling and eating food changed in a big way in 1933. That is when the federal government began intervening in food commodity markets with the New Deal and the Agricultural Adjustment Act. Since then, the government has manipulated simple supply and demand in an attempt to stabilize crop prices and farmer's incomes and to provide consumers with an affordable, reliable supply of food.

But in providing these subsidies the government has entangled itself in a brier patch of complex effects and special interests such as agribusiness monopolies. Through their relationship with politicians, lobbyists for these giant entities wield enormous power in controlling markets and influencing food and agricultural regulations.

What have been the effects? Agribusiness monopolies have surged, expanded and multiplied. Meanwhile, nonindustrial, smaller farms have folded up: junk food has filled the aisles; and we are suffering a pandemic of obesity and other diseases.

Its Not About Supply and Demand

Farm subsidies may seem like a nice thing if you picture a happy Midwestern farm family receiving a modest supplement to their modest income. That is not what is happening. These subsidies are actually largely a form of wasteful corporate welfare.

Between 1995 and 2012, $285 billion taxpayer dollars were spent on commodity subsidies. Almost 70 percent of that was spent on five crops: corn, cotton, wheat, rice, and soybeans.

More than 85 percent of these subsidies go toward the largest 15 percent of farm operations and the richest farmers and landowners. Small farms growing fruits and vegetables are generally excluded from these programs, which are approved and defended by congressional agricultural committees.

Farm subsidies persist not because of supply and demand or the best interests of small farms or of consumers, but because of government involvement and political power. Food has become an industry - an industry polluted with herds of lobbyists, political pandering and inside deals. Farm and insurance lobbies spend tens of millions of dollars supporting congressional, political campaigns, and then heavily influencing Congress when their candidates are elected.

The resulting policies have provided financial benefits to large agricultural corporations and have actually encouraged unethical behaviour along with factory farming, monoculture and the slow-strangulation of family-owned farms.

You Are Subsidizing Twinkies

Agribusinesses are using your tax dollars to increase their size and their power, and to pay lobbyists who will influence politicians, who will send them even more tax dollars. At the same time, these corporations are producing unhealthy junk foods for you to eat. And, because they receive your tax money, they can make their junk food cheap to buy compared to nutritious - but unsubsidized - foods like fruits and vegetables.

According to the California Public Research Interest Group the government has given out nearly $300 Billion in agricultural subsidies since 1995. Most of that sum has subsidized crops that are processed as junk food ingredients.

"[T]he money spent on junk food subsidies since 1995 is enough to buy nearly 52 billion Twinkies, which, if laid out end to end, could encircle the globe 132 times,"(???) reported the Huffinton Post. "The recently released Twinkie is made with 17 taxpayer-subsidized ingredients, including corn starch, corn syrup and vegetable shortening" (July 16, 2013).

In 2016, the inflation-adjusted price of fresh produce increased by 40 percent, while the price of processed food decreased by as much as 30 percent. That means it is much cheaper to buy a burger, fries and a soda from a fast-food chain than to buy grass-fed beef and veggies and grill your own dinner.

Thanks to market manipulation, prepackaged snacks, ready-to-eat meals, fast food, soft drinks, corn-fed beef and others are not only more convenient, they are cheaper. Fast food restaurants like McDonald's are actually lowering their prices.

Tasty, Cheap, Convenient—and Lethal

The result is, people are killing themselves one bite at a time. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, seven of the top 10 causes of death are chronic diseases. Heart disease and cancer account for nearly half of all deaths.

It may seem like your $4.99 meal deal only costs you $4.99, but it costs you a lot more than that. The cumulative price you are paying over your lifetime could hardly be higher.

"Cheap food is an illusion," author Michal Pollan said in the documentary Fresh. "There is no such thing as cheap food. The real cost of the food is paid somewhere. And if it isn't paid at the cash register, it's charged to the environment or to the public purse in the form of subsidies. And

The federal government now finds itself in the position of moving mountains of cash for the ultimate purpose of getting consumers to eat junk food on the cheap. The world of cheap food you see around you is not normal. To avoid unhealthy food produced by a corrupt system, you have to use more than just a little discernment. It is a battle!

See past the illusion. It takes more work. But when you find yourself and your children healthy and happy in a sea of heart disease and cancer patients, you will know it was worth it. Buy organic if you can!

THE BOOK OF ENOCH

by Ken Lent

(evidence is presented that the 'Book of Enoch' was never written by Enoch of Genesis chapter 8)

What do we make of a few similarities between the Bible and the Book of Enoch? Can we count on the book of Enoch for sound doctrine? There are those who cite Jude 14 & 15 in our New Testament, where the same quote is found in Enoch 2:1.

“14 And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the LORD cometh with ten thousands of his saints, 15 to execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against Him.”

Does this mean that Jude quoted from the book of Enoch and that Jude considered the book of Enoch to be inspired Scripture? No, it does not. All it means is that in the ancient world the “real Enoch” was known for having said this. Whoever wrote the book of Enoch quoted this statement from Enoch, and so did Jude. They simply both used a common source, either an oral source or a written one still buried in the middle east sands. There is no implication that Jude took this quote from the book of Enoch, nor that Jude had recognized any of that book as inspired in any manner. The book of Enoch is not mentioned in the Bible, and no prophet or apostle draws upon it to teach any doctrine.

On the contrary, instead of any prophet or apostle quoting from or agreeing with the passages written in the book of Enoch, we find the opposite—the Word of God and the book of Enoch are travelling in different directions on major doctrines of faith.

Concerning the Name of Salvation (Jesus the Christ of Nazareth) — the Bible teaches that this is the ONLY Name of Salvation for Israel.

“Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is NONE OTHER NAME (Jesus the Christ) under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.” Acts 4:12.

In all three languages (three witnesses - Hebrew, Greek, English) that have carried God's Word for Israel while migrating westward, that name is the same — Yahshua, Iesous, Jesus - NO OTHER NAME!

Yet the book of Enoch dares to teach the blasphemy that another name is our salvation. The name of Phanuel; an angel. In chapter 40 we read:

“8. After that I asked the angel of peace who went with me, who showed me everything that is hidden: ‘Who are these four presences which I have (9) seen and whose words I have heard and written down?’ And he said to me: ‘This first is Michael, the merciful and long-suffering; and the second, who is set over all the diseases and all the wounds of the children of men, is Raphael: and the third, who is set over all the powers, is Gabriel: and the fourth, who is set over the repentance unto hope of those who inherit eternal life, is named Phanuel.’ (10) And these are the four angels of the Lord of Spirits and the four voices I heard in those days.”

So according to the book of Enoch the name that is set over repentance and eternal life is a supposed angel's name, whose name is PHANUEL! Where is this “Saviour Angel” mentioned in the Bible? Nowhere. Angel worship was an Edomite Judaic superstitious invention that gained popularity in the centuries before Jesus the Christ — and the book of Enoch is loaded with this heresy. The only place these angels existed was in the imagination of occultists of that era.

God's divinely inspired Word tells us who rules over repentance between a man and God, and it's not some Jewish imagined angel named Phanuel... “For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus.” (1 Tim. 2:5)

“Him (Jesus) hath God exalted with His right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins.” (Acts 5:31)

What does 1 John 2:22 teach us about those who deny that Jesus is the Messiah Saviour whom the Bible says is the Master of our repentance?

“Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Anointed (Christ)? He is anti-christ, that denieth the Father and the Son.”

God's Word calls the book of Enoch a liar. Whom shall we believe? Judaic superstitions or Scripture? Who saves us? Jesus who alone is The Anointed, or Phanuel? That's not all we find in the blasphemous book of Enoch, chapter 69:8-12,

“8. ... And the fourth was named Penemue: he taught the (9) children of men the bitter and the sweet, and he taught them all the secrets of their wisdom. And he instructed mankind in writing with ink and paper, and thereby many sinned from eternity to (10) eternity and until this day. For men were not created for such a purpose, to give confirmation (11) to their good faith with pen and ink. For men were created exactly like the angels, to the intent that they should continue pure and righteous, and death, which destroys everything, could not have taken hold on them, but through this their knowledge they are perishing, and through this power (12) it is consuming me.”

Let's consider what is claimed here — a fallen angel

named Penemue is the source of our wisdom, and that writing with ink and paper is the great sin that condemns us for eternity. This is yet another Jewish fable found in the text of the book of Enoch. Still continuing - unsuspecting Christians are introduced to more superstitions by those who teach from this uninspired book. How about so-called fallen angels mating with mortal women to produce 450 foot giants?

Chapter 7:

“(2) And when the angels, the sons of heaven, beheld them, they became enamoured of them, saying to each other, Come, let us select for ourselves wives from the progeny of men, and let us beget children. (3) Then their leader Samyaza said to them; I fear that you may perhaps be indisposed to the performance of this enterprise; (9) These are the names of their chiefs: Samyaza, who was their leader, Urakabameel, Akibeel, Tamiel, Ramuel, Danel, Azkeel, Saraknyal, Asael, Armers, Batraal, Anane, Zavebe, Samsaveel, Ertael, Yurel, Yomyael, Arazyel. These were the prefects of the two hundred angels, and the remainder were all with them. (10) Then they took wives, each choosing for himself; whom they began to approach, and with whom they cohabited; teaching them sorcery, incantations, and the dividing of roots and trees. (11) And the women conceiving brought forth giants, (12) Whose stature was each three hundred cubits. These devoured all which the labor of men produced; until it became impossible to feed them; (13) When they turned themselves against men, in order to devour them; (14) And began to injure birds, beasts, reptiles, and fishes, to eat their flesh one after another, ... and to drink their blood.”

If this is true, where are the skeletons/fossils of the 450 foot giants roaming the earth? A football field is only 300 feet long. Rarely, enticing hoaxes have been presented only to later be exposed as fakes.

The Bible teaches that there were giants in Old Testament times, but they were mere people. As seen with Goliath the Philistine (1st Samuel 17:4), he was 9’6” tall (not 450 feet). What the Bible has taught about reality, the book of Enoch has taken and grossly exaggerated by adding silly myths of different pagan religions.

The notion of “fallen angel demons” mating with daughters of men is a Babylonian/Jewish/Papal fable that contradicts the Word of Yahweh once again. God’s Word teaches no such thing as literal “demons” seducing women. If demons sexually seduce women, why does it not happen today? Why aren’t women today giving birth to gigantic half demon/half people infants, after a night of mating with a supposed “invisible demon”? This again is a wild speculation within the fables of the book of Enoch misquoting Genesis chapter 6. In that chapter we read that “The sons of Elohim (a word meaning ‘mighty ones’ in several different applications) saw the daughters of men that they were fair.” (v.2) This was simply an aggressive race of warrior people, probably Cain’s mixed line of Nod-ites, that intermarried with Adamic White women. What does the Bible clearly say about their offspring? The “giants” they produced were “mighty MEN which were of old, MEN of renown.” (v.6) These men of renown were wicked (v.5), they were corrupt and they were violent (v.11); - however -- they were not “half super angelic, half humans” 450 feet tall. This account is typical of the multi-religious legends mixed with Bible history that we find written in the book of Enoch.

To make things worse, according to the book of Enoch, we can’t even defend ourselves against evil people who prey violently upon our Saxon folk without having a “spiritual guilt trip” about it. In the book of Enoch, chapter 69:4-6, we find:

“4. The name of the first (bad angel) Jejon; that is, the one who led astray all the sons of God, and brought them (5) down to the earth, and led them astray through the daughters of men. And the second named Asbeel: he imparted to the holy sons of God evil counsel, and led them astray so that they defiled (6) their bodies with the daughters of men. And the third was named Gadreel: he it is who showed the children of men all the blows of death, and he led astray Eve, and showed the weapons of death to the sons of men the shield and the coat of mail, and the sword for battle, and all the weapons.”

First we have more obsession about claimed angelic sexual seduction of women, then we see that one angel, Gadreel, was named the culprit who seduced Eve, But the Scriptures plainly teach that it was “the Nawcash (Hebrew text)” translated “serpent” who tricked Eve in the Garden of Eden. (Gen. 3) Then we have this same supposed Edenic evil angel Gadreel showing men (Adamites) how to use weapons, as if the use of weapons comes from an evil source. That’s not what King David tells us, a man after Yahweh’s own heart (Acts 13:22). The Bible declares that there is evil in the Earth and that there is “A time to love, and a time to hate; a time of war, and a time of peace.” (Eccl. 3:8) The knowledge to defend ourselves by use of the sword comes from Yahweh, not from a “wicked fallen angel.” As King David testifies, “Blessed be Yahweh my strength, which teacheth my hands to war, and my fingers to fight: My goodness, and my fortress; my high tower, and my deliverer; my shield, and He in whom I trust; who subdueth my people under me.” Once again, the book of Enoch proves itself to be a contradiction to the Holy Scriptures. The entire book is replete in occult and superstitious fables that were prevalent in the ancient middle east of Idumean Judea.

It is one thing for our Christian family to read such books for the literary interest which they may or may not hold, but the ‘Book of Enoch’ and other such spurious books were never given to our people by the holy spirit for instruction in matters of faith.

I CREATE EVIL

by Arnold Kennedy

In the aftermath of the World Trade Center demolition, there are many questions that people are asking. This also applies to other calamities and pandemics. The most common question is, “Why did God allow it?” Very few are acknowledging any possibility that God did it, because if they did, they would be going against the popular flow. We will make some examination into the verse below that literally says, “God did it.”

“I form the light, and create darkness. I make peace, and create evil; I the LORD do all these.” Isaiah 45:7.

In this short verse, there are several different verbs translated as, “form,” “create,” “make,” and “do.” These are all in what language experts call the “participle active mood.” A definition of this mood is as follows, “The participle represents an action or condition in its unbroken continuity, and corresponds to the English verb, “to be” with the present participle. It may be used of present, past or future time.” From the use of these verbs, together with the associated nouns, we can see that these facts never change. What God does in a given situation never changes.

In the Hebrew, we have:

“form” =
yatsar (Strongs 3335)
“create” =
bara’ (Strongs 1254)
“make” and “do” =
asah (Strongs 6213)

These verbs “cover the field” in regard to activities such as:

[a] What a potter does, in terms of human activity, including conception, and divine activity.

[b] What a creator does, in terms of choice, choosing a people for Himself.

[c] What an organiser does, in terms of fashioning, transforming, and shaping, changing circumstances, and also cutting down.

[d] What an accomplisher does, in terms of attending, working, making, celebrating, ordaining, preparing, dealing with, and offering.

Going a stage further, we can see these activities include opposites which are translated as:

[a] “light” and “darkness.”

[b] “peace” and “evil.”

“Light” is ‘owr (Strongs 16 which is inclusive of all forms of light, life, prosperity, instruction and of Jehovah as being Israel’s light.

“Darkness” is choshek (Strongs 2822) usually translated as “darkness.”

“Peace” is shalowm (Strongs 7965) that conveys the idea of completeness, soundness, health and prosperity, contentment, and good relationships.

“Evil” is ‘ra (Strongs 7451), which conveys every-thing opposite to what “shalowm” means.

When we study verses like Isaiah 45:7, there is absolutely no suggestion, that when evil occurs, it is just a case of “God allowed it,” as we hear so often said in religious circles. All the different verbs, together with the opposites immediately above, declare to us that there is no field of activity in heaven and earth that God is not the prime mover of. As the “Almighty” there is no other authority or originator of anything. Paul indicated that not everyone has this knowledge, saying in this 1 Cor 8:4 passage, “There is none other God but one,” and continues on to say, “But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by (for) whom are all things, and we by (for) Him.” “One” in Greek is a numerical term, so there is no other being in competition with Him.

If we agree with this, then how could we say that God was not the originator of the WTC (or any other, such as COVID19) disaster? There is no shortage of passages in the Bible such as those below. These show God’s hand as being the creator of evil against Israel, when Israel was sinning against God.

“And the anger of the LORD was hot against Israel, and he delivered them into the hands of spoilers that spoiled them, and he sold them into the hands of enemies round about, so that they could not any longer stand before their enemies. Whithersoever they went out, the hand of the LORD was against them for evil, as the LORD had said, an as the LORD had sworn unto them: and they were greatly distressed.” Judges 2:14-15.

“And the children of Israel did evil in the sight of the LORD, and forgot the LORD their God, and served Baalim and the groves (government and earth worship). Therefore the anger of the LORD was hot against Israel, and he sold them into the hand of Chushanrishathaim king of Mesopotamia: and the children of Israel [you could read: the descendants of Jacob] served Chushanrishathaim eight years.” Judges 3:7-8.

“And the anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel, and he delivered them into them into the hand of Hazael king of Syria, and into the hand of Benhadad the son of Hazael, all their days.” 2 Kings 19:3.

Who did these things (as emphasized) to God’s people? God did! And always there is a similar reason given, and the reasons are not commonly accepted. Churches say it is not the nature of God to do these things.

In the New Testament pages we are told that all these Old Testament happenings are examples to us to show that God’s method of dealing with His sinning people has not changed.

“Now these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted. Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them: as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play. Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and fell in one day three and twenty thousand. Neither let us test the anointing [christ], as some of them also tested, and were destroyed of serpents. Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer. Now all these things happened unto them for ensamples: and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come.” 1 Cor. 10:6-10.

These verses determine that God’s method of operation and reasons have not changed through the New Testament, even up to our day. Churches should note it is still the nature of God to do this! Even a little of the fear of God would work wonders in the congregations.

Although we read about, "All those innocent people being killed" at the World Trade Center [and other places for other causes], we can hardly accept that this was a godly-living country, living in the fear of God, when these things happened. All these people referred to may have been innocent of committing deliberate offence to Islam, but were all innocent of sin against God? Is not the rest of the population, including the Government, likewise ungodly? Concerning "towers" falling, we read in Luke 13:2-5 "And Jesus said unto them ... Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were sinners above all men that dwell in Jerusalem? I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish." So the nation has had a stark warning of what will come unless the "except you repent" is heeded!

The selection below from a message presented at Times Square Church, shortly after the WTO event, confirms this view and "says it all."

"The Bible makes it crystal clear" God used enemy nations to chasten his people. The Lord wielded these enemies as an instrument of warning to Israel, calling the nation to repent. "O Assyrian, the rod of mine anger, and the staff in their hand is mine indignation. I will send him against an hypocritical nation, and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge, to take the spoil, and to take the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the streets" (10:5-6) - God charged this coalition of Israel's enemies to chasten his chosen people. The Lord was trying to warn Israel, "You've lifted yourself up with pride. Now I'm about to bring you down. I'm going to allow you to be disciplined by your enemies."

The enemy coalition launched their massive attack. And, suddenly, the Israelites watched in horror as their buildings began to collapse. Fires raged throughout the cities, burning down stately structures. In a short time, Israel was in flames. And God's people began to wail, "The bricks are fallen down ... the sycamores are cut down" (9:10)

After witnessing the recent disasters in New York and Washington [and elsewhere], we can begin to imagine the emotions of the ancient Israelites. Yet, did Israel repent after this horrifying attack? Was there a nationwide acknowledgement that God was sending them a warning? Did the rulers hear God speaking through the awful calamity? No. Israel's reaction was just the opposite. The people's initial fear quickly gave way to a flood tide of national pride. "All the people ... say in the pride and stoutness of heart" (9:9).

The Hebrew word for stoutness in this verse signifies a sense of greatness. In other words, once the attack died down, the Israelites regained their confidence. They declared, "The bricks are fallen down, but we will build with hewn stones: the sycamores are cut down but we will change them into cedars" (9:10). They were saying, in other words, "These calamities aren't from our Lord.

They're simply fate, unfortunate disasters that can't be explained.

"We're a great and mighty nation. We're made up of a proud, unbending people. And we're going to let the world know we're coming back. We'll build everything back bigger and better. Where we used bricks before, we'll use stone. And where we once built with cheap construction, we'll use better materials. We're a God-blessed nation. And we're going to come through this disaster stronger than ever."

Doesn't all this sound very familiar? The Lord himself used a evil enemy to send a warning of chastisement to his people. He wanted to wake them up to their compromise, bring them back to Himself, pour out his blessings on them, and surround them with his protection. Yet, throughout their days of grief and horror, God's people never once acknowledged his hand in it all. No one asked, "What is the Lord saying through all this? Is he trying to speak to us?" No one thought for a moment that such a proud, great nation could be humbled and chastised. On the contrary, the people used the occasion to defy any such thought. They refused to hear God's warning to them.

Yet, even so, we risk missing God's message to us. Think about it: when our public assemblies call for a moment of silence, we think it's true repentance. When we see politicians singing "God bless America," we think our nation has turned back to God. When we see sporting events observe a silent minute at halftime, we think it's a spiritual experience.

But is this all that's going to come out of our recent disaster? Will people in sports stadiums stand in silence for a minute, then go back to painting their bodies in wild colour, chug beer after beer, and scream maniacally for their favorite team?

Like most people, I wept as I saw Senators and Congressional leaders standing on the steps of the Capitol, singing, "God bless America ... stand beside us, and guide us..." Yet, as I was crying, the Lord reminded me, "Many of the leaders you see singing have worked to rule me out of American society. They are even determined to remove my name from the history books. And they've allowed the murder of millions of babies through aborticide."

Suddenly, I was struck by the absolute hypocrisy of it all. We give lip service to God, but we continue our slide into the mire of immorality. If God wouldn't spare other nations that have outlawed him, why would he spare this nation? He'll judge us even as he judged Sodom, Rome, Greece and every other culture that has turned its back on him.

Then David Wilkerson went on to say prophetically:

Devouring fires will rise to the heavens (Australia knows about them, don't they?)/ Darkness will cover the land. The economy will be hit with a staggering blow (and haven't we all just experienced that?). And there will be disunity in the nation, in communities, in neighbourhoods, in families (social distancing?). People will look out only for themselves, in a desperate fight to survive (face masks?). And God help you if you come near them. I believe our window of opportunity to respond to God's call is brief. We all should pray that our nation repents and turns back to the Lord. But our most intense prayers should be for our own hearts; "Lord, let me tremble not at the disasters, but at your Word. I want to hear your voice in all of this. Cause me to turn wholly to you."

So, in all this, did God send a warning to us? Did God "do it" referring to WTC, Corona, bushfires? Is God raising up Moslem extremists in order to chasten us? Let us go ahead a little further in chapter 47 of Isaiah where we started. In vs 9 we read, "Woe to him that striveth with his maker." This is about arguing against God's righteous judgments. What is the President doing? Does he think he can strive against God where God has "created evil"? He says the nation is going to destroy evil, where "evil" to him is anything that operates against the welfare of the nation.

We hear nothing from him, or church leadership, about either the evil of the internal sins of the nation, or of the external sins his country commits against other countries. Some people consider the control of other nations by the USA, through the applying of economic sanctions and financial manipulation, to be a form of terrorism. So far there has been no trumpet sounded to call for national repentance to that morally corrupt nation. We can read in many places in Scripture where God hears the genuine call for mercy, and then God turns and judges those He used to chasten His people. In this God says, "I have created the waster to destroy" - (Isaiah 54:15), this time destroying those opposing God's children, when God's children are in a repentant state.

So where are the churches in all this? Mostly supporting the leadership, or otherwise silent! There is wicked multi-faith prayer for "remembrance," but none for repentance to the God of Israel. One reason for this is their concept that the whole thing is part of an ongoing war between God and what they think of as being a lesser god they term "Satan." They do not realize that the latter term is used for anything that is an "adversary" or "opponent" to God in thought or deed. Scripture records that the Jehovah, or Yahweh, became a "satan" to Israel when Israel was sinning. Jesus once called Peter "satan." This shows we should not ascribe personality to a particular being (as translators have done) to whom we can ascribe blame for our misfortunes. In what churches affirm, most are actually "satans" themselves in believing God is not sovereign. They do not understand the full meaning and implications of, "I for the light, and create darkness; I make peace and create evil: I the LORD do all these." Can it now be seen how many churches think when they say, "God allowed it"? That could never be in the way that they think! But the Internet pages and television responses show the prevalence of the ideas most of our churches hold.

Although they may not like to admit it, their thinking leads to wrong conclusions; their secret thinking goes like

this:

- [1] A good God would destroy evil.
- [2] An all-powerful God could destroy evil.
- [3] Evil is not destroyed.
- [4] Therefore, there cannot possibly be such a good and powerful God.

Their conclusions effectively are that if God was effectively and totally good, He would destroy evil. It is not God who creates "evil," in their view. This follows on to conclude, "If God is unable to prevent evil, therefore He is impotent." We may claim otherwise to other people and amongst ourselves, but most have a secret inner thought that places them where they will have their portion with the unbelievers. Listen carefully, you will hear this "God allowed it" theme in churches. It comes out too in the much-debated theme, "Why does God permit evil"? If we were to ask instead, "Why does God create evil"? We would take much care with our God-given freedom of choice. We would understand the blessings of obedience are set before God's people, as are the curses of disobedience. It is God who "forms," "creates," "Makes" and "does" both! Yes, both!

It would help if we put the following verses from Hebrews 10 behind our pulpits.

"For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins, But a certain fearful looking for of judgment and fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries. He that despised Moses' law died without mercy under two or three witnesses. Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace? For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again,

The Lord shall judge his people. It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God."

Numbers might well dwindle for a start (and we have seen that), but so be it. There would then be a "righteous remnant" God then could (and would) destroy the evil against His people.

* * * *

While many people profess to be Christians, and profess to "love God" and "love Jesus," they seem to have forgotten "If you love me, keep my commandments," a theme that is repeated often: Ex. 20:6, Deut. 5:10, 7:9, 11:1, 11:22, 19:9, 30:16, Josh 22:5, Dan. 9:4, John 14:15, 1 John 5:2,3., because when we try and follow: "By their fruits ye shall know them," and not by listening to what they say, as actions speak louder than words (Matt. 7:16, 7:20., and we observe people coming out of a church, and walking across the road on Sunday to buy a newspaper, or a pie, or go to a restaurant for lunch, or go to their place of employment because "the boss wants them to work," or eating unclean and forbidden things, even seeing inter-racial marriages in the churches, we can only assume that these things are more important to them than, "Keep my commandments." However, they also show that they really are not Christians,

MANUFACTURING RACIAL HATRED

Lawrence Blanchard, ND, M.Div.

I have waited until now to discuss the George Floyd incident and its ongoing aftermath. I felt that, perhaps, there was more information coming that would clarify what actually happened and why. From the very beginning of this breaking story, it all smelled too much like a contrived situation with an agenda.

Using incidents like this has been historically common place. For those who still have the ability to think and reason, the operating Marxist/Communist people and organizations have deliberately, and with malice, created circumstances to escalate chaos, division, and hatred between races. Especially since the 1964 Civil Rights Act and the advent of MLK to force the equalization and integration at every level between Negroes and Whites, including affirmative actions policies, racial tensions have increased. But the common reason that is always promoted is that it is always the White People's fault.

They are the ones who are the problem. They create and sustain "systemic racism" and oppress the Negro. "Social injustice" toward Negroes is, and always has been, the White sin which must be decisively dealt with at all costs. That's the common theme.

Enter George Floyd

What timing now for this George Floyd incident to take place just on the heels of the fake Covid-19 "plandemic" and the unjustifiable lockdown of the entire country, as well as many others around the globe. What incredible pressure has been brought to bear on our People and everyone else that really cannot be measured. The stress that it has caused people personally and financially will be the subject of future sociological studies. To add to this scenario, now comes the purported killing of George Floyd by a White police officer – all filmed on location for at least eight minutes.

The White officer and the other three non-White officers were immediately condemned, arrested, charged with various murder charges and, of course, immediately convicted by the news media and government, among others. There will be no "innocent until proven guilty" for any of these involved, no matter what the facts are. On the other hand, there have been reports with some evidence that all the above are "crisis actors" and not really police officers at all, and not even Floyd was killed. Most likely this story is yet to unfold in more definitive detail.¹

Now we are getting information from video footage that raises a whole bunch of questions about what took place during this episode. One video showed a Negro male was apparently lifeless, the White office removed his knee off his neck, an EMT truck rolled up, and two cops got out of the truck and slapped this guy on a gurney and put him in the truck. No paramedics. No routine check for vital signs or other on site medical attention. And there are other videos.²

Here is a list of questions that have not been answered, or probably will never be addressed and answered:

Why does one photo from behind show the man on the road is not handcuffed and the video from the front that he is handcuffed? Why is the cop car in the restaurant surveillance video different than the one Floyd was lying behind (different car numbers)? Why were the cops in the surveillance footage that arrested him different than the police in the actual incident? Why does the video show the diesel fuel price as 99 cents instead of the regular price in the area of $2.49? Why does the Police Car have a non-Municipal license plate with "Police" on it? Why does Derek have a completely different police badge on top of a second police badge matching his partner's if they work for the same precinct?

Why is it not odd that both Officers Tou Thao and Derek Chauvin have both previously been investigated for excessive use of force and not charged by State AG Amy Klobuchar?

Additionally, Officer Derek Chauvin is married to his partner's sister Kelli.

Is there any cop dumb enough to continue kneeling on someone's neck for 8 minutes when surrounded by people and being video recorded?

Is it possible for the deceased's cousins and fiancé to be completely tearless during interviews?

Why does the main cop have one hand in his pocket most of the time he's kneeling? Why did the kneeling officer appear completely cool and calm, as if he was posing for the camera?

Doesn't it seem strange that Floyd and the officer that knelted on his neck worked security together on the same shift at the El Nuevo Rodeo Club, the officer for 17 years (both were laid off because of the Covid Virus)?

Why do the neighbors of this officer say they didn't know he was a cop and never saw him in uniform? Why has the same attorney been hired as with all the other big supposed police killings of blacks? Attorney Benjamin Crump. The same attorney that worked on previous cases that resulted in busses bringing in rioters from outside the city? Why does store surveillance video show Floyd calmly and submissively walking with the officer and not resisting arrest while the officer gently allowed him to sit down on the side walk, and multiple officers calmly chatting with him? Is this the kind of suspect that a police officer would feel the need to put on the ground and place his knee on his neck?

Why did the EMT workers (wearing Police Uniforms including bullet proof vests) roughly handle and dump the unconscious George on the stretcher? This is not how trained emergency workers lift a person with a possible neck injury. Why did they not attempt triage or try CPR?

Can someone really not breathe when someone kneels on his neck and is the victim really able to speak for considerable periods of time if he can't breathe?

Post killing: Why is a white man that looks like an undercover (St Paul) cop in black and a riot gear mask carrying a black umbrella walking around breaking windows (and others dressed similarly starting fires) and instigating a riot? Is this reminiscent of "umbrella man" during the JFK shooting?

Why were almost all the rioters leading the destruction of the neighborhood at the beginning of the riots “white” and not from Minneapolis... in a black neighborhood after a police killed a black man?

Why did the Chief of Police make it a point that those inciting the riots and arsonists were not from Minnesota?

Why was a CNN news crew not only detained but also arrested?

It all reeks of a set-up job!

The Aftermath

As you probably know, there have been numerous, destructive and violent protests and riots around the country, and in other countries, spontaneously taking place at the same time all because of this Floyd incident. Spontaneously or planned?

Terrorist groups like Antifa and Black Lives Matter, and an assortment of white-looking people have been given a pass to wreak havoc anywhere they want. What is disturbing, but not surprising, is that these groups perpetrating unlawful acts of destruction of property, looting and murder have been aided and abetted by hidden actors including financiers and even some law enforcement (in some cases). We do know that pallets of bricks have been strategically delivered for these hooligans to use to smash windows and for other destructive purposes.

Now we have government officials praising the protests and even joining them “in solidarity” like the Mayor of Los Angeles. LA is still on lock-down and yet, street protests continue unabated with the mayor approving. And, by the way, there is no need for masks or social distancing. The so-called protestors and the mayor get a pass on that, too.

Altruistic Mindless Reactions

What is most disgusting is the slough of mindless, knee-jerk reactions from corporations and businesses and celebrities of all sorts who are happy to take advantage of their hatred toward White People and their total commitment to advance and promote tolerance and diversity at the expense of the truth. For example, one sign I saw read, “White people – Do something.”

Amazon came out with this:

Black Lives Matter

Amazon stands in solidarity with the Black community . . . followed by a series of free-to-watch civil rights and racial injustice documentaries favoring the Negroes, of course, and always vilifying Whites.

I am on several email lists of alternative health organizations in which I have received something like the following:

Over the past week, we've been working with many leaders in the integrative and mental health fields to develop a collective statement, "Healing Our Nation: Addressing Systematic Trauma with People of Color."

We fundamentally believe that all people must be treated with respect, dignity, and humanity. We believe black lives matter. As white founders from middle class families, we acknowledge that we have benefited in many ways from our race, class, and able-bodied privilege.... port dismantling systemic racism.

White guilt, baby. That is what conventional, but errant, evangelical Christianity is all about. This is the agenda!

And there have been numerous displays featuring White people kneeling before Negroes to beg forgiveness and kissing their feet – literally. You can probably find pictures of this sort of thing through an internet search.

Well, this is the product of the years of government schools run by Marxists and culturally-sensitive churches.

(you should read Arnold Kennedy's: "Should Christian Schools be 'Culturally Sensitive'? # @ $ - To tolerate one culture within another is to change the civilization of that region to a new blend of highly developed material and spiritual resources, The question is, therefore, should Christian schools and churches be sensitive to the presence of forces that will ultimately bury or bas- tardise the very Christian principles they seek to teach and uphold?)

Once again, the whole Floyd thing is a sham. Don't fall for it.

The biblical solution to this racial conflict is separation. Let the White People have their own land governed by their people under their system of laws. Same for the Negroes. Same for the Asians. Same for everybody else.

Racial and multicultural integration doesn't work. Never has and never will.

CROSSROADS: WHAT MUST HAPPEN NOW? PART 2

Lawrence Blanchard, N.D.,
M.Div.

New revelations are arriving every day. The plans of the enemies of Jesus Christ and His anointed Covenant People diametrically opposing the manifestation of the Kingdom of God are being exposed:

- Planned fake epidemic
- Planned faulty testing
- Planned false numbers
- Planned mandatory testing
- Planned mass vaccinations

(or else)

- Planned destruction of the economy
- Planned destruction of small businesses and ability to make a living

We are facing the rapid advancement of an ongoing lockdown by the controlled Marxist/Communist, totalitarian, global government. It is here - now.

Our Options

What is the answer to this surreal situation that is all too real? What must happen now to defeat and conquer the forces of this darkness? Is there an answer?

Will it be the soon victory of Q Anon? That would be a welcome surprise if such a thing exists.

Will it be the second coming of Jesus the Christ? Some are convinced that will happen. I hope it's soon because things are deteriorating quickly and we are in a serious, unprecedented state of affairs. We are going from economically "critical" to life support.

Do I believe that Anointed Jesus will once again deliver His People, Israel? Yes, but from what I read in the Bible, He plans to do that in and through every local church assembly. I discuss this at length in Book Seven, The Kingdom of God Manifested.

Resolved

Whereas the Bible says:

- Since Christ is seated at the right hand of the Father; whereas
- He rules in supremacy over all other rulers, authorities, powers and dominions; whereas
- He is Head of His church; and whereas
- His church body is likewise seated with Him co-reigning with that same supremacy (Ephesians 1:17-23; 2:6) . . . then, nothing is impossible that the God of our fathers cannot do in and through every local church assembly.

Nothing! Even in the face of such formidable and seemingly insurmountable spiritual forces of wickedness because you see, it is a matter of authority. Who has supreme authority here?

What "They" Fear

You wouldn't know it by the way "they" (the powers of darkness at every level) act with their confident assertions, pronouncements, and threats. They are acting pretty "high and mighty" with complete control of the airwaves and with all their trillions of fake money.

Think about their control. The political, legislative, and judicial system, the TV and radio stations, a good deal of the internet, the "money" system, the military including local militarized law enforcement, and let's not forget the Catholic and Protestant religious systems. They have all been corrupted.

But the top-down handlers all fear the true local church of the Living God. They fear its authority. They fear the power of Jesus Christ and the unseen, but real heavenly host that is the military might of God all around us (Hebrews 12:22-24). They fear losing control at the local level and that's where the power of the church comes in. The powerful new world order is rendered impotent if the local level is controlled by the church of the Living God with Jesus Christ as its Head.

They fear that, through the true, obedient local church assembly the truth will be revealed:

- That the covenants of the Bible have been misapplied.
- That the People of those covenants have been misidentified.

- That commonly used words like; Jew, Gentile, man, christ, and world have been misinterpreted.

- They fear the local church assembly as the pillar and foundation of the truth (I Timothy 3:15).

What Must Happen Now?

Simply this. The local assembly in your area must be started and built. You want to see things changed and transformed? You want to see the Lord God be glorified in power not just to deliver His People, but to take authority. We must engage. We must rebuild!

Who do you know in your local area to whom you can introduce the covenant message? You can use the Bible Mastery Boot Camp video series as your guide. It comes with a set of recommended instructions on how to begin. More than that, ask God to help you every step of the way and with every one you talk with. He will show you as you step out on faith. Ask God to open "a door for the word . . . and to make clear the way" you ought to speak (Colossians 4:3-4). Order here.

TAKE RESPONSIBILITY

Joel Hilliker

"It's not my fault." How often have you heard—or said—this? Everyone wants to blame their problems on someone or something else: their parents, their socio-economic status, their schooling, their boss, their friends, the big banks, big business, racists, sexists, special-interest groups, self-serving politicians . . .

Actually, this isn't just a modern trend. People have been trying to wriggle out of responsibility since God asked Adam a direct question: "Have you eaten of the tree of which I commanded you that you should not eat?" Millennia of excusing, covering, evading, shirking, shrugging, and rationalizing later, we have elevated avoiding responsibility to an art form.

STOP. Your life is your responsibility. Accept that fact!

Anyone who goes through life focusing on what other people aren't doing for him, what they owe him, or the raw deal life gave him, NEVER GROWS UP. In some form, he forfeits responsibility for his life.

"When I was a child, I spoke as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child," the Apostle Paul wrote, "but when I became a man, I put away childish things" (1 Cor. 13:11). The man who believes society owes him a comfortable living still thinks like a child. The person who grouses about how unfair the world is, and how riches a privilege are just a matter of luck or corruption, still thinks like a child. The woman whose failures are always someone else's fault is stuck in childish thinking. The individual content to live off of his parents' largesse or a government handout still understands as a child. The man focused more on what the world should do for him than on what he can contribute to others is not yet thinking like an adult.

Maturing means you move from deflecting blame to accepting responsibility. You move from being a passive observer to an initiator. You move from victim to doer. You move from expecting things to providing things. Maturing means seizing your God-given power to direct your own life, to welcome challenge, to surmount obstacles, to achieve victories.

Blaming other people for your problems is a trap. Of course other people's actions affect you, but don't deceive yourself. God says the person who is responsible for you is you. "But let every man prove his own work, and then he shall have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another. For ever man shall bear his own burden" (Galatians 6:4,5). You must carry your own load. In fact, God wants you to go beyond that, and to reach out to help others carry their burden as well (vs 2).

"[W]hatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap" (verse 7). If you don't like what you're reaping, take a hard look at what you've been sowing. And start making some changes.

God is radically pro-responsibility! Think about the command in 2 Thessalonians 3:10: "that if any would not work, neither should he eat." That is God's way: Everyone who is able must work in order to eat. If we followed this command, there would be whining and pleading, maybe even yelling—but in the end, everyone would take responsibility, everyone would work, and everyone would eat.

Our modern world, intoxicated with government benefits and welfare programs, has come to view that as cruel. We believe we have a better way: Give the meal to the irresponsible sluggard. Who cares if it stunts his growth, his maturity, his productivity, his dignity and even his happiness? [we should begin to apply this to all foreign aid programs as well]

God says that if a man does not provide [note that the woman looks to her household - Prov 31], for his family, let alone himself, his religion is worthless (1 Tim. 5:8). Is this cruel of God? Or is He trying to teach you to become useful and skillful? Does He want you to suffer, or does He want to make you stronger and happier?

Taking responsibility means the buck stops with you. It means taking ownership: You cause something to happen, you do all you can to make it a success, and you accept the blame if it fails. If this is your priority, you will become dependable and trustworthy, fulfilling your commitments to others. If it is not, you will be unreliable, unpredictable, distracted, needful of reminders, always showing up late: you'll consume more time, attention and resources than you produce.

Shirking responsibility for your mistakes is another trap. Until you own up to your own failures, you'll remain stuck in them. "He that covereth his sins shall not prosper: but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy" (Prov. 28:13). Confess your error! Then forsake it: Make a different choice the next time. And teach your children to do the same. Don't let them get away with passing blame and sidestepping guilt. Teach them to be upfront about their mistakes.

Accepting responsibility builds momentum toward greater responsibility. God wants to give us a lot of responsibility. He is watching to see what we do with what we have. When He gives resources or talents, He wants results.

The man who produces the most results is the one God can entrust with more responsibility (Matt. 25:28).

Someday you will have to stand before God and give account (Romans 14:10-12). At that point you can't look around, pointing fingers of blame at others. Those people will have to answer for themselves. And you, face to face with God, will have to answer for yourself. Don't wait until then to start. Take responsibility. As you do, you'll grow up and fulfill much more of your God-given potential.

HAVING A KINGDOM RESOLVE

by pastor Dave Barley

"It was the best of times, it was the worst of times blah, blah, blah." [first line in the book A Tale of Two Cities by Charles Dickens]. No, it is the best of times for our manipulators and the worst of times for we the people, but for true Christians, our faith remains in Jesus the Christ and His Living Word.

True freedom and liberty never has and never will come from our illustrious government and all of its various agencies. You know, part of me is starting to believe that this virus may not have been perpetrated by man, but by God Almighty [see I Create Evil, page 5]. It just may be possible that they will not come up with a "devilish coronavirus vaccine" because they got caught with their pants down in what has taken place (just a thought, and a possibility). Several doctors have put forth this idea, further stating they personally do not think this vaccination will ever become a reality. We know they (more than Bill Gates) would jump at such a chance and even manufacture one if given the opportunity. I'm certainly not saying "get such or take any vaccine." Most of us do not know where this created virus will lead. Our economy, of course, is in shambles. Many dumbed down people still accept whatever they are told by the media, government authorities, slimy doctors, and such. We are thankful to those who have awakened and are asking the right questions.

To Bible-believing Israelite Covenant Christians, there are certainly things we should hold to and we need to be firm in our Kingdom of God resolve.

“For other foundation can no man lay that they is laid, which is Jesus the Christ. Now if any man build upon this foundation gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble; Every man’s work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man’s work of what sort it is.” 1 Corinthians 3:11-21.

In other words, Jesus the Christ is the true foundation. All other foundations are temporal. This coronavirus or whatever we may face in life is temporal. It will not last and neither will any other schemes they have up their New World Order sleeves. I am so glad I have God’s Word to depend upon, read, follow, and orient myself towards His Kingdom Purposes. We are not of this world and its systems; we are of our blessed Redeemer Jesus the Anointed. He who has begun a good work in you shall bring it to pass. Philippians 1:6. We are of another order, the order of King Jesus and His marvelous Kingdom Plan of the ages.

“If any man’s work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward. If any man’s work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; yet so as by fire. Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the spirit of God dwelleth in you.” 1 Cor. 3:14-16.

There are some heavy spiritual things which are being revealed unto His people. Basically, we are given to understand that through the spirit we are changed and are being transformed. This “fire” is a burning in our members or bodies to purge away the idolatry of self, flesh, and other forms of rebellion which are at enmity with Jesus’ Purposes. Our reward is to be transformed into His (Jesus) image and likeness. We are to be new creatures in Him, even separated unto Him, and taken out of this world order into His Kingdom Order.

Only Israel was called and of them, only a Remnant has answered this call. Many are called, but few are chosen [Matthew 22:14]. This Temple will not be made with untempered hands, but with the tempered hands of the holy spirit and by those who are helping make themselves ready for the Marriage Supper of the Lamb.

“If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.” 1 Cor. 3:17.

“Destroy” is after the meaning of “burned” without getting too technical. So to speak, one is turned over to the devil or adversary, or self (destruction) if an Israelite will not pursue the things of the Kingdom of God and His Righteousness. Instead, if they are pursuing the things of this world, even the false pleasures of this world, they have their reward, and one day will cry out in bitter anguish at the realization of what they have done.

“Let no man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise.” verse 18.

Do this before its too late. Become a “fool in Anointing” which is what the world already thinks of us, but, in fact, we shine forth as lights of Divine Wisdom and Grace. Be enduring upholders of the faith, Let the world have its temporal fun calling us fools and having their way with us—it is all for Jesus and His Glorious Kingdom.

“For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God, For it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness. And again, The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain. Therefore let no man glory in men. For all things are yours;” vs 19-21.

I cannot say it better, “...let no man glory in men.” The Lord knoweth their thoughts and ways which are vain. He knows that they are scheming and plotting against Christianity. One day “all things” will be yours. This temporal Edomite bowl of Red Pottage they have sold their Jacob-Covenant-Israel birthright for, will fully be ours.

For our Redemption draweth nigh. Hallelujah!

NO CLOSE ENCOUNTERS

by Alan Edwards

“For where two or three are gathered together, in my name, saith the Lord, there an I in the midst of them.” (Matt 18:20)

This period of time (April/May 2020), is such that we are unable to congregate with others in groups larger than two or three, unless we have several children. However, for the most part, we are not gathering in His name, our Lord Jesus Anointed. For by and large, we have abandoned Him and in many cases have never known Him. We do not even ask Him for mercy and forgiveness, that we may have this current plague taken from us.

When Moses was used by God to be His instrument in delivering His people from the Egyptians, one plague was not enough, for Pharaoh’s heart was hardened. In this time, it is our (the people’s) heart that is hard and unrepentant, for they know not what they have done. Therefore, it is possible that even when this plague has ended, others may take their place, and these may be even worse than so-called COVID19. It is thus essential that we collectively seek the face of God and change our attitude from one of total rebellion against God. A rebellion that sanctions every evil under the sun.

We are told we must adhere to “social distancing,” yet another piece of meaningless terminology, designed in part to keep us from talking to one another. Yet, we do not mind, as a nation, from being distanced from the Almighty, whose very world this is, having created it and everything in it. We are therefore prevented from discussing whether the lockdown is actually beneficial. In Sweden they have not closed pubs, bars, restaurants, etc., and have a death rate per capita rate far less than the UK and USA. How can this be? Does this country have more trust in God than we do? Or is it that its leaders are not blinded by a partisan and atheistic scientific fraternity. You know, the ones who believe in the impossible myth of Darwinian Evolution.

It is my belief that this genetically engineered virus was released specifically to harm our Israel nations and that China had already produced an antidote for use in that country, prior to its release, which in effect was an Act of War, dressed up as a tragic accident. And China was very quick to suspend all flights into and out of Hubei Province, once the outbreak had passed the point of onward transmission. The Chinese leaders are now gloating about how much damage this virus is doing to the Western countries, in particular, the United States. This leadership is evil beyond measure, yet our foolish nations have been keen to ratchet up the links that bind us to it. It is interesting to note that the current President of China is Xi Jinping, whose first name Xi is the Greek letter for the number 6. Also, that he was born on the 15th June 1953, or 6.6.666. And additionally that his age at present is 66. Of course, this may not be significant, but we cannot just ignore this set of figures. For Revelations clearly states that the number of the Beast must have:

ME? OBEY HIM?

Elizabeth Rice Handford

#043 listed @ $11.05 NOW $7.00

is 666 and that this is the number of a man. One particular individual.

So, we are currently up against the Red C. And there seems to be no escape, for we have sold our nations into subjection to this monster (which persecutes its own people as well as others). It is rabid and resourceful and is utterly contemptuous of us. We need to pray as never before and also drop our fear of this virus, because although there is danger, this has been exaggerated for political purposes. We must strengthen our FAITH and open our eyes and minds to TRUST absolutely to our God. And dare I say it, not feel we have to participate in the globally orchestrated activity of all clapping our health workers, even though they undoubtedly deserve it. For this sort of mass action can soon become a blueprint for Government ordered group/mindset as a form of indoctrination. Please reread George Orwell's novel, 1984. Above all, we should question everything, that atheistic governments tell us (and they are all this) and remind them that God gave us a brain for this very purpose. And sometimes, perhaps, every time we are exhorted to do this or that; or think this or that, to say in return, "WHO ARE YOU PEOPLE?" (like they did in the film Close Encounters, when presented with a falsely contrived situation) for it may be that they are just doing the work of adversaries. Let us pray diligently for guidance and illumination that we may not be deceived.

Let us conclude with the inspiring and comforting words of Psalm 27:1-6,

"The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes, came upon me to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell. Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear: though war should rise against me, in this will I be confident. One thing have I desired of the Lord, that I will seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to inquire in his temple. For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his pavillion: in the secret of his tabernacle shall he hide me. And now shall mine head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me: will I offer in his tabernacle sacrifices of joy; I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto the Lord."

LET US HAVE BIBLICAL SEPARATION

by pastor Dave Barley

By the way, many black people now want their own kind of "so-called police," which is really black thugs. Fine, then let them pay for this without the so-called White man's money or help. They want to blame the White people for their problem, and so, the solution I see is to separate!

Furthermore, they should have their own land because, obviously, they only want to blame White people for their problems. Do you really expect these people to one day wake up and say to themselves, "Oh gosh, we were wrong, we need the White man's order for there to be some type of sanity. We need the White man's money. We need his laws, we need his land, etc."

This is not going to happen, so let us talk about the terms of separation and let us make this happen. Let us not pretend this is not a major problem. Let us come reason together and set out a Biblical narrative on this.

Presently we see a few White people kissing the shoes of Negroes and begging them for forgiveness. When really, this ought to be the other way around. But yes, such madness will continue if this is not stopped and strongly addressed for the insanity that this produces. God is Almighty and His Word is highly blasphemed in this and God's judgment is certainly going to continue with this type of behaviour.

"Now therefore make confession unto the LORD God of your fathers, and do his pleasure: and separate yourselves from the people of the land, and from the strange wives. Then all the congregation answered and said with a loud voice, As thou hast said, so must we do." Ezra 10:11-12.

Keep in mind, that with most hymns people sing, there is much error, resulting in what some have called HYMN-BOOK THEOLOGY, as these erroneous views and doctrines are cemented in the mind by much repetition of the songs. In 1543, the time of the Reformation, it was said:

"As for public prayers, there are two kinds: the one consists simply of words, the other of song ... And indeed, we know from experience that singing has great strength and power to move and to set on fire the hearts of men in order that they may call upon God and praise Him with a more vehement and more ardent zeal. It is to be remembered always that this singing should not be light or frivolous, but that it ought to have weight and majesty [hence much singing was done with pipe organ accompaniment]. Now what Augustine says is true, namely that no one can sing anything worthy of God which he has not first received from Him. Therefore, even after we have carefully searched everywhere, we shall not find better or more appropriate songs to this end than the Psalms of David, inspired by the Holy Ghost. And for this reason, when we sing them, we are assured that God puts the words in our mouth, as if He Himself were singing through us to exalt His glory..." {Calvin on Congregational singing - not to endorse Calvin, or Augustine, but a true statement nevertheless). If you don't want to promote and be influenced by false doctrines, take note and be careful what you sing.

Greetings once again in Jesus' name. This month, July, we will again be making a contribution to our American friends who continue to supply is with, and let us use, their material. Its use continues to be appreciated!

In September, we will again be making a contribution to the Loeries Children's Home in South Africa. So if you want to contribute towards that, we appreciate you getting your donation in prior to September. The last few times, the donations for the Loeries have been going down from what they had been previously. They appreciate your help.

Please note that the prices on some books have been reduced to clear them, and are being sold below cost and in some cases will only barely cover postage costs. But we would rather have someone benefit from them than see them thrown out, or fall apart from age.

Our God has been merciful and I have been having more good days than bad days as far as my heart is concerned, and I appreciate your prayers. It seems that wheat and wheat products have been a major contributing factor so we have given up on that and other things and changed our diet considerably. Dairy may also be a problem as we have given up that as well. Taking garlic, vitamin E and cayenne pepper are all beneficial for blood, circulation and heart related matters, and we do take lots of them.

Thank you again for the letters, orders, clippings and support. We appreciate them all very much. Keep it up. Try and get others interested in being on our mailing list. May our God bless you and keep you, make his face shine on you and be gracious unto you and give you peace and safety in these trying times,

"GATES' GLOBALIST VACCINE AGENDA:

A WIN-WIN FOR PHARMA AND MANDATORY VACCINATION"

Posted on April 20, 2020 by Ben Williams

Robert F. Kennedy Jr., Chairman, Children's Health Defense – April 09, 2020

Vaccines, for Bill Gates, are a strategic philanthropy that feed his many vaccine-related businesses (including Microsoft's ambition to control a global vaccination ID enterprise) and give him dictatorial control of global health policy.

Promising his share of $450 million, of the $1.2 billion to eradicate polio, Gates took control of India's National Technical Advisory Group on Immunization (NTAGI), which mandated up to 50 doses (Table 1) of polio vaccines through overlapping immunization programs to children before the age of five. Indian doctors blame the Gates campaign for a devastating non-polio acute flaccid paralysis (NPAFP) epidemic that paralyzed 490,000 children beyond expected rates between 2000 and 2017. In 2017, the Indian government dialed back Gates' vaccine regimen and asked Gates and his vaccine policies to leave India. NPAFP rates dropped precipitously.

In 2017, the World Health Organization (WHO) reluctantly admitted that the global explosion in polio is predominantly a vaccine strain. The most frightening epidemics in Congo, Afghanistan, and the Philippines, are all linked to vaccines. In fact, by 2018, 70% of global polio cases were vaccine strain.

In 2009, the Gates Foundation funded tests of experimental HPV vaccines, developed by Glaxo Smith Kline (GSK) and Merck, on 23,000 young girls in remote Indian provinces. Approximately 1,200 suffered severe side effects, including autoimmune and fertility disorders. Seven died. Indian government investigations charged that Gates-funded researchers committed pervasive ethical violations: pressuring vulnerable village girls into the trial, bullying parents, forging consent forms, and refusing medical care to the injured girls. The case is now in the country's Supreme Court.

South African newspapers complained, 'We are guinea pigs for the drug makers.'

In 2010, the Gates Foundation funded a phase 3 trial of GSK's experimental malaria vaccine, killing 151 African infants and causing serious adverse effects, including paralysis, seizure, and febrile convulsions, to 1,048 of the 5,949 children.

During Gates' 2002 MenAfriVac campaign in Sub-Saharan Africa, Gates' operatives forcibly vaccinated thousands of African children against meningitis. Approximately 50 of the 500 children vaccinated developed paralysis. South African newspapers complained, "We are guinea pigs for the drug makers." Nelson Mandela's former senior economist, Professor Patrick Bond, describes Gates' philanthropic practices as "ruthless and immoral."

In 2010, when Gates committed $10 billion to the WHO, he said "We must make this the decade of vaccines." A month later, Gates said in a TED Talk that new vaccines "could reduce the population." And, four years later, in 2014, Kenya's Catholic Doctors Association accused the WHO of chemically sterilizing millions of unwilling Kenyan women with a "tetanus" vaccine campaign. Independent labs found a sterility formula in every vaccine tested. After denying the charges, WHO finally admitted it had been developing the sterility vaccines for over a decade. Similar accusations came from Tanzania, Nicaragua, Mexico, and the Philippines.

A 2017 study (Morgenson et. al. 2017) showed that WHO's popular DTP vaccine is killing more African children than the diseases it prevents. DTP-vaccinated girls suffered 10x the death rate of children who had not yet received the vaccine. WHO has refused to recall the lethal vaccine, which it forces upon tens of millions of African children annually.

Global public health advocates around the world accuse Gates of steering WHO's agenda away from the projects that are proven to curb infectious diseases: clean water, hygiene, nutrition, and economic development. The Gates Foundation spends only about $650 million of its $5 billion dollar budget on these areas. They say he has diverted agency resources to serve his personal philosophy that good health only comes in a syringe.

In addition to using his philanthropy to control WHO, UNICEF, GAVI, and PATH, Gates funds a private pharmaceutical company that manufactures vaccines and is donating $50 million to 12 pharmaceutical companies to speed up development of a coronavirus vaccine. In his recent media appearances, Gates appears confident that the Covid-19 crisis will now give him the opportunity to force his dictatorial vaccine programs on all American children – and adults.

COOKING THE COVID BOOKS

Posted on April 24, 2020 by
Ben Williams –

All indications are that the COVID-19 pandemic is a complete fraud. The virus may actually exist, but the “pandemic” is fabricated. Yes, there are deaths. But deaths ALWAYS increase in the winter, particularly among the elderly who are hospitalized or in rest homes due to long term illnesses and compromised immune systems. It appears that the hospitals and doctors are cooking the books to make it look like these typical deaths are from COVID rather than ordinary diseases.

Here are some statistics found in CDC charts.

In March-April of 2020 we see a huge drop off (about 50%) of pneumonia and influenza-related deaths. At the same time a sudden explosion of COVID-19 deaths are reported.

This appears to be a result of doctors taking death numbers away from pneumonia and influenza reports and re-classifying them as COVID-19. Yes, the doctors are literally forging death certificates by reclassifying flu and pneumonia deaths to say they died from COVID-19. Why would they do this? Because they are directed to do so by their superiors whose hospitals receive more government funding for COVID cases.

The result? The reporting of pneumonia, influenza, and usual winter deaths declined, and deaths attributed to COVID-19 suspiciously rose. One of Bill Gates favored books is How to Lie with Statistics.

Mis-coding regular death cases to COVID-19 cases was due to financial incentives offered to hospitals and doctors to do so. The CDC-issued billing coding for hospitals literally bribes doctors and hospitals to up-code normal pneumonia cases to COVID-19 cases to be reimbursed at a 3-fold higher rate ($13,000 to $39,000)?

Isn't it amazing how blatant liars and conmen can feed off gullible people? You simply cannot believe anything you see or read from the mainstream news media. Sadly, most people cannot accept the fact that devils have been allowed to occupy every major position of mass information and influence. It is the result of the common people for too long not being vigilant and responsible.

Thank God for the remnant who, while not noticed by the sleeping masses, are nonetheless awake and not falling for the hucksters and con-men.

IT'S NOT ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

What's Really Going On with the Economic Lockdowns?

When the State tells you it's safe to go to Home Depot to buy a sponge but dangerous to go and buy a flower, it's not about your health.

When the State shuts down millions of private businesses but doesn't lay off a single government employee, it's not about your health.

When the State bans dentists because it's unsafe, but deems an abortion visit is safe, it's not about your health.

When the State prevents you from buying cucumber seeds because it's dangerous, but allows personal lottery ticket sales, it's not about your health.

When the State shuts down barber shops and salons because it's dangerous, but the Governor can get his stage make-up done, and hair done for 5 TV appearances a week, it's not about your health.

When the state puts you IN a jail cell for walking in a park with your child because it's too dangerous, but lets criminals OUT of jail cells for their health - It's not about YOUR health!

When the state tells you it's too dangerous to get treated by a doctor for chiropractic or physical therapy treatments yet deems a liquor store essential - It's not about your health!

Most Deaths Listed As COVID-19 Have Been In Nursing Homes Or Elderly People With Other Deadly Health Problems

Posted on May 13, 2020 by Ben Williams

As of Wednesday April 8th, 43 residents of the Life Care Center in Kirkland, Washington had died of coronavirus in the first deadly coronavirus outbreak in the United States.

Another 39 residents died at Canterbury Rehabilitation & Healthcare Center in Virginia also perished from the disease.

43% of New Jersey deaths involve nursing homes.

In Minnesota 71% of the deaths are in nursing homes.

UK did this too, and thousands of care home patients have died – blamed on COVID-19 when in fact many of the deaths were caused by malpractice and/or neglect.

This is the same policy they used in Italy!

Plus, the tests for COVID are wildly inaccurate and therefore mean nothing. But hospitals and nursing homes have been instructed to list COVID-19 as the cause of death regardless of the real cause of death. Hospitals are compensated by receiving $19,000 for each patient they list as COVID, and $38,000 for each patient placed on a respirator machine (experts confirm that the respirators are killing sick people). Hospitals are going broke due to the shut-down and due to the lack of patients. They happily comply and falsify their records to say "COVID" for patients so the hospital can receive needed money from the government.

People who have taken a flu shot in the past are likely to test positive. Millions of people have a corona virus in their system from past flu and cold infections (most of which are corona-type viruses), to which they have developed immunity. They can test positive (false positive). Especially vulnerable are the elderly in nursing homes or those who have been in hospital care recently and have been plied with all sorts of vaccines including flu and pneumonia vaccines which further compromise their immunity and health. They are set up to catch communicable diseases that comes around.

CHEAP FOOD IS AN ILLUSION

by Jorg Mardian

Food seems simple. Farmers and ranchers grow it. Grocery stores sell it. You eat it. But the truth is far more complex, far more corrupt, and far more toxic to your health.

Growing, selling and eating food changed in a big way in 1933. That is when the federal government began intervening in food commodity markets with the New Deal and the Agricultural Adjustment Act. Since then, the government has manipulated simple supply and demand in an attempt to stabilize crop prices and farmer's incomes and to provide consumers with an affordable, reliable supply of food.

But in providing these subsidies the government has entangled itself in a brier patch of complex effects and special interests such as agribusiness monopolies. Through their relationship with politicians, lobbyists for these giant entities wield enormous power in controlling markets and influencing food and agricultural regulations.

What have been the effects? Agribusiness monopolies have surged, expanded and multiplied. Meanwhile, nonindustrial, smaller farms have folded up: junk food has filled the aisles; and we are suffering a pandemic of obesity and other diseases.

Its Not About Supply and Demand

Farm subsidies may seem like a nice thing if you picture a happy Midwestern farm family receiving a modest supplement to their modest income. That is not what is happening. These subsidies are actually largely a form of wasteful corporate welfare.

Between 1995 and 2012, $285 billion taxpayer dollars were spent on commodity subsidies. Almost 70 percent of that was spent on five crops: corn, cotton, wheat, rice, and soybeans.

More than 85 percent of these subsidies go toward the largest 15 percent of farm operations and the richest farmers and landowners. Small farms growing fruits and vegetables are generally excluded from these programs, which are approved and defended by congressional agricultural committees.

Farm subsidies persist not because of supply and demand or the best interests of small farms or of consumers, but because of government involvement and political power. Food has become an industry - an industry polluted with herds of lobbyists, political pandering and inside deals. Farm and insurance lobbies spend tens of millions of dollars supporting congressional, political campaigns, and then heavily influencing Congress when their candidates are elected.

The resulting policies have provided financial benefits to large agricultural corporations and have actually encouraged unethical behaviour along with factory farming, monoculture and the slow-strangulation of family-owned farms.

You Are Subsidizing Twinkies

Agribusinesses are using your tax dollars to increase their size and their power, and to pay lobbyists who will influence politicians, who will send them even more tax dollars. At the same time, these corporations are producing unhealthy junk foods for you to eat. And, because they receive your tax money, they can make their junk food cheap to buy compared to nutritious - but unsubsidized - foods like fruits and vegetables.

According to the California Public Research Interest Group the government has given out nearly $300 Billion in agricultural subsidies since 1995. Most of that sum has subsidized crops that are processed as junk food ingredients.

"[T]he money spent on junk food subsidies since 1995 is enough to buy nearly 52 billion Twinkies, which, if laid out end to end, could encircle the globe 132 times,"(???) reported the Huffinton Post. "The recently re-released Twinkie is made with 17 taxpayer-subsidized ingredients, including corn starch, corn syrup and vegetable shortening" (July 16, 2013).

In 2016, the inflation-adjusted price of fresh produce increased by 40 percent, while the price of processed food decreased by as much as 30 percent. That means it is much cheaper to buy a burger, fries and a soda from a fast-food chain than to buy grass-fed beef and veggies and grill your own dinner.

Thanks to market manipulation, prepackaged snacks, ready-to-eat meals, fast food, soft drinks, corn-fed beef and others are not only more convenient, they are cheaper. Fast food restaurants like McDonald's are actually lowering their prices.

Tasty, Cheap, Convenient—and Lethal

The result is, people are killing themselves one bite at a time. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, seven of the top 10 causes of death are chronic diseases. Heart disease and cancer account for nearly half of all deaths.

It may seem like your $4.99 meal deal only costs you $4.99, but it costs you a lot more than that. The cumulative price you are paying over your lifetime could hardly be higher.

"Cheap food is an illusion," author Michal Pollan said in the documentary Fresh. "There is no such thing as cheap food. The real cost of the food is paid somewhere. And if it isn't paid at the cash register, it's charged to the environment or to the public purse in the form of subsidies. And

The federal government now finds itself in the position of moving mountains of cash for the ultimate purpose of getting consumers to eat junk food on the cheap. The world of cheap food you see around you is not normal. To avoid unhealthy food produced by a corrupt system, you have to use more than just a little discernment. It is a battle!

See past the illusion. It takes more work. But when you find yourself and your children healthy and happy in a sea of heart disease and cancer patients, you will know it was worth it. Buy organic if you can!

THE BOOK OF ENOCH

by Ken Lent

(evidence is presented that the 'Book of Enoch' was never written by Enoch of Genesis chapter 8)

What do we make of a few similarities between the Bible and the Book of Enoch? Can we count on the book of Enoch for sound doctrine? There are those who cite Jude 14 & 15 in our New Testament, where the same quote is found in Enoch 2:1.

“14 And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the LORD cometh with ten thousands of his saints, 15 to execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against Him.”

Does this mean that Jude quoted from the book of Enoch and that Jude considered the book of Enoch to be inspired Scripture? No, it does not. All it means is that in the ancient world the “real Enoch” was known for having said this. Whoever wrote the book of Enoch quoted this statement from Enoch, and so did Jude. They simply both used a common source, either an oral source or a written one still buried in the middle east sands. There is no implication that Jude took this quote from the book of Enoch, nor that Jude had recognized any of that book as inspired in any manner. The book of Enoch is not mentioned in the Bible, and no prophet or apostle draws upon it to teach any doctrine.

On the contrary, instead of any prophet or apostle quoting from or agreeing with the passages written in the book of Enoch, we find the opposite—the Word of God and the book of Enoch are travelling in different directions on major doctrines of faith.

Concerning the Name of Salvation (Jesus the Christ of Nazareth) — the Bible teaches that this is the ONLY Name of Salvation for Israel.

“Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is NONE OTHER NAME (Jesus the Christ) under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.” Acts 4:12.

In all three languages (three witnesses - Hebrew, Greek, English) that have carried God's Word for Israel while migrating westward, that name is the same — Yahshua, Iesous, Jesus - NO OTHER NAME!

Yet the book of Enoch dares to teach the blasphemy that another name is our salvation. The name of Phanuel; an angel. In chapter 40 we read:

“8. After that I asked the angel of peace who went with me, who showed me everything that is hidden: ‘Who are these four presences which I have (9) seen and whose words I have heard and written down?’ And he said to me: ‘This first is Michael, the merciful and long-suffering; and the second, who is set over all the diseases and all the wounds of the children of men, is Raphael: and the third, who is set over all the powers, is Gabriel: and the fourth, who is set over the repentance unto hope of those who inherit eternal life, is named Phanuel.’ (10) And these are the four angels of the Lord of Spirits and the four voices I heard in those days.”

So according to the book of Enoch the name that is set over repentance and eternal life is a supposed angel's name, whose name is PHANUEL! Where is this “Saviour Angel” mentioned in the Bible? Nowhere. Angel worship was an Edomite Judaic superstitious invention that gained popularity in the centuries before Jesus the Christ — and the book of Enoch is loaded with this heresy. The only place these angels existed was in the imagination of occultists of that era.

God's divinely inspired Word tells us who rules over repentance between a man and God, and it's not some Jewish imagined angel named Phanuel... “For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus.” (1 Tim. 2:5)

“Him (Jesus) hath God exalted with His right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins.” (Acts 5:31)

What does 1 John 2:22 teach us about those who deny that Jesus is the Messiah Saviour whom the Bible says is the Master of our repentance?

“Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Anointed (Christ)? He is anti-christ, that denieth the Father and the Son.”

God's Word calls the book of Enoch a liar. Whom shall we believe? Judaic superstitions or Scripture? Who saves us? Jesus who alone is The Anointed, or Phanuel? That's not all we find in the blasphemous book of Enoch, chapter 69:8-12,

“8. ... And the fourth was named Penemue: he taught the (9) children of men the bitter and the sweet, and he taught them all the secrets of their wisdom. And he instructed mankind in writing with ink and paper, and thereby many sinned from eternity to (10) eternity and until this day. For men were not created for such a purpose, to give confirmation (11) to their good faith with pen and ink. For men were created exactly like the angels, to the intent that they should continue pure and righteous, and death, which destroys everything, could not have taken hold on them, but through this their knowledge they are perishing, and through this power (12) it is consuming me.”

Let's consider what is claimed here — a fallen angel

named Penemue is the source of our wisdom, and that writing with ink and paper is the great sin that condemns us for eternity. This is yet another Jewish fable found in the text of the book of Enoch. Still continuing - unsuspecting Christians are introduced to more superstitions by those who teach from this uninspired book. How about so-called fallen angels mating with mortal women to produce 450 foot giants?

Chapter 7:

“(2) And when the angels, the sons of heaven, beheld them, they became enamoured of them, saying to each other, Come, let us select for ourselves wives from the progeny of men, and let us beget children. (3) Then their leader Samyaza said to them; I fear that you may perhaps be indisposed to the performance of this enterprise; (9) These are the names of their chiefs: Samyaza, who was their leader, Urakabameel, Akibeel, Tamiel, Ramuel, Danel, Azkeel, Saraknyal, Asael, Armers, Batraal, Anane, Zavebe, Samsaveel, Ertael, Yurel, Yomyael, Arazyel. These were the prefects of the two hundred angels, and the remainder were all with them. (10) Then they took wives, each choosing for himself; whom they began to approach, and with whom they cohabited; teaching them sorcery, incantations, and the dividing of roots and trees. (11) And the women conceiving brought forth giants, (12) Whose stature was each three hundred cubits. These devoured all which the labor of men produced; until it became impossible to feed them; (13) When they turned themselves against men, in order to devour them; (14) And began to injure birds, beasts, reptiles, and fishes, to eat their flesh one after another, ... and to drink their blood.”

If this is true, where are the skeletons/fossils of the 450 foot giants roaming the earth? A football field is only 300 feet long. Rarely, enticing hoaxes have been presented only to later be exposed as fakes.

The Bible teaches that there were giants in Old Testament times, but they were mere people. As seen with Goliath the Philistine (1st Samuel 17:4), he was 9’6” tall (not 450 feet). What the Bible has taught about reality, the book of Enoch has taken and grossly exaggerated by adding silly myths of different pagan religions.

The notion of “fallen angel demons” mating with daughters of men is a Babylonian/Jewish/Papal fable that contradicts the Word of Yahweh once again. God’s Word teaches no such thing as literal “demons” seducing women. If demons sexually seduce women, why does it not happen today? Why aren’t women today giving birth to gigantic half demon/half people infants, after a night of mating with a supposed “invisible demon”? This again is a wild speculation within the fables of the book of Enoch misquoting Genesis chapter 6. In that chapter we read that “The sons of Elohim (a word meaning ‘mighty ones’ in several different applications) saw the daughters of men that they were fair.” (v.2) This was simply an aggressive race of warrior people, probably Cain’s mixed line of Nod-ites, that intermarried with Adamic White women. What does the Bible clearly say about their offspring? The “giants” they produced were “mighty MEN which were of old, MEN of renown.” (v.6) These men of renown were wicked (v.5), they were corrupt and they were violent (v.11); - however -- they were not “half super angelic, half humans” 450 feet tall. This account is typical of the multi-religious legends mixed with Bible history that we find written in the book of Enoch.

To make things worse, according to the book of Enoch, we can’t even defend ourselves against evil people who prey violently upon our Saxon folk without having a “spiritual guilt trip” about it. In the book of Enoch, chapter 69:4-6, we find:

“4. The name of the first (bad angel) Jejon; that is, the one who led astray all the sons of God, and brought them (5) down to the earth, and led them astray through the daughters of men. And the second named Asbeel: he imparted to the holy sons of God evil counsel, and led them astray so that they defiled (6) their bodies with the daughters of men. And the third was named Gadreel: he it is who showed the children of men all the blows of death, and he led astray Eve, and showed the weapons of death to the sons of men the shield and the coat of mail, and the sword for battle, and all the weapons.”

First we have more obsession about claimed angelic sexual seduction of women, then we see that one angel, Gadreel, was named the culprit who seduced Eve, But the Scriptures plainly teach that it was “the Nawcash (Hebrew text)” translated “serpent” who tricked Eve in the Garden of Eden. (Gen. 3) Then we have this same supposed Edenic evil angel Gadreel showing men (Adamites) how to use weapons, as if the use of weapons comes from an evil source. That’s not what King David tells us, a man after Yahweh’s own heart (Acts 13:22). The Bible declares that there is evil in the Earth and that there is “A time to love, and a time to hate; a time of war, and a time of peace.” (Eccl. 3:8) The knowledge to defend ourselves by use of the sword comes from Yahweh, not from a “wicked fallen angel.” As King David testifies, “Blessed be Yahweh my strength, which teacheth my hands to war, and my fingers to fight: My goodness, and my fortress; my high tower, and my deliverer; my shield, and He in whom I trust; who subdueth my people under me.” Once again, the book of Enoch proves itself to be a contradiction to the Holy Scriptures. The entire book is replete in occult and superstitious fables that were prevalent in the ancient middle east of Idumean Judea.

It is one thing for our Christian family to read such books for the literary interest which they may or may not hold, but the ‘Book of Enoch’ and other such spurious books were never given to our people by the holy spirit for instruction in matters of faith.

I CREATE EVIL

by Arnold Kennedy

In the aftermath of the World Trade Center demolition, there are many questions that people are asking. This also applies to other calamities and pandemics. The most common question is, “Why did God allow it?” Very few are acknowledging any possibility that God did it, because if they did, they would be going against the popular flow. We will make some examination into the verse below that literally says, “God did it.”

“I form the light, and create darkness. I make peace, and create evil; I the LORD do all these.” Isaiah 45:7.

In this short verse, there are several different verbs translated as, “form,” “create,” “make,” and “do.” These are all in what language experts call the “participle active mood.” A definition of this mood is as follows, “The participle represents an action or condition in its unbroken continuity, and corresponds to the English verb, “to be” with the present participle. It may be used of present, past or future time.” From the use of these verbs, together with the associated nouns, we can see that these facts never change. What God does in a given situation never changes.

In the Hebrew, we have:

“form” =
yatsar (Strong's 3335)
“create” =
bara' (Strong's 1254)
“make” and “do” =
asah (Strong's 6213)

These verbs “cover the field” in regard to activities such as:

[a] What a potter does, in terms of human activity, including conception, and divine activity.

[b] What a creator does, in terms of choice, choosing a people for Himself.

[c] What an organiser does, in terms of fashioning, transforming, and shaping, changing circumstances, and also cutting down.

[d] What an accomplisher does, in terms of attending, working, making, celebrating, ordaining, preparing, dealing with, and offering.

Going a stage further, we can see these activities include opposites which are translated as:

[a] “light” and “darkness.”

[b] “peace” and “evil.”

“Light” is ‘owr (Strong's 16 which is inclusive of all forms of light, life, prosperity, instruction and of Jehovah as being Israel's light.

“Darkness” is choshek (Strong's 2822) usually translated as “darkness.”

“Peace” is shalom (Strong's 7965) that conveys the idea of completeness, soundness, health and prosperity, contentment, and good relationships.

“Evil” is ‘ra (Strong's 7451), which conveys every-thing opposite to what “shalom” means.

When we study verses like Isaiah 45:7, there is absolutely no suggestion, that when evil occurs, it is just a case of “God allowed it,” as we hear so often said in religious circles. All the different verbs, together with the opposites immediately above, declare to us that there is no field of activity in heaven and earth that God is not the prime mover of. As the “Almighty” there is no other authority or originator of anything. Paul indicated that not everyone has this knowledge, saying in this 1 Cor 8:4 passage, “There is none other God but one,” and continues on to say, “But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by (for) whom are all things, and we by (for) Him.” “One” in Greek is a numerical term, so there is no other being in competition with Him.

If we agree with this, then how could we say that God was not the originator of the WTC (or any other, such as COVID19) disaster? There is no shortage of passages in the Bible such as those below. These show God's hand as being the creator of evil against Israel, when Israel was sinning against God.

“And the anger of the LORD was hot against Israel, and he delivered them into the hands of spoilers that spoiled them, and he sold them into the hands of enemies round about, so that they could not any longer stand before their enemies. Whithersoever they went out, the hand of the LORD was against them for evil, as the LORD had said, an as the LORD had sworn unto them: and they were greatly distressed.” Judges 2:14-15.

“And the children of Israel did evil in the sight of the LORD, and forgot the LORD their God, and served Baalim and the groves (government and earth worship). Therefore the anger of the LORD was hot against Israel, and he sold them into the hand of Chushanrathaim king of Mesopotamia: and the children of Israel [you could read: the descendants of Jacob] served Chushanrathaim eight years.” Judges 3:7-8.

“And the anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel, and he delivered them into them into the hand of Hazael king of Syria, and into the hand of Benhadad the son of Hazael, all their days.” 2 Kings 19:3.

Who did these things (as emphasized) to God's people? God did! And always there is a similar reason given, and the reasons are not commonly accepted. Churches say it is not the nature of God to do these things.

In the New Testament pages we are told that all these Old Testament happenings are examples to us to show that God's method of dealing with His sinning people has not changed.

“Now these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted. Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them: as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play. Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and fell in one day three and twenty thousand. Neither let us test the anointing [christ], as some of them also tested, and were destroyed of serpents. Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer. Now all these things happened unto them for ensamples: and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come.” 1 Cor. 10:6-10.

These verses determine that God's method of operation and reasons have not changed through the New Testament, even up to our day. Churches should note it is still the nature of God to do this! Even a little of the fear of God would work wonders in the congregations.

Although we read about, "All those innocent people being killed" at the World Trade Center [and other places for other causes], we can hardly accept that this was a godly-living country, living in the fear of God, when these things happened. All these people referred to may have been innocent of committing deliberate offence to Islam, but were all innocent of sin against God? Is not the rest of the population, including the Government, likewise ungodly? Concerning "towers" falling, we read in Luke 13:2-5 "And Jesus said unto them ... Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were sinners above all men that dwell in Jerusalem? I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish." So the nation has had a stark warning of what will come unless the "except you repent" is heeded!

The selection below from a message presented at Times Square Church, shortly after the WTO event, confirms this view and "says it all."

"The Bible makes it crystal clear" God used enemy nations to chasten his people. The Lord wielded these enemies as an instrument of warning to Israel, calling the nation to repent. "O Assyrian, the rod of mine anger, and the staff in their hand is mine indignation. I will send him against an hypocritical nation, and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge, to take the spoil, and to take the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the streets" (10:5-6) - God charged this coalition of Israel's enemies to chasten his chosen people. The Lord was trying to warn Israel, "You've lifted yourself up with pride. Now I'm about to bring you down. I'm going to allow you to be disciplined by your enemies."

The enemy coalition launched their massive attack. And, suddenly, the Israelites watched in horror as their buildings began to collapse. Fires raged throughout the cities, burning down stately structures. In a short time, Israel was in flames. And God's people began to wail, "The bricks are fallen down ... the sycamores are cut down" (9:10)

After witnessing the recent disasters in New York and Washington [and elsewhere], we can begin to imagine the emotions of the ancient Israelites. Yet, did Israel repent after this horrifying attack? Was there a nationwide acknowledgement that God was sending them a warning? Did the rulers hear God speaking through the awful calamity? No. Israel's reaction was just the opposite. The people's initial fear quickly gave way to a flood tide of national pride. "All the people ... say in the pride and stoutness of heart" (9:9).

The Hebrew word for stoutness in this verse signifies a sense of greatness. In other words, once the attack died down, the Israelites regained their confidence. They declared, "The bricks are fallen down, but we will build with hewn stones: the sycamores are cut down but we will change them into cedars" (9:10). They were saying, in other words, "These calamities aren't from our Lord.

They're simply fate, unfortunate disasters that can't be explained.

"We're a great and mighty nation. We're made up of a proud, unbending people. And we're going to let the world know we're coming back. We'll build everything back bigger and better. Where we used bricks before, we'll use stone. And where we once built with cheap construction, we'll use better materials. We're a God-blessed nation. And we're going to come through this disaster stronger than ever."

Doesn't all this sound very familiar? The Lord himself used an evil enemy to send a warning of chastisement to his people. He wanted to wake them up to their compromise, bring them back to Himself, pour out his blessings on them, and surround them with his protection. Yet, throughout their days of grief and horror, God's people never once acknowledged his hand in it all. No one asked, "What is the Lord saying through all this? Is he trying to speak to us?" No one thought for a moment that such a proud, great nation could be humbled and chastised. On the contrary, the people used the occasion to defy any such thought. They refused to hear God's warning to them.

Yet, even so, we risk missing God's message to us. Think about it: when our public assemblies call for a moment of silence, we think it's true repentance. When we see politicians singing "God bless America," we think our nation has turned back to God. When we see sporting events observe a silent minute at halftime, we think it's a spiritual experience.

But is this all that's going to come out of our recent disaster? Will people in sports stadiums stand in silence for a minute, then go back to painting their bodies in wild colour, chug beer after beer, and scream maniacally for their favorite team?

Like most people, I wept as I saw Senators and Congressional leaders standing on the steps of the Capitol, singing, "God bless America ... stand beside us, and guide us..." Yet, as I was crying, the Lord reminded me, "Many of the leaders you see singing have worked to rule me out of American society. They are even determined to remove my name from the history books. And they've allowed the murder of millions of babies through aborticide."

Suddenly, I was struck by the absolute hypocrisy of it all. We give lip service to God, but we continue our slide into the mire of immorality. If God wouldn't spare other nations that have outlawed him, why would he spare this nation? He'll judge us even as he judged Sodom, Rome, Greece and every other culture that has turned its back on him.

Then David Wilkerson went on to say prophetically:

Devouring fires will rise to the heavens (Australia knows about them, don't they?)/ Darkness will cover the land. The economy will be hit with a staggering blow (and haven't we all just experienced that?). And there will be disunity in the nation, in communities, in neighbourhoods, in families (social distancing?). People will look out only for themselves, in a desperate fight to survive (face masks?). And God help you if you come near them. I believe our window of opportunity to respond to God's call is brief. We all should pray that our nation repents and turns back to the Lord. But our most intense prayers should be for our own hearts; "Lord, let me tremble not at the disasters, but at your Word. I want to hear your voice in all of this. Cause me to turn wholly to you."

So, in all this, did God send a warning to us? Did God "do it" referring to WTC, Corona, bushfires? Is God raising up Moslem extremists in order to chasten us? Let us go ahead a little further in chapter 47 of Isaiah where we started. In vs 9 we read, "Woe to him that striveth with his maker." This is about arguing against God's righteous judgments. What is the President doing? Does he think he can strive against God where God has "created evil"? He says the nation is going to destroy evil, where "evil" to him is anything that operates against the welfare of the nation.

We hear nothing from him, or church leadership, about either the evil of the internal sins of the nation, or of the external sins his country commits against other countries. Some people consider the control of other nations by the USA, through the applying of economic sanctions and financial manipulation, to be a form of terrorism. So far there has been no trumpet sounded to call for national repentance to that morally corrupt nation. We can read in many places in Scripture where God hears the genuine call for mercy, and then God turns and judges those He used to chasten His people. In this God says, "I have created the waster to destroy" - (Isaiah 54:15), this time destroying those opposing God's children, when God's children are in a repentant state.

So where are the churches in all this? Mostly supporting the leadership, or otherwise silent! There is wicked multi-faith prayer for "remembrance," but none for repentance to the God of Israel. One reason for this is their concept that the whole thing is part of an ongoing war between God and what they think of as being a lesser god they term "Satan." They do not realize that the latter term is used for anything that is an "adversary" or "opponent" to God in thought or deed. Scripture records that the Jehovah, or Yahweh, became a "satan" to Israel when Israel was sinning. Jesus once called Peter "satan." This shows we should not ascribe personality to a particular being (as translators have done) to whom we can ascribe blame for our misfortunes. In what churches affirm, most are actually "satans" themselves in believing God is not sovereign. They do not understand the full meaning and implications of, "I for the light, and create darkness; I make peace and create evil: I the LORD do all these." Can it now be seen how many churches think when they say, "God allowed it"? That could never be in the way that they think! But the Internet pages and television responses show the prevalence of the ideas most of our churches hold.

Although they may not like to admit it, their thinking leads to wrong conclusions; their secret thinking goes like

this:

- [1] A good God would destroy evil.
- [2] An all-powerful God could destroy evil.
- [3] Evil is not destroyed.
- [4] Therefore, there cannot possibly be such a good and powerful God.

Their conclusions effectively are that if God was effectively and totally good, He would destroy evil. It is not God who creates "evil," in their view. This follows on to conclude, "If God is unable to prevent evil, therefore He is impotent." We may claim otherwise to other people and amongst ourselves, but most have a secret inner thought that places them where they will have their portion with the unbelievers. Listen carefully, you will hear this "God allowed it" theme in churches. It comes out too in the much-debated theme, "Why does God permit evil"? If we were to ask instead, "Why does God create evil"? We would take much care with our God-given freedom of choice. We would understand the blessings of obedience are set before God's people, as are the curses of disobedience. It is God who "forms," "creates," "Makes" and "does" both! Yes, both!

It would help if we put the following verses from Hebrews 10 behind our pulpits.

"For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins, But a certain fearful looking for of judgment and fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries. He that despised Moses' law died without mercy under two or three witnesses. Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace? For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again,

The Lord shall judge his people. It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God."

Numbers might well dwindle for a start (and we have seen that), but so be it. There would then be a "righteous remnant" God then could (and would) destroy the evil against His people.

* * * *

While many people profess to be Christians, and profess to "love God" and "love Jesus," they seem to have forgotten "If you love me, keep my commandments," a theme that is repeated often: Ex. 20:6, Deut. 5:10, 7:9, 11:1, 11:22, 19:9, 30:16, Josh 22:5, Dan. 9:4, John 14:15, 1 John 5:2,3., because when we try and follow: "By their fruits ye shall know them," and not by listening to what they say, as actions speak louder than words (Matt. 7:16, 7:20., and we observe people coming out of a church, and walking across the road on Sunday to buy a newspaper, or a pie, or go to a restaurant for lunch, or go to their place of employment because "the boss wants them to work," or eating unclean and forbidden things, even seeing inter-racial marriages in the churches, we can only assume that these things are more important to them than, "Keep my commandments." However, they also show that they really are not Christians,

MANUFACTURING RACIAL HATRED

Lawrence Blanchard, ND, M.Div.

I have waited until now to discuss the George Floyd incident and its ongoing aftermath. I felt that, perhaps, there was more information coming that would clarify what actually happened and why. From the very beginning of this breaking story, it all smelled too much like a contrived situation with an agenda.

Using incidents like this has been historically common place. For those who still have the ability to think and reason, the operating Marxist/Communist people and organizations have deliberately, and with malice, created circumstances to escalate chaos, division, and hatred between races. Especially since the 1964 Civil Rights Act and the advent of MLK to force the equalization and integration at every level between Negroes and Whites, including affirmative actions policies, racial tensions have increased. But the common reason that is always promoted is that it is always the White People's fault.

They are the ones who are the problem. They create and sustain "systemic racism" and oppress the Negro. "Social injustice" toward Negroes is, and always has been, the White sin which must be decisively dealt with at all costs. That's the common theme.

Enter George Floyd

What timing now for this George Floyd incident to take place just on the heels of the fake Covid-19 "plandemic" and the unjustifiable lockdown of the entire country, as well as many others around the globe. What incredible pressure has been brought to bear on our People and everyone else that really cannot be measured. The stress that it has caused people personally and financially will be the subject of future sociological studies. To add to this scenario, now comes the purported killing of George Floyd by a White police officer – all filmed on location for at least eight minutes.

The White officer and the other three non-White officers were immediately condemned, arrested, charged with various murder charges and, of course, immediately convicted by the news media and government, among others. There will be no "innocent until proven guilty" for any of these involved, no matter what the facts are. On the other hand, there have been reports with some evidence that all the above are "crisis actors" and not really police officers at all, and not even Floyd was killed. Most likely this story is yet to unfold in more definitive detail.¹

Now we are getting information from video footage that raises a whole bunch of questions about what took place during this episode. One video showed a Negro male was apparently lifeless, the White office removed his knee off his neck, an EMT truck rolled up, and two cops got out of the truck and slapped this guy on a gurney and put him in the truck. No paramedics. No routine check for vital signs or other on site medical attention. And there are other videos.²

Here is a list of questions that have not been answered, or probably will never be addressed and answered:

Why does one photo from behind show the man on the road is not handcuffed and the video from the front that he is handcuffed? Why is the cop car in the restaurant surveillance video different than the one Floyd was lying behind (different car numbers)? Why were the cops in the surveillance footage that arrested him different than the police in the actual incident? Why does the video show the diesel fuel price as 99 cents instead of the regular price in the area of $2.49? Why does the Police Car have a non-Municipal license plate with "Police" on it? Why does Derek have a completely different police badge on top of a second police badge matching his partner's if they work for the same precinct?

Why is it not odd that both Officers Tou Thao and Derek Chauvin have both previously been investigated for excessive use of force and not charged by State AG Amy Klobuchar?

Additionally, Officer Derek Chauvin is married to his partner's sister Kelli.

Is there any cop dumb enough to continue kneeling on someone's neck for 8 minutes when surrounded by people and being video recorded?

Is it possible for the deceased's cousins and fiancé to be completely tearless during interviews?

Why does the main cop have one hand in his pocket most of the time he's kneeling? Why did the kneeling officer appear completely cool and calm, as if he was posing for the camera?

Doesn't it seem strange that Floyd and the officer that knelted on his neck worked security together on the same shift at the El Nuevo Rodeo Club, the officer for 17 years (both were laid off because of the Covid Virus)?

Why do the neighbors of this officer say they didn't know he was a cop and never saw him in uniform? Why has the same attorney been hired as with all the other big supposed police killings of blacks? Attorney Benjamin Crump. The same attorney that worked on previous cases that resulted in busses bringing in rioters from outside the city? Why does store surveillance video show Floyd calmly and submissively walking with the officer and not resisting arrest while the officer gently allowed him to sit down on the side walk, and multiple officers calmly chatting with him? Is this the kind of suspect that a police officer would feel the need to put on the ground and place his knee on his neck?

Why did the EMT workers (wearing Police Uniforms including bullet proof vests) roughly handle and dump the unconscious George on the stretcher? This is not how trained emergency workers lift a person with a possible neck injury. Why did they not attempt triage or try CPR?

Can someone really not breathe when someone kneels on his neck and is the victim really able to speak for considerable periods of time if he can't breathe?

Post killing: Why is a white man that looks like an undercover (St Paul) cop in black and a riot gear mask carrying a black umbrella walking around breaking windows (and others dressed similarly starting fires) and instigating a riot? Is this reminiscent of "umbrella man" during the JFK shooting?

Why were almost all the rioters leading the destruction of the neighborhood at the beginning of the riots “white” and not from Minneapolis... in a black neighborhood after a police killed a black man?

Why did the Chief of Police make it a point that those inciting the riots and arsonists were not from Minnesota?

Why was a CNN news crew not only detained but also arrested?

It all reeks of a set-up job!

The Aftermath

As you probably know, there have been numerous, destructive and violent protests and riots around the country, and in other countries, spontaneously taking place at the same time all because of this Floyd incident. Spontaneously or planned?

Terrorist groups like Antifa and Black Lives Matter, and an assortment of white-looking people have been given a pass to wreak havoc anywhere they want. What is disturbing, but not surprising, is that these groups perpetrating unlawful acts of destruction of property, looting and murder have been aided and abetted by hidden actors including financiers and even some law enforcement (in some cases). We do know that pallets of bricks have been strategically delivered for these hooligans to use to smash windows and for other destructive purposes.

Now we have government officials praising the protests and even joining them “in solidarity” like the Mayor of Los Angeles. LA is still on lock-down and yet, street protests continue unabated with the mayor approving. And, by the way, there is no need for masks or social distancing. The so-called protestors and the mayor get a pass on that, too.

Altruistic Mindless Reactions

What is most disgusting is the slough of mindless, knee-jerk reactions from corporations and businesses and celebrities of all sorts who are happy to take advantage of their hatred toward White People and their total commitment to advance and promote tolerance and diversity at the expense of the truth. For example, one sign I saw read, “White people – Do something.”

Amazon came out with this:

White guilt, baby. That is what conventional, but errant, evangelical Christianity is all about. This is the agenda!

And there have been numerous displays featuring White people kneeling before Negroes to beg forgiveness and kissing their feet – literally. You can probably find pictures of this sort of thing through an internet search.

Well, this is the product of the years of government schools run by Marxists and culturally-sensitive churches.

(you should read Arnold Kennedy's: "Should Christian Schools be 'Culturally Sensitive'? # @ $ - To tolerate one culture within another is to change the civilization of that region to a new blend of highly developed material and spiritual resources, The question is, therefore, should Christian schools and churches be sensitive to the presence of forces that will ultimately bury or bas- tardise the very Christian principles they seek to teach and uphold?)

Once again, the whole Floyd thing is a sham. Don't fall for it.

The biblical solution to this racial conflict is separation. Let the White People have their own land governed by their people under their system of laws. Same for the Negroes. Same for the Asians. Same for everybody else.

Racial and multicultural integration doesn't work. Never has and never will.

CROSSROADS: WHAT MUST HAPPEN NOW? PART 2

*Lawrence Blanchard, N.D.,
M.Div.*

New revelations are arriving every day. The plans of the enemies of Jesus Christ and His anointed Covenant People diametrically opposing the manifestation of the Kingdom of God are being exposed:

- Planned fake epidemic
- Planned faulty testing
- Planned false numbers
- Planned mandatory testing
- Planned mass vaccinations

(or else)

- Planned destruction of the economy
- Planned destruction of small businesses and ability to make a living

We are facing the rapid advancement of an ongoing lockdown by the controlled Marxist/Communist, totalitarian, global government. It is here - now.

Our Options

What is the answer to this surreal situation that is all too real? What must happen now to defeat and conquer the forces of this darkness? Is there an answer?

Will it be the soon victory of Q Anon? That would be a welcome surprise if such a thing exists.

Will it be the second coming of Jesus the Christ? Some are convinced that will happen. I hope it's soon because things are deteriorating quickly and we are in a serious, unprecedented state of affairs. We are going from economically "critical" to life support.

Do I believe that Anointed Jesus will once again deliver His People, Israel? Yes, but from what I read in the Bible, He plans to do that in and through every local church assembly. I discuss this at length in Book Seven, The Kingdom of God Manifested.

Resolved

Whereas the Bible says:

•Since Christ is seated at the right hand of the Father; whereas

•He rules in supremacy over all other rulers, authorities, powers and dominions; whereas

•He is Head of His church; and whereas

•His church body is likewise seated with Him co-reigning with that same supremacy (Ephesians 1:17-23; 2:6) . . .

then, nothing is impossible that the God of our fathers cannot do in and through every local church assembly.

Nothing! Even in the face of such formidable and seemingly insurmountable spiritual forces of wickedness because you see, it is a matter of authority. Who has supreme authority here?

What "They" Fear

You wouldn't know it by the way "they" (the powers of darkness at every level) act with their confident assertions, pronouncements, and threats. They are acting pretty "high and mighty" with complete control of the airwaves and with all their trillions of fake money.

Think about their control. The political, legislative, and judicial system, the TV and radio stations, a good deal of the internet, the "money" system, the military including local militarized law enforcement, and let's not forget the Catholic and Protestant religious systems. They have all been corrupted.

But the top-down handlers all fear the true local church of the Living God. They fear its authority. They fear the power of Jesus Christ and the unseen, but real heavenly host that is the military might of God all around us (Hebrews 12:22-24). They fear losing control at the local level and that's where the power of the church comes in. The powerful new world order is rendered impotent if the local level is controlled by the church of the Living God with Jesus Christ as its Head.

They fear that, through the true, obedient local church assembly the truth will be revealed:

- That the covenants of the Bible have been misapplied.
- That the People of those covenants have been misidentified.

•That commonly used words like; Jew, Gentile, man, christ, and world have been misinterpreted.

•They fear the local church assembly as the pillar and foundation of the truth (I Timothy 3:15).

What Must Happen Now?

Simply this. The local assembly in your area must be started and built. You want to see things changed and transformed? You want to see the Lord God be glorified in power not just to deliver His People, but to take authority. We must engage. We must rebuild!

Who do you know in your local area to whom you can introduce the covenant message? You can use the Bible Mastery Boot Camp video series as your guide. It comes with a set of recommended instructions on how to begin. More than that, ask God to help you every step of the way and with every one you talk with. He will show you as you step out on faith. Ask God to open "a door for the word . . . and to make clear the way" you ought to speak (Colossians 4:3-4). Order here.

TAKE RESPONSIBILITY

Joel Hilliker

"It's not my fault." How often have you heard—or said—this? Everyone wants to blame their problems on someone or something else: their parents, their socio-economic status, their schooling, their boss, their friends, the big banks, big business, racists, sexists, special-interest groups, self-serving politicians . . .

Actually, this isn't just a modern trend. People have been trying to wriggle out of responsibility since God asked Adam a direct question: "Have you eaten of the tree of which I commanded you that you should not eat?" Millennia of excusing, covering, evading, shirking, shrugging, and rationalizing later, we have elevated avoiding responsibility to an art form.

STOP. Your life is your responsibility. Accept that fact!

Anyone who goes through life focusing on what other people aren't doing for him, what they owe him, or the raw deal life gave him, NEVER GROWS UP. In some form, he forfeits responsibility for his life.

"When I was a child, I spoke as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child," the Apostle Paul wrote, "but when I became a man, I put away childish things" (1 Cor. 13:11). The man who believes society owes him a comfortable living still thinks like a child. The person who grouses about how unfair the world is, and how riches a privilege are just a matter of luck or corruption, still thinks like a child. The woman whose failures are always someone else's fault is stuck in childish thinking. The individual content to live off of his parents' largesse or a government handout still understands as a child. The man focused more on what the world should do for him than on what he can contribute to others is not yet thinking like an adult.

Maturing means you move from deflecting blame to accepting responsibility. You move from being a passive observer to an initiator. You move from victim to doer. You move from expecting things to providing things. Maturing means seizing your God-given power to direct your own life, to welcome challenge, to surmount obstacles, to achieve victories.

Blaming other people for your problems is a trap. Of course other people's actions affect you, but don't deceive yourself. God says the person who is responsible for you is you. "But let every man prove his own work, and then he shall have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another. For ever man shall bear his own burden" (Galatians 6:4,5). You must carry your own load. In fact, God wants you to go beyond that, and to reach out to help others carry their burden as well (vs 2).

"[W]hatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap" (verse 7). If you don't like what you're reaping, take a hard look at what you've been sowing. And start making some changes.

God is radically pro-responsibility! Think about the command in 2 Thessalonians 3:10: "that if any would not work, neither should he eat." That is God's way: Everyone who is able must work in order to eat. If we followed this command, there would be whining and pleading, maybe even yelling—but in the end, everyone would take responsibility, everyone would work, and everyone would eat.

Our modern world, intoxicated with government benefits and welfare programs, has come to view that as cruel. We believe we have a better way: Give the meal to the irresponsible sluggard. Who cares if it stunts his growth, his maturity, his productivity, his dignity and even his happiness? [we should begin to apply this to all foreign aid programs as well]

God says that if a man does not provide [note that the woman looks to her household - Prov 31], for his family, let alone himself, his religion is worthless (1 Tim. 5:8). Is this cruel of God? Or is He trying to teach you to become useful and skillful? Does He want you to suffer, or does He want to make you stronger and happier?

Taking responsibility means the buck stops with you. It means taking ownership: You cause something to happen, you do all you can to make it a success, and you accept the blame if it fails. If this is your priority, you will become dependable and trustworthy, fulfilling your commitments to others. If it is not, you will be unreliable, unpredictable, distracted, needful of reminders, always showing up late: you'll consume more time, attention and resources than you produce.

Shirking responsibility for your mistakes is another trap. Until you own up to your own failures, you'll remain stuck in them. "He that covereth his sins shall not prosper: but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy" (Prov. 28:13). Confess your error! Then forsake it: Make a different choice the next time. And teach your children to do the same. Don't let them get away with passing blame and sidestepping guilt. Teach them to be upfront about their mistakes.

Accepting responsibility builds momentum toward greater responsibility. God wants to give us a lot of responsibility. He is watching to see what we do with what we have. When He gives resources or talents, He wants results.

The man who produces the most results is the one God can entrust with more responsibility (Matt. 25:28).

Someday you will have to stand before God and give account (Romans 14:10-12). At that point you can't look around, pointing fingers of blame at others. Those people will have to answer for themselves. And you, face to face with God, will have to answer for yourself. Don't wait until then to start. Take responsibility. As you do, you'll grow up and fulfill much more of your God-given potential.

HAVING A KINGDOM RESOLVE

by pastor Dave Barley

"It was the best of times, it was the worst of times blah, blah, blah." [first line in the book A Tale of Two Cities by Charles Dickens]. No, it is the best of times for our manipulators and the worst of times for we the people, but for true Christians, our faith remains in Jesus the Christ and His Living Word.

True freedom and liberty never has and never will come from our illustrious government and all of its various agencies. You know, part of me is starting to believe that this virus may not have been perpetrated by man, but by God Almighty [see I Create Evil, page 5]. It just may be possible that they will not come up with a "devilish coronavirus vaccine" because they got caught with their pants down in what has taken place (just a thought, and a possibility). Several doctors have put forth this idea, further stating they personally do not think this vaccination will ever become a reality. We know they (more than Bill Gates) would jump at such a chance and even manufacture one if given the opportunity. I'm certainly not saying "get such or take any vaccine." Most of us do not know where this created virus will lead. Our economy, of course, is in shambles. Many dumbed down people still accept whatever they are told by the media, government authorities, slimy doctors, and such. We are thankful to those who have awakened and are asking the right questions.

To Bible-believing Israelite Covenant Christians, there are certainly things we should hold to and we need to be firm in our Kingdom of God resolve.

“For other foundation can no man lay that they is laid, which is Jesus the Christ. Now if any man build upon this foundation gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble; Every man’s work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man’s work of what sort it is.” 1 Corinthians 3:11-21.

In other words, Jesus the Christ is the true foundation. All other foundations are temporal. This coronavirus or whatever we may face in life is temporal. It will not last and neither will any other schemes they have up their New World Order sleeves. I am so glad I have God’s Word to depend upon, read, follow, and orient myself towards His Kingdom Purposes. We are not of this world and its systems; we are of our blessed Redeemer Jesus the Anointed. He who has begun a good work in you shall bring it to pass. Philippians 1:6. We are of another order, the order of King Jesus and His marvelous Kingdom Plan of the ages.

“If any man’s work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward. If any man’s work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; yet so as by fire. Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the spirit of God dwelleth in you.” 1 Cor. 3:14-16.

There are some heavy spiritual things which are being revealed unto His people. Basically, we are given to understand that through the spirit we are changed and are being transformed. This “fire” is a burning in our members or bodies to purge away the idolatry of self, flesh, and other forms of rebellion which are at enmity with Jesus’ Purposes. Our reward is to be transformed into His (Jesus) image and likeness. We are to be new creatures in Him, even separated unto Him, and taken out of this world order into His Kingdom Order.

Only Israel was called and of them, only a Remnant has answered this call. Many are called, but few are chosen [Matthew 22:14]. This Temple will not be made with untempered hands, but with the tempered hands of the holy spirit and by those who are helping make themselves ready for the Marriage Supper of the Lamb.

“If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.” 1 Cor. 3:17.

“Destroy” is after the meaning of “burned” without getting too technical. So to speak, one is turned over to the devil or adversary, or self (destruction) if an Israelite will not pursue the things of the Kingdom of God and His Righteousness. Instead, if they are pursuing the things of this world, even the false pleasures of this world, they have their reward, and one day will cry out in bitter anguish at the realization of what they have done.

“Let no man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise.” verse 18.

Do this before its too late. Become a “fool in Anointing” which is what the world already thinks of us, but, in fact, we shine forth as lights of Divine Wisdom and Grace. Be enduring upholders of the faith, Let the world have its temporal fun calling us fools and having their way with us—it is all for Jesus and His Glorious Kingdom.

“For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God, For it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness. And again, The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain. Therefore let no man glory in men. For all things are yours;” vs 19-21.

I cannot say it better, “...let no man glory in men.” The Lord knoweth their thoughts and ways which are vain. He knows that they are scheming and plotting against Christianity. One day “all things” will be yours. This temporal Edomite bowl of Red Pottage they have sold their Jacob-Covenant-Israel birthright for, will fully be ours.

For our Redemption draweth nigh. Hallelujah!

NO CLOSE ENCOUNTERS

by Alan Edwards

“For where two or three are gathered together, in my name, saith the Lord, there an I in the midst of them.” (Matt 18:20)

This period of time (April/May 2020), is such that we are unable to congregate with others in groups larger than two or three, unless we have several children. However, for the most part, we are not gathering in His name, our Lord Jesus Anointed. For by and large, we have abandoned Him and in many cases have never known Him. We do not even ask Him for mercy and forgiveness, that we may have this current plague taken from us.

When Moses was used by God to be His instrument in delivering His people from the Egyptians, one plague was not enough, for Pharaoh’s heart was hardened. In this time, it is our (the people’s) heart that is hard and unrepentant, for they know not what they have done. Therefore, it is possible that even when this plague has ended, others may take their place, and these may be even worse than so-called COVID19. It is thus essential that we collectively seek the face of God and change our attitude from one of total rebellion against God. A rebellion that sanctions every evil under the sun.

We are told we must adhere to “social distancing,” yet another piece of meaningless terminology, designed in part to keep us from talking to one another. Yet, we do not mind, as a nation, from being distanced from the Almighty, whose very world this is, having created it and everything in it. We are therefore prevented from discussing whether the lockdown is actually beneficial. In Sweden they have not closed pubs, bars, restaurants, etc., and have a death rate per capita rate far less than the UK and USA. How can this be? Does this country have more trust in God than we do? Or is it that its leaders are not blinded by a partisan and atheistic scientific fraternity. You know, the ones who believe in the impossible myth of Darwinian Evolution.

It is my belief that this genetically engineered virus was released specifically to harm our Israel nations and that China had already produced an antidote for use in that country, prior to its release, which in effect was an Act of War, dressed up as a tragic accident. And China was very quick to suspend all flights into and out of Hubei Province, once the outbreak had passed the point of onward transmission. The Chinese leaders are now gloating about how much damage this virus is doing to the Western countries, in particular, the United States. This leadership is evil beyond measure, yet our foolish nations have been keen to ratchet up the links that bind us to it. It is interesting to note that the current President of China is Xi Jinping, whose first name Xi is the Greek letter for the number 6. Also, that he was born on the 15th June 1953, or 6.6.666. And additionally that his age at present is 66. Of course, this may not be significant, but we cannot just ignore this set of figures. For Revelations clearly states that the number of the Beast must have:

ME? OBEY HIM?

Elizabeth Rice Handford

Once the responsibility of submission is understood and practiced, the plan of God brings privileges, blessings and joys which cannot be achieved any other way.

#043 listed @ $11.05 NOW $7.00

is 666 and that this is the number of a man. One particular individual.

So, we are currently up against the Red C. And there seems to be no escape, for we have sold our nations into subjection to this monster (which persecutes its own people as well as others). It is rabid and resourceful and is utterly contemptuous of us. We need to pray as never before and also drop our fear of this virus, because although there is danger, this has been exaggerated for political purposes. We must strengthen our FAITH and open our eyes and minds to TRUST absolutely to our God. And dare I say it, not feel we have to participate in the globally orchestrated activity of all clapping our health workers, even though they undoubtedly deserve it. For this sort of mass action can soon become a blueprint for Government ordered group/mindset as a form of indoctrination. Please reread George Orwell's novel, 1984. Above all, we should question everything, that atheistic governments tell us (and they are all this) and remind them that God gave us a brain for this very purpose. And sometimes, perhaps, every time we are exhorted to do this or that; or think this or that, to say in return, "WHO ARE YOU PEOPLE?" (like they did in the film Close Encounters, when presented with a falsely contrived situation) for it may be that they are just doing the work of adversaries. Let us pray diligently for guidance and illumination that we may not be deceived.

Let us conclude with the inspiring and comforting words of Psalm 27:1-6,

"The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes, came upon me to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell. Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear: though war should rise against me, in this will I be confident. One thing have I desired of the Lord, that I will seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to inquire in his temple. For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his pavillion: in the secret of his tabernacle shall he hide me. And now shall mine head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me: will I offer in his tabernacle sacrifices of joy; I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto the Lord."

LET US HAVE BIBLICAL SEPARATION

by pastor Dave Barley

By the way, many black people now want their own kind of "so-called police," which is really black thugs. Fine, then let them pay for this without the so-called White man's money or help. They want to blame the White people for their problem, and so, the solution I see is to separate!

Furthermore, they should have their own land because, obviously, they only want to blame White people for their problems. Do you really expect these people to one day wake up and say to themselves, "Oh gosh, we were wrong, we need the White man's order for there to be some type of sanity. We need the White man's money. We need his laws, we need his land, etc."

This is not going to happen, so let us talk about the terms of separation and let us make this happen. Let us not pretend this is not a major problem. Let us come reason together and set out a Biblical narrative on this.

Presently we see a few White people kissing the shoes of Negroes and begging them for forgiveness. When really, this ought to be the other way around. But yes, such madness will continue if this is not stopped and strongly addressed for the insanity that this produces. God is Almighty and His Word is highly blasphemed in this and God's judgment is certainly going to continue with this type of behaviour.

"Now therefore make confession unto the LORD God of your fathers, and do his pleasure: and separate yourselves from the people of the land, and from the strange wives. Then all the congregation answered and said with a loud voice, As thou hast said, so must we do." Ezra 10:11-12.

Keep in mind, that with most hymns people sing, there is much error, resulting in what some have called HYMN-BOOK THEOLOGY, as these erroneous views and doctrines are cemented in the mind by much repetition of the songs. In 1543, the time of the Reformation, it was said:

"As for public prayers, there are two kinds: the one consists simply of words, the other of song ... And indeed, we know from experience that singing has great strength and power to move and to set on fire the hearts of men in order that they may call upon God and praise Him with a more vehement and more ardent zeal. It is to be remembered always that this singing should not be light or frivolous, but that it ought to have weight and majesty [hence much singing was done with pipe organ accompaniment]. Now what Augustine says is true, namely that no one can sing anything worthy of God which he has not first received from Him. Therefore, even after we have carefully searched everywhere, we shall not find better or more appropriate songs to this end than the Psalms of David, inspired by the Holy Ghost. And for this reason, when we sing them, we are assured that God puts the words in our mouth, as if He Himself were singing through us to exalt His glory..." {Calvin on Congregational singing - not to endorse Calvin, or Augustine, but a true statement nevertheless). If you don't want to promote and be influenced by false doctrines, take note and be careful what you sing.

Greetings once again in Jesus' name. This month, July, we will again be making a contribution to our American friends who continue to supply is with, and let us use, their material. Its use continues to be appreciated!

In September, we will again be making a contribution to the Loeries Children's Home in South Africa. So if you want to contribute towards that, we appreciate you getting your donation in prior to September. The last few times, the donations for the Loeries have been going down from what they had been previously. They appreciate your help.

Please note that the prices on some books have been reduced to clear them, and are being sold below cost and in some cases will only barely cover postage costs. But we would rather have someone benefit from them than see them thrown out, or fall apart from age.

Our God has been merciful and I have been having more good days than bad days as far as my heart is concerned, and I appreciate your prayers. It seems that wheat and wheat products have been a major contributing factor so we have given up on that and other things and changed our diet considerably. Dairy may also be a problem as we have given up that as well. Taking garlic, vitamin E and cayenne pepper are all beneficial for blood, circulation and heart related matters, and we do take lots of them.

Thank you again for the letters, orders, clippings and support. We appreciate them all very much. Keep it up. Try and get others interested in being on our mailing list. May our God bless you and keep you, make his face shine on you and be gracious unto you and give you peace and safety in these trying times,
